

CLEARANCE SALE!

Opens Saturday Morning, Jan. 30,

Closes Saturday Night, Feb. 6.

Our Sales are not continuous performances, but twice a year we have a sale to close out seasonable merchandise that is not good business to carry over, and for that reason we don't expect nor do we make profits at these sales. On a large number of the articles enumerated there are actual losses. So as a money-saver event it is profitable to buy at our store.

TERMS OF SALE ARE CASH.

Positively no goods sent on approval or charged except at regular prices. Our usual guarantee of "MONEY BACK" goes with every sale.

Men's Overcoats. About 30 coats, box lengths, all colors and sizes, coats that sold at $15 in this lot, "carried over," but a great bargain if you want quality and wear $5.00 This season's styles, 48 inches long, Oxford Grays and Black Frieze, best $10 coat in the city, all sizes to 44—Reduced to 7.50 Out of our $12, $13, and $14 lines, this season's garments, more of the better coats than lower priced, Oxford Blacks, also Scotch Mixtures, 50 inches long, with belt—reduced to 9.00 $15, $16 and $17 garments, Meltons, Kerseys and Vicenas, every coat this season's cut, every garment worth every cent of the original price—reduced to 11.50 That are marked and sold all the season at $18 and $20, and worth the price. Hand padded collars, concave shoulders, hand made button holes, 46 inches long, plain colors that will be in style for the next five years—reduced to 14.50 Oxford Grays and Black Meltons, silk linings or extra fine serges, numbers of them around the city at the marked prices of $25 and owners are not complaining of their original price—reduced to 18.75 If cheap prices (on paper) is all you want when you buy clothing we can't please you, but if you want good clothing at very small prices it will pay you to attend this sale. Men's Suits. We've got about 25 Men's Suits, worth from $7.50 to $12, one and two of a kind, mostly 34 and 35 sizes, want to sell them no matter their original cost or our loss at present—Choice for 5.00 Union made fancy chevrons, marked and sold for $10, brown and gray mixed meltons, single and double breasted coats, also black clays and heavy weight blue serges, that are always good values at the original price of $10—reduced to 6.85 This season's newest cuts and cloths, long roll single-breasted or three button double breasted, in fancy chevrons and substantial cassimeres, extra values at their old prices of $14 and $15, and at same price our regular $15 "Stout" Suits for big men to 48 size is included at 10.00 From our $18 and $20 line, Adler's make, single and double breasted coats, in fancy wools, heavy weight worsted, chevrons and black Tibets, a line of stock for big men at this reduced price, too, also "Slims" for the tall man, all reduced to one low price 15.00 The finest Ready-to-Wear Suit made to sell at $25, Adler's make, here is your chance to make $3.25, wear a suit your tailor would charge not less than $35 to duplicate—reduced to 18.75 Men's Trousers. Sixty pairs medium weight, ALL WOOL Chevrons, (all wool we say) $ 1.00 Fifty pairs Men's Gray Hair Line, also 35 pairs Men's Gray Mixed All Wool, heavy weight Kerseys, never sold for less than $1.50, now... 1.19 Odd lot fancy Worsteds, Cassimeres and Chevrons from our $2.50 and $2.75 and good values at that—reduced to 1.75 ONE-FOURTH OFF the plainly marked price of any man's trousers in our stock while sale lasts, as too many lots and styles to enumerate.	Youth's Suits. WALKMANS

ONE PRICE CLOTHIER.

41-43 SENECA STREET,

OIL CITY, PENNA.

ALONG PICCADILLY.
The Tide of Social London Flows to the Fullest.
Piccadilly seems cold and blighted by contrast as one charges down it. Yet even here, be the sunshine ever so bright, the visitor is crowned in the pearly haze that tones, attenuates, and flies, most if not all of London, that haze that has tantalized and defeated how many artists! Even over Piccadilly, even over this the most mundane of all London streets, it throws its saving glamour. Indeed the whole splendid avenue might serve for a studio, not for its values alone, but for the complexity of the types that throng it. It is the quintessence of London, the distillation of all London humanity, to be studied nowhere so narrowly as from a bus top. Perfect Du Mauriers in the original approach, pass by and are left behind or stand in groups looking from the club windows. Phil Mays in the life swam beneath one, and characters from Thackeray and Dickens jostle unsuspectingly on the sidewalk. The clubs alone, which never look so thoroughly clubbable as when hastily glanced at from a passing bus, will store one's memory with a hundred recognizable types. All England, all the empire, indeed, sooner or later finds its way to Piccadilly. One cannot pass down it without a slight of some glittering, turbaned, alien figure, majestically isolated, majestically unheeded. Regent street may claim a grander sweep, and by virtue of its shops a more devoted femininity, but it is along Piccadilly that the tide of social London flows brim full.—Sydney Brooks in Harper's Magazine.

and the fur of the Russian animals is very beautiful—the ermine, fox, sable, sea otter and others.
At the end of the winter, when the snow melts, the huntsman pursues the elk, gliding long shoes, in which he can wear over the snow very quickly, while the poor elk sinks into the snow deeper and deeper every step and is at last overtaken and killed.
His Two Purchases.
A story is told of a Louisiana merchant who came to New York determined to secure a bargain. He wanted cheap cloaks, and after trying in vain to suit himself at the wholesale houses he bought a job lot at auction. He examined the goods hurriedly and had them shipped home. In due time he was confronted by an excited head salesman who said the garments were out of style.
"They didn't look that way," said the merchant.
"But they are," replied the clerk.
The merchant persisted that the cloaks would sell, but they didn't. In desperation he returned them to New York to be disposed of to best advantage. On his next trip to New York he again visited an auction house and brought a lot of cloaks. When he returned home and examined his purchase he saw that he had bought the same lot as before.—World's Work.

TRAMPS ARE WELL POSTED.
As a General Rule They Are Careful and Constant Readers.
Most tramps are omnivorous readers, and they are posted upon a wide range of topics. In speaking of tramp readers a man who has had a chance to study these peripatetic students said the other day:
"You hardly ever find a genuine hobo that is an ignoramus. You find lots of men who are tramping who are doing so because they haven't intelligence enough to earn a living, but I am speaking of the real hobo, who is a wanderer from choice and who would not work if he had the chance. These fellows are pretty wise. I can tell you. They can tell you more about what is going on in European politics than a college professor can, and they know almost everything that is coming off in our own country for the next six months."
"When you are traveling you will notice the hoboes sitting along the railroad track reading a frayed and soiled newspaper. Often you will see them picking up the loose pages lying in the streets, and I do not believe I ever saw traces of a tramp's camp fire around which there was not left one or more old newspapers, where they had been cast aside after reading. Then the tramps have a sort of traveling library, too, that few people have ever heard of. If one tramp finds an old magazine he will read it and then pass it to some other tramp. It keeps going the rounds in this way until it is worn out. If one picks up a book some place it does service in tramping for months."
"I never saw a tramp with a fresh paper in his hand, but I have never run across one of the wanderers that did not show he was a careful and constant reader."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

to the queen and the prince for advice and instructions. He was informed that there must be no mistake as to the stranger's rank and that it would be best to place him between the archbishop of Canterbury and the Duke of Wellington. In this position of honor the Chinaman, with magnificent dignity, walked through the buildings to the delight and amazement of all who watched. Next day it was discovered that he was the keeper of a Chinese junk which had just cast anchor in the Thames and which everybody was invited to visit on payment of a shilling a head.
A Japanese Custom.
In Japan the well to do have almost always in their houses one room called the "chamber of the inspiring view." Its essential is a beautiful view, but taste is catholic in Japan, and the delightful view may be a blossoming cherry tree, a glimpse of a river, a miniature garden or only the newly fallen snow. In this delightful country they get up parties to visit the maple trees in the glory of autumn color or the fresh, untrodden snow, as in this country one gives theater parties and dinners. Mushroom hunts are a fashionable diversion, and verse writing and harp playing are occupations which, in the estimation of these eternal children, beat the gentleman when she is within doors.
About Fishes.
Fishes are nearly the same weight as the water in which they live, so that they can move in it with great ease. The majority of them also have an air bladder inside of the body, which enables them to go up or down in the water at will. When a fish desires to go down deep it can press the air out of this bladder by means of certain muscles and thus increase the weight of its body, and when it wishes to rise again it takes off the pressure, the bladder fills with air again and its body becomes light enough to rise.
Taking and Giving.
"You can't," said the philosopher, "take from a thing without making it less."
"Oh, I don't know," the fool replied. "Have you ever tried taking a light from one candle with another?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

It Never Fails.

Thompson's Barosma has never been known to fail to cure any disease of the Kidneys, Liver and Bladder; also Rheumatism, Sciatica, Palpitation of the Heart, Nervous Debility, and Female Weakness. Thompson's Barosma reduces all the inflammation, neutralizes the acid and dissolves gravel, carrying off all matter that is poisonous to the blood, stomach, heart, kidneys and liver. It is purely vegetable and pleasant to take. No opiate in any form is used in its manufacture. It can be taken by all ages and has cured many children of non-retention or bedwetting.
"I had been troubled with rheumatism ever since I was eighteen years old, and when I went into the drug store I had little faith in Thompson's Barosma. I have taken six bottles of Barosma and am better than I have been in twelve years. I can work every day, something I had not done in ten years. Thompson's Barosma regulates my whole system and I am stronger and better in every way, and am glad to bear this testimony. Thanks to Thompson's Barosma."—JOHNSON N. DUNN, Troy Center, Penn'a.
If festive, Thompson's Dandelion and Mandrake Pills should be taken with Barosma. They are purely vegetable and do not grip.
