Just think of it-over 5,000 yards. More fancy silks than all the rest ber. of the stores in Oil City put together will sell in a whole year; and yet so remarkably attractively priced that we predict the g eater part will be sold the first day. It's another proof of the big things this store constantly does. Nothing ever daunts us. No quantity is too large if the place is only low enough, consequently when the New York Silk Clearing House called our attention to this manufacturer's lot of fancy silks, we made them an offer which was finally accepted.

To day is the day set for the selling to begin.

Thus the business man gets a dual lesson. He sees what he can profitably take from the islands, and also what he may profitably send to them. When it is added that a large number of representative Filipinos have been brought over to visit the Exposition and study Amercan business methods and manufactures, it will be recognized that great benefit both to the islands and to the world at large must result from this

Will Hesd Republican Orators In Stumping Pennsylvania.

PENROSE IS WORKING HARD

This State Has Been Especially Favored By the Assignment of Prominent Men to Speak For the Republican Ticket.

> [Special Correspondence.] Philadelphia, Sept. 13.

Pennsylvania Republicans are being especially favored in the present campaign.

Notwithstanding the fact that this state is admittedly going to give Roosevelt and Fairbanks a glorious majority, the national leaders of the Republican party have shown unusual consideration for the Republican organization of Pennsylvania. They recognize that Pennsylvania is a great power not only in the Republican organization of the nation, but in the congress of the United States, Pennsylvania has next to the largest number of delegates sent from any state to the Republican national convention. Her influence in the national councils of the party is frequently more poten- the world. It has stood the test of time, tial than that of any other state, because in recent years she has invariably sent a solid delegation to the Republican national conventions.

The nomination of Roosevelt for the vice presidency in Philadelphis in 1900 was the result of the action of the late Senator Quay, with Senator Penrose co-operating, in swinging the Pennsylvania delegation into line early for Roosevelt and thus forming an organration which the late Senator Hanna lect, then, when a slight expenditure was unable to defeat.

So at Chicago, at the recent Republican convention, Senator Penrose, the new leader of the Republican organization of Pennsylvania, led the way for the nomination of Fairbanks for vice president, the Pennsylvania dele gation being the first influential body of delegates to meet in caucus and de cide to vote as a unit for the Indiana favorite. Vice Presidential Candidate Fairbanks is coming to Pennsylvania to show his appreciation of the support MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, A. D. 1904 which Senator Penrose and his colleagues in the Pennsylvania delegation gave him at Chicago. Although he is in great demand in doubtful states, Senator Fairbanks has accepted an invitation to speak at the convention of Republican clubs which is to be opened in Reading on September 21, and he will no doubt there reiterate his acknowledgment of the support which Pennsylvania gave him at Chicago and which he personally made to Senator Penrose when he called upon him after the adjournment of the national convention. The young Republicans of the State

League feel highly honored that Senator Fairbanks should come to this state at this time. They have appointed a committee to meet him in Baltimore and escort him to Reading, where he will address a meeting in the Acad. emy of Music on the evening of Wednesday, September 21. Secretary Andrews, of Complete Exhibition of Island People and Industries Covers Forty-seven Acres and Is Independent of Larger Show.

Not even in the heart of Manila city could there be found forty-seven acres of Philippine territory as interesting as that amount of space covered by the Islands' display at the World's Fair. Here is an exposition within an exposition, a little wheel that revolves independently of the larger one encompassing it.

Scores of buildings are filled with exhibits, native life is depicted by as many different villages as there are tribes on the islands, military drills are given by Philippine troops, and concerts are rendered by native bands For its amusement features the Philippine exposition has the humorous Igor-

The other main edifices are types of Flipho homes, being built of undressed thuber, bamboo and rattan, with thatched roofs and brond verandas. Then there are the tribal villages nextling under the trees, some of the introduced to a number of native man

One group of men are in village council, trying an offender necording to their tribal laws; others are slowly moving in a circular dance to the thump of tomtoms and the clang of brass gongs; others, again, are smelting iron by the aid of a primitive but most in genious bellows, the constituent parts of which are a bamboo tube and an air tight mop of feathers working therein like the piston of a syringe. Among these pagan Malays are the head hunters and the dog caters. They are saynges, yet have their code of laws and a knowledge of several primitive industrles.

The Christian Malays, produced by the second wave of invasion, are represented by the Visayans, a tall and handsome race, dressing well, living in pretty homes, skilled in weaving, dye ing, basket making, hat making, wood carving and other handlicrafts, muslclaus of no mean merit, the one group of natives who came carly and thor oughly under the influence of the early
