Primaries Set for April 15.

The Republican County Committee met at the rooms of the Republican Club, Tionesta, on Monday evening, pursuant to call of the Chairman. After calling the meeting to order and stating the main object to be that of fixing a date for holding the primaries, a general interchange of views was had. The opinion was unanimous that Saturday, April 15th, would be the most satisfactory date, and on motion it was so ordered. The polling places were then fixed by the committee, and were pretty much the same as last year. The meeting was largely attended and harmonious.

SENATOR CULLOM of Illinois, says the President must take the Senate into his confidence. Mr. Roosevelt is not a "confidence man."

THE inauguration of President Roosevelt will be the greatest event of the kind ever experienced in Washington. We do not inaugurate such men as he very often.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, James Monroe and George Washington are the only presidents whose "opposition" was found in the "scattering" column in the election returns.

ACCORDING to Dr. Osler a man is a "has been" at forty and should be chloroformed at sixty. Dr. Osler is 56 and it appears that he has not reached the "age of discretion yet."

IF Kansas really wants to get rid of the Standard Oil, all it has to do is to hitch Mrs. Mary Ellen Lease and Carrie Nation together, and say "sick 'em," and the work will be done.

ADDICKS is said to have executed a financial coup and is now in funds again. This must be cheering news for the Delaware legislature where $1,000 bills have been scarce for quite a while.

KING EDWARD was 60 when he ascended the British throne and was 63 when he appointed Dr. Osler to a professorship at Oxford. Now the doctor as good as says that all men over 60 ought to be shot. What do you think of that for ingratitude?

SENATOR DEWEY of New York says the bill for regulating railroad rates, as prepared by Hons. J. J. Esch of Wisconsin, and Chas. E. Townsend of Michigan, shows evidence of lack of judgment in those men for such legislation. When a railroad man like Dewey criticizes a railroad bill, it is safe to accept it as being a good bill for the people.

THE placing of a marble statue of Miss Frances E. Willard in Statuary Hall of the United Capitol last Friday marked an epoch in the progress of the proper recognition of women. When the Illinois Legislature selected from all her distinguished dead, to represent that state in the Nation's hall of fame, the name of a woman who had devoted her life to an effort to promote temperance in this country, it raised the credit of every resident of that state. While the unveiling ceremonies were in progress the thought occurred to us that perhaps this woman whose memory was thus being honored beyond any of her sex, had done more for the genuine uplifting of humanity, for clean and wholesome living, and the elevation of public morals, than all of the great men whose statues adorn that hall combined, with the possible exception of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. This may have been an extravagant thought, but as yet we have not felt constrained to modify it.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

Farmers' Institute at Clarington.

CLARINGTON, Pa., March 29, 1905. A very successful and profitable Farmers' Institute was held in the U. B. church in this place under the auspices of the Agricultural Department of the State, on the 17th and 18th of the present month. The weather was so stormy and roads drifted so badly that part of the lecturers and the local managers were unable to get here on schedule time. However there was a good attendance and a great interest manifested by our local talent. All that could possibly be present participated in the exercises. The essays and readings by the ladies were particularly interesting and showed method and thought and careful preparation. Mr. Hantz and Mr. Watts, the State lecturers that were able to get here, were well posted in their branches and were listened to with marked attention. Music was furnished by a choir and male quartette and was appreciated by all.

Prof. J. M. Hantz handled his subjects with tact and skill. "How to build up a run down farm," "Our home," and "How to grow a grass crop," and other subjects were fully explained to the satisfaction of all present. D. H. Watt's subjects, "The steam engine on the farm," "A practical education for the farmer," "Feed and care of dairy herd," and other subjects were handled with skill, showing that Pennsylvania only grows one-third of the hay that is required to feed the stock, and that there are one million dairy cows in the United States, the gross income from which is $39 per head.

Charles E. Matthews, J. Calvin Work, Dr. J. J. Brewer and J. J. Henderson were all listened to with a great deal of interest and brought out many good points on their various subjects. An essay by Mrs. Martha Work on the "Home" was well arranged and showed method and thought along the lines indicated, as did also the essay on "Education" by Mrs. Anna Thrush, which bristled with good thoughts along educational lines, showing the growing need of a good education. Mrs. A. B. Braden favored the "Pennsylvania Home" which was well received and rendered in a very entertaining manner to the enjoyment of all present. Various questions pertaining to agriculture were discussed during the various sessions and participated in by our local talent, as well as the lecturers.

Although the weather was bad and roads drifted so that travel was almost impossible, I think it is safe to say that this was the most successful and profitable institute ever held here, and if the interest manifested increases in the future as

In the past, Clarington will have to build larger churches to accommodate the crowds that come to these educational institutes. Too much cannot be said in praise of all those who took such a kindly interest in the arrangements and in the carrying on of the institute, the ladies that contributed such valuable assistance by their essays and readings, the local speakers, the choir and male quartette, the chairman and secretary, officers of the church, and all others that contributed to the success of this institute.

Our people all speak in highest terms of the state lecturers that were here, Prof. J. M. Hantz and D. H. Watts, as earnest and efficient workers, who understand their business. MANAGER.

Letter to C. A. Randall, Tionesta, Pa.

DEAR SIR:—Some think we take a good deal of risk in inviting complaints of Devoe lead-and-zinc—we authorize our agent to sell it under this guarantee: "If you have any fault to find with this point, either now in putting it on, or hereafter in the wear, tell your dealer about it."

"We authorize him to do what is right at our expense."

The following story tells how little the risk is: J. H. Asher & Co., hardware dealers, Rhinebeck, N. Y., have sold Devoe from '76 to now; have sold thousands of gallons and have had just one complaint in all this time.

Three sides of a house were perfect; the fourth was as bad as the three were good.

Explanation—It rained the night before the fourth side was painted; and the painters didn't wait for the wood to dry.

What is done in such a case? What ever the dealer, who sold the paint, considers it fair to do. We leave it to him. He may not do exactly what we should do if we were there; but we are not there. The best we can do is to leave it to him.

Yours truly,
F. W. Devoe & Co.,
New York.

P. S.—James D. Davis sells our paint.
