Following is the list of letters lying unopened for in the Tionesta, Pa., post-office for work ending Nov. 9th, 1904: Mrs. E. L. Stockstill, Lilla M. Johnston, D. S. Knox, P. M.

The Sunday afternoon train on the River division of the Pennsylvania has been discontinued. The morning and evening trains, Sunday, are still running, and we understand will be continued all winter.

Workmen on the pipe line over on Hemlock creek, in Tionesta township, saw an old she bear and two cubs one day last week. They have stocked up with ammunition and will give them a chase as soon as a little tracking snow falls.

The camp of Sons of Veterans recently organized at West Hickory, was officially instituted and the officers installed Monday evening. The new camp starts off with a membership of twenty-four. Dr. F. J. Bovard of this place acted as installing officer.

Osgood & Jamieson have secured a nice tract of timber on Two-Mile run, near Franklin, and are putting in a mill to manufacture it into lumber. Patrick Joyce and son, Joe, are engaged in building the arches for the boilers. They and J. H. Osgood and Charlie Jamieson were all home to vote yesterday.

County Superintendent of Schools S. B. Bayle, of Erie county, says that agriculture in the public schools, which has been introduced in Waterford and Mill creek to vintners, Erie county, is proving very popular with the scholars and farmers. Scientific farming is taught on the same lines as it has been developed in the best agricultural schools of the nation.

President Roosevelt has issued the customary proclamation, designating Thursday, Nov. 24th, as Thanksgiving Day, and Governor Pennypacker having followed suit, there is nothing on hand now but the skinning for the turkey. We won't all eat turkey, it isn't likely at twenty cents the pound, but a fairly well-fed spring chicken isn't to be despised 'long about that time.

Moses Hepler has his house at the lower end of town pretty well along toward completion. Martin Rhodes is finishing up his house on Vine street, by siding it up and painting it. John Charleston is finishing his house near the Catholic church toward completion, and John Shira has a new dwelling, located on the opposite side of the street from Charleston's, well under way.

The Corry Leader says that two men are at work in the sewer gang of that city who are by no means obliged to perform labor of that kind. One of them is a Philadelphian who has an income of $15,000 a year and the other an Englishman who is heir to one of the largest slate mines in England. They have determined on a year's hard manual labor in order to study social conditions.

The same success has been attained in "Helios" the radiator, for sale by H. E. McKinley. As a gas saver and heat producer it has no equal. Put it in the room that is the hardest to heat. You will be pleased with the result. Every customer becomes a salesman, recommending it to his friends. It gives a uniform temperature throughout the room, produces no moisture and saves the price of itself in a winter's time.

Veterans of the Civil War are now dying at the rate of 100 each day, according to a statement made public by Commissioner Ware, of the Pension Bureau. The mortality among soldier pensioners of all wars and classes last year was 31,728 deaths, of which 30,071 were volunteer soldiers of the Civil War. Commissioner Ware estimates that the death rate among pensioners of all classes at the close of the present year will approximate 47,000.

The Fredonia Censor, a paper published up in the lake shore grape belt, says: Grapes are not spoiling on the vines this cool weather. We hear of a number of vineyards yielding five tons per acre. The price per ton has varied all the way between $17 and $25. The total output of this grape region of 30,000 acres is estimated at $100,000 tons, which at $20 per ton would be $2,000,000. That ought to make grape growers quite comfortable this year.

Dunn, of Tionesta, and Detar, of Kellettsville, operated upon Mr. Agnew for appendicitis, and for a time his condition was such that his physicians would give little hope for his recovery, but since Saturday he has been steadily improving, and we hope to see him about again before long.

Death of Mrs. Birtell.

Mrs. Cordelia S. Birtell died at the home of her son, Ray, in Tionesta, November 5th, 1904, after an illness extending over the past two or three years. Although in quite feeble health during a greater portion of this period, and at times death might have been expected at any moment, yet when the final summons came it was sudden and unexpected. Mrs. Birtell was born near Pleasantville, Pa., in January, 1835, her maiden name being Aldrich, and she had been a resident of Tionesta for the past 14 years. She was a woman of gentle and affectionate nature, abounding in goodness and kindness toward her neighbors while in health, qualities that endeared her to all who knew her. Besides her husband, Jeremiah Birtell, she is survived by five children, as follows: Mrs. J. A. Hawke of Warren, Pa., George A., of Shippensville, Clarion county, and Frank, Lulu and Ray, of Tionesta.

The funeral was held from her late home Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, services being conducted by Rev. W. O. Calhoun, of the Methodist Episcopal church, and the remains were laid to rest in Riverside cemetery.

Found Dead in His Wagon.

Charles Detar was found dead in his wagon while returning from a trip to Hatton, Elk county, last Saturday. He had been in the employ of N. F. Hoover, of Marienville, who has been jobbing in the bark woods at Wynkoop run, in the edge of Elk county, and Mr. Hoover had sent him out with the last load of bark, and to bring back a load of feed. On his way back he came up with another teamster and had lain down on the bags containing the feed. The head teamster supposing that he had fallen asleep, kept watch of the horses. Mr. Hoover, knowing the roads to be rough and that darkness would probably overtake him, had started on the way to meet Detar, which he did about half way between the two places. Stopping the team he attempted to rouse the supposed sleeper, when he found to his utter astonishment that he was dead. All efforts to find any signs of life failed, though the body was still warm, and Mr. Hoover thinks the man could not have been dead more than fifteen or twenty minutes. Arrangements were at once instituted for the holding of an inquest, the jury returning a verdict that the man had come to his death by unknown causes. The deceased was well known in the vicinity of Tylersburg, where he was reared in the family of Mrs. J. H. Smith, having been left an orphan when but a mere child. He was aged about 25 years, and single. Mr. Hoover had the body prepared for burial and conveyed to Tylersburg, where the funeral was held yesterday.

Of Interest to School Boards.

The Clarion Democrat gives the following facts concerning a case which has attracted considerable interest, not only in that but other counties, and demonstrates anew the importance of school boards knowing they are right before going ahead:

"The case of A. J. Davis vs. The School District of East Brady Borough was tried before arbitrators October 28th, and resulted in an award in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $361.25. This case was brought by the plaintiff, A. J. Davis, to recover his salary as principal of the East Brady schools for the latter part of the school term on the grounds that he had been unjustly removed before the end of the term without cause and without a hearing.

"The plaintiff alleges in his statement of claim that on or about October 13, 1903, he was elected principal of the East Brady schools; that he entered upon his duties as teacher and principal on the 13th day of October, 1903, and continued to discharge the said duties until January 4th, 1904, when he was dismissed and ousted from the said school by the defendant without a hearing and without reasonable and legal cause.

"The defendant in his affidavit of defense admitted the election of the plaintiff as principal of the schools, but alleged that he was incompetent and negligent in discharging his duties for which cause he was dismissed. Afterwards, the defendant filed an amended affidavit of defense denying that the plaintiff was lawfully hired and therefore he could not recover. The act of Assembly of April 11, 1902, Section 4, provides as follows:

"That no tax for school or building purposes shall be levied, no resolutions shall be adopted for the purchase or sale of any school real estate, no school house shall be located or its location abandoned or changed, no teacher shall be appointed or dismissed, no annual school term shall be determined on, nor shall any general courses of studies be adopted or annual series of text-books be selected, in any common school district, except by the affirmative votes of a majority of the whole number of the directors or controllers thereof; and in each of said cases the names of the members voting both in the affirmative and negative, shall be entered on the minutes of the board by the secretary."

"The defendant contended that as their minutes did not record the names of the members of the board voting for and against the plaintiff at the time of his election he was not legally elected and therefore could not recover. The arbitrators, Geo. F. Whitner, S. K. Clarke and W. J. Geary, held that as the defendant had admitted the election of the plaintiff it should not afterwards be allowed to amend its affidavit of defense denying his election and as no evidence was offered to prove the incompetency and negligence of the plaintiff an award was given in his favor. The plaintiff was represented by W. A. Hindman and Corbett & Rugh and the defendant by F. J. Maffett and T. L. Wilson."

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

President Roosevelt has issued the annual Thanksgiving proclamation, which is as follows:

It has pleased Almighty God to bring the American people in safety and honor through another year, and in accordance with the long unbroken custom handed down to us by our forefathers, the time has come when a special day shall be set apart in which to thank him who holds all nations in the hollow of his hand for the mercies thus vouchsafed to us. During the century and a quarter of our national life we as a people have been blessed beyond all others, and for this we owe humble and heartfelt thanks to the author of all blessings.

The year that has closed has been one of peace within our borders as well as between us and all other nations. The harvests have been abundant, and those who work, whether with hand or brain, are prospering greatly. Reward has been waited upon honest effort. We have been enabled to do our duty to ourselves and to others. Never has there been a time when religious and charitable effort has been more evident. Much has been given to us and much will be expected from us.

We speak of what has been done by this nation in no spirit of boastfulness or vainglory, but with full and reverent realization that our strength is as nothing unless we are helped from above. Hitherto we have been given the heart and the strength to do the tasks allotted to us as they severally arose. We are thankful for all that has been done for us in the past, and we pray that in the future we may be strengthened in the unending struggle to do our duty fearlessly and honestly, with charity and good will, with respect for ourselves and love towards our fellow men.

In this great republic the effort to combine national strength with personal freedom is being tried on a scale more gigantic than ever before in the world's history. Our success will mean much not only for ourselves, but for the future of all mankind; and every man or woman in our land should feel the grave responsibility resting upon him or her, for in the last analysis this success must depend upon the high average of our individual citizenship, upon the way in which each of us does his duty by himself and his neighbor.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the twenty-fourth of this November, to be observed as a day of festival and thanksgiving by all the people of the United States at home or abroad, and do recommend that on that day they cease from their ordinary occupations and gather in their several places of worship or in their homes, devoutly to give thanks unto Almighty God for the benefits He has conferred upon us as individuals and as a nation, and to beseech Him that in the future His divine favor may be continued to us.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this first day of November in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and four, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-ninth.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
