Oil and gas leases at this office.

Everything on the bargain list must go this week at Hopkins' store. Don't complain if you get left.

The subject of Rev. W. O. Calhoun's sermon at the M. E. church next Sabbath evening will be "A Fugitive King."

Edinboro Normal aims at "thoroughness" in everything. Catalogue sent free. JOHN F. BULLER, Prin.

Rev. Dr. Stonaker's subjects for next Sabbath at the Presbyterian church are: Morning, "Jonah and the whale," evening, "The Millionaire."

Isn't it about time for some one to begin the annual job of breaking the backbone of winter? There never was a more urgent demand for it.

Lyman Mong of the township lost one of his team horses last Thursday. The animal, which was valued at $200, took sick and died suddenly.

As will be seen by his ad. on this page, F. R. Lanson has bought the mercantile interests of the H. B. Feit Co., and is closing out the stock of goods.

For teachers who wish to continue their preparation for teaching, the Spring term of the Clarion State Normal offers exceptional advantages.

The business portion of Edinboro, the Normal School town, got a bad scorching last Wednesday. Loss about $50,000, and only partially covered by insurance.

If your grocery bills have been heavier than they ought to have been, or the goods not just right, try the White Star Grocery. You're bound to be pleased.

Following is the list of letters lying uncalled for in the Tionesta, Pa., post-office for week ending Feb. 22, '05. Mr. Earl Kelley, J. G. Mong, Mr. J. D. Bailey, card. D. S. Knox, P. M.

The banks were closed yesterday on account of election day, and the same conditions prevail to-day because of Washington's birthday. It is not often that two holidays occur successively, but when they do the banks get the benefit of a double rest.

The opening and dedicatory exercises of the Hunter memorial school building at Tidouote take place to-day. A fitting program will be rendered and the day will be a gala one for the town, as business will be practically suspended while the exercises are going on.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting Tuesday evening, February 28, at the home of Mrs. Joseph Clark. The subject of scientific temperance instruction will be taken up, and the meeting will be led by Mrs. Mary Thomson, superintendent of that department. All are invited to attend.

If you know an item of news, drop us a postal in the post office, and we will be glad to print. Always add your own name as authority for the item, so that we may know positively that we are not being imposed upon. You can also call us on the Forest County telephone, if more convenient than to write.

The regular circuit quarterly meeting for Mayburg and Kellestville circuit will be held in the Free Methodist church at Kellestville, Feb. 24-25, '05. There will be preaching services each evening and the usual quarterly meeting order of services Sunday morning. District Elder, Rev. J. S. McGraw, will be in charge.

Marienville has been practically isolated from the outside world for nearly two weeks past, no train on the B. & O. road having gone through since the 18th inst., and mail reaching Foxburg by the overland route to Marienville. In the meantime the citizens have been amusing themselves listening to the stories of bygone years by old-timers, when all around was a howling wilderness, and mails reached the settlers about twice a year.

The several associations of the Coal, Iron and Oil Circuit will hold their fairs at the following dates: Kittanning, August 15-18; Butler, August 22-25; Punxsutawney, August 29-September 1; Pottsville, August 29-September 1; Brookville, September 5-8; Stoneboro, September 12-15; Clarion, September 12-15; Rimersburg, September 19-22.

Were the newspapers to publish all the stories which come to them, through the instrumentality of anonymous communications and otherwise, there would be something doing in social circles all the time. While the newspaper men are frequently denounced for their acts of commission, they are seldom commended for their considerate omissions.—Sandy Lake Breeze.

John Birtell, a son of Charles Birtell, the well-known oil operator at Pithole, was caught in the fly wheel of a gas engine on his father's lease on Thursday morning. His arm was severely cut and he suffered from some painful bruises. Dr. Proper, of Pleasantville, who attended him, could find no broken bones but found several stitches necessary to close the wound in the arm.

Least this year commences late, for Ash Wednesday falls upon March 8. This brings Easter Sunday on the 23d of April. The latest possible date that Easter may occur is April 25, and it is only at long periods that Easter falls as late as that. In 1886 Easter came on April 25, and will not again fall on that date until 1945. Easter has not come on April 23 since 1818, and after this year will not fall on that date again until 1916.

Thomas J. Tobin, a well known P. R. R. freight conductor, had his left leg badly crushed below the knee Tuesday of last week in Oil City. While assisting in making up his train for the run to Olean the caboose was derailed by the ice covered rails and caught him against the abutment wall near the Centre street crossing. It was thought the leg would have to be amputated, but later reports from the hospital say it will be saved.

There are so many excellent investments for surplus cash that it is strange how frequently people are argued into buying stock or other so-called securities that are worthless. There are people who would scorn to purchase real estate, preferring to put their savings into imaginary mining ventures, fake oil companies or dirigible balloon stock. The average man with $1,000 should petition for a guardian, thinks the Titusville Herald.

Many a young man who complains that he earns small wages could train his mind till he could earn far more if he would swear off on card playing and devote his time as far as possible to study of books that would inform him as to the science of his work, or, if that is not possible, would devote himself to improving his education in some particular line of effort which he thinks he would like to take up.—Franklin News.

The Franklin Evening News was 27 years of age last Friday. During all these years the paper has been under the management of editor James B. Borland. As a mark of his ability, pluck and clear-headed direction, Mr. Borland needs no other monument than that which is evidenced by the splendid standing which the News has attained and holds in the estimation of the public to-day. Continued success and many happy years to you and your associates, dear Jim.

One of Liveryman Canfield's horses took fright at some object near the west end of the Hickory river bridge last Thursday and, throwing the driver out, proceeded to speed up for a spin home. When the animal reached the county home she had freed herself of the cutter and was caught with only the thills hanging to the harness. No other damage was done, and the man who said Canfield's horses were like Irish game cocks, and "would die before they would run," has another guess coming.

By reference to notice published in this issue it will be seen there is to be no jury court next week, all jurors having notice not to appear as such. This is getting to be such a common affair in our county that it fails to elicit comment. The November term of court resulted in the same manner, and yet there are but one or two prisoners in the custody of Sheriff Noblit awaiting trial, and they for such trivial offenses as scarcely to be worth mentioning. The civil list, containing six causes, has been continued to the May term.

H. R. Forbes, a P. R. R. brakeman, whose home is at Warren, but who makes Oil City his headquarters, had his right hand caught and badly crushed between the bumpers of a north-bound freight here Sunday afternoon. The other members of the crew brought the injured man to the office of the company surgeon, Dr. Bovard, who found it necessary to amputate the small finger, part of the bone in the hand being removed with the finger. The third finger was also badly lacerated but was saved. Mr. Forbes returned to Oil City Sunday evening.

The annual scarecrows are early on the wing this season predicting all sorts of dire disasters when the break-up comes this spring. Should the present great body of snow be taken off with a sudden rain, while the heavy ice is still solid on the river and creeks, etc., and so on, then look out! Well, why not look on the other side? Should the break-up come gradually, the snow melt from the warmth of sun and atmosphere, and the ice rot, as it generally does, before moving out, then all things will be serene, and the damage done will be of the minimum size. In short, "don't bother till you're hurt."

Old rivermen and railroaders are prophesying a duplication of the great St. Patrick's day flood of 1865. At Bradford and in the surrounding country the snow is from four to five feet in depth. From Warren southward along the Allegheny river, the average depth is thirty inches. This is solid snow, packed by the occasional rains of the winter. In the Allegheny river there are many places where the water is frozen solidly to the bottom of the stream. Between this city and Pittsburg there are gorges thirty-five feet in height. In many places the ice has been forced out of the river and extends to the railroad grade. The continuance of cold weather now, makes an early thaw improbable. This river sharks say that when the warm rains of March come that will be a flood unparalleled in forty years.—Franklin News.

The election in this borough yesterday resulted as follows: Justice of the peace, S. J. Setley, S. S. Canfield; council, Geo. Holeman, J. W. Landers, G. F. Anderson; school director, J. C. Snowden, Dr. J. C. Dunn; constable, W. H. Hood; high constable, Wm. Hunter; auditor, P. J. Joyce, F. R. Lanson; judge of elections, C. A. Hill; inspectors, Jay Bankhead, J. J. Landers.

Dr. W. J. McKnight, the celebrated historian of Brookville, Pa., is completing the instrumental history of Northwestern Pennsylvania, which will cover the most stirring events of the counties of Tioga, Potter, McKean, Warren, Elk, Cameron, Jefferson, Forest, Clarion, Venango, Butler, Crawford, Mercer and Lawrence, and will cover the period from 1784 to 1850. The book will contain about 100 illustrations and over 800 pages, and there will be but 2,000 copies issued. Coming from Dr. McKnight's versatile pen the book will be one of unusual interest and fascination.

A. B. Howland, well known to many Forest county business men, died at his home in Titusville, Saturday morning, 18th inst., aged nearly 67 years. In the latter part of January Mr. Howland, while on a business trip in Indiana, was stricken with paralysis, which finally resulted in his decease. For many years past he had been manager of the Enterprise Transit Co.'s affairs, and as such had transacted a vast amount of business in Forest county, where that company owns a large acreage of both timber and oil lands. He was regarded as one of the squarest and most honorable business men by all with whom he came in contact, and his death will be regretted by those who knew him in this county.

The home of T. G. Gregg, who lives on the hill back from Loleta, not far from Peter Heffern's, was burned to the ground Saturday (Feb. 11) about 6 a. m. At 5 o'clock one of the boys kindled a fire in the kitchen stove and then returned to bed. In about an hour the family was aroused by the sound of the falling stove and by the smoke which began pouring into other parts of the house. They had barely time to leave the building in their night robes, saving only a sewing machine and a writing desk. Hitting up at once Mr. Gregg drove his family to George Britton's house, about a half mile distant. It is thought that some wood piled around the stove caught fire, causing the conflagration.—Loleta, Cor. Ridgway Advocate.

The engineering corps, concerning whose movements there has been so much speculation of late, arrived in Tionesta last Saturday and are quartered at the Hotel Weaver. There are fifteen in the party, and they had reached as far as East Hickory Monday with their survey, and will likely finish as far as Tionesta before the end of the week. The survey is presumed to be in the interest of the Erie Railway, and it is conjectured that the route is being laid out with a view to making a connecting link between Oil City and Salamanca, although none of the party has divulged the intent of those for whom they are employed. They never do, but straws usually indicate the direction of the wind, and this is the way it seems to be blowing at the present time.

Not within the memory of the oldest of us has the condition of the public roads in this latitude been so bad in the winter time, as is now the case. All attempts at keeping them open by shoveling have failed and that method has been abandoned weeks ago, and where it has been impossible to get around the drifted places, roads have been beaten over the tops of them, until in most places the roadbed is high above fences, stumps, etc., so that the plane of travel is far above the ordinary road level. In this state of affairs it is necessary to keep the beaten road, for the least variation is liable to throw a team into three to five feet of crusted snow, and then there is trouble. There is prospect of even worse conditions when a thaw or soft spell sets in allowing the beaten roads to break through.

The speed event booked for last Thursday "Butcher Boy," owned by A. C. Urey of this place, and "Billy Jones," owned by H. J. Wager of Titusville, was pulled off according to schedule on the track on Tionesta creek between the mouth of the creek and the river bridge. There was quite a crowd present to see the "go," which resulted in favor of the Titusville nag in two heats. The purse was for $50 a side, and there were no side bets worth mentioning, reports of the big winnings of Oil City and Titusville sports to the contrary notwithstanding. In the start "Butcher Boy" calked himself, which seemed to make him timid and his speed was not up to his standard. After the main event was over Hooker Dale entered one of his speeders against the Tionesta horse, but he wasn't in it to any extent.

Mrs. Ella Greely, the woman from near Lickingville who killed her little son Jan. 21st, as reported in this paper, is still confined in jail in Clarion and will probably remain here until the February term of court when her case will be disposed of. It is clear now that Mrs. Greely is subject to some bad form of fits and has had some spells since confined to the jail, and while under the influence of these fits she is utterly void of reason or judgment, and not responsible for her acts. It is singular that she could be in such condition and not be carefully watched so as to prevent such acts as the killing of her little boy. The probability is that she will be tried upon the charge of murder at the February term of court and be found not guilty reason of periods of insanity, and then be sent to the Warren hospital.—Clarion Democrat.

Eagle Rock Happenings.

Wm. Kieffer and son Ralph spent Sunday in Warren with the family. Jack Nowland has been sick the past week with the grip. Mrs. Berriekson went to Oil City Saturday to do shopping. Harry Carlin and Miss Campbell, of Henry's Bend, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Catlin Wednesday.

J. F. Henderson made a business trip to Tidouote Thursday.

John Brennan is on the sick list.

Mr. Baker of Elkins, W. Va., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Ball.

Many were favored with some very nice valentines. You should not get ugly because they hit you.

Mrs. B. H. Wilson, of Nebraska, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Henderson last week.

PERSONAL.

A daughter was born Friday to Prof. and Mrs. D. W. Morrison.

J. P. Houser of Tidouote was a business visitor in town Saturday.

Miss Susie Huling, teacher at Cooper Tract, in Howe township, was home over Sunday.

W. F. Bingman, of Nebraska, made the REPUBLICAN office a pleasant call Wednesday.

Prof. J. Blaine Peck and Earl Siggins of West Hickory, Sundayed with Tionesta friends.

C. H. McCauley, Jr., of Ridgway, was transacting business at Forest county's capital Friday.

Miss Nannie Morrow, teacher of the primary room in the Tidouote schools, was home over Sunday.

Fred Klinefiver, of Nebraska, returned Monday from a week's visit with friends in Bradford county.

Representative Robertson came home from Harrisburg Thursday, the legislature having adjourned till to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Gerow made a business trip to Titusville Monday, driving to Pleasantville to take the trolley.

J. R. Osgood, Q. Jamieson, Charles Jamieson and E. E. Wise, came up from Oil City yesterday to cast their ballots.

Hart Lawrence, Joseph Morgan and A. J. Fleming were down from Grunderville yesterday to attend the election.

Miss Florence Thomson, teacher of the Young school, Green township, spent last Sabbath at her home in Tionesta.

Mrs. Sue M. Sharpe and Mrs. George F. Watson have gone to the Mercer Sanitarium for a few weeks' visit and recuperation.

Mr. Frank Beigel, of Kellestville, Pa., has been enjoying a visit with his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. John Beigel.—St. Mary's Gazette.

Rev. W. O. Calhoun received a message advising him of the serious illness of his mother, at Sherman, N. Y., and yesterday departed for there.

Charles Klinefiver of Nebraska, and James Haslet and Charles Killmer of the borough, sent some of their fancy chicken stock to the Pittsburg show this week.

Mrs. George Weller is stricken with typhoid fever at her home in Embleton, where there seems to be an epidemic of the disease prevalent at the present time.

Pat Richards is home from the Oil City hospital where he has been for the past six weeks suffering from diphtheria. He is still a little weak but is coming along all right.

Mrs. Paul J. Stonaker visited her parents at Franklin this week, and brought the children home with her, they having been with their grand parents since the family came east.

George Holeman was visiting his daughter, Mrs. Merton Meloy, in Oil City last Sabbath. He reports Mr. Meloy mending slowly from his severe injuries being able at present to sit up some in bed.

Mrs. E. W. Chadwick has stored the family household goods in J. W. Jamieson's building, and will stay with her parents at Trunkerville for a month or so, till her husband is able to secure a home in Oil City, where he is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry McCalmont were up from President a few hours Wednesday doing some shopping, and the former took advantage of the occasion to call at the REPUBLICAN office and have his name enrolled as a subscriber of Forest county's best newspaper.

Joe Joyce met with a rather peculiar injury last Friday while standing near a horse that was hitched in front of the REPUBLICAN office. The animal took a sudden notion to "reach him one," and in doing so struck Joe on the thumb of the left hand, breaking a bone and dislocating the thumb, making a very painful wound.

Frank Hunter, of Nebraska, was a caller at the REPUBLICAN office yesterday. Frank, who has been engaged with the Warren Lumber Co., at Grunderville, building barges, for the past three years, has taken a contract with the Collins & Kreidler company at Nebraska, and will be at home this summer.

Messrs. A. J. Fleming and Joseph Morgan will build the barges at Grunderville.

Conrad Zuendel, Deceased.

Conrad Zuendel, for many years a resident of Fairview, Erie county, Pa., died at the home of his daughter at that place, Thursday night, February 17, 1905, of infirmities incident to old age, being in his 88th year. Mr. Zuendel was born in Rambach, Germany, Oct. 3, 1817. In 1840, he with his father, mother, one brother and three sisters, came to this country, and settled on what is now known as the Kiser farm, on German Hill, four miles from Tionesta. Of the family mentioned two sisters now survive, Mrs. Wm. White of Kansas, and Mrs. A. B. Root of Tionesta. Last week the REPUBLICAN chronicled the death of Adam Zuendel, who was the only surviving brother, the two brothers passing away less than a week apart. The subject of this sketch continued to reside in this county until about the year 1896, when he disposed of his farm and located with his family at Fairview. In 1849 he was united in marriage with Anna Eliza Babendorf, who, with seven children, survives him. The children are Mrs. Dora Labal, and George, residing at Fairview; Mrs. Geo. Ryan, residing in Dakota; Mrs. Albert Crider, of Wilkingsburg, Pa.; Edward and Martin, of Washington state, and Robert, living in Montana. Mr. Zuendel early in life united himself with the church, and was ever known as a pious, upright, Christian man, highly esteemed by his neighbors and friends for his great kindness of heart and mind. The funeral was held on Sabbath last, his remains being laid to rest in the cemetery at Fairview.

Letter to Hon. J. A. Proper,

Tionesta, Pa.

DEAR SIR:—Mr. N. Avery, Delhi, N. Y., had two houses exactly alike, and painted them: one Devon lead-and-zinc; the other barytes-and-zinc. He paid same price for both paints.

He used six gallons of lead-and-zinc, 12 gallons barytes-and-zinc. He paid $18 for painting lead-and-zinc, $36 for painting barytes-and-zinc.

The total cost of the lead-and-zinc job was $27; the total cost of the barytes-and-zinc job was $54.

He didn't know he was buying barytes; the dealer told him that paint was as good as Devon.

A fair example of how it generally comes-out, when you buy "something just as good." Better go by the name; the name; and the name is Devon.

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVON & CO., New York.

P. S.—James D. Davis sells our paint.

—WANTED.—Man of intelligence and capable of energetic application for work in this county upon a proposition which will yield good returns. Worth investigating. Address, J. L. BARNER, 413 Lewis Block, Pittsburg, Penna. 3t
