ANIMAL STOWAWAYS.

On Ships and in Cargoes They Often Cross the Ocean.

New York has for many years received numbers of destitute aliens of the animal world from the holds of the banana ships. The trade in bananas is an enormous one, and many of them come from sources at no great distance, whence the fruit can be brought without cold storage. The big clusters of bananas are peculiarly adapted for harboring "stowaways." Among these are enumerated numbers of small, harmless snakes, lizards of various kinds, occasionally, it is said, a young iguana and large and particularly venomous spiders. But real pests which survive and increase in a new country are fortunately rarely transported accidentally. The one serious instance is the chigo, or "jigger." It is said to have been transported from Central America to the East Indies.

The Colorado beetle has never succeeded in making a home in England, though mosquitoes of a peculiarly ferocious though nonmalaria kind are said to have appeared in English hotels. Several corn beetles, a very destructive type of insect and among the greatest enemies of those who would like to create an "emergency" store of corn, have been "dumped" in England with foreign grain and have established themselves.

Bird "stowaways" on ships are very numerous in the narrow parts of the Mediterranean during the migration. They also frequently alight on ships when they are near the coast, being then very much exhausted and glad to find "a rest for the soles of their feet." Golden crested wrens sometimes descend in a storm on some North sea smack on a migration night and even alight on steamers by day. It was coincidentally stated that a golden crested wren was seen to fly from the back of a short eared owl when the latter came in from the sea and alighted near a lorry on the east coast.

THE BELIEF THAT SOME LITTLE BIRDS COME AS "STOWAWAYS" ON THE BACKS OF LARGER ONES WAS HELD IN REFERENCE TO THE CANADA GOOSE BY THE NORTH AMERICAN INDIANS AND BY THE TURKS OF CYPRUS, WHO ALLEGED THE SAME OF THE CRANE AND STORK.

That some birds must travel great distances on ships crossing the Atlantic seems probable. The American bittern and two American cuckoos have been found in England, the first rather frequently. It is conjectured that they can only have crossed the ocean by traveling on the masts and yards of ships, probably steamers, as otherwise they must have died of starvation.—London Spectator.

Just the Thing.

Mr. Goodheart—Regarding those kittens, my dear, the president of our society says the most humane way to drown kittens is to put them in an ordinary earthen flowerpot and then suddenly turn the flowerpot upside down in a pail of lukewarm water.

Approved of the Idea.

Mr. Ferguson in wrath—If you're going to bring a lot of club women to this house to spend the day, you'll have to entertain them yourself. I wash my hands of the whole affair. Mrs. Ferguson—Well, they look as if they need it.—Chicago Tribune.

FENROSE AND CORTELYOU TALK

The Bryanites Are Bolting Judge Parker in Every County in the State.

(Special Correspondence.) Philadelphia, Oct. 11.

Chairman Cortelyou, of the Republican national committee, in discussing the political situation in Pennsylvania with Senator Fenrose a few days ago, remarked: "Senator, you say that you, in Pennsylvania, are going to break all records and give President Roosevelt the largest majority ever given to any candidate in your state. Upon what do you base your prediction?"

"I make this prediction," replied Senator Fenrose, confidently, "because the Republican organization in Pennsylvania was never more harmonious, it was never in better fighting trim, and it was never more determined to get out the full party vote than it is today."

In the course of a lengthy conference Senator Fenrose went into detail regarding the congressional district contestants and the plans of the leaders to carry every disputed congressional district in Pennsylvania in order to insure the election of a Republican speaker of the next national house of representatives. All of the members of the national committee are delighted with the reports received from Pennsylvania and Cornelius N. Bliss, the treasurer of the national committee, has been especially complimentary in his references to Senator Fenrose's co-operation with the representatives of the national committee in Pennsylvania in collecting subscriptions to the campaign fund for work in the doubtful states.

Earlier in the campaign there were stories emanating from Democratic sources that Chairman Fenrose had solicited money from the national committee for use in Pennsylvania. Nothing could have been more absurd. Not only has Pennsylvania not asked a penny from the national committee, but, through Chairman Fenrose and others identified with the party organization in this state, most generous contributions have been made to the national committee to help finance the campaign in the contested states.

Dr. Theodore L. Flood, of Crawford county, a former congressman-at-large from Pennsylvania, who was one of the callers at the Republican national committee headquarters, a few days ago, in an interview published in the New York Tribune, was quoted regarding the situation in Pennsylvania. "Upon the death of Senator Quay, who had so long held the place of acknowledged leadership," said Dr. Flood, "the question naturally arose as to who would succeed to his mantle. The question is fully answered in the fact that the present senior senator, Boies Penrose, is squarely in the saddle, and the broad experience acquired, first in the state senate and later in the upper branch of congress, coupled with the fact that he is chairman of the state committee, gives him a rare equipment for the leadership. He heartily acquiesces in the choice of Attorney General Philander C. Knox as his colleague, and the junior senator gives promise in his past achievements of a brilliant career."

"Senator Penrose is ably seconded in the direction of the state organization by Colonel Wesley R. Andrews, who is both private secretary to the senator and secretary of the state committee. He has a genius for organization and work.

"Unity of purpose prevails, and the absence of all bickering was never more complete. The result of the happy and harmonious conditions that now obtain will be a plurality of more than 300,000 for Roosevelt and Fairbanks."

While the Republicans of Pennsylvania are united and aggressive, the Democrats are divided and disgusted. They cannot get together to make a move for their ticket. The row among the Philadelphia Democrats made it necessary to call off the meeting in the Academy of Music, where Bourke Cockran was to have made a reply to Senator Knox. The independence party charge the Donnelly-Ryan men with breaking up their plans, and the Donnelly-Ryan men accuse the independence faction with trying to use the national committee to further their interests.

"Meanwhile the Bryan men, the silverites, are working against Parker, and many of them propose to vote the full Republican ticket to get even with the 'gold bugs,' who, with the aid of Wall street money, succeeded in capturing the St. Louis convention from the free silver wing.

The attitude of the Bryanites was well expressed by Candidate Watson, of the Socialists, when he said: "The Democratic party is a house divided against itself. It has in it all the elements of deluge and death. It is bound to go to pieces, because it represents nothing but a mere greedy, persistent hunter for office. When Bryan led it, it stood for something. When Stephen A. Douglas led it, it stood for something, and when Jackson and Jefferson led it, it stood for something. With Parker, its nominal leader, it stands for nothing. Parker has no elements of leadership. He will not go before the people and speak to them. He will not write in plain language which they can understand; and in the end he must be a tremendous failure."

MR. WYNNE APPOINTED.

Took the Oath of Office as Postmaster General.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Robert J. Wynne took the oath of office as postmaster general at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The ceremony occurred in the private office in the postoffice department, which he has occupied since he became first assistant postmaster general.

The oath was administered by Chief Clerk John J. Howley of the first assistant's office, who now becomes acting first assistant postmaster general. A number of Mr. Wynne's friends were present.

The commission, like that for most recess appointments, makes the appointment effective "until the end of the next session of the senate of the United States."

There will be no formal appointment of a successor to Mr. Wynne as first assistant, Mr. Howley becoming acting first assistant postmaster general under the provisions of the law governing such cases.

Alleged Suicide Pact.

Kankakee, Ill., Oct. 11.—A suicide pact has resulted in the death of Miss Minnie Ifland, 20 years old, and Lulu Cook, 14 years old, daughters of farmers living 20 miles south of here. Clashed in each other's arms, the two drank the contents of an ounce bottle of strychnine. Death came before medical aid could be summoned. The reading of trashy novels is said to have led to the suicides.

Was Daughter of William L. Wilson.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 11.—Miss Bessie Wilson, who was drowned at Virginia beach Sunday afternoon, was the youngest daughter of the late William L. Wilson, former postmaster general, instead of his niece, as at first reported.

Saves Children's Lives.

THOMPSON'S BAROSMA.

Have you a family? Do you realize that the annoying kidney trouble of your young children, of your baby, evidenced by irregular and involuntary emissions, will lead in time to fatal results if not remedied? Thousands of children, of young men and women, die every year because of the neglect of parents to give the proper care in this respect in their early years. Generally this is due to a non-realization of the meaning of the symptoms, often to lack of knowledge of the proper remedies. Even your physician, man of science that he is, may be led astray by the varying symptoms of liver and kidney disorders. If your little one gives any evidence of a weakness of the kidneys, or inaction of the liver, soothing the linen or acting sluggishly, get Thompson's Barosma for it. The remedy is unfailing. It is absolutely harmless, composed of pure vegetable ingredients, and prescribed all over the world by medical practitioners of the highest skill and reputation. Mrs. Fred Lobeck, of Titusville, Pa., writes that her little son, four years old, after being given three bottles of Thompson's Barosma, was permanently cured of bed-wetting, an annoying trouble since babyhood. Mrs. N. F. Leslie, of Oil City, Pa., says her five year old daughter, after several months of ineffective treatment by physicians for bladder trouble, and being in dangerous condition, was completely cured by six bottles of Thompson's Barosma or Kidney and Liver Cure. Ask your druggist for it. 50c and $1.00 a bottle.

Prodigal Father's Intention.

The prodigal son had just come home.

"I really meant this reception to improve your mother," smiled the old gentleman. "My welcome when I came home from the club last night was very different."

Satisfied with having set a fine example for the future, he turned his attention to the veal.—New York Tribune.

The Consultation.

"They have called two doctors in for consultation."

"And do the doctors agree?"

"I believe they have agreed upon the price."—Philadelphia Ledger.
