The Masonic Banquet.

On the evening of February 22, the members of Olive Lodge, No. 557, F. & A M., beld a banquet in commemoration of the birth of George Washington, one of the most illustrious members of the Masonic fraternity, and for the entertainment of their lady friends. At 8:00 p, m, a reception was held in the lodge room in the Dale building to give the guests an opportunity to get acquainted. At 9:30 the party adjourned to Boyard's hall, where an elaborate banquet was in waiting. The supper consisted of seven elegant courses, and was prepared by the Woman's Relief Corps of Tionesta. The banquet hall was tastefully decorated with evergreen and American flags. The Troubador orchestra of Warren furnished the music, which began on the first appearance of the guests and continued almost without intermission until the end of the supper. The banquet was served in courses, in most elegant style, by a number of young ladies, whom the Relief Corps had called to their assistance. Afone-half of this number have died. #### Barn and Live Stock Burned.

Monday morning between 3 and 4 'clock the barn of D. E. Carson, whose farm is located near Stewart Run postoffice, was destroyed by fire, together with all its contents excepting one horse and a heifer. The family discovered the fire shortly after three o'clock, and everything possible was done to save the stock, but the whole inside of the building seemed to be a mass of flames when they reached the scene. A valuable horse and two cows were consumed outright. and one other cow was so badly burned Miss Iva Carpenter over Saturday and that she will scarcely recover. These and the farming implements and pro ducts constituted the bulk of the loss, which will amount to about $500, the building being of minor value. Mr. Carson had an insurance in the Farmers' Mutual company of about $300. The origin of the fire is a decided mystery, and looks like incendiarism.
