Any one suffering from headache, nervousness, blurring of letters, or any inability to see clearly, will find it a good opportunity to get a good fitting pair of glasses. Satisfaction guaranteed. Examinations are free. Call and see me. V. G. CLOVER.

—According to the News, they're lifting some fine trout up Tidoutaway this season: Last Monday Mack Babbitt got a fish near the mouth of Gordon Run that weighed five pounds and fourteen ounces, and measured thirty-nine inches in length. Just what species it was is the mooted question. The shape, markings, fins and tail very closely answered the description of a brook trout, but its weight and size seemed to bar that supposition, and yet no description of any fish in the state fish book so closely covered the fish as the brook trout. That it belonged to the trout family was very evident, but just which branch is the question.

—Henry P. Ford, former mayor of Pittsburgh, died suddenly at his home in that city last Friday. Mr. Ford had been in his usual health, and there was no suggestion that the end was near. Mr. Ford was born at Hudson, N. Y., on October 15, 1857. He was the son of John and Susan Carpenter Ford. A year after his birth his parents removed to Clarion, Pa., where his father followed the lumbering trade for a time. He also followed lumbering for a number of years on Tionesta creek, the family living at what was then known as Laytown, now Nebraska, and his partners in the lumber business were the Laeys. Henry was well and very favorably known here.

Dwelling House Burned.

The dwelling house of Frank Albaugh, on Albaugh hill, in Hickory township, was destroyed by fire last Wednesday night about nine o'clock, together with all his household goods. One of his children, a boy about five years of age, was badly burned all over his body, but the child, although suffering severely, will recover. The parents had gone to visit a neighbor, leaving the children alone in the house. One of the older children, a girl of ten years, attempted to replenish a fire with oil when the stuff exploded setting fire to the house. The girl's dress caught fire but she had the presence of mind to get the other children out of the house first and then ran and jumped into a spring to put out the fire in her own clothes. The little fellow who was burned was safely out of the house in the first instance, but ran back into the burning building to get some clothes, when he was caught in the flames. Mr. Albaugh's loss is total and falls very heavy on him, he having no insurance. He had recently repaired and refurnished the house and not a thing was saved, the children escaping with only the clothes they wore. We are not informed as to the loss on the house, but on the household goods it will probably exceed $300.

Death of Mrs. R. J. Hopkins.

Mrs. Margaret Hopkins, widow of the late R. J. Hopkins, and mother of our townsman, L. J. Hopkins, died at the residence of her son, R. A. Hopkins, of Pleasantville, April 21, 1905. She was sick for a few weeks, suffering from the general breaking down due to advanced age. She was born in Indiana county July 28, 1825, and had lived in Pleasantville for twenty-five years. She was a member of the United Presbyterian church since girlhood. She is survived by the following children: Harvey J., of Buffalo; J. M., of Kansas; L. J., of Tionesta; G. T., of Missouri Valley, Ia., and R. A., with whom she made her home during her last years. Funeral services in her memory were conducted at the residence in Pleasantville at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev. Roger Charnock officiating, and the interment was made in Fairview cemetery, by the side of her husband.

A Stated Case.

About a year ago the dead body of a man named Evans was found about two miles below this place in the Allegheny River. The coroner, Dr. Morrow, having discovered that the man belonged to the town of Warren, Pa., and was accidentally drowned, decided that no inquiry was necessary, but ordered A. Carson, Wm. Ellis and Eitel Aaronson to bring the body to Tionesta. They did so, each charging a reasonable amount for his services and demanding pay from the county. These facts were woven into a stated case, and submitted to the Court at its last meeting by S. D. Irwin, acting for the claimants, and A. C. Brown, for the County. After being argued by the counsel, his honor, Judge Lindsey, took the papers and will render a decision at the May court. It is a novel question, the case hinging on the powers of coroners to bind the county in cases of necessity and charity.

—Word received from O. W. Proper, who has been at Rochester, Minn., for the past few weeks, is that he underwent a serious operation yesterday morning. A message from Miss Euterda Proper, who has been with him, says: "Operation is over. Serious but successful. Oliver doing nicely."

—The death of Mr. Nathan Gibson, who formerly lived in Kinross and was well known along the Allegheny river as a pilot and lumberman, occurred in Frowburg, N. Y., Monday, April 10th, at the home of his son, L. N. Gibson. The deceased is well remembered by many of the lumbermen of this vicinity.

—Geo. Holeman, delegate, left for Harrisburg Monday evening to be present at the Republican State convention. Accompanying him were Representative Robertson, J. E. Wenk, Gus Childs and J. E. Girt, of this place, Henry Kaman, of German Hill, and Gus B. Evans of Endeavor, Forest county's member of the State Central Committee.

—L. J. Hopkins left Monday evening for Chambersburg, Pa., to be with his daughter, Miss Edith, whose serious illness we have chronicled for the past few weeks. She was compelled to undergo a second operation during the past week, and at last accounts was getting along as well as could be expected, although not yet out of danger. Her mother and Mrs. J. F. Proper are yet with her.

—F. M. Timlin having finished a very successful year as principal of the Nebraska schools, is now at home visiting relatives and shaking hands with his many friends. F. M. speaks a very highly of the Nebraska people, their loyalty to him in his work and the happy times he spent among them.—Fisher cor. Clarion Republican. Mr. Timlin went Monday to take a course in the DuBois Business College.

—The wedding of A. C. Dunkle and Miss Etta Rider will take place in Oil City next Monday, Rev. T. R. Thornburn officiating. Mr. Dunkle is the son of Mrs. Ada Dunkle, and a former resident of Tionesta. He is now connected with the telegraph department of the National Transit company in Oil City. Miss Rider is one of the popular ladies of the city, and is the soprano soloist at Trinity Church.

—Daniel G. Moriarty, once a resident of Marienville, where his parents lived for a number of years, died in Pittsburgh on the 17th inst., of blood poison, following an operation at a hospital in that city. The young man was aged 26 years, and had many friends at his old home in Marienville, where the funeral was held Friday afternoon, the interment taking place in the Catholic cemetery, of which church the deceased was a member.

—Chas. Amann and W. O. Huey floated down from Warren Saturday. They report very few ducks on the river, but just after leaving Tidoute Ott was fortunate enough to get a flying shot at a large bald eagle. He winged the bird and captured it alive, bringing it here, where it was later killed. The bird was a magnificent specimen of its kind, measuring five feet six inches from tip to tip. It was full of fight and would tolerate no familiarity.

—J. E. Girt, of Dundee county, Nebraska, has been a visitor to this vicinity for the past ten days. He is the son of the late Samuel Girt, well remembered by the older inhabitants of this community as one of the Eighty-third boys who went to the war from here in 61, and who, soon after his return from the army, migrated to the western country. Mr. Girt was not born when the family left here, but hearing his parents say so much about their old eastern home, concluded he would like to look over the scenes so familiar to the old folks.

Commencement Exercises, 1905.

The commencement exercises of the graduating class of 1905, Tionesta High School, were held in the Court House last evening. The building was filled to overflowing and the audience were given a real feast of good tidings.

The opening number was a march played by the Troubadour Orchestra of Warren, Pa., after which the following program was rendered:

Invocation, Rev. Paul J. Sionaker.

Salutatory, Fern Opal Bowman.

Literary and Professional Women, Ethel J. Clark.

A Big Mistake, Bertha A. Lawrence.

Music, Orchestra.

Singleness of Aim, Thomas D. Fulton.

True Magnanimity, Edward Glenn Henry.

Value of Pleading Manners, Olive I. Lanson.

Laasca, Genavieve A. Doult.

Music, Orchestra.

Class Prophecy, Anna Isabel Joyce.

Class History, Edward A. Joyce.

Valedictory, Colyn J. Clark.

Music, Orchestra.

Presentation of Diplomas, T. F. Ritchey, Esq.

Benediction, Rev. R. A. Zahniser.

Music, Orchestra.

Every member of the class did creditable work, showing care and patient practice. The recitations were well rendered and the orations and essays showed lofty thought and high ideals. And this report would be incomplete were we to omit a mention of the little flower girl, winsome Martha Brown, who performed her part so gracefully.

The class address was a masterpiece of sound practical wisdom. Dr. Ballentine captivated the audience from the start and swayed them with his master mind.

The presentation speech of T. F. Ritchey, Esq., showed his keen insight of the practical affairs of school life and his deep interest in the welfare of the schools of our town.

We believe that the entire audience were proud of the creditable manner in which the graduating class displayed their genius and training.

The baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class was delivered by Rev. W. O. Calhoun of the M. E. church, in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, in the presence of a large congregation. The reverend gentlemen gave an eloquent and practical discourse, taking for his text Gal. 3:25, "We are no longer under a schoolmaster."

Horse Drowned, Men in Jail.

Harvey Newton and Clyde Whitman, of Kingsley township, were brought to Tionesta Saturday by Constable J. W. Grove and lodged in jail, under a charge of cruelty to animals and drowning a horse, the charge being preferred by Kribbs & Ray, the Kellettsville liverymen. The men were employed by Brown & McManigle on Lamentation creek, and on Thursday they hired a rig at Kellettsville to come to Tionesta. They remained here over night and left about 7 o'clock Friday morning on the return trip. As they were passing the upper end of the Newtown Mills pond, shortly after ten o'clock, the whole outfit went over a ten-foot embankment into the pond, landing in about ten feet of water. The horse was drowned and one of the men had a narrow escape from the same fate. The buggy was also badly damaged. It is alleged that the men were intoxicated and driving recklessly. Kribbs & Ray place their loss at $200, and the men not being able to effect a settlement, were arrested and at a hearing before Justice John Shaw were bound over to court in the sum of $350 bail for each. The horse drowned was one formerly owned by F. C. Proper, of this place, known as "Nig," and was a valuable animal.

Leeper Items.

Mrs. John Watterson and Mrs. Albert Snyder are visiting friends at Vowinkel.

Geo. Buhl, of Marienville, was a caller in town Thursday.

Christ Foy, of Stevensville, N. Y., is visiting his father, Henry Foy.

Miss Lula Cobbler spent Sunday with Blanche Gordon.

Misses Rose Haggerty and Mayme McLaughlin, of Crown, were shopping in town last week.

James Cosgrove and Guy Hottel, of Clarington, stopped in town Sunday on their way home from Tionesta.

Myrtle Emminger and Florence Agnew of Scotch Hill, spent Saturday with relatives.

Harry Agnew has purchased a fine driving horse.

C. M. Alt and daughter, Mrs. Boyd, went to Pittsburgh Monday. DOROTHY.

Work to Commence Soon on the New Erie Main Line.

Work will begin very soon on the Warren extension of the Erie Railroad. An engineer prominent in the affairs of that road is now in Warren preparing for the coming of the gang who will stake out the new roadway of the Erie in the vicinity of that place, preparatory to the commencement of the work. It is expected that the gang will be in this city before the summer wanes, and as one of the officials said: "Main line trains will pass through here before snow flies." When the engineer was told that many were of the opinion that the road through Warren would be only a freight line, he smiled a knowing smile, as much as to say that the first-class trains would all pass through Warren.

The work of staking and laying out the line preparatory to the commencement of work will only be a matter of days. The preliminary survey has been completed and has been passed upon by the road officials, who approve it. Progress when commenced will be made rapidly and the roadway will be one of the finest ever made in the United States. The grade is an easy one and is well adapted for fast work, as there are no cuts or other hard obstacles to surmount.

It is expected that the work of grading and laying the track will be commenced in Warren and progress made both up and down the river. In this way Warren will become a central point on the line and will benefit much from the number of men who will have their headquarters there.

The engineer who visited Warren desired to keep his presence unknown and made every effort to do so. However, it was impossible.—Franklin News, 22d.

Ten of the surveying party who were here a few weeks ago arrived here Monday morning to make another survey through the town. The original line runs through the center of the flats, coming close to the rear end of the REPUBLICAN office. Two additional lines were run on Monday, one coming through on the hill just above the Court House and the other coming down the river bank, crossing the Back Channel to the head of Hunter Island, thence down the island, crossing back to the east bank of the river below the mouth of Tionesta creek. According to opinions expressed by the engineers the line as originally run through is the most feasible of the three, the one on the hill being too high and that over the island being too expensive to maintain on account of trestles, high water and ice. The engineers further declared that the road was sure to be built and that the work of locating the right of way would be begun in a few days. The party returned to Oil City Tuesday forenoon.

Mayburg.

Samuel Goodchild, commonly known as "Kutchie," met with a painful and serious accident while engaged in skidding logs for the firm of Brown & McManigle, he was caught by a log resulting in breaking his leg and mangling his hand. His wounds were dressed by Dr. Detar of Kellettsville, after which he was sent to the Emergency Hospital at Warren, Pa. The Matron of the hospital reports him as getting along nicely.

John Bailey moved from this place to his former home.

Trout season is here, and woe be unto the speckled tribe.

Rumor has it we are about to change Postmasters.

W. E. Smith has resigned his position as stenographer and helper in the Mayburg Sup. Co. store and Mr. Haag of Warren, Pa., has accepted the position.

Word was received here that C. I. Johnston, former manager of the store at this place for Watson Lumber Co., is in a serious condition and has but a short time to live. Mrs. Johnston and family have the sympathy of their many friends at this place. SNOW BALL.

Letter to Wm. Smearbaugh,

Tionesta, Pa.

DEAR SIR:—The usual way to buy paint is to take the lowest price by the gallon. Mistake; the buyer loses by it; how much? Depends on the paint; it is so much a gallon, or so much a year. How much a gallon or year, do you think? As much perhaps, as the total price of the paint. It may take twice the number of gallons.

N. Avery, Delhi, N. Y., owns two houses, both exactly alike. He painted one with Devore and one with another paint. Devore 6 gallons; the other 12.

Go by the name: Devore. There's nothing cheaper. Go by the price; there's nothing dearer, except not painting at all. Poor paint is better than none.

What does it cost not to paint at all? Can't figure it out exactly; say a tenth of the building a year, besides looks.

What is poor paint worth, then? Don't know and don't care; you don't want it. Go by the name.

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVORE & CO.,
