It is thought that tramps may have used the building during the night and carelessly or maliciously set fire to it. The building was erected several years ago by the late Edwin E. Clapp, who ac cepted the contract from the school Loard of President township for $500. Mr. Clapp was anxious that his township should have a strictly first class building and when he turned it over to the board he found he had expended over five thousand dollars in its completion, but there were no modern conveniences lacking when he was through with his contract. When the school board presented the contractor with an order for his pay, $500, he passed the voucher back to the treasurer and asked him to mark it canceled. It is a pity the building could not have remained a monument to Mr. Clapp's great-hearted generosity.

Two Dollar Oil.

A bid of $2 a barrel for 10,000 barrels of crude oil, represented by National Transit certificates, was made on the floor of the exchange Thursday by Thomas B. Simpson, of Philadelphia, a former prominent broker on the floor of the exchange $5.00. in the halcvon days of speculation. Mr.

Simpson is now a resident of Philadelphia, but is here on a business visit. During the day a sale of 5,000 certificates at $1.95 was recorded. With the exception of the year 1895, the sale and bid yesterday is the highest quotation for certificates for 25 years, or since the opening and development of the prolific Bradford field. On April 17, 1895, certificates sold at $2.69. The opening price on that day was $2.60, and after advancing to $2.60 the market became weak under the pressure to realize on their paper profits by speculators, and declined rapidly with few sales to $2 12, subsequently rallying to $2.17 at the close. The clearances, or total transaction, on the exchange that day were 352,000 barrels. The average daily price of certificates during the nouth of April was $1.79 93-100, and the average daily clearances were 177,420 tionery, fruits and nuts for the holiday parrels .- Derrick.

Local Institute.

A local institute of the teachers of the township and borough was held in the principal's room in the high school building last Saturday. It proved a pleasant and helpful convention of the teachers, which was no doubt due to the enterprise of the chairman, D. W. Morrison, who took the initiative step, and to the harmony with which the teachers worked. The program as printed in this paper two weeks ago, was carried out with the addition of two recitations by Misses Merle

Dunn and Lenore Ritchey, both of which were highly complimentary to the young ladies and well pleasing to the teachers, especially The Nineteenth Century Teach-

Supt, Stitzinger and a number of teachers from neighboring townships were in attendance, and their interest added much to the inspiration of the institute. Among those present were: R. A. Reed, Misses Guenther, Lohmeyer, McClenn Mrs. Maude Berlin of Kingsley : Misses -B. G Stiles, of the flourishing mer- Bertia Fogle, Pearl and Mae Elliot of Harmony; W. J. #### Lesson For Our Bear Hunters.

The Sheffield Observer tells this bear story which is somewhat of a takedown to some of our bear hunters who would scarcely have the nerve to tackle bruin with a buggy whip:

"While driving to Sheffield recently from her home at Cooper Tract, Mrs. E. A. Wolfe had an experience that is worth telling and does not fall to the lot of the average woman, even in a bear country. Mrs. Wolfe was accompanied by her daughter, and when driving along the plank road near Klondike she found a large bear sitting in the road apparently determined to hold the right of way.

When the horse had got about as close as horses usually want to get to a bear, it stopped and refused to advance. The bear showing no inclination to move Mrs. Wolfe arose in the buggy and shook the robe at the animal. As this had no effect in moving the bear Mrs. Wolfe got out of the buggy and advanced, shaking the robe. Bruin still refused to move, History and Mrs. Wolfe returned to the buggy and secured the whip, and with that weapon drove the animal from the road into the woods. The lady showed remarkable nerve, and must be a wonder to some hunters we know of that don't even shoot at a bear without first selecting a tree to clumb in case the shot should not prove fatal.'
