SECRETARY TAYLOR says that the Filipinos are learning to talk like New York millionaires, when the tax assessor comes around.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has so much business out for future delivery that a congressman may well feel appalled at the fall and winter prospect.

THE hit always comes when needed. An American has just invented a torpedo that will go forty miles an hour under water and hit the bull's-eye at 1500 yards.

HERE'S hoping the Japanese don't want the Philippines before we are through with them. We could keep 'em of course, but it would be some trouble.

In March the Panama canal had 9000 men on the payroll, of whom 153 were in the hospital and 11 died. The figures indicate unusually good health in a large body of workmen in the tropics.

An earthquake has caused great loss of life in Japan. It is a matter of some interest to know that there is something that can knock out a Jap. Though nothing short of lightning or an earthquake will do it.

THE Bradford Era asks who are "the best people in the city" about whom we hear from time to time. That paper thinks they are those who can describe as being good neighbors, but most editors will say it is those who subscribe for the paper, advertise liberally, have their job work done at home and pay all bills when due. Correct.

A NEW law settles a question which has long been in dispute regarding the expense of maintaining prisoners committed to the county prison for violating local statutes. Heretofore there has been a supposition that the county must pay, but the recent statute throws the burden upon the city, borough or township sending the offenders to prison.

THE Governor has appointed John Stewart, president of the Franklin county courts, to the vacancy on the Supreme court bench caused by the death of Justice Dean. Judge Stewart will be nominated by the Republican State Committee and he will be elected for the full term of 21 years in November. He was an independent candidate for Governor in 1882, when General Beaver was defeated on the Republican ticket.

THE Secretary of the New Hampshire State Grange issues a news letter every week. The doings of the granges in that little state fill several pages in every number. New Hampshire boasts a grange in every township. It is unnecessary to make any comment on New England intelligence and enterprise. The high character and wide range of the programs carried out at the meetings show these patrons to be possessed of intelligence above the average.

Much comment has been occasioned by an item going the rounds of the press that the open season for catching black bass had been changed to June 1st. The following letter received Friday afternoon from W. E. Meehan, commissioner of fisheries, settles the matter. He says: "The open season for black bass begins June 15 and ends February 15. It is illegal to spear catfish, mullets, suckers, carp or any other kind of fish. The legislature did pass a bill authorizing the opening of carp, suckers and mullets, but the Governor vetoed it. I am happy to say." - Warren Times.

THE Warren Mail calls attention to the fact that an act passed by the legislature and approved by Governor Pennington April 22, forbids the building of new systems of sewerage or the extension of old systems without the consent of a State Board, which consists of the Governor, Attorney General and Commissioner of Health, if the sewage from such sewers will flow into any waters of the State. Existing sewers are not affected, but the act will probably delay extensions. It is not probable, however, that the Board will refuse to permit reasonable extensions of existing systems.

A Boy's Memorial Day.

Archibald R. Hillard, son of Rev. J. E. Hillard, is the "man-on-the-road" for the Ridgway Daily Record, and like his genial father, having a penchant for writing, many a good thing from his pen finds its way into his paper. The late memorial service reminded Archibald of his boyhood days, when living with his parents at East Hickory, and he puts his impressions on paper as follows: "There arose a picture of a parade in sharp contrast to the one just passing on Main street. In the quiet country village of East Hickory, in Forest county, along Hickory Creek, a short distance from the Allegheny River, Memorial Day was, and is yet, an event. Weeks beforehand, boys and girls, women and men, young, middle-aged and old, were preparing for its observance in a hundred different ways. The G. A. R. had charge of the services, which consisted of the usual speeches and songs. The recitations and the songs must be committed and called for some attention. Proud were the boys and girls who were allowed to participate in the day's exercises and their 'pieces' were at their tongues' end for days previous. Then it would not be Decoration Day without the brilliant honeysuckle and the beautiful May apple blossoms, those old stand-bys of the decorator. Many were the rambles over the hillsides on the preceding days for these, Nature's offering to her brave children. How carefully a 'find' was kept secret. Anxiously the flowers were watched, for they might come too soon and be gone ere the Day; or again they might tardily open after the Event. Words fall to tell the feelings of the boy who, to the envy of the other boys, succeeded in handing his gorgeous bunch of honey suckles or freighted basket of the dainty, saucer-shaped May apple flowers over to the bustling matron in charge. Wreaths there were in abundance, and bouquets for the old veterans, made of garden flowers by loving hands and fingers. The picnic (for there always was one) and it did not remove the rightful thoughts of the day) must be duly considered to see whether it required chocolate cake or devil's food, apple pie or turnovers, for all these had their place and attention. But through all this bustle and preparation, the idea that it was in honor of our dead heroes, of whom there were many in the cemetery on the flat above the town, was not lost sight of and a thoughtful, serious, and attentive audience gathered in the church on the hill overlooking the town or in the pleasant grove just behind the church, to listen to the exercises. It was all native to the place. The effort of each performer was our own. His success was our own success and we roundly applauded ourselves after each act. The Memorial Oration, generally by the pastor of the church, was the part that thrilled us, and as he described the bravery of the Grand Old Soldier, who in privations and perils had given his life for us, and pointed to the few remaining Veterans seated in places of honor on the stage around him, telling in few words the grand story of their deeds, we looked on them with new awe. We had heard the story before, but each year, as the band decreased, the story became dearer to us and no words could be too strong in praise of them. A huge lump always came in my throat at that part of the exercise and a strange, indefinable feeling pervaded my being, that even the pie and chicken in our immense lunch hamper could not eradicate. "Then the parade. We had no large number of lodges to present an artistic appearance, but the audience constituted the procession to the cemetery. It is not the parade so much that I remember as the Old Martial Band. What so dear to my heart as its music! Without it, Decoration Day would have been nothing, even though Sousa himself had supplied the vacancy. Looking back over the parade you could locate it by the flanking party of boys on either side. We loved and revered it next to, and I am afraid sometimes, even ahead of the old soldiers. What though it had but two tunes and a variation of a third, and every boy in either wing of its bodyguard was whistling note for note, the selection under way. We had heard them year after year and with each repetition they sank deeper into our life and love. What though the files' shrill note was at one time unduly loud or again so weak that the drums' steady beat nearly drowned it out! We knew the tune and could follow without a leader. I have met boyhood friends in the world's broad field of battle, far from the old home and with one bar of the familiar tunes aroused sentiments that will never be wholly forgotten. Then followed the sincere words of the G. A. R. in sorrow for comrades at the grave side, the placing of flags and wreaths and flowers on the mounds and the firing of guns and then—the picnic. Sometimes it was a basket picnic and sometimes long tables fairly groaned under the loads they supported. With bowed heads we heard grace asked by the pastor and then—supply the rest for yourself. "They say that 'Distance lends enchantment to the view' and the 'Good Old Times' are no better than the times to-day, which may be true. It may be I have raised up an ideal that really never existed, but if so, I have no desire to change that ideal or to have it shattered, for those days appeal to me as no others can. And now and then a fierce and intense desire comes over me to again live out on another such Decoration Day and once more hear the rat-a-tat-tat of the snare drum trying its best to drown out the files' shrill note and see the Hickory Martial Band, escorted by its bodyguard of boys, make its triumphant march to the cemetery. Have you ever been there? Then you can sympathize with the 'Man On the Road'."

Nebraska Items.

Lyman Cook started three fleets of boats for Pittsburg the last of the week. Pearl and Thomas' show is billed to appear in the K. O. T. M. hall on Tuesday evening. Harry Wolf has resigned his position as clerk in the store of Collins & Kestler and his place was filled by Melvin Sibble. The ice cream supper served by Mrs. Mary Longstreth last Saturday evening was poorly attended on account of most of the young men being down the river. Allison Klinefelter, of Church Hill, spent Sunday with friends in this place. Ira Fox, who is working at Eagle Rock, spent Sunday with his family. Mrs. John Rathfon and grand daughter are visiting friends in Butler this week. Sanford Secor, of Sheffield, has moved into the house vacated by Wm. Gayley. The school directors of Green township met last Saturday and voted to build an addition to our schoolhouse, which is badly needed. The last term eighty-six pupils were enrolled, which crowded the two rooms so the teachers were unable to hear all the classes, even by working till five o'clock. Miss Gertrude Anthony and Frank Fiddler and Miss Katie Hanold and James Anthony went to Jamestown last week and were married. In their absence the young people planned a surprise for them. When the wedding party returned to the home of Wm. Anthony they found about thirty of the young people there with all kinds of thwars, from a wash boiler down to a cookie cutter. They spent about two hours in sociability and music and the bridegrooms passed around the usual treat and the young people returned home feeling they had spent a pleasant evening. Both couples will begin housekeeping at Keptown. Datsv.

Mayburg.

Our town was favored with a show one day last week. Henry Stakley's new house is about ready for occupancy. Our mill is running five quarters each day now, and our "boys" will have an extra stake for the glorious Fourth. Kelletville is talking of a big celebration. Why not? L. D. Smith and family took a drive to Tylersburg on last Sabbath, returning Monday. Wm. Desher and wife attended the reception at Cherry Grove on last Saturday evening. Mrs. Orcutt and her daughters have returned to their home in Iowa. Miss Laura Hartman arrived home from Oil City last Saturday. A certain young man of our town desiring to attend a dance in a nearby town, proceeded to secure a ring by telephone. The telephone line, unknown to him, was broken and several of our jokers took occasion to have a little sport at his expense and placed a certain party in an adjoining part of the house, also containing a 'phone, to 'play' central and secure the lively stable for the expectant young man. It worked gloriously, but the jokers are now taking a back seat, as the young man is somewhat furious. SNOW BALL.

There will doubtless be a full attendance of the managers of the schools in this county. Of course everybody is cordially invited to be present and take part in the discussions.

Cuban Diarrhoea. U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish war know what this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than to wash water. Cuban Diarrhoea is almost as sure and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be depended upon as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs, of Houston, Texas: "I hereby certify that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhoea, which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him, as our neighbors will testify. I thank God for so valuable a medicine." For sale by Dunn & Fulton.

$100 REWARD. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.
