A collision between the bugies of T. J. Hopkins and Harry Feit on the street Monday evening resulted in the demolishing of both pretty badly. Mrs. Hopkins was with her husband, and Dr. Feit occupied a seat with Mr. Feit. Both parties were thrown to the ground, but fortunately all escaped injury.

Tionesta base ballists are getting into the semi-professional class, and their services are in demand quite frequently. Last Saturday afternoon Harry Hank-head and Sam Haslet played with the Tyler-berg and Marienville teams at Tyler-berg, and John Lawrence played third base for the Warren team against Franklin's strong combination at the latter place.

One section where the luscious peach still abounds to some extent, The Brookville Democrat says: We want to state what we suppose nearly everyone knows already, that the peach crop in Pennsylvania will be almost a total failure this year. However, there are several trees nicely burdened with peaches on William Hall's farm, in Rose township.

Perry Salsgiver had one of the small bones of his arm broken and the forearm badly bruised Monday afternoon. He was unloading ties on Sage run, and was on a moving car. The brakes failed to work and the car bumped into one ahead of it and shifted its cargo. Mr. Salsgiver's arm was caught between the end of the car and some moving ties.—Derrick.

Clarion borough has adopted the Curfew law and will see what can be done toward keeping the kids off the streets after the hour of 8:00 o'clock in the evening. If faithfully enforced the parents and citizens will find it all right, and will wonder why they didn't introduce the curfew long ago, and the boys and girls will think it a pretty good thing also, after they get accustomed to it.

Messrs. Kribbe & Ray, the Kelleysville livermen, concluded their bargain last week whereby they sold their fine Kentucky stallion to Mr. McKinney of Titusville for the pretty sum of $4,000 and a $1,000 horse "to boot." The Kribbe horse is a fine animal, and gives promise of developing great speed, and the price paid for him is the largest ever received by a Forest county horseman for a single piece of horseflesh.

The editor of an exchange hits the right spot when he says: "The sorriest fellow on earth is the fellow who will sit around and cuss his own town. If I lived astride the north pole, I would call it home, and be ready to boost it up. I would say that my ice bill didn't come high. I would not stay in a town I had to cross—not while the world is as big as it is now."

The printing in the corners of envelopes of your name and address may save you letters from being opened. It is now proposed by the Government to open letters upon which postage stamps have not been placed, in order to learn who the writer was and to prevent their being sent to the dead letter office. The REPUBLICAN will furnish you envelopes neatly printed for less than you can buy the blanks for at retail. Try us.

Sam T. Carson has moved his drilling rig from over in the Tionesta Gas Co.'s field, where he has been engaged during the past six months in drilling two new wells and cleaning out others. The field there is now in pretty good shape for the winter, and it is thought there will be no such thing as a shortage of gas. Mr. Carson has taken his rig to Harmony township, where he expects to do considerable drilling within the next few months.

Albert Martin, a well known farmer living near Greenville, recently had twenty-five chickens stolen. Soon after the theft was discovered Mr. Martin found a pocketbook containing over $50 near the coop. Later, while awaiting developments, he saw a neighbor making a careful search of the ground in that vicinity. He identified the man, but is satisfied to let the matter rest. He thinks $2.00 apiece is a pretty good price to receive for chickens.

The Odd Fellows of Tyler-berg entertained a large number of their fraternal brethren last Saturday afternoon and evening, serving a chicken supper and having a royal time generally. Quite a number of the members of the order from Tionesta attended and were pleased with the fine time shown them. Among the attractions of the afternoon was a snappy game of base ball between Tyler-berg and Marienville teams, in which the former won by a score of 6 to 3.

A trolley accident in Oil City last Sunday evening killed James Ross, a resident of Franklin, and injured a dozen or more other passengers. The accident happened to a car that was coming down the hill at the corner of Spring and Center streets, and most of the injuries were sustained by those who attempted to jump off the car, which the motorman seemed unable to control and which was running at a very rapid rate, leaving the track as it rounded the sharp curve. All of the injured are recovering.

Levi Metzgar, for many years a resident of this county, and one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens, died at his home near Pineville, just across the line in Warren county, on Thursday last, 23d inst. Deceased was aged 82 years, and is survived by his wife, three sons and two daughters. The sons are John Metzgar, of East Hickory, William of Jenks township, and S. D., of Smithport, Pa. Mr. Metzgar had followed farming for a number of years, and his death was the result of ailments incident to old age.

The borough of Clarion will soon be singing hallicujahs over the completion of a railroad connecting it with the outside world. Hear the Republican's jubilation: "A big jubilee is being talked out to celebrate the opening of traffic on the Clarion-Summerdale railroad. It will certainly be a time of rejoicing for the business and social interests of Clarion when the road is completed and celebration would be appropriate. Coming at the time of Clarion's big fair it would be doubly enjoyable. Mr. Heidrick promises that the road will be able to handle the visitors and will give very low excursion rates. Let us have a celebration."

The breaking of the engine at the Gale veneer works has caused a shut-down for the past week, and the early risers have missed the morning whistles greatly. The factory expects to be running again to-morrow.

George Holeman has finished boom building at the Gaston yards for the time being, but it is probable that work will be resumed later in the season. The Warren Lumber Co., at Grunderville, has also suspended work at its boat yards, but is running the large yard at the full capacity. The demand for coal flats has slackened considerably at Pittsburgh, and it is likely all the yards in this section will suspend for awhile.

Last Friday saw the completion of one of the biggest lumber jobs ever contracted in Potter county, it being the contract of the Grandin Lumber Company, of Tidouote, Pa., and involved the removal of about 25,000,000 feet of hemlock from lands near Harmonstown. The superintendent of the mammoth job is E. U. Geniesse, of Genesee, and the job was finished on the very day the contract with the B. & S. expired. After the removal of about 700,000 feet from lands near West Bingham no more timber of any account will remain in Northern Potter, where, 25, or even 10, years ago stood millions and millions of feet.—Potter Enterprise.

John Hepler, one of Tionesta townships oldest and most highly respected citizens, died Monday afternoon of this week, at the advanced age of 86 years. The deceased was born and reared to young manhood near Millerstown, Butler county, and came to this section over 40 years ago, clearing the farm upon which he continued to reside until his death. On Friday last he suffered a stroke of paralysis, and was unconscious from that time till death relieved him. He was the father of 12 children, 9 of whom with the aged widow survive. Mrs. S. C. Johnston, of Tionesta, one of the number. The burial takes place today at the Washington church-yard near Newmansville.

Attention is directed to J. C. Scowden's new ad. in this issue, and to the fact that he is better prepared than ever before to supply the wants of the people in the matter of stoves especially designed for saving big gas bills, now that we are burning the fuel by meter. For cooking purposes he has the very best ranges that are on the market to-day, and as you will be obliged soon to turn on a little gas for heating purposes these cool mornings it will be well before making changes, to have a look at his heaters, which are of the latest and most approved patterns. In all other kinds of hardware, implements, etc., Mr. Scowden can save you from ten to fifteen per cent., which is no small object. Try him.

It is lucky that the strike in the meat trades comes at a season when vegetables are plentiful and when most physicians recommend a diminished consumption of meat. It is a fact that hundreds of millions of people in the far east live without tasting meat at all, and yet compare favorably with the meat-eating westerners in vigor and capacity for labor. The Japs, for example, live largely on rice and other vegetable matter and get little or no meat. They eat dried fish, but would be better off without it. Forced abstinence from part of their meat rations will do no harm to a large class of people. The harm caused by the arrest of the supply of meat is substantial in that it raises unduly the price to the laboring man, who feels that he needs meat in order to perform his full task.

On a recent night a carnival aggregation closed its engagements at Brookwayville with a special attraction. It had been quietly announced that after the regular performances a genuine Midway representation of the oriental dance known as the "hochiekoochie" would be introduced for the delectation of men only. And "men only" soon filled the canvas tent, each patron paying 25 cents admission. At the time appointed a dancer appeared and attempted to give the whirling muscle dance of the innominate East, but the fact immediately dawned upon the villagers that a hoax had been perpetrated, says the Bradford Era. The dancer, instead of being a dreamy eyed, athletic Caucasian girl, was an angular ugly man in disguise. Then the row began. The management sought safety in flight and succeeded in reaching the tent, at a late hour, and after much excited comment, departed from the scene, sadder and perhaps wiser. In addition to its other unpleasant features, the affair has become a local scandal and several indignant but respectable wives have suspicions that are not at all comforting to their husbands.

Death of Mrs. S. H. Haslet. It was with the most profound sorrow that our citizens learned of the death of this good woman which occurred at Jacksonville, Florida, July 24, 1914. But few had learned of her illness, which was very brief, and when the message came to Tionesta friends, Sabbath evening, that she had "gone home," it felt like a pall over our people, for "Auntie" Haslet was one whom everybody loved. It did not seem possible that she, whom we expected so soon to welcome back to her Tionesta home, would be with us no more. But the stern message could not be doubted, and the truth took hold upon us that the earthly tabernacle had been dissolved and the spirit we loved was now dwelling in "a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

Sarah Elizabeth Williams, was a daughter of Solomon Williams, a sea captain, and was born in the old Pepperrell mansion at Kittery Point, Maine, which was, for more than two centuries, the home of members of that distinguished family. She grew to womanhood surrounded by all the holy influences of Christian culture and refinement, and amidst the delightful scenes which attended the high social and political positions of her family. Her opportunities for improvement were well improved, and later she became the wife of Caleb L. Gould, of Scarborough, Maine. To this union were born three daughters, two of whom, Mrs. W. H. Fox, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Miss Hattie Gould, of Oil City, Pa., are still living. An adopted daughter, Mrs. Clara Coffin Haslet, of Tionesta, is also living, and what seems so sad is that neither Mrs. Haslet, whom she loved as an only daughter, nor Miss Hattie, who is now in Europe, could be with her as she passed away, or do for her any little act of kindness at the last, which is always a comfort for friends to remember.

Having been a widow for a number of years, in September, 1893, she became the wife of Hon. Samuel H. Haslet, of Tionesta, with whom she lived most happily till his death in 1902. For more than ten years Tionesta has been her home and her good qualities of heart and mind greatly endeared her to our citizens. In early life she became a member of the Baptist church and of her it may well be said, "Faithful unto death." Mrs. Haslet was always interested in reforms and did all in her power to better the condition of the unfortunate. For many years she was an active member of the W. C. T. U. and was County Superintendent of Soldiers' and Sailors' Work. She was also interested in the cause of Home and Foreign Missions and was ever ready to lend a helping hand.

Mrs. Haslet bore the happy distinction of being a loyal devotee of Colonel and Honorable William Pepperrell and Margery Bray Pepperrell, and was a member of the Pepperrell Association of Kittery Point, Maine. This celebrated ancestor was Sir William Pepperrell, who was Governor of Massachusetts from 1750 to 1758, and who was knighted after a successful expedition against Lewisburg in 1755.

Suddenly, it seems, this beautiful life is ended. After only a few hour's serious illness, she passed beyond our horizon to the beautiful unseen realm for which her life so well fitted her to enter upon, and she has thus been permitted to look upon the unveiled splendor "of the New Jerusalem." Though her body may rest in the far southland, yet her spirit is free, and she still lives in the hearts and lives of the many who are left.
