Three damaged Russian cruisers which escaped from Togo's fleet have sought refuge at Manila, where they will probably be dismantled. They are the Aurora, the Oleg and the Jemtchug How the Bravi Reached Vladivostok Lieutenant Dournovo (son of Admira) Dournovo, a member of the council and superintendent of posts and telegraphs under the minister of the interior), who is the commander of the torpedo boat destroyer Bravi, has telegraphed from Vladivostok to Grand Duke Alexis, the high admiral, an account of his venturous voyage, after the separation of his destroyer from the fleet on the evening of May 27. having in the course of the afternoon saved 175 officers and men of the battleship Oslabia. The destroyer suffered considerable damage from a six inch projectile and was only able to speed 11 miles an hour. The main mast was lowered and the funnels painted white so as to render the vessel less conspicuous to the Japanese torpedo boats, several of which were seen,

On the night of May 29 a steampipe burst, reducing the speed to five miles an hour, Lacking coal, all the wooden parts of the destroyer were burned for fuel before she reached Vladivostok.

wound was caused by the explcsion or by the violence of the crowd. He refused to talk. Those arrested describe themselves as follows: Louis Finot, aged 22, a tailor; Marcel Hauten, aged 14, a glass blower; Ferdinand Boler, aged 21, a florist.

Expostion Building Burned.

The Milwaukee Exposition building occupying a city block, was destroyed by fire Sunday. Loss $300,000; insur ance $75,000. The blaze broke out in the northwest portion of the gallery just at the time the National Skat con gress completed its afternoon session At the time the fire broke out there were 1,500 persons in the building but all got out in safety. The interior had been decorated with thousands of yards of flimsy drapery and in a twinkling the flames spread through out the building. The building was gutted.

Peace Negotiations Abandoned.

Adjustment of the teamsters' strike in Chicago by mediation seems as remote now as it did two months ago. Peace negotiations have been abandoned for the present ,and the strike will be allowed to take its "nat ural course," according to President Shea of the teamsters' organization

All the business firms now involved in the trouble refuse to concede any thing further in the controversy, which they now regard as a thing of the past. "Peace negotiations are off for all time," said Levy Mayer, chief counsel for the employers. Opening of Albright Art Gallery. The citizens of Buffalo celebrated the opening of the magnificent Albright Art Gallery Wednesday after noon. The exercises began at 4 o'clock the invited guests and the speakers and singers, members of the Fine Arts Academy and city officials being seated in a circular platform erected on the east front of the Art Gallery overlooking beautiful Lincoln Parkway and the park lake. An address on "Beauty and Democracy" was delivered by President Eliot of Harvard university.

Russians Steamed Up In Double Column - Japanese Maneuvered Their Ships So as to Have Their Bows Parallel to the North Side of the Russian Line.

A Japanese officer gives the following detailed account of the seafight off the Tsu islands which resulted in the destruction of the Russian fleet:

"At 5:30 Saturday morning a wireless message reading: 'Enemy's squadron is in sight' reached the naval base. This message was transmitted to all our ships by the flagship, with instructions to get ready for action and the squadron left their rendezvous and headed for the eastern channel off Tsushima,

"During the maneuver the Russian flagship appeared to the southward at 1:45 o'clock. The Russians steamed up in double column. The fleet was numerous, but no living being was visible. The Russian ships seemed to be in good order. Our ships hoisted the flag of action, the Mikasa signalling "The destiny of our empire depends upon this action. You are all expected to do your utmost.'

"Our first and second divisions turned to the Russians' starboard, while the third division kept in close touch with the preceding two divisions. With the Japanese ships proceeding in this order, it was 2:13 o'clock when the Russians opened fire,

Russian Shots Fell Short.

"The first two shots fell short of our line and it was some minutes later before we commenced firing. Then the battle was on with firing from both sides. Our destroyers kept on the port side of the main squadron and in this formation we pressed the Russians against the coast of Klushlu and they were obliged to change their course to the east.

"We so maneuvered our ships as to have their bows paralleled to the north side of the Russian line. The Mikasa, of our first division, which had been leading, changed to the rear of the line, while the Kasuga headed the line. The engagement now became very fierce. The Borodino was seen to be on fire. A little later the Russians headed west and we changed our course accordingly.

"Five ships of our second division concentrated their fire on the BoroJan. 22, is regarded as an obvious step in St. Petersburg for the emperor te. take if he is determined not to aban don the fundamental principles of Russian rule and transform the au tocracy into a limited monarchy of the Summary of the Week's News

Trepoff is one of the busiest and most energetic officials in Russia and he requires the same long hours of at tention to duty from his staff. The general is at his desk shortly after 7 o'clock in the morning and his subor dinates are expected to be on duty at 9 o'clock.

One of Trepoff's secretaries said must now be redoubled and the prominence of his new office and the feeling of the radicals that he was appointed as dictator to put down the reform movement will make him a mark for the terrorists no matter how moderate ly he may execute his duties. It is not considered improbable that the general may find immediate employment for his new powers at Moscow where the social democrats and social revolutionists are planning to hold conventions this week simultancously with Shipoff's zemstvo congress to which it is now proposed to give wider scope, the mayors of all the cities in Russia having been invited to send delegates and take a stand in regard to the continuance of the war. The announcement that Minister of the Interior Bouligin has tendered his resignation is coupled with the report that he did so partly perhaps on account of the augmentation of powers of his subordinate Trepoff, but chiefly because the work of his commission is finished and the project for the calling of a national assembly is in the hands of the ministers.

ing deaf to the appeals of the few who insist that the admiral's action in surrendering his warships should not be condemned until the circumstances become fully known. The majority say they could forgive anything but surrender and point to the precedent set in the case of the Russian warship Raphael, which in 1829, during the Russo-Turkish war, struck its colors to three Turkish shins which surrounded it ...

Nicholas I meted out a terrible pun ishment to the officers and crew of the Raphael, ordering that all of them should be shot after their exchange and directing that if the ship should ever be recaptured its infamous his tory should be blotted out by the total destruction of the vessel.

The Raphael, strange to say, was recaptured 34 years later at Sinope during the Crimean war, a son of the captain who surrendered her taking part in the battle, and to this son fell the task of executing the dead emperor's orders to destroy her. Many naval authorities declare that the emperor should reserve the same fate for Admiral Nebogatoff.

Togo Visits Rojestvensky.

Admiral Togo visited Vice Admiral Rojestvensky at the naval hospital at Sasebo Saturday and expressed his sympathy for the admiral's wounds. He praised the desperately courage ous fight of the Russlans and expressed his hope that Vice Admiral Rojestvensky would soon be able to return to Russia.

Rojestvensky was deeply moved by the admiral's words and thanked him He congratulated Japan on the courage and patriotism of her sallors and said It lessened his regret and the sorrow of defeat to know the high character of the victors, dino. Our first division now began firing vigorously, proceeding parallel with the Russian line, and as we began to press against the head of the Russian line our third division veered to the Russian rear, thus enveloping their ships. This state of envelopment continued until the following day, with the ships at varying distances. "Thus enclosed on all sides, the Russians were helpiess and powerless to escape the circle. Previous Instructions had been given the destroyers and torpedo boats to attack the Russian ships, Following Instructions, the fifth destroyer flotilla advanced against a Russian ship upon which the second division had been concentrating 'ts fire, signaling: 'We are going to give the last thrust at them."

Torpedo Boats Sink Russian Ship. "The Russian ship continued to fight and seeing the approaching torpedo boats, directed its fire on them. Undaunted, our destroyers pressed forward, the Chitose meantime continuing its fire. The torpedo flotilla arrived within 200 metres of the Russian ship and the Shiranus fired the first shot. Two other torpedo boats fired one each. The Shiranus received two shells, but the other boats were not damaged. The Russian ship was completely sunk.

"Sundown saw the battle raging furiously. Our shells were evidently telling on the Russlans, who showed signs of confusion.

"After dark all the destroyers flotilla, dividing into two squadrons, proceeded to attack the Russians during the whole night. The Russians frustrated the first and second attacks with searchlights. A third attempt was carefully made and the Yugiri sank a ship of the Borodino type and also hit others. "Our ships always kept ahead of the Russians. The battle was resumed at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, 12 miles east of Chiyupyon bay, and lasted all day. Here the Russians suffered their heaviest losses. They seemed unpre pared to repel night attacks. During our first night attack the Russians showed nine searchlights and frustrated the attacks, but clearly gave us the location of the fleet, which brought success later."
