

CANADA is annoyed at the loss of territory and also to think that England decided against her.

The other prophets have not decided whether Dowie will end his days in jail or in a lunatic asylum.

The populists of Kansas are about to start a daily paper. The Resurrectionist would be an appropriate name.

Dowie's abuse seems tame to New Yorkers who attended the political meetings during the municipal campaign.

CANADA had about the same influence in the Alaskan boundary decision as China has in the disposition of Manchuria.

It is understood that there will be no comfort for political bootlickers in the President's message soon to be submitted to Congress.

MR. BRYAN is not favorably impressed with the idea that a Connecticut bequest should be cut down to the level of a 40-cent dollar.

DAN PATCH, who broke the world's record, would be a good mount for the candidate who will be President Roosevelt's running mate.

It would be ingratitude on our part to consent now to the annexation of Canada, that is unless England were glad to get rid of her unhappy daughter.

MR. BRYAN has given us an example of how to become rich without being a plutocrat. Charge $300 for drawing up a will which bequeaths you $50,000.

LIKE the Democrats, the delegates from the District of Columbia will have more fun at the National conventions, than at the Presidential elections. The citizens of the District can't vote and the Democrats can't elect.

A HIGHLY useful and justly distinguished woman is lost to the cause of humanity by the death of Mrs. Booth-Tucker in a railway accident. The place left vacant in trained, practical philanthropy will be hard to fill.

It was a noted Frenchman who wrote: "Innocence finds not a more such protection as guilt." But it was Horace who said, centuries before: "He is armed without that is innocent within; be this thy screen, and this thy wall of brass."

SENATOR MORRIS is still an ardent champion of the Nicaragua route. Can he give any assurance that Nicaragua also would not want the earth as compensation for allowing the United States to spend $200,000,000 on an isthmian canal?

In a table showing the fighting strength of nations the United States is credited with an army of 73,000 men. Just add 10,000,000 possible volunteers, of the historical standard, to that number, and the total will be an approximation of Uncle Sam's real army basis.

The tunnel under the Hudson River, began many years ago, has at last reached the point where workmen can go from the Jersey side to the New York side under the river. They were said to be working Friday eighty feet under the French pier at the foot of Morton Street, New York. It will not take a very long time apparently to have one tunnel completed. The Pennsylvania tunnel will be put through in much less time.

HOLLAND, which knows more about waterways than any other nation, has appointed a board of engineers to make plans for canalizing the Zuyder Zee at a cost of $148,000,000. The enterprise calls for a sea wall twenty-five miles long and the diking of a river and its tributaries, giving Amsterdam nearly 200 miles of dikes for the benefit of Dutch commerce. That is what the country with the most waterways thinks of more waterways.

It is said that President Roosevelt is busy on his message to the extra session of Congress. There is nothing in that session, however, to necessitate a message which will require much preparation. Ordinarily, the messages which go to special sessions of Congress are very much shorter than are those to the regular assemblies of that body. This is not a session in which the country has a profound interest. It differs very widely in this respect from the one called by Lincoln in 1861, and likewise from that summoned by Cleveland in 1893. Lincoln had a good many things to think of and say at that time. Cleveland was bothered considerably, too, by the panic which incited the assembly of Congress in the summer of ten years ago. In the United States at the present time everything is serene, so far as regards the need of congressional action. All that the session of November will be called on to deal with is Cuban reciprocity. It is safe to say that President Roosevelt could, in an hour's time, prepare a message which would be adequate for the coming occasion.

A GIRL in this town, says a Missouri paper, had a proposal of marriage Saturday night and asked a week to consider it. She then organized herself into an investigating committee and commenced taking testimony from the married women of her acquaintance. The first one she visited used to be a belle and the most admired girl in the town before she was married six years ago. The cross examination brought out the fact that she had three children, did all her own work, including washing and ironing, and had not been down town for six weeks, and that her husband had given her two dollars since they were married. Another woman whom she visited "quit teaching school to marry "the handsomest and best dressed man in town," and she is now supporting him. A third did not dare to say her soul was her own when her husband was around, though she used to write some lovely essays when she was at school, on the "Emancipation of Women," and the fourth woman she visited was divorced. After summing up the evidence she went home and wrote the young man. She will be married next week.

GENERAL RESULTS.

THE COON STILL THERE!

The results in the State elections are very gratifying to the Republicans.

Pennsylvania rolls up in the neighborhood of 200,000 majority for the State ticket.

Ohio gives Herrick, Republican for Governor upward of 100,000 majority, snowing Tom Johnson and his segregation completely under. Hanna will be returned to the Senate.

Maryland appears to be Democratic, but by such a narrow margin as to still keep it in the doubtful list, while Massachusetts, New Jersey, Rhode Island, and Iowa are largely Republican.

New York City elects McClellan, Tammany candidate for mayor by over 50,000 majority.

In Pittsburgh things are still mixed on the local ticket. The fight was between the regular Republicans and the Citizens fusion ticket. Both claim victory.

They Enjoyed Their Visit.

Ed. Republican: While on my way to the Buckeye State last Thursday I could not help but recall the few happy days we spent with the kind and hospitable people at Tionesta and German Hill. Since we are now comfortably located at our New Bedford home fond recollections again present themselves to our view, and it is in recognition of all the kindness we received that I direct these few lines to you. When I left the Mt. Zion Lutheran congregation in July I never thought that such a hearty welcome would be showered upon me and my wife as was the case on Sunday, Oct. 25th. It was one of the greatest pleasures we ever experienced to preach to our first ministerial love, to shake hands with our old friends, to receive their heart-felt congratulations and to become the victim of their unbounded generosity and liberality. It was our intention to make this visit our wedding trip and serve the congregation on that certain Sunday as a matter of course, but so it was not to be. A collection which was taken up to defray the traveling expenses amounted to $10.70. This was a surprise. But we were simply astonished when the treasurer of the congregation, Mr. Diekrager, handed us $19.00 as a wedding present from the congregation. This amount was increased yet by a couple of private gifts. Now all this was certainly too much and we felt as if we had no right to accept it, for what returns could we ever make for such liberality? Let all these good donors come to New Bedford on a visit and we will at least try to return some of all this kindness. We were so pleased to notice that the congregation holds together so well, is paying off its church debt, keeps its grounds in good order and thinks of papering or painting the interior of the church. Such zeal is certainly commendable, especially in the absence of a pastor. May the Lord hear their prayers and supply them soon with a shepherd. Had there been a cooly little paragon across the way from the church, as we have it here, I fear that my wife would have preferred to stay in Pa., so charmed was she with the locality and the people.

Monday and Tuesday were the days set for the meeting of the famous G. H. H. C. (German Hill Hunting Club). Woe unto the game during these days! So we thought while crossing and re-crossing the woods, three four and five strong. The club made the most heroic efforts to land something on the dinner table, but all our efforts were in vain. The weather was our foe, so nothing could try our unerring marksmanship except old buckets, cans, &c. The outcome of the entire hunting expedition was this, that one lonely pheasant was shot by the writer, in virtue of which he was made president of the Club for another year. We are more than grateful for this honor and hope to retain it for many years to come. The congenial companionship of Mr. Abbott, the hospitality of Henry Ledebur and family and the great and sumptuous dinner at Ames Ledebur's all helped to make our stay profitable and pleasant. They were happy days of which we will always think with pleasure, and hope to duplicate them some time in the future.

With many thanks for all the kindness of our many friends in Tionesta and German Hill we remain, Gratefully yours, REV. M. L. FREDRICK AND WIFE, New Bedford, Ohio, Nov. 2, 1903.

One Was Enough. "You love my daughter?" said the old man. "Love her!" he exclaimed passionately. "Why, I could die for her! For one soft glance from those sweet eyes I would hurl myself from yonder cliff and perish, a bleeding, bruised mass, upon the rocks 200 feet below!" The old man shook his head. "It's something of a liar myself," he said, "and one is enough for a small family like mine."

His Bad Memory. "I suppose," said the condoling neighbor, "that you will erect a handsome monument to your husband's memory?" "To his memory?" echoes the tearful widow. "Why, poor John hadn't any. I was sorting over some of the clothes he left today and found the pockets full of letters I had given him to mail."

Heated. Jones—Wonder what made Mrs. Sutton look so heated when she picked up that photograph from her husband's office desk? Jaynes—Good reason for becoming heated. It was one of his old flames, you know.—Boston Transcript.

Betting Philosophy. "Do you think that betting is wrong?" "It depends on circumstances," answered the town oracle. "If you can't afford to lose it's wrong; if you can't afford to win it's wrong; if you can't afford to lose it's wrong; if you can't afford to win it's wrong."—St. Louis Lumberman.

Little Country Paper. When the evening shades is fallin' at the endin' of the day, An' a feller rests from labor smokin' at his pipe o' clay, There's nothin' doers him so much good, As the little country paper from his O' Home Town.

It ain't a thing o' beauty an' its print ain't always clean, But it strengthens 'out his temper when a feller's feelin' mean. It takes the wrinkles off his face and an' brushes off his frown, That little country paper from his O' Home Town.

It tells of all the parties an' the balls of Pumpkin Row, 'Bout who spent Sunday with who's girl an' how the crops 'll grow, An' it keeps a teller posted 'bout who's up an' who is down, That little country paper from his O' Home Town.

Now I like to read the dailies an' the story papers, too, An' at times the yaller novels an' some other trash—don't you? But when I want some readin' that'll brush away a frown, I want that little paper from my O' Home Town.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA. New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman, writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old, that had very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was suckling it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by Dr. J. C. Dunn.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Pleasant to Take.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Rodrick, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of this remedy says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. The children like to take it and it has no injurious after effect. For sale by Dr. J. C. Dunn.
