We've Offered Bargains in

Tailored Suits

Before, but What do You Think of These.

Our campaign against the seasou's surplus of Tailored Suits for women now enters upon its final stage. Although earlier engagements were eminently successful, the ranks of the enemy being sadly decimated, it was impossible to make a clean sweep of each group or battalion under which the stragglers were mustered. Now the siege can be laid aside to be succeeded by sharpshooting. In other words, in lieu of aiming at entire groups as heretofore, we can now concentrate our fire on individual models, and have selected the following as targets for this onelaught:

Twenty Suits $10.00.

Formerly $18.00 and $20.00

This gives choice of some of this season's most popular models in black,

Thirty Suits at $12.50.

Formerly $22,00 to $27.00

These include a number of this season's most fashionable models, com prising blouse, Eton, or short coat suits in the fabrics and colors most in Twenty-five Suits at $15.00.

Formerly $30.00 to $35.00

This group embraces the highest grade tailored and semi-tailored suits

The Mosale Flooring of the Desert. The northern portion of the Colorado desert is paved with the most wonderful pebbles in the world, in many parts so exquisitely laid as to defy successful imitation by the most skilled worker In mosale flooring. These pebbles are made of porphyry, agates, carnellan, quartz, crystals, garnets, chrysolite and other such beautiful materials. They are packed together so that the surface composed of them is like a floor, and they look as If pressed into it with a roller. As a rule, they are of nearly uniform size, and each one is polished brilliantly, as if olled and rubbed. Most of them are perfect spheres, and the reflection from them of the sun's rays is gorgeous beyond description. Each convex surface gives back a ray of light, and the ground for miles seems as if literally paved with gems. Thus the whole surface of the plain is a combination of myriads of reflectors, each pebble being so highly polished that it is like a mirror, and it is believed that the lakes of the desert mirage are produced by this means. The pebbles are polished by the loose sand which is blown hither and thither.

Wonderful Erosion.

A curious effect of the wear and tear to which the earth's crust is ever being subjected is exhibited in the singularly capped pinnacles existing on South river, in the Wasatch mountains, in Utah. There are hundreds of these slender pillars, ranging in height from 40 to 400 feet, most of them crowned by large caps of stones. They are not works of human art, as might be imagined, but are the memorial monuments of the hill from which they have been cut by the action of air and water. Those pinnacles alone remain of many square miles of solid rocks, which have been washed away to a depth of some 400 feet. The greater hardness of the surface has caused it to resist correction more than the underlying rock, thus leaving huge caps of stone perched high in air on the points of their columns. One double column, capped by a single stone, forms a natural bridge both unique and picturesque.

The First Friction Matches, apothecary named Walker in 1827. He new hat conted splints of curaboard with sul phur and tipped them with a mixture of sulphate of antimony, chlorate of potash and gum. Each box, holding eighty-four matches and sold for a shilling, contained also a folded piece of glass paper, which was to be pressed through it. Three years later another can deal. ingenious person named Jones in London patented the idea of making a small roll of paper, soaked with chiorate of potash and sugar at one end, with a thin glass globule filled with strong sulphuric acid attached at the same point. When the sulphuric acid was liberated by pinching the globule it acted upon the chlorate of potash and sugar so as to produce fire. The Clenda Fable.

Several species of insects have apparatus for producing sounds similar to that of the grasshopper or modifications of it. Of a different type is that with which the cleadas are endowed. Only the males of this family are singers, for which the Greek poets called them happy because their females were dumb. With the ancients a cicada sitting on a harp was the symbol of music. A pretty fable tells of the contest between two elthara players, in which the curious event happened that when one of the contestants broke a string a singing cleada sprang on his harp and helped him out so that he gained the prize,

The World of Trade.

"Yesterday I bought," writes a corre spondent, "some black jet buttons, and when I got home I found on the card, 'Best Australian Make.' I took a penell to write in my account book. I found it had 'U. S. A." upon it. I sharpened the point, and on the sharpener was 'New York.' I got out a match to light the lamp, and on the box was 'Made in Sweden.' I lit the lamp and found on it, 'Made in Bavaria,' and so on and so on."-London Telegraph.

tempting to Shoot Rapids.

Ohiopyle, Pa., June 13.-In a foolhardy attempt to run the Youghiogheny rapids in canoes here Lester Ankeny, aged 22, of Connellsville, lost his life, and Altha Walters of Dunbar was thrown into the whirling maelstrom, being rescued only after he had been dashed against a rock, a hold on which he managed to obtain after several unsuccessful trials.

Ankeny and Waters each obtained a canoe and launched them at a point just below the falls. They drifted to the mouth of Meadow run, and when cool spot along the line of the Nickel they entered this stream they found it had been greatly swollen by recent rains, and that to navigate its surface was to invite danger, perhaps death.

Accordingly both of the canocists attempted to turn around and paddle for shore. Walters was slightly in advance of his companion. He had succeeded in slewing his craft half way about when it was suddenly caught in the rapids and was upset, Walters be ing thrown into the water.

About this time Ankeny's canoe, too, was turned over, its occupant going to the bottom of the stream. Watchers on the shore waited for some time to see him reappear, but they walted in vain. His paddles were found later a mile from the scene of the accident.

In the meantime Walters had been struggling in the water. He is a srong swimmer and by dint of hard work saved himself from being dragged into the rapids. He floated for some time and finally found lodgment on a large rock in the center of the stream.

A piece of twine was attached to a baseball and thrown to the man in the stream. When Walters caught the twine a rope was attached to it, and with this about his body he was dragged to shore.
