A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to be present. A silver offering will be taken.

-The Derrick's correspondent at Clarion states that there were 40 residents of that county who were financially interested in the operations of the defunct Storey Cetton syndicate, and that their losses aggregate $60,000. This statement indicates the widespread devastation that the failure of the company has caused throughout the country, and the most distressing feature is that the losses fall heaviest upon those least able to bear them. But so it is with those who are bound to get-rich-quick.

-An important business change has taken place here during the past week. Robert A. From the above facts and statistics you will see that it is very unsafe to send money in a letter. Never do so unless you register the letter. The safest plan is to remit by check, bank draft, express or money order, for if one of these forms is lost or stolen, you can get a duplicate at no additional cost to your letter and take a receipt from the

-The Oil City Derrick's report for the completed wells and new production in southeastern Onio. With the exception the older districts to the northwest evidence a slight increase in activity. February was a low ebb month, so far as completing new wells was concerned and the number finished was the lowest or record in seven years. There were 480 wells completed in districts producing Penusylvania oil in March inclusive of 47 gassers and 136 dusters. This left 297 productive wells with a total output of 3,973 barrels. Compared with February, there was a gain of 97 wells, 959 barrels production and 46 unproductive wells, pleted, the new production was 5,626 barrels, and the dusters and gassers were 170 in number. The new wells in March averaged 182 barrels a piece, which was very close to the average of March a year

Prices, general admission | beauties of this place and climate surpass orange and lemon trees and all kinds of fruit bearing abundantly. We . buy oranges for 5 cents a dozen that we paid 40 cents for in Wilkinsburg, and so much sweeter and better flavored. Calla lilies and geraniums which we take such grea care of in the east, grow here in abundance. Roses and carnations of every color and kind one can buy for 15c a dozen, just the same as we are accustomed to paying $2.00 a dozen for. On our table is a large bouquet of carnations that cost 15 cents. We are located in a cottage, just these doors from our friend Mrs. Kate B. Craig, and only a stone's throw from the great Pacific ocean. Mrs. Craig and family occupy a pleasant cottage which is almost completely surrounded with a calla lily hedge. They have made it very pleasant for us since our arrival. Sister Nettie, who came with us, has secured a fine position in one of the largest millinery stores in Los Angeles, and I am at a loss to know how to describe the grandeur. We spend most all our old bathers, while the children enjoy ly on fish, and they are immense. I

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remdles bave been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by Dr. J. C. Dunn.
