The Kitten and the Hatpin. A small kitten, the property of John M. Yore, of St. Joseph, Mich , is dead, That fact itself is not startling, but the manner of the kitten's death is so unusual that it has aroused much interest on the part of neighbors, physicians and veterinarians in this city. The kitten, in a moment of excessive playfulness, twelve days ago, swallowed a hatpin. The animal was only four months old, and of the usual size for such an age. The hatpin was seven inches long, with a stone head. Mr. Yore noticed the kitten playing with the ornament, which came from his daughter's hat. Soon afterward the pin was missing. Search was futile, and the kitten, which continued to be as sportive as ever, gave no symptoms of distress until a few days ago, when it became ill and subject to fits. This started a controversy in the household, One side asserted that the kitten had swallowed the hatpin. The other ridiculed the idea as physicially impossible. Neither would weaken. however, and finally Mr. Yore became convinced that the only means of solution of the mystery lay in a searching examination of pussy's anatomy. No X ray being handy, chloroform and a knife were used. The result was the recovery of the hatpin at the cost of the cat's life. The pin had been swallowed, its white head going down first, the metal body falling until the point found a lodging place in the animal's throat. Before the dissection took place the case was placed before a physician and two veterinarians. In their opinion they declared the kitten could not have swallowed a pin of such length. Later when the pin was

A Problem for You.

Do you know that any person to sell goods the Old Fashioned Way-On Credit-has to figure on about 10 per cent. for losses. ?

Do you know who pays that 10 per cent? Why, of course, the man who is honest enough to pay for his goods has to pay the extra 10 per cent. profit to make good the "Dead Beat's" account.

I do away with all this, by selling goods for Cash only. I take no chances of losing anything, and take the 10 per cent. off the prices and Give the Honest Man a Chance.
