The quantities are too small to specify or describe particulars of, but suffice it to say every blessed one of them will be trotted out and marked at a price that will separate them from us in a hurry.

It Never Fails.

Thompson's Barosma has never been known to fail to cure any disease of the Kidneys, Liver and Bladder; also Rheumatism, Sciatica, Palpitation of the Heart, Nervous Debility, and Female Weakness. Thompson's Barosma reduces all the inflammation, neutralizes the acid and dissolves gravel, carrying off all matter that is poisonous to the blood, stomach, heart, kidneys and liver. It is purely vegetable and pleasant to take. No opiate in any form is used in its manufacture. It can be taken by all ages and has cured many children of non-retention or bedwetting.

"I had been troubled with rheumatism ever since I was eighteen years old, and when I went into the drug store I had little faith in Thompson's Barosma. I have taken six bottles of Barosma and am better than I have been in twelve years. I can work every day, something I had not done in ten years. Thompson's Barosma regulates my whole system and I am stronger and better in every way, and am glad to bear this testimony. Thanks to Thompson's Barosma."—JOHN N. DUNN, Troy Center, Penna.

If costive, Thompson's Dandelion and Mandrake Pills should be taken with Barosma. They are purely vegetable and do not gripe.

TIME TO HEDGE.

Bookmaker Wouldn't Lend Money, but Gave Good Advice.

Several firmen were discussing the sharp methods of a certain bookmaker who adds to his income by money lending. He was conceded to be a hard man to deal with.

"But I'll bet $500 that I can borrow $1,000 from him on my personal recognizance," said one.

"Done!" answered the crowd simultaneously, and as he could only stake one bet they pooled against him. Thinking he had a sure thing, he went off with an accompanying committee to see the money lender.

"Mr. Cash" (that wasn't his name), he said, "these gentlemen have bet me $500 that I cannot borrow $1,000 from you. I don't need the money, but you let me have it for a day, and I'll divide the bet with you."

The committee gaped, but the effect of the cool proposition was unlooked for. Cash buttonholed his interlocutor and said:

"Did you make that bet?"

"That's what I did."

"You bet $500 that you could borrow money from me?"

"That's what I did."

"Then, in a whisper, 'go and hedge.'"—New York Press.

Where There's a Will There's a Way.

"One of those things which go to show that where there is a will there is a way is well exemplified by a happening in a certain southern city," said a well known former railroad man. "A man before his marriage had purchased a beautifully located lot in the city cemetery and paid $100 for it. After awhile he married and some ten or twelve years afterward died and was buried in the aforesaid beautifully located lot, and his grave was carefully tended for awhile by his widow. When the big fair came off in Chicago and all the world was en route to that Mecca the widow took a notion she must see that show. As a result of a long cogitation over ways and means she had the body of her deceased husband exhumed and railroaded fifty miles away and reburied at a cost of about $75, when she sold the cemetery lot for $600 and had a good old time at the big worlds fair. Some what of a financier, wasn't she?"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The First Lexicographer.

Dr. Johnson, even if we except his predecessor, Bailey, was not the father of lexicographers. In a volume issued by the historical manuscripts commission on manuscripts in the Welsh language it is stated that the idea of illustrating the meaning and correct use of words by actual quotations from the literature of a living language seems to have been first put in practice by Griffith Hiraethog, the herald bard of Wales, who died in 1564. It was not till the days of Dr. Johnson, 200 years later, that a similar idea took root in English soil. An abbreviated copy of Griffith Hiraethog's Welsh Dictionary was made by his pupil, William Llyn, between 1567 and 1573 and is now in the free library at Cardiff.—London Globe.

Oak Wood.

The oak is a historic wood. As early as the eleventh century it became the favorite wood of civilized Europe, and specimens of carving and interior finish have come down to us from that early day, their pristine beauty enhanced by the subduing finger of time. The early colonists brought with them to the shores of America their love for this wood, and here, too, the oak acquired historical interests.

Impudent Masculine Assumption.

Mr. Ferguson—Whose character were you and Mrs. Tarrup discussing when I came in?

Mrs. Ferguson—What made you think we were discussing anybody's character?

Mr. Ferguson—I noticed you were busily talking—that's all.—Exchange.

Wasted No Time.

"The manager says he engaged the forty chorus girls in twenty minutes." "Gracious, but he's quick at figures."—Town Topics.

Not Her Weapon.

"Is your wife a club woman, Mike?" "Nary the likes of that, sor. She uses a Batton, sor."—Detroit Free Press.

KILLED BY BOXING DOG.

Great Dane, Maddened by Blow Hurling Itself on Master.

Philadelphia, Feb. 8.—A boxing match with his dog, a Great Dane which he had taught to stand up and fight in human fashion, has resulted in the death of Henry A. Thorne of East Rittenhouse street, Germantown.

The fatal bout took place on Tuesday, in the yard of the Yarnell paint works, No. 5,824 Germantown avenue, where Thorne was employed, and the unforeseen end came as a result of the fierce anger of the dog, which had been stirred up by a blow struck by his master.

The dog, whose name was Dixie, used his paws in defending himself from the blows aimed at him by Thorne, who wore boxing gloves on the bout. On Tuesday Thorne put on the gloves and the pugilistic encounter started off as usual. Dixie had learned to use his paws with much ability, and as there was much strength behind the blows aimed by the animal Thorne was compelled to do a great deal of dodging. In this bout Thorne landed on the dog's head and neck more frequently than usual.

Maddened by the pain and aggravated, possibly, by the fact that he had failed to reach his adversary with his paws, the beast plunged forward and hurled his heavy body against his human antagonist, sending the latter flying to the ground.

The dog landed with such force as to crush several of Thorne's ribs, broken bits of which punctured the lungs, which injuries resulted in death at the Germantown hospital.

Thorne came to Philadelphia from Saratoga, N. Y.

CRIMINAL CARELESSNESS.

Caused Death of Four Men by a Mine Explosion.

Saratoga, Pa., Feb. 8.—Evan Gabriel, fire boss at the Storrs shaft of the mine of the Lackawanna, was killed, and James and Edward Webber, brothers, and William Jones were fatally injured by an explosion of gas Saturday.

Early in the day Gabriel went into the mine and saw the conditions were dangerous. He warned the men not to enter. Gabriel again entered the dangerous vein, carrying a safety lamp. A few minutes later Jones and the Webbers followed, Jones carrying a naked lamp.

Gabriel's body was found several hundred yards distant, twisted around a mine prop, where it had been hurled with great force. Jones and the Webbers are burned and mangled.

$10,000 For Blind Girl.

Washington, Pa., Feb. 8.—By the will of the late Selwyn Taylor, the mining expert killed in the Harwick mine disaster, Mary Robok, 12 years, of Houston, where Taylor was formerly a mine superintendent, is made beneficiary to the amount of $10,000. Taylor took an interest in the girl and on account of her infirmity of blindness sent her to the Overbrook Institution for the Blind at Philadelphia, where she is now a student. The girl's father is a coal miner. The blind girl has been notified of her good fortune.

Formation of Sub-Syndicate.

Philadelphia, Feb. 8.—It was stated here that portions of the Pennsylvania $20,000,000 loan are being offered in this city by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. of New York in blocks of $2,500,000 and that similar offers are being made in Boston and other financial centers. As the amounts are larger than any single financial institution is likely to be willing to assume, the formation of sub-syndicates in the smaller financial centers will probably follow.

Innocent Russians Fear Draft.

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 8.—The war scare in the Far East has created a great scare among the Russians of Schuylkill county, who are fearful that they will be drafted for army service. Saturday 132 were granted citizen papers. Three times that number have applied to become citizens during the last few weeks. It is estimated that 1,500 Russians now in the anthracite region have already taken steps to be naturalized.

Mine Fire Near Its End.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Feb. 8.—The big fire in the Jersey mine, which has been raging for several years, is now near the end of its course, so Mine Inspector D. T. Davis reported. After all other methods of extinguishing it failed, the officials tried to surround it with non-combustible material and have nearly succeeded. This will result in the fire burning itself out. The fire threatened rich collieries adjoining.

Found Much "Fake" Whisky.

Altoona, Pa., Feb. 8.—The pure food department has collected over 1,000 samples of cheap whisky from all parts of the state, according to statement made by Dairy and Food Commissioner Warren, when passing through here. He says the liquor has been manufactured with wood alcohol and pepper. Dr. Warren expressed himself as astounded at the findings and believes that 5,000 cases will be found before the investigation is completed.

Tell of Ferguson Killing.

Washington, Pa., Feb. 8.—The Washington county grand jury has taken up consideration of the murder charges against Milovar Pattrovick and Milovar Kovovick for killing Contractor Samuel T. Ferguson. About 25 witnesses were here, but not more than half of them were called.
