Why We Have One Sided Men.

Facilities must be exercised or they will not grow. Nature is too good an economist to allow us to keep any faculty or function which we do not employ.

centros primary schools. In France the local community has no voice in the matter. The French system is the most centralized, the most strictly regulated, the most autocratic and the farthest removed from democratic ideas of any school system in existence.

Making Fire.

When it is considered how old the world's civilization it is seems surprising that man should have only so very recently learned how to make fire.

Needs No Introduction.

"It pays sometimes to know a little of the family history of your clients," said a business woman the other day.

Consoling.

Elderly Woener—I hope you are not impressed by the silly sentimentalists who hold that because you're married once you ought not to marry again?

Be Prepared.

A new civilization is holding up new and better prizes, but he who would win must have a better equipment and a finer training than the past required.

Schools in France.

The French system of education is intensely national. Its plan is exactly the opposite from our own school system.

God bathed to guilt her pale tormenter, misery.—Bryant.

WILLIAM AND CECILIA.

Received Deputations From Prussian Cities—Some Royal Presents.

Berlin, June 6.—Crown Prince Frederick William and the Duchess Cecilia of Mecklenburg-Schwerin yesterday received deputations from the Prussian provinces and cities who came to Berlin to congratulate them on their marriage, which occurs today.

Prince and Princess Arisugawa, representing the Emperor and Empress of Japan, personally presented the gift of Japan. It consisted of two silver flower bowls of antique and artistic workmanship.

The King of Saxony has given four Meissen vases; the French government two Sevres vases and some Beauvais tapestry; the Sultan of Turkey, rare rugs and porcelains; the Austrian emperor, a carriage and two horses, and the province of Posen, a state carriage. Beyond these the presents have not been announced.

Accused Kidnaper in a Runaway.

Lockport, N. Y., June 6.—Mrs. Georgina Ferguson of North Tonawanda, convicted in the county court here on Saturday for kidnapping, started for Lockport yesterday morning to attend argument for a new trial. Her bondsman, Irving Stoll, was driving and their horse ran away. They were thrown over an embankment and Mrs. Ferguson was badly injured. The argument was adjourned one week.

440 Victims of Natal Disaster.

Durban, Natal, June 6.—Up to the present 440 corpses of Hindoo laborers, Europeans and others who lost their lives through the hurricane which recently swept over Natal and the subsequent bursting of the reservoir at Pinetown (the center of the tea and sugar plantations) have been recovered. The bodies of many other victims have not been recovered.

CHOICE OF TWO EVILS.

There was a dead silence in the classroom. The delightful yell which had first gone the rounds had died away, and now the scholars felt the price was to be paid.

"William Buxter," queried the teacher in an awful voice, "did you place that pin on my chair?"

"Please, sir—no, sir!" quavered the unlucky individual who had been fixed upon.

"Do you know who did?" "Er—"

"Enough! I see you do know it. His name—tell me his name!" "I—I can't, teacher."

"Unless you tell me his name you will receive his punishment." There was silence for a moment, and then William advanced to the front of the class, and submitted himself to bodily chastisement.

That afternoon, when the scholars were trooping out, Buxter was called back and presented with a penny.

"I was angry at the trick," explained his teacher, "but you were a noble lad not to betray your comrade."

"It wasn't that, teacher," explained William. "But I knew if I gave him away I'd get a much worse licking than what you gave me!"—Chicago Journal.

THE EXCHANGE HABIT.

He: "Won't you have me as a wedding present?" She: "I'm afraid I couldn't exchange you."

From Mother to Teacher.

A man who sells textbooks, and who is not without a sense of humor, was in Louisville last night. This man—John L. Young of Roanoke, Va.—has collected for the entertainment of his customers a long list of "letters from mothers to teachers."

The letters rebound in humor and odd sayings. A few of them follow: "Dear Miss Baker. Please excuse Rachael for being away those two days. Her grandmother died, to please her mother."

"Miss ——— Frank could not come these three weeks because he had amonia and information of the vowels."

"Teacher: John says you want to see me. I have a beer saloon and nine children. Business is good in morning and afternoon. How can I come?"

So Many Have.

"Here is an article about our corrupt police," said the reporter. "How should I read it?" "Oh, just say the city has a bad case of the blues," replied the great editor.

His Private Rule.

Biggs—Does Shortleigh do business according to the golden rule? Diggs—Yes, in a way; but the rule he does others by only measures eleven inches to the foot.

Did She Get Snubbed.

Kate—She asked that question just out of idle curiosity, don't you think? Laura—No; out of curiosity. Her curiosity is never idle.—Somerville Journal.

Force of Habit.

Myer—How did they happen to capture that woman burglar? Gyer—She stopped to look under a bed at the first house she broke into.

A Boy's Question.

Tommy Figgjam—Paw? Paw Figgjam—Yes, sonny. "Don't th' Bible say 'All flesh is grass'?" "I guess so, sonny."

An Exception.

"No man mixed up in a divorce case will ever have any luck." "I know one man who had luck." "Indeed! Who is he?" "A divorce lawyer."
