Republican Ticket.

- NATIONAL: Theodore Roosevelt, President; Charles W. Fairbanks, Vice President; John P. Elkin, Supreme Court Justice; Joseph C. Sibley, Congress; John H. Robertson, Assembly; Frank X. Kreidler, Associate Judge; Wm. H. Harrison, Treasurer.

THE wage-earner who will give up any per cent. of his salary for the sake of a lower tariff is a mighty scarce individual.

OFFERS of bets at ten to seven on Roosevelt find no takers in New York. The Parker backers want odds of five to ten, and when the campaign is once fairly on they will doubtless be accommodated.

"We denounce protection as a robbery of the many to enrich the few." Do the Democrats really expect to carry New York, Connecticut, New Jersey and West Virginia on a platform containing that expression?

THE Bradford Era states plainly what many have thought when it says: "The Escopus press bureau is being over-worked. It continues at its present rate of production its rot will make Parker more ridiculous than even his famous telegram did."

WITH a shortage abroad of possibly 120,000,000 bushels of wheat from last year's foreign crop, it is predicted that Europe will require all of the American surplus for the next twelve months. This will keep the price steady in the home market, and afford the western farmer a ready supply of money.

IT is estimated that under Republican policies the sum of $680,000,000 of the increase of gold for the last decade has come to the United States. The total amount of the increase was $1,233,000,000. No wonder the country has had an unexampled era of prosperity, and that the old world realizes that America has to be reckoned with.

RECENTLY in the House of Lords, England, Earl Gray, director of British South African Company, bitterly complained because imports of American manufactured goods into South Africa are increasing steadily. But there is no help for it. A superior article always commands the market. We have the goods and the South Africans want them.

THE first election of importance since the nominations will take place in Maine in September. It is a state election and to a certain extent is thought to indicate the drift of politics. Republican pluralities in that state have run from $1,645, to $7,000. Both parties will put forth the largest vote which they can drum up. All the Democrats can hope to do in that state is to reduce the Republican plurality and they will not be able to accomplish that.

THE people of Indiana are so sure of the election of Senator Fairbanks to the Vice Presidency that they are trying to decide who they will send to the Senate to take his seat when it becomes vacant. Congressman Hemenway is in the race also Harry S. New, who is to have charge of the Republican headquarters in Chicago. At present Mr. Hemenway is chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, perhaps the most coveted committee place in the House. His election to the Senate would be an interesting event.

LIKE Cleveland, in 1892, Parker is nominated on a free trade platform. It is the crisp conclusion and perfectly true statement of the Pittsburgh Chronicle. All the phrases-making that was brought into evidence and security does not suffice to obscure the vital significance of the declaration that Protection is "a robbery of the many to enrich the few," and that the tariff should be "limited to the needs of the Government economically administered." This means free trade, nothing more, nothing less.

IT should not be forgotten in the coming campaign that there is no longer an ignorant rural voter. What with the universal railway, the whizzing automobile, the rural delivery, the telephone, the omnipresent daily paper, the vast volume of travel all over the country, the summer school lectures, chautauques, and a thousand other agencies, everybody is in the political university and there are no back districts to be heard from. The farmer is alive to the issues of the day, and he will decide the contests in an honest and conservative manner.

Ex-Governor Pattison Dead.

Robert E. Pattison, twice Governor of this Commonwealth and unquestionably the foremost Democrat in Pennsylvania, died at his home in Philadelphia Monday evening of this week. Prostrated shortly after his return from the St. Louis convention, in which he took an active part, being a member of the platform committee which struggled for thirty-six consecutive hours to get a platform on which the party could unite, he fell a victim to pneumonia, and his system was too badly run down to ward off the attack. Gov. Pattison was 63 years of age, and was but thirty-one years of age when first elected Governor of Pennsylvania in 1882, and was not yet forty when elected the second time. His success in this great Republican State made him a national figure, and his name was often mentioned in connection with a presidential nomination in his party. His record for official fidelity and personal integrity has never been assailed. He was regarded as a man of sterling honesty and high moral character.

President Roosevelt's Address.

The address to the committee which officially notified President Roosevelt of his nomination at his summer home at Oyster Bay last Wednesday covered the ground so completely and summarized the principles of the Republican party so succinctly as to leave no room for quibbling or fault-finding on the part of the opposition that there had been any attempt to dodge the issues which will be met in the campaign about to begin. Mr. Roosevelt meets the people face to face and talks to them in a plain and direct way which has been done by the administration of which is chief, and has no hesitancy in taking the people of the nation into his confidence and telling them what they may expect if they re-elect him to the chief magistracy of the greatest nation on earth. On the question of labor and capital the President speaks out boldly and to the point, and his language has no sign of equivocation about it. He says: "We recognize the organization of capital and the organization of labor as natural outgrowths of our industrial system. Each kind of organization is to be favored so long as it aids in the spirit of justice and regard for the rights of others. Each is to be granted the full protection of the law, and each in turn is to be held to a strict obedience to the law; for no man is above it and no man below it. The humblest individual is to have his rights safeguarded as scrupulously as those of the strongest organization, for each is to receive justice, no more and no less."

Courage and honesty are the watchwords which should rule in the administration of the people's affairs, and in such a spirit will every great problem be met by this "man of the people." In its comments on this splendid address the Derick very truly says: "Roosevelt's administration speaks for itself and is a sufficient guarantee of the future. The nation has learned to trust him and rely upon him. He has been tried and found to have the ring of sterling merit. He is a firm believer in the principle of equal rights for all, and has shown his courage and faith upon different occasions. Strong, earnest and self-reliant, Theodore Roosevelt is the model of a successful leader of men. His entire public career has endeared him to the hearts of the American people, and no President ever commanded or deserved more of the love, respect and admiration that go up to him spontaneously from every part of the United States."

The Democrats will have a desperate time in trying to pick flaws in what the President has said, and their efforts to disprove any of his assertions as to what has been accomplished by the McKinley and Roosevelt administrations will be equally desperate and prove equally futile. The people have faith in President Roosevelt and will triumphantly elect him in November.

Preparing for Great Corruption.

The Pennsylvania Spirit thus puts in plain words what has been in everyone's mind since the adjournment of the Democratic national convention at St. Louis: "When the Democrats nominated a man for Vice President who had reached an age when ninety-five per cent. of us are in our graves, and a few days subsequently received a contribution of a round million dollars from him, we naturally wonder whether the convention leaders did not know exactly what they were doing. In other words, does it not look like selling the nomination, to a man who could not possibly be of any use to the people if elected, for a million dollars? Was there not more concern about that million than for the welfare of the country?"

In another article the Spirit points out the gravity of the situation, and the dangers which menace the country in the shameful spectacle which is about to be made to purchase the Presidency of the United States: "We do not believe there is money enough in the world to purchase the manhood of the American people, but that there are some persons degraded enough to sell their votes appears to be beyond dispute, and the longer this boodle business is tolerated the more people will become victims of its allurements. The man who buys is really more culpable than the man who sells, for he is presumed to be a pattern and example for less enlightened men to follow. The corruption of the ballot, the poisoning of the springs of authority in a republic, is the greatest calamity that could happen to it, and we should begin now to take vigorous measures to reform our election laws so that the evil may be thoroughly eradicated, and in the language of Abraham Lincoln 'resolve that this government of the people, for the people and by the people, shall not perish from the earth.'" by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHERNEY & CO., Toledo, O. Cream of the News.

Deafness cannot Be Cured

"The nearer you get to greatness the smaller it appears."
"Remnant sale now on at Hopkins' store."
"Before jumping at a conclusion be sure you see your finish."
"That colonial effect can be had by using Lawrence paint, sold by Dr. J. C. Dunn."
"One cook often spoils the broth as completely as too many."

"The Remnant sale is now in full blast at Hopkins' store, and while the assortment is large is the time to purchase. Many remnants contain enough cloth for a shirt waist, suit or skirt."
"It takes a smart bunco man to unfold a gold brick on his wife."
"Don't fret and sweat your life away over a hot stove during the dog days, but go to the White Star Grocery and get the celebrated Table Queen bread, cakes and cookies. None better."
"A good many people fail to appreciate salvation before it is free."
"Large stock of ladies' wool skirts at Hopkins' store that must be disposed of and the prices will be reduced wonderfully."
"A wise man isn't known by the company he refuses to associate with."
"Lawrence makes paints for various purposes; ask for cards at Dunn's Drug Store."
"No woman ever thinks she looks her age."
"We made a mistake and bought too many straw hats this Spring, but that mistake was a good thing for you. They must all go, and at a price that will pay you to buy for next year. Hopkins, it."

A descriptive itinerary will be sent on application to Geo. W. Boyd, General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, Pa.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Krimse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport, was taken suddenly ill Friday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around the next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines.—Eksader, Iowa, ARGUS.

The Valley of the Nile.

Is no richer than the fertile country traversed by the Illinois Central Railroad in the states of Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana. North Carolina farmers have awakened to this fact and are rapidly settling here, for they appreciate the fact that the soil, crops, climate, water, markets, etc., are all that could be desired and they are buying land while the prices are yet very low. Write the undersigned for free illustrated literature and find out for yourself. E. A. Richter, Pass and Land Agent, Illinois Central Railroad, 617 Bessemer Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sick Headache.

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She suffered with severe colic, stomach and liver troubles, and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well." says Mr. George E. Wright, of New London, New York. For sale by Dr. J. C. Dunn.

A CONTINUAL STRAIN.

Many men and women are constantly subject to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble, nervousness and distresses, both mental and physical, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health-destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, restores healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distresses caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower 25c; regular size, 75c. At J. D. Davis'.
