urday Oct. 8th. Don't torget this important matter, See to it at once and make sure of your vote for Roosevelt and the whole Republiean ticket.

President Roosevelt's Letter.

President Roosevelt's letter accepting the public Monday morning. It is a masterpiece and hits the Democrats some terrific blows. There is nothing uncertain in his language. There is neither squirming nor halting, His blows tell every time, and he leaves the Democratic party without a leg to stand upon. The him and complained of Mr. Roosevelt's President makes no apologies. Rather he holds up to the light of day the record of the administration and asks all to look upon it and judge accordingly, for "we intend in the future to carry on the goverument in the same way that we have Kinley was a prophet." carried it on in the past.

He invites the Democrats to take issue told the truth, for "so well has the work been done that our opponents do not venture to recite the facts about our policies or acts and then oppose them. They at- sin, but we are going to carry them all, tack only when they have misrepresented Ohio will give the Republican candidates them, for a truthful recital would leave no room for adverse comment."

The document is the strongest of the kind that has been issued in years. It is the sort that will do an American good to read.

It is a nut for Mr. Parker to crack, and he won't be able to make a nose at crack-

It glories in what has been accomplished, and it serves notice that there will be no change in the policies which have made the nation great.

It is full of splendid American doctrine. There is not a jingo sertence in it from beginning to end, and there is not a warlike note, but it makes a man proud to feel that he is an American citizen, and Theodore Roosevelt. that he has no longer to apologize when abroad for being one.

Read every word of it and judge for page of this paper.

THE Hon, John Sharp Williams dec'ares that Democrats do not die in office. They are dying however to get in.

What has become of those Democratic newspapers and orators that were censuring the President for failure to punish the post office boodlers?

Tom Warson can not understand why Democratic leaders should curse him because he preaches the same doctrine they were advocating only four years ago,

THE New York Herald deleares that "New York Democrats must wake up," Their chances of success would be improved if some of them would shut up.

Ir will probably be a sad disappointment to Democratic leader and multimillionaire Belmont to learn that money can not elect a President in opposition to the will of the people.

It is noted that no Democratic orator, not even Bourke Cockran, has revived that old cry "the tariff is a fax" which at one time deceived the voters of the

In making wagers on the election results the Democrats will not even accept the 16 to 1 ratio. Some of the daring ones express a mild willingness to take the the exception of 1896. That is the answer short end of 100 to nothing propositions.

A FAMOUS French chef, visiting in New York, says he cannot understand why the American people do not eat more soup. He ought to be told that they had an over dose of it when the Democrats were in power,

In raising the cry of "constitutionalism." Judge Parker has incidentally called attention to the fact that the Democratic convention of 1864 made that the Issue and applied the same brand of abuse to President Lincoin that they are now heaping upon President Roosevelt. Democratic may also rest assured that history will repeat itself and that they will be licked as unanimously as they were in 1864.

Maine Gives 33,000 Plurality.

The biennial elections were held in Maine on Monday, and the returns indisate the election of Cobb, the Republican candidate for Governor by the overwhelming plurafity of 33,000. This, on best, the heels of the Vermont landslide last week, has well nigh caused the collapse of the Democratic balloon, and has thrown the Parker-Belmont-Hill crowd into a state of utter demoralization and route. The Democrats, as in Vermont, but forth their greatest efforts to reduce the Republican majority in the hope of showing a slump but the unprecidented vote of Monday has silenced their guns on that

- Vermont's Great Sween.

The great Republican sweep in Vermont, Tuesday of last week, has proved a body-blow to Democratic hopes, if they ever had any, of carrying the country at the November election. That party had hoped to keep the Republican majority down to the normal size, and so put all its available forces, money, speakers and rooters into the campaign, making the effort of its life to reduce the majority. What is the result? Thirty-two thousand majority for the Republican ticket, something scarcely ever before equaled. Vermont is a farming state and it was hoped to array the farmers against the Republican policies, but the farmers know a thing or two and turned out en masse and endorsed President Roosevelt's administration. They were satisfied with the times and, as is the case throughout the whole of our country, believe in letting well enough alone.

There is no consolation in the returns from Vermont for the Democrats, but on the contrary they see the direst calamity for their party in the splendid figures rolled up by the sturdy Republicans of the Green Mountain State. Hurrah for Vermont!

We Need Impulsive Men.

At a rousing meeting of the Roosevelt and Fairbanks National Commercial League, held in New York last Thursday, D. D. Woodmansee of Cincinnati, former President of the National League of Republican clubs, was introduced as a friend of the late Mark Hanna, He told of a remark made by the late President McKinley concerning Theodore Roosevels right after the Maine was blown up in Havans Harber.

Mr. Woodmansee was speaking of the impulsiveness of the Republican candidate for President, and said he was always impulsive to do the right thing drug stors. the Republican nomination was given to when the interest of the American people demanded it.

"When the Maine was blown up," said the speaker, "Theodore Roosevelt said there were 265 lives lying at the feet of the Republican party. A triend of President McKinley repeated the remark to impulsiveness.

"That's all right," the President replied; "we'll need that impulsive young man later on."

"Time has proved that President Mc-The speaker had to wait several min-

"If Bryan's book was read in any Democratic meeting to-day two-thirds of the audience would get up and walk out. After Parker and the others have faded away Bryan will be there, and he will renew the doctrines '96 and 1900 and the Democretic party will rally around bim.

THE voters, familiarly known as "the masses," do not show any particular en-needs "a change" might be more effective yourself. It will be found on the first if the country did not remember the disasterous result that followed the last trial of bemocratic theories. Changes to the Democratic side have been very costly to the people of the country,

> DEMOCRATS may talk of 'entangling that America's bands are free, ready to protect American citizens and defend the rights of humanity wherever wrongs are attempted. If that be a "dangerous" policy, make the best of it.

> By 1892 the Republican party had reduced the interest on the public debt to $23,000,000 a year. The Democratic party under Cleveland increased it in time of peace to $38,000,000. The Republican party in spite of the Spanish war has reduced it since to $28,000,000.

THERE never was a President in the White House who was a greater friend of the laboring man than Theodore Roose- Sept. 15th and 20th, and Oct. 4th and velt. His record, from the time when he was an Assemblyman in the New York Legislature, to the present, has been a consistent one in this respect. President Roosevelt stands as the friend of the lawmaker and the enemy of the law breaker. no matter what is politics or his calling.

THE Republican plurality in Vermont is the largest in that State in any September election in the last thirty years, with to the vigorous Democratic effort to make the plurality the lowest in that time. When taken in connection with the great
