You can get it at Hopkins' store. If is your subscription to the REPUBLICAN paid up? If not, don't you think you ought to pay it?

The Tionesta branch of the Zver Studio, at the City Building, is open Tuesday and Saturday of each week. If G. W. Osgood is quite a hie hunter, or finder, rather. He has five trees located and "notched" already so far.

All the reasonable berries, fruits and vegetables the appetite can crave, fresh every day, at the White Star Grocery.

Don't overlook the fact until too late that Hopkins is selling light weight suits for men at ridiculously low prices. They will not last long at the figures placed on them.

A. E. Daniels had the outer bone of his left arm broken last Saturday while unloading telegraph poles at Jamieson Station. Dr. Dunn reduced the fracture and left him resting easy.

A well completed Saturday on the John A. Dawson farm, Stewart Run, by a local company, was dry in the second sand. It is possible the operators will go deeper before abandoning it.

Complete arrangements have been made for the annual County Teachers' Institute to be held in Marienville, Pa., Oct. 30 to Nov. 3. A list of the talent secured will be announced later.

Following is the list of letters lying uncalled for in the Tionesta, Pa., post-office for week ending August 16, 1905: Miss Fern Cook, Mr. D. E. Mull, A. E. Bardsley, card. D. S. Knox, P. M.

Young men and women who are thinking of teaching or wish to get a general education will find it to advantage to write J. George Becht, principal of the Clarion State Normal School, Clarion, Pa.

Dr. Dixon, head of the new State Health Commission, under whose direction the Schuylkill river is being inspected as a source of water supply, is reported as having said that the Allegheny river will be the next on the list.

The farm barn of Andrew Echols, of Lucinda, Clarion county, was struck by lightning Saturday morning and burned to the ground. The barn contained the season's crops which were destroyed. Two horses, a colt and two cows were also cremated.

The annual reunion of the Osgood family will take place, as usual, on the first Saturday in September, which falls on the 24. This will be the eighth meeting of the kind, and this year it will be held at the home of G. W. Osgood, in the north ward, Tionesta.

While at work on a well on Gordon Run, near Tidioute, on the 5th inst., Homer Dewalt, of West Hickory, had his left hand caught in the throttle wheel of the engine and his thumb was so badly crushed that the physicians found it necessary to amputate it, taking it off at the socket.

The residence occupied by E. E. Simmons, superintendent of the tannery at Brookston, this county, was burned to the ground on the 4th inst. Only part of the household goods were saved. The building was owned by the tannery company. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Emily Adeline, widow of the late Andrew J. Porter, of Scotch Hill, died at her home on East Second street, Oil City, at 1 a. m., Saturday, after an illness of three weeks, from diabetes. She was aged 68 years. The body was taken to her former home, at Scotch Hill, Monday, for interment.

What under other circumstances would have been a large yield of oats, is likely to shrink to small proportions through unfavorable weather conditions, and farmers are experiencing the most difficult task in many years in harvesting the crops. Almost the entire crop is in shock and has been exposed to violent and incessant rains during the past ten days or two weeks. There has not been sufficient sun to properly dry the shocks and the oats are beginning to grow in the shock, while uncut fields are in many instances flat on the ground and scarcely worth harvesting.

The Same Old Story.

Maudie is in the garden
Cutting pretty flowers;
Grace is in the hammock
Dreaming by the hours;
Kate is by the brookside
Where it's nice and cool;
(Kate is rather jaded
By the grind at school.)
Neil is in the parlor
Just to snatch a nap;
Eva's on the front porch
Flinging with a chap;
Fannie's in the orchard,
May is in the grove;
And Mother's in the kitchen,
With a red-hot stove.

A comprehensive digest of the game and fish laws of Pennsylvania, up-to-date, has been received at this office, and no doubt many of our readers would like a copy of the same. If they will address a request to the Game Commission, Harrisburg, Pa., it is likely the pamphlet will be forthcoming.

Messrs. J. J. Lamlers and F. R. Lanson have begun the erection of a neat dwelling house on East Walnut street, nearly opposite L. Fulton's residence, the former furnishing the lumber and the latter the lot. It is said they have in contemplation the building of several other houses this fall. Tionesta needs them.

The catalogue and premium list of the Brookville fair, which takes place Sept. 5, 6, 7 and 8, has been received at this office. If the fair is as good in proportion as the art displayed in the printing of the pamphlet, which is work of the Republican job rooms of Brookville, there will be no question about its success and satisfactory outcome.

According to the North East Breeze, the grape crop promises to be the largest in years; the vines are simply loaded and the clusters are large and splendidly formed. Very little of disease of the vine and fruit has been reported thus far, and unless some unforeseen damage occurs the grape crop for 1905 will be a record-smasher both in quantity and quality.

The following are the teachers elected for the Green township schools, which will open Sept. 4th for a term of seven months: Nebraska, No. 1, Pearl Elliott, No. 2, R. E. Tullin; Hinder, Lottie Deewood; Young, Clifton Cassatt; Guiltsont, Edith Gayley; Flynn, Evelyn York; Blum, Pearl Mealy; Bowmanville, Bessie Wadsworth; Kiser, Maude Lininger.

About one hundred persons boarded the special train at this place last Friday for Chautauque to see President Roosevelt. When they arrived on the Assembly grounds they found that over thirty thousand other people had taken the same notion, and that it took some lively hustling to get a glimpse of the popular Teddy, to say nothing about hearing him speak. It rained some, too, they say.

The school board of Jenks township has settled the deadlock on the selection of an assistant principal for the Marienville schools by the election of Prof. O. R. Smiley, of Mill Village, Pa. The deadlock had been on since the first meeting in June and for a time it appeared as though an election would not be made before the time for beginning the term, which is set for the 28th of the present month.

The ball game scheduled for last Saturday with the All-College players of Buffalo was cancelled because the team could not secure enough games in a row to pay the expenses of the trip. The game with the Americas club of Meadville, for next Friday, has been cancelled for the same reason. The Marienville team was taken on to fill last Saturday's date, but this was also called off on account of rain.

A member of the new Farmer's Telephone company, who has much to do with the construction of the line was in town last week, and reported that the work was progressing rapidly, and predicted that the line would be completed to Tionesta within the next three or four weeks—possibly sooner. Many people are already using the line between Tylersburg and Johnstown, and seem pleased with the service.

The postoffice at Sheffield was burglarized Friday morning between two and three o'clock. The safe was blown open and is a total wreck. About $300 in money, and a large number of stamps of all denominations were secured by the cracksmen, the amount being variously stated at two hundred to two thousand dollars' worth. The nefarious work is thought to have been that of experts, who left no clue as to their identity.

The Allison family held a reunion at Monarch Park on Thursday last, the occasion of the Odd Fellows picnic, at which upward of a hundred of the family connection were present and sat down to a sumptuous dinner. A number of the members of the family from Forest county were present on the occasion, among these being the families of N. G. Cole and Irvin Allison, of Nebraska, and Jacob Klinefelter, of West Hickory.

Brink & Young, of Warren, who recently purchased the timber on the Hugh Miles farm near Fagundus, as well as on other small tracts in that vicinity, will begin the erection next week of a mill for cutting it. Enough timber has been secured to run the mill between two and three years and a force of twelve or fifteen men and several teams will be employed. Trunkville, on the Allegheny river, will be the shipping point.—Titusville Herald.

The Oil City and vicinity Christian Endeavor Union, which is made up of 23 endeavor societies, is to hold its fall convention at Endeavor, Forest county, at a date in September yet to be fixed. The lumber firm of Wheeler & Dusenbury has kindly proffered to carry all delegates and visitors on its railroad from the nearest station, West Hickory, to Endeavor. The union represents a membership of 800 to 1,000 young people. D. L. McClelland, of Franklin, is president.

The annual catalogue of the Clarion State Normal school has just come from the press, and is the handsomest number yet put out by this enterprising institution of learning. The Normal is enjoying a measure of prosperity far in excess of all former years, and is rapidly forging to the front as the leading institution of the kind in the State, if it has not already attained that distinction. Prof. J. George Becht, the principal, will be pleased to mail you a copy of the new catalogue upon application.

—W. G. Rodgers, representing the J. S. Kerr & Co., granite monument works of Oil City, has been engaged in this section during the past two weeks in the erection of monuments. Among the number set up lately is a very handsome monument over the grave of the late Mrs. Peter Young in the cemetery of Mt. Zion Lutheran church, German Hill. This firm is turning out some extra fine work heretofore and is rapidly growing in favor with our people, to whom they always render the best of satisfaction. A postal card to Mr. Rodgers at Tylersburg, Pa., will always insure a call from him at your door.

A partial eclipse of the moon was scheduled to take place Monday night, and while the show was not visible in this country it no doubt was pulled off somewhere on 'tother side of the ball. A total eclipse of the sun is booked for August 30, which will be visible in the eastern half of the United States, so said, and if it's a clear day we may get a fair "run for our money," but in order to make sure of it you should emulate the example of the pure-pronged people who will go to Labrador, where they say the big event is sure to be visible, rain or shine. Being a trifle short on "time" we can't go.

Many a woman if she were put to it, could undoubtedly succeed in spending $4,000 in a minute, but only one so far as is known, can count this amount in the same time and do it right along for a living. She can be seen any day at Uncle Sam's financial headquarters at Washington. She is the expert counter of the bureau of printing and engraving, and the way she makes money fly through her fingers is something that would put the most lavish and reckless millionaire in the world to blush. She has held her position for the last eight and a half years in which time she has counted five billion dollars without a single error.

Some man who seems to have had experience and to know what he is talking about contributes the following: "If the farmers of the country who own worthless dogs—dogs without any breeding—could be induced to destroy them, and substitute one well-bred shepherd pup, not more, to each farm, the wealth of every farming community would be vastly increased in many ways. Farmers soon find the collies saving them many a step. Eager and anxious to learn, willing to do anything within his power, the young dog needs only a wise and patient restraint and intelligent direction to become one of the most useful hands on the place."

L. H. Mensch, of Marienville, whose serious injury by being hit on the left cheek bone by a baseball was mentioned in the REPUBLICAN last week, was operated upon at the West Penn hospital, Pittsburgh, by Dr. MacFarland, next day after the accident happened. An incision of more than two inches was made, and the bone, which was crushed in, was raised and eleven stitches inserted to hold the bone to its proper place. Several of the smaller bones of the face were also broken, but it is hoped these will not give him any serious trouble. The operation is said to have been successful, and the disfigurement, if any, will be but slight. He will be confined to his home for some days yet.

Albert Bean, of Trunkville, had a narrow escape from being bitten by a rattlesnake on Friday night. He noted that his chickens in his potato patch acted queerly when near a certain portion of the field, fearing their necks and giving vent to cries of alarm and anger, but paid no special attention to their antics. There was a bright moon on Friday, and as he was passing through the patch he felt something strike his leg, and found that a rattler had sunk its fangs into the bottom of his trousers. He tried to jerk away from the snake, but his fangs were fast in the cloth. He started to run and this jerked the poisonous teeth out of the reptile's head, and he went one way and the snake another.

Emmet Wood, of Loleta, Pa., is under treatment at the Oil City hospital for a punctured lung. He was employed at a sawmill at that place and operating an edging machine. A slab caught in the saw and was thrown back with great force, the end striking him in the side and fracturing a rib, the broken end of which was forced into his lung. In a short time the escaping air filled the tissues of his body and he puffled out to an enormous size. Dr. J. J. Brewer, of Clarion, attended him and then took him to Oil City, where he would have the benefit of the skilled nursing, for which that institution is noted. Dr. J. B. Siggins is treating him while there and believes that he will recover.

The Free Scholarship offer to pupils of the schools of Forest county, is to be repeated again this year. The conditions of eligibility are the same as last year, except that pupils must be enrolled not later than Oct. 2 and be regular in attendance from that date, and that no one who was granted a scholarship last spring will be eligible. Rules governing the examination will be the same, except that the examination will take place on Saturday, March 10, 1906. Teachers and Directors will receive special notice in September through the "Institute Program and Teachers' Guide," now being prepared by the County Superintendent. Pupils should make a note of the dates and prepare for the examination from the first of school.

Mrs. M. C. Heist, of Allerton, Iowa, has been a guest at the home of her cousin, J. D. W. Reek, for a few days, past. Mrs. Heist is the daughter of Hon. Abraham Reek, an ex-member of the Iowa legislature, and brother of the late Judge Reek, of Tionesta. Monday, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Reek, she visited the scenes of the boyhood days of her father, on Little Coon creek, where he was engaged in lumbering more than 58 years ago, and greatly enjoyed the trip on account of the associations connected with the place. Mrs. Heist has for nine years occupied the responsible position of secretary to the Speaker of the Iowa house of representatives, during which time her efficiency in the expedition of the intricate work of legislative procedure had become so marked that the members of the incoming legislature have demanded her retention, and she has reluctantly consented to again accept the important station. This fact has made it necessary for her to cut her visit to Pennsylvania friends short, much to her regret, for she has enjoyed it immensely.

Sudden Death.

Harry Michlen, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Michlen, of near Nebraska, Pa., died yesterday forenoon, at the home of his parents, after a brief illness lasting only about a week. He had been in charge of his father's oil lease, on the Hopkins farm, four miles up the Allegheny river from Tionesta, for several months, and about a week ago contracted a severe case of tonsillitis, which became further complicated by the formation of an abscess back of the larynx, rendering recovery hopeless, and he passed away as stated, about 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The deceased was aged about 29 years, and seemed like a strong, robust man to be thus suddenly cut down. He was a quiet, steady-going and industrious young man, who was well liked by all who knew him, and his sudden death has caused deepest sorrow in the community in which he was reared from boyhood and where he had a host of friends. The funeral takes place this afternoon at the Zwiendel church, German Hill, in whose cemetery the remains will be laid to rest.

Survivors of the One Hundred and Twenty-first, P. V., have arranged to hold a reunion and campfire at Oil City about the middle of October, to which the public will be invited. Although there are many survivors of the regiment throughout the state, there are only five who are residents of Oil City and immediate vicinity. Captain J. M. Clapp commanded one of the companies of this regiment and is president of the survivors' association. Arrangements are being made to have the members and their families take dinner and supper as a body at one of the local hotels.—Derrick.

The Warren Mail, a highly prized exchange, was 57 years of age last week, but doesn't look it. The Mail grows better with each succeeding anniversary, and will not need "oslerizing" for the next hundred and fifty years. Willis Cowan, who has been with the Mail for more than thirty years, has sold his interest to his former partners, Dwight Cowan and Enos Drum, who will continue to print a reliable weekly paper. Bro. Cowan's retirement from the editorial chair will be regretted by the newspaper fraternity, which will wish him success in whatever calling he may engage.

Five well known and prosperous farmers living near Butler have been badly swindled by a stranger. A few weeks ago the stranger drove through the township in a buggy and stopped at the farm houses, making sales of buggies at each place. The price of each buggy was to be $25 paid in advance. The man collected the money and gave receipts purporting to be on the buggy company's paper. Last Saturday the men were to go to Butler to get their buggies, but they failed to come and it is known now that they will not come at all. Better be on the safe side and buy your buggies of the home dealer.

Letter to Stephen Emick, Tionesta, Pa.

DEAR SIR:—Have you found-out you can paint a job with fewer gallons Devote than of anything else, lead-and-oil or anything else?

Mr. Floyd Almy, House and Sign Painter, Greenwich, N. Y., found it out three years ago; he writes: "I have used Devote lead-and-zinc for the past three years, and cannot say too much in its favor. I am using it now on a big job that I took by contract, and it has saved me at least $25 in the cost of material."

Devote is the strongest paint we know of; goes furthest; takes less of it to your job. Lead-and-oil is pure; lead-and-zinc is stronger; covers more; goes further. Have you found-out you can paint a gallon Devote in less time than a gallon of anything else? That means less time for the job. Less time; less money. Less paint; less money for that; less time, less money for that. Devote lasts longer; do you mind the less money for that? You are surer of it.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOTE & CO.,
New York.

A Warning to Mothers.
Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by Dunn & Fulton.
