St. Louis, Nov. 1.-After circling in every direction at a height of 2,000 feet above the Cascades, in sight of thousands of cheering, enthusiastic spectators on the world's fair grounds, A. Roy Knabenshue of Toledo, in command of Thomas S. Baldwin's airship "California Arrow," returned to the place from which he started, covering 11/2 miles, part way against an eight-

Knabenshue started from the Aeronautic concourse at 3:37 p. m. and returned at 4:05 p. m. On the return trip the airship sailed slowly over the exact spot from which it had risen 28 minutes previously and glided about 100 feet further west, where it settled gracefully to the ground.

The descent of the Arrow was the signal for a great demonstration. Dozens of eager hands were upstretched to grasp the frame of the flying machine, which, with its navigator was carried around the concourse on the shoulders of the shouting men.

Day of Discouragement.

The successful flight followed a day full of discouragement. Baldwin and Knabenshue had worked for 26 hours without sleep to prepare for the flight, and the first essay at an ascent, with airship, had ended disastrously, the Arrow falling suddenly to the ground termed the old-fashioned principles, and his effort was a scathing arraignand breaking a blade of her propeller. Russian Version of the Attack. Admiral Rojestvensky in his report on the trawler incident declares that he was attacked in the darkness by two torpedo boats, which came upon the squadron from the direction of the fishing fleet. He opened fire, and be lieves he sank one of the torpedo boats, the other making off for cover among the fishermen.

As soon as he noticed the fishermen Admiral Rojestvensky ceased firing. He proceeded on his way without leaving any vessel behind, and says he be lieves the vessel which the fishermen reported remaining on the scene for six hours without offering succor to the drowning was the other torpedo boat, either waiting for her consort or repairing damage inflicted by the Lagdameo claimed that as the United States had acquired the Philippines he was a citizen of this country. The matter finally went to Mayor Studley, who called up the attorney general's office in Washington by telephone and Assistant Attorney General Robb said: "The supreme court of the United States has held that a Filipino is not a citizen of the United States. There fore, if the law of Connecticut requires a voter to be a citizen he must be naturalized."

The board assembled again and an nounced that it would refuse to recognize the right of Lagdameo to vote. Deaths From Mine Explosion.

From 30 to 60 men lost their lives in a terrific explosion which occurred at mine No. 3 of the Rocky Mountain Fuel and Iron company at Tercio, 40 miles west of Trinidad, Col., Friday afternoon.

The exact number of dead may never be known, as the mine is burning and in all likelihood the bodies will be consumed. The mine employs 80 men, and it is believed that at least 60 were in it at the time. News of the explosion brought assistance from the adjacent camps and at night hundreds of men were trying to enter the mine. Deadly fumes overcame the rescuers frequently, but their places immediately were taken by others to risk
