Edinboro students secure the best positions as teachers. Fall session opens Sept. 13th. John F. Bigler, Prin. I find nothing better for liver derangement and constipation than Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets.

Dr. J. C. Dunn. The greatest gas heater stove ever invented is the radiating stove, both for heating and economy in gas. Sold by H. E. McKinley, Tionesta.

The Ladies of the Relief Corps will hold their annual picnic at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ledaber, German Hill, to-morrow.

Ed. Hunter has razed his old dwelling on the West Side and is erecting a neat new cottage on his lot which will make very pleasant bachelor quarters for Ed.

The annual Sunday school excursion to Chautauqua will leave this station at 7:14 next Wednesday morning, Aug. 10, and the fare for the round trip from this place will be $1.25.

Fresh groceries, fruits and vegetables are specialties at the White Star Grocery, and telephone orders will be promptly filled. Try our bread, rolls, cakes, fruits and tinned goods for picnic.

J. H. Miller has closed a contract with Mr. Wheeler, of Endeavor, to do his sawing on Morrison Run, above Warren. He expects to start up full blast by the middle of August.—Tidout News.

Following is the list of letters lying unclaimed for in the Tionesta, Pa., post-office for week ending August 3, 1904: Signor Raffaele Tago, Mrs. M. Shattnerburg, Mr. W. A. Slaker, D. S. Knox, P. M.

A thoughtful woman said to some of her friends, "There is no such thing as bad in the best of us, and so much that is good in the worst of us, that it does not become any of us to say much about the rest of us."

Tionesta was well represented at Oil City last Sabbath. Some took advantage of the excursion to visit Monarch Park, while others were, and still are, attending the Free Methodist campmeeting, at Moran's grove.

Ed. Rudolph of Endeavor, was down last week and took home with him, one of Liverman Ureya's fine sorrel "steppers." Ed. will not have to take everybody's dust while he handles the ribbons over that steed.

The latest fashionable male tail is the monogra worked in silk on the shirt flap, where it is invisible to the naked eye. And yet we male idiots laugh at the idea of women wearing jeweled garters surrounded by just as much invisibility.—Ex.

August Troutweil, the Kittanning murderer, has been respiced by Governor Pennypacker until Thursday, Oct. 4th, in order that the entire case might again be presented to the Pardon Board for consideration.

Predictions in the famous lake show grape belt are to the effect that the crop this year will be good in spite of the wet season. On account of the decrease in the acreage good prices will prevail. Commission men are offering in some cases as high as 15 cents a basket for the entire crop of Vinyards.

Following an appropriation of $10,000 by the State Legislature and another one by the county for a monument to the "Old War Governor," Andrew G. Curtin, the design for the monument submitted by the Van Amringe Granite Company, of Boston, has been accepted. It will be ready for unveiling at Bellefonte in September, 1905.

The Democrats of this district had their Congressional conference held to take place at Franklin last Saturday, but were obliged to postpone the affair to a later date because the Elk county Democrats had not yet held their primaries. Three names will be presented to the conference—James S. Carmichael of Franklin, Dr. Salem Heilman of Sharon, and James B. Watson of Marienville. The story goes that the nomination is set up for Dr. Heilman.

The Tionesta Courier, speaking of the horse sold by Kribbs & Ray, of Kellerville, to parties in that city and mentioned in these columns last week, says: "The new horse mentioned in another item, as having been purchased by J. C. McKinney, is an inbred Wilkes, six years old and comparatively green, though to made much better time than 2:25. Harshman says he is a beauty and is promising a young horse as there is in this part of the country. He is named King Burdick."

In the Pennsylvania field, according to the Derrick's report of oil operations, 831 new wells were completed during the month of July. There were 1191 rigs and drilling wells under way at the end of the month. The report shows a decrease of 42 wells from the previous month's operations, and a decrease in new production of 357 barrels.

The W. C. T. U. desire to call attention of certain boys, whose custom it is to loiter around and meddle in various ways with the drinking fountain, to the fact that it was placed in the street for the convenience of the public and not for a plaything. This custom has become a nuisance, and positively will not be tolerated any longer.

Mrs. J. W. Botsford, aged 50 years, whose home is near Pleasantville, on the Tionesta road, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon. She came to the door of her home to speak to a neighbor, Mrs. J. H. Clark, who was driving to Titusville. Putting her hand to her head she exclaimed she was not feeling well, and dropped to the ground dead.

Graphic character sketches of the two candidates for the Vice-Presidency, Senator Charles W. Fairbanks and Hon. Henry G. Davis, appear in August Review of Reviews, well illustrated with portraits and views of the homes of these gentlemen. The article on Mr. Davis is by Charles S. Albert, and the one on Senator Fairbanks by Thomas R. Shipp.

A woman near Trenton, New Jersey, found that some one was stealing milk by taking it from her cow at night. She took the cow to another part of the barn and placed in the stall a bull. That night the window of the stall came out with a man and a milk pail following the crash and the bull went to the hospital with two broken ribs. Women are often gentle, but firm.

Quite a number of our citizens attended the campmeeting at Whig Hill last Sabbath, and they found a large attendance from the surrounding country at the meeting. The grounds are attractively fixed up, and those who are encamped there seem to be enjoying it hugely. The meetings, which are in charge of Rev. F. M. Small, will be continued over next Sabbath.

The Monarch Clothing Co., of Oil City, will begin their fifth semi-annual clearing sale Thursday, August 11. Prices of clothing have already been reduced and are ready for the sale. Goods are being marked down daily, and by the 11th one of the greatest bargain giving values will be ready for the public. All are invited to call, and perfect fitting garments are going to be guaranteed for all.

Our soldier boys arrived home from Camp M. S. Quay, at Gettysburg, last Saturday afternoon. All the members of Co. I from this place returned in good health and spirits, and report that they had a very pleasant outing, having had ample opportunity during their ten days' stay to visit the historic battlefield, where they picked up many interesting relics of the three days' fighting, over 40 years ago.

Alanson Crosby, for the past six years editor and publisher of the Titusville Courier, has sold the plant to P. J. Callahan, for many years an employee of the Herald office. The Courier has during one of our most valued exchanges during its existence, and if the new proprietor shall keep the paper up to its past high standard of excellence as a really live local newspaper he will do well. Success to him in all his politics.

The victims of the Butler, Pa., typhoid epidemic propose to hold the water company responsible in damages for the harm done by its bad water. Typhoid fever is largely a preventable disease. Its main source of communication is through impure water. If the private companies or municipal corporations can be held liable in damages for the ill results of furnishing impure water, the wide-spread movement for a pure water supply for cities and towns will be immensely strengthened.

Harry Parker, a 17-year-old boy, was fatally injured at Salamanca last Friday morning in the same manner that many other boys are made cripples for life, or lose their lives. He attempted to board a moving freight train on the P. R. R., and missing his grasp of the handle on the box car his legs swung under the wheels, which cut off both legs above the knee. He lived in this condition for about two days, and yet hundreds of boys will continue this dangerous past time at every opportunity.

Republican voters will do well to take notice of the following if they desire to cast their ballots at the November election. Candidates will do well to peruse the law with reference to them. The last day for registering is Wednesday, Sept. 7; for paying taxes Saturday, Oct. 8. The last day for filing certificates of nomination for state officers is Tuesday, Sept. 27; for county officers Tuesday, Oct. 11. For filing nomination papers, the last day for state officers is Oct. 4; for county officers, Tuesday, Oct. 18. Election day comes Tuesday, Nov. 8.

Justice Gilder, of Rockwood, Somerset county, has imposed what is probably the heaviest fines ever made under the present fish laws of the State upon Herman Fogie, Austin Schrock and Madison Romsberg. The men were convicted of catching 166 carp and catfish by building a fence across Buffalo creek, driving the fish into wire pens, killing them with clubs and then selling them at ten cents a pound. The fine was $10 for each fish, or a total of $1660, in lieu of which they must serve 1000 days in jail. The men had caught thousands of fish and practically cleaned the stream, but proof applied only to 166. The State Fish Commissioner has been summoned to investigate.

The 21st annual reunion of the North-western Association, G. A. R., will be held at Lakeside Park, Conneaut Lake, on Friday, August 5. The members of the Association are located in the various counties of Northwestern Pennsylvania and a large attendance is expected this year. The inmates of the Old Soldiers' Home at Erie, the members of the Women's Relief Corps and of the Women of the G. A. R. and Sons of Veterans have been especially invited. A camp fire will be held in the Auditorium in the afternoon and will be addressed by Department Commander John McNevin and staff, Past Department Commanders Charles Miller, James F. Morrison, Thomas G. Sample, H. H. Cummings and others.

A new rule will become effective on the Pennsylvania Railroad lines on August 1st, whereby all trucks left in a baggage room for over 24 hours will be charged storage at the rate of 20 cents for the first day and ten cents each day thereafter until the sum of $1 is reached; for the latter sum trucks will be kept for a month. The baggage-master at the local station has received a series of stamps to be used in carrying out the new rule, which he says is imperative and will be impartially enforced.

The Supreme Tent Knights of the Maccabees of the World has adopted the new schedule of rates recommended by the Committee on Laws. Life insurance will hereafter be furnished new members at rates ranging from 85 cents per $1,000 of insurance, at the age of 18, to $2.75 at the age of 50. Present members may re-rate themselves to the new rate for whole life protection, or may continue their insurance in force at present rates until the age of 55, after which they must pay at the rate of $3 per month.

Frank McNeal, of Kane, and E. A. Yetter of Marienville made this office a business visit this morning. They are looking after the building of the new chemical plant at Barnes by the Forest Chemical Co. Work on the plant is being pushed as rapidly as possible and it is making considerable work for all kinds of labor. It will be quite an addition to the industries of this section.—Sheffield Observer. We understand it is the intention to have the new works in operation before cold weather sets in.

The Lakeside Assembly, Findley Lake, N. Y., is now in progress, note of which will be found on this page. This excellent institute is under the management of that prince of entertainers, Byron W. King, well known to Forest-county audiences. Findley Lake is not far from Corry, Pa., and as a real, genuine pleasure resort, is preferred by many to famous Chautauqua, while the instruction one gets is often more profitable and much less expensive. Write Prof. King for particulars.

Ex-Senator W. H. Andrews seems to be peculiarly unfortunate in his efforts at farming and stock raising. Last Wednesday afternoon a large hay barn belonging to him and located on a farm near Titusville, was consumed by fire, together with all its contents, about 75 tons of hay and many farm implements. The fire spread to other buildings and all were destroyed, entailing a heavy loss to the owner. Laborers made every effort to stay the flames, but without avail. This is the second fire Mr. Andrews has had lately, a barn and about 80 head of fine cattle having been burned last April.

On account of the National Encampment G. A. R., at Boston, Mass., August 15 to 20, 1905, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to Boston, Mass., from all stations on its lines from August 13 to 15, inclusive, at greatly reduced rates. These tickets will be good for return passage, to leave Boston not earlier than August 16, nor later than August 20, inclusive, when executed by Joint Agent at Boston. Upon deposit of ticket with Joint Agent on or before August 20, and payment of fifty cents an extension of return limit may be secured to leave Boston to September 30 inclusive.

John Shoup, for nearly fifty years a resident near Lickingville, died at the home of his nephew, Wm. Shoup of Muffletown, this county, on Monday of this week, aged eighty years. He was a German by birth, having migrated to this country when still quite young in years. He was a charter member of the Lickingville United Evangelical church, and had lived a life consistent with the tenets of that church during all those years. The funeral, conducted by Rev. B. F. Feil, will be held to day, the burial taking place at Lickingville. The deceased leaves no family, his wife having died several years ago.

The Bradford Star truthfully says: As a useful thing, people invariably fail to notice or appreciate the pleasant and complimentary items that appear in newspapers regarding them, but are most unreasonable, repid and unfair in using blunt criticism. The work of a reporter and newspaper when an item appears that doesn't just please them, regardless of how much care may have been exercised in securing the information or how reliable the informant should be considered. Any newspaper is always ready to make corrections when facts are misstated and none, worthy of the name, will publish an item wrong if he knows it.

The State Department of Fisheries is anxious to encourage frog culture in Pennsylvania. Commissioner Meehan believes that farmers who have swampy ground can, by a little attention, derive considerable revenue from this industry. He has propagated several million frogs known as the great Western frog, the best species for market purposes. They are now ready for shipment, and persons desiring to experiment in frog culture may have a supply on application to the Department, for which blanks will be furnished. They may be had on application direct to the Department, to the County Fish Protective Association, or their representative in the Legislature.

"Galatea" is a neat, clean, little illustration show that has held forth here during the past few days, and has drawn good audiences. Mr. Chas. R. Brown, the proprietor entertains his patrons for nearly an hour for a small admission fee and sends them away well satisfied and much mystified. Some "Smart Alex" attempted to "get next" to the mystery by cutting through the rear of his tent last Saturday evening, but were foiled. The parties who perpetrated this offense were perhaps not aware that they were committing a crime which would mean a heavy fine and imprisonment for them if apprehended. The borough authorities settled with Mr. Brown and will attempt to discover the vandals.

Forest county readers of a historical turn of mind will be interested in the following: There are no Revolutionary soldiers now alive, nor are there any survivors of the war of 1812, the last veteran of the 1812 fracas, a resident of New York State having died some years ago, says the Boston Record. Daughters of Revolutionary soldiers draw a pension under a special Act of Congress. Hannah Barrett, daughter of Private Noah Harrell, of Captain Webb's company of Colonel Shepard's regiment of Massachusetts troops, was one of these pensioners. She lived at 45 Massachusetts avenue and died last December. The only other surviving daughter paid by the Boston pension office is Rhoda Thompson, daughter of Thaddeus Thompson, a private in Captain Thomas's company of Colonel Lane's regiment of New York artillery. She resides at Woodbury, Conn. The Boston office does not cover all of New England, as payments are also made at Augusta, Me., and Concord, N. H. There are about 2,000 widows of soldiers of 1812 still alive, and of this number 100 are paid pensions through the Boston office.

Warren Hospital Attendants Charged With Robbing a Patient. Unable to secure bail, Walter Carter and D. Ward Black, attendants at the State hospital for the insane, at North Warren, were committed to the Tionesta jail Wednesday afternoon to await trial at the September term of court. The hearing was held before Judge H. S. Perry. Black was charged with larceny and Carter was accused of receiving stolen property. The complaint was made by William J. Benson, an inmate of the institution. He had secreted in the lining of his trousers the sum of $90. Black became aware of the fact and ordered Benson to disrobe, which command was complied with. It is alleged that the attendant then took the patient's trousers out into the hall, and after removing the money threw them back in the room. He then divided the money with Carter. Benson succeeded in getting $10 back, which he placed in his mouth to insure its safety. The accused men maintain that Benson gave them $15, and that they did not steal anything from him. He has been confined at the hospital for about three years and heretofore have borne good reputations.—Warren Mirror.

Superior Court Sustains Judge Lindsey In Important Decision. In the case of J. M. Bemis & Son vs. H. A. Shipe, Collector of taxes in Jenks township, J. M. Bemis & Son, the plaintiffs, were the owners of a saw mill and machinery, which they erected in 1902, on lands leased of Peter Manning Co., situated in Jenks township, Forest county, Pa. The assessor of Jenks township valued the mill and machinery at $5,000 and on this valuation the county, school and township levied their respective taxes, which amounted in the aggregate to $223, and the duplicate for the collection of said taxes was placed in the hands of H. A. Shipe, the collector of taxes for Jenks township. The collector on the 15th day of the month of October, 1903, plaintiffs filed a bill in equity asking the court to restrain the collector from collecting the taxes, for the reason, as alleged, that the taxes were illegal and plaintiffs were not obliged to pay them. The defendants filed an answer, claiming the taxes were legal and asked the court to dissolve the bill at the cost of the plaintiffs. On hearing before Judge Lindsey the plaintiff's bill was dismissed, by decree of the court, and from this decree of the court, exceptions were filed by the plaintiffs, and taken to the Superior Court. The case was heard by the Superior Court in May and on July 28, 1904, at Philadelphia, the decree of Judge Lindsey was affirmed, thus holding that a sawing mill and machinery erected upon leased land, is properly assessed to the lessee, and subject to taxation.
