A MOTHER'S AWFUL DEED. Cuts the Throat of Her Son, and Attempts to End Her Own Life. Mrs. Leslie Greeley, aged 25 years, and residing near the creamery at Johnlowen, about two miles from Newmansville, Clarion county, committed a most revolting crime in the forenoon of last Saturday, cutting the throat of her 6-yearold illegitimate son, John Hopkins, from ear to ear, using a razor. She was committed to jail at Clarion in the evening of the same day. After murdering her son she attempted to end her own life, but her courage failed her. 'Squire M. C. Willings of Lickingville held an inquest on Saturday when the following particulars were obtained through the evidence: The dead boy was the illegitimate son of the woman, -Mr. and Mrs. L. Agnew spent the who was married to Leslie Greely two past ten days visiting friends in Barnett, Years ago last November. Her maiden name was Moore and she was left an orphan at an early age and was reared by Mr. and Mrs. David Mercer of Edinboro, The Greeleys occupied a squalid home received a letter from Mrs. Kinsler, a of three rooms near Johnlowen, in Clarion county, and were in very destitute circumstances. On Friday Mrs. Greeley sister of her husband, which reproached her for not offering her husband more assistance and declared that Mrs. Greeley was responsible for their poverty. Greeley went to see his stater on Saturday morning, which was the sixth birthday of the murdered son. Soon after he left the house Mrs. Greeley secured his razor and taking her boy in her lap cut his throat with the tool. The gash was six and one-half inches long and the jugular vein and windpipe were both severed, She then undressed the boy, laid the dead body on a black underskirt and then slashed at her own throat. The cut was near the chin and, although it bled freely is not serious. The woman's courage then failed her and when she saw her husband approaching she ran out into the road and told him of her terrible deed. The husband called a neighbor, into the house and then notified the neighbors. Constable Goal took the women into custody and after the inquest conveyed her to the Clarion county

The wound in the woman's throat is two and one-half inches in length. During the time that the doctor was dressing it she seemed collected and assisted him, holding the pins and assisting in placing bandages. The dead child was buried by the overseers of the poor on Sunday. morning. The clothing he wore at the time be was murdered were his only garments and he was buried in them. His mother was so scantily clothed that neighbors were compelled to fornish wraps that she might be taken to Clarion. Public opinion is divided as to the sanity of the women, many believing that the woman deliberately took the life of her child and intended to end her own as the best way to rid herself of the misery no rightminded person could commit
