Remember. Saturday, October 7th is the last day for the payment of taxes...

"We sleep too much," says Thomas Edison, who evidently does not live in apartments where his phonographs are used as playthings for the children.

Boss McFERRY is reported to have taken Mayor McClellan of New York up on a high mountain and shows him a perspective view of the White House at Washington.

It really begins to look as if Mr. Carnegie would have to turn fool. The world will bear witness to the faithful endeavor he made to part himself from his money by giving away libraries...

JUDGE PARKER'S reply was a palpable instance of evasion. President McCall charged that when chairman of the New State Democratic State Committee, several years ago, Judge Parker received corporation campaign gifts...

THE Czar of Russia issued a decree on the 10th instant, which will be immediately put in force, repealing the increased duties put upon certain American goods.

It wouldn't hurt to be fair with Russia, at any rate, remembering this latest incident, together with that of 40-odd years ago, and especially since the Japs have been burning Christian mission churches and stoning American citizens since the war closed.

WHEN thieves fall out dishonest insurance officials tell what they know about campaign contributions. "My life was made weary by the Democratic candidates chasing me for money in the campaign of 1905," testified President McCall, of the New York Life.

POVERTY NOT A BAR TO PROGRESS. "Such men as Mr. Plummer, embodying all the sterling qualities characteristic of the truest Americans afforded the very best examples to the sons of the wage workers," says the editor of the Labor World of Pittsburgh.

FOUR officials of the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger Packing Co., of Chicago, were fined an aggregate of $25,000 by Judge Humphrey in the United States District Court in Chicago last week.

SO SAYS THE VETERAN "TOM" COOPER OF THE OLD KEYSTONE STATE. Pennsylvania Republicans Should Heed the Words of the "Sage of Media."

THE veteran and ever "hopeful Tom" Cooper, of Media—editor, statesman, politician and former state chairman of the Republican state committee—comes into the lime light with a timely warning to Republicans of the Keystone State of the danger that lurks in the insurgent political movement back of the Berry candidacy for state treasurer.

IN his old established newspaper, the Delaware County American, he says: "The American has no thought of attacking the character of Mayor Berry, the Democratic-Fusion-Prohibition nominee for state treasurer. That his character is open and manly goes without saying in Delaware county. What we desire most of all other things is to discuss the future, and Berry's prediction that he will be elected. If we unite all elements opposed to the Republicans in an off-year, he is partly justified in his hopes, if he succeeds, as he has in Delaware county, in making a fusion between the Lincoln Republicans and Democrats, and this fusion extends throughout the state, then it is time for Republicans to pause and inquire as to the future."

BERY IS BRYAN'S LEADER. "Pennsylvania is justly regarded all over the union as the banner Republican state. If it should go Democratic this year the credit will go entirely to the Democracy—the Bryan Democracy, for Bery is Bryan's leader in Pennsylvania. He is our state's chief advocate of Bryan's silver views, and of his semi-Socialistic thoughts."

THIS is the plain truth. The bitterness of faction cannot hide it, and with Bery on top in Pennsylvania, it will mean Bryan once again in full control of the Democratic party, and its presidential nominee. "This is politics, free from personal animosity. This goes to the future, and therefore it is that the American asks all good citizens, all Lincoln Republicans, all Gold Democrats, to pause and contemplate the political waves as they come in."

NOT A QUESTION OF MEN. "This struggle is not a question of men, Plummer, the Republican candidate for state treasurer, is as upright as Mayor Bery. We know it. Six years of recent service in the house with a prominent member thereof enables us to estimate, and we say, despite all factional abuse, that J. Lee Plummer is an honest man.

"Let us contemplate the future, and govern our votes accordingly. "Rosevelt will not again be a candidate. If our state rushes into troubled waters other states will follow, and confusion will come as it came when Delamater was defeated for governor and Cleveland elected for president. The Delamater incident looked small, the Cleveland panic was large. This is simply politics, as to the future. "The American believes in every sensible advance, but in reaching better things it would not tear out the eyes of those whose help is very essential.

"We have been through two political revolutions; we know their meaning; we have learned to anticipate their results. "Look at what the Republican party has done. It has met reform in six great states—in Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Oregon, New Jersey, New York and Massachusetts. In these states it has passed great measures, honest measures for personal registration, uniform primaries and safe election laws. As the waves come in, for reform or otherwise, let us inquire if we cannot promote better things within ourselves. "As sure as we live, Pennsylvania will do her duty, and through the Republican party."

"Such men as Mr. Plummer, embodying all the sterling qualities characteristic of the truest Americans afforded the very best examples to the sons of the wage workers," says the editor of the Labor World of Pittsburgh. "Depend upon it they prove that poverty is not a barrier to success when determination and honesty of purpose are employed. Thus it is that these examples should be encouraged by those who benefit most by them, that is, the working men themselves.

"Let the honorable and progressive course of the quondam news by continued. His past gives assurance for the future. He comes from the ranks and is one of the people."

Records of the ancient city of Goggona, founded in 1640, better known at the present time as York Harbor, Me., contain many quaint and unusual stories of the early life of the town. At the entrance to York harbor a bold promontory known as Stage neck extends some distance into the sea, from which formerly in stormy weather a temporary light in the form of a lantern hoisted upon an upright pole was displayed as a warning to mariners. One dark winter night a sloop was wrecked on these rocks. A survivor on being questioned about the catastrophe said: "The vessel struck, turned over on her side, and the skipper and another barrel of whisky rolled overboard." The local corner was summoned, and this somewhat startling verdict was returned: "We find that the deceased fell from the masthead and was killed. He rolled overboard and was drowned. He floated ashore and froze to death, and the rats eat him up alive!"—Harper's Weekly.

The Verdict. Records of the ancient city of Goggona, founded in 1640, better known at the present time as York Harbor, Me., contain many quaint and unusual stories of the early life of the town. At the entrance to York harbor a bold promontory known as Stage neck extends some distance into the sea, from which formerly in stormy weather a temporary light in the form of a lantern hoisted upon an upright pole was displayed as a warning to mariners. Lobster Mortality High. A lobster lays thousands of eggs, most of which hatch, but few ever live to grow up. This is not the fault of the mother, for she carries them about with her for nearly a year and with admirable instinct guards them as she does her own life. When the young are set free her duty is done, for they must then shift for themselves. Though hardly larger than mosquitoes, being about one-third of an inch long, the little ones leave their parents on the bottom and swim toward the light—to the surface, where from one to two months, if fortune favors them, they lead a free, roving life. The open sea is a poor nursery for such weaklings, which become the sport of every storm and the prey of numberless hungry mouths. Out of a brood of 10,000 it would be a rare chance for more than one or two lobsters to reach maturity or finally to end their career in the kitchen or the chafing dish.—St. Nicholas.

Impaired in the Wind. "Butterflies may be imprisoned and uninjured in the midst of a whirlwind. Gales in a genuine typhoon are so terrible that the stoutest ships can scarcely hope to weather them, but there is a spot at the very center of the storm where something like a dead calm prevails. From the outer edge of the disturbance, which may be 300 miles across, the wind velocity increases toward the center until within a few miles of that point there comes a sudden lull. There the rain ceases and the sky often clears. In this little calm area, which sailors call "the eye of the storm," a group of butterflies has frequently been imprisoned, and their dainty, delicate forms are as safe in this aerial cage as if hovering in sunny meadows, but as helpless as in a collector's bottle.
