LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Lost. Local. Joe Levi, Ad. Lauwers, Ad. Hopkins, Local. Wm. B. James, Ad. E. E. Simmons, Local. Smart of Silberberg, Ad. F. W. Devoe & Co., Letter. C. M. & St. P. By. Readers. White Star Grocery, Local. Glasgow Woolen Mills Co. Ad. Stockholders Meeting, Reader. Joyce Millinery, Reader and Local.

-Oil market closed at $1.46. -You can get it at Hopkins' store. -A nice line of street hats at the Joyce Millinery. See them at the opening next week, Oct. 5 and 6.

-The subject of Rev. W. O. Calhoun's sermon at the M. E. church next Sabbath evening will be "In Dim Visions."

-If you intend putting up peaches the time to get them is now, for the crop will not last much longer. White Star Grocery.

-P. C. Walters received the notification last week of his appointment as postmaster at Stewart Run, to succeed John A. Dawson, who resigned.

-Fall opening at the Joyce Millinery Thursday and Friday, Oct. 5th and 6th. Don't miss this opportunity to see the elegant display of pattern hats.

-Following is the list of letters lying unopened in the Tionesta, Pa., post-office for week ending Sept. 27, 1905: E. D. Shaw. D. S. Knox, P. M.

-The Oil City conference of the Free Methodist church begins its annual session in Emporium to-day. Rev. R. A. Zahriser of the Tionesta circuit is in attendance.

-Lost, between Tionesta and Newmansville, on the Smokey Hill road, a bunch of keys with chain attached. The finder will confer a favor by leaving same at this office.

-A tallyho load of members of the Tionesta Christian Endeavor Society, accompanied by their pastor, Rev. Dr. Sionaker, drove up to the county home Sunday afternoon and conducted services.

-The New Castle Herald man thinks that the burdens that make us groan and sweat, the troubles that make us fume and fret, are the things that haven't happened yet. And that's no dream at all, you bet.

-The frost on the hills Monday night was the severest of the season, and "fixed" everything that was fixable. But as most of the corn is cut, and the buckwheat about all taken in, the damage has not been great.

-The Masonic brethren of Forest county are making arrangements for their second basket picnic, which will be held in the grove at Nebraska, next Tuesday, Oct. 3d, at ten o'clock. All Masons and their ladies are invited.

-The Muzette people are rejoicing over the arrival of a new school bell which has been presented by the board of directors of Kingsley township. The patrons of the school as well as the teacher and all interested in school work thank them heartily for the gift.

-Congressman Smith of the Punny Spirit is trying to "dodge the issue." Hear him: "Hall Caine, the novelist, says he is going to write a novel on the millionaire of this county. We haven't any particular objection so long as Mr. Caine doesn't get too personal."

-The butternut crop this season was a "bumper," and in many families during the long winter evenings, butternut cracking and munching will doubtless form much of the amusement and pastime. The chestnut crop is little better than a failure, while hickory nuts are fairly plentiful.

-Trustee L. H. Gibson started the veneer works with a small crew the first of the week, and will work up some of the large stock of material that was left over when the factory closed down in the spring. It is possible the works will again be put in full operation this fall. We hope so, at any rate.

-FOR SALE—Two English Setters. One blue Belton strain dog, nine months old, over distemper, just right to commence working. One female, B. W. and T. C., seven months old, from "Prince Callaway" and "Florence Price," A. K. C. S. B. 78209. On approval to reliable parties. E. E. Simmons, Brookston, Pa.

-J. R. Chadwick has secured the agency of one of the best selling books that has been presented to the public for several years, being a history of the "War between Russia and Japan," by that great war correspondent and eminent writer, Murat Halstead. The book will contain a thrilling account of the great struggle from beginning to end, including descriptions of fierce battles on sea and land, and will be profusely illustrated with the finest engravings. The name of the author, Murat Halstead, is a guarantee that the work will be strictly first class and will not be equaled by any other. Mr. Chadwick will begin his canvass in a short time, and if you want the best, give him your order.

-The new dwelling house of Frank Mesley, near Johnstown, which was about ready for the carpenters to begin the inside finishing, was struck by a bolt of lightning during the hard storm Tuesday afternoon of last week. Aside from knocking a few bricks from the chimney and tearing off some of the plaster, the damage was not serious.

-Wisconsin newspapers are all sending out 28-page supplementers. Under a new statute, the laws enacted at each session of the Legislature are published in every paper in the state whose publisher is willing to perform that service for $100. Few decline, and thus there goes a copy of the session laws into nearly every home. The Wisconsin plan certainly makes ignorance of the law an inexcusable moral as well as a legal.

-The survivors of the famous old Bucktail regiment, which did so much good service during the stormy days of the civil war, will hold their annual reunion this year at the home of Col. E. A. Irwin, lieutenant colonel of the regiment, at Curwensville, Pa., Oct. 3 and 4. Col. Irwin was made captain of the company recruited there in 1861, and every member of the regiment will make an effort to be present at the reunion this year.

-Elmer D. Brown, an engineer on the P. R. R., lost his life in the railroad yards at Ashabula Harbor on the 19th inst., in a collision which burst the boiler of his engine, scalding him to death. He was aged 39 years, and leaves a wife and 3-year-old son. His mother, Mrs. Margaret Brown, also survives. She is a sister of the late Dr. Hunter and a half sister of the late Judge Dale, and her son Elmer was a cousin of the children of these late citizens of Tionesta.

-The Oil City Evening Times, after a nine-months' struggle for existence, has given up the ghost, ceasing publication with its issue of the 19th inst. Starting a newspaper, where the field is already well covered, and keeping it going for any length of time are separate propositions altogether. No matter how cheap apples are, it takes money to buy cider, and the party that undertakes to run a print shop on this air will come out about like "Pete Barnes, who kept tavern out west."

-An exchange very truly says the business world has no use for a loafer. If a young man would succeed he must occupy his time as though it was of some value. Sitting around on dry goods boxes, playing cards in the back room of the boozery, smoking cigarettes and wearing one's hat jauntily poised on either ear, these are the passports of certain failures in life. Employers of labor are looking for earnest, conscientious, faithful workers, and such are either working or looking for work when others are looking for a soft snap.

-In central Pennsylvania a few miles from Shamokin, says an exchange, is a three hundred acre tract of land containing nearly ninety thousand chestnut trees. In 1904 this prolific grove bore one thousand bushels of nuts, bringing ten dollars a bushel, and the demand was much greater than the supply, and three times the amount the grove bears could be easily marketed at the same price. When the big grove reaches its full bearing capacity it will yield at least one-half more. That story sounds just a trifle "chestnutty." Ten dollars a bushel for chestnuts is just a little up in figure.

-A Reader asks what has become of the Erie Railroad's project to build a line through Warren, the query being based on the presence here several months ago of a party of surveyors. The ways of the railroad, and especially the Erie railroad, are past finding out. It is like looking for results after sticking one's hand in a pair of water. The hole has gone, likewise also the surveyors. We don't know, gentle reader, but be consoled by the story of the man who said he wanted to get to New York the worst way and inquired how he should travel. "Take the Erie," was the prompt reply.—Warren Times.

-Rev. O. H. Nickle, a former popular pastor of the M. E. church of Tionesta, still engages somewhat in his profitable pastime of raising great crops of tomatoes. The Oil City Derrick notes that he gathered this season from a plot of ground measuring 42x45 feet, containing 300 plants, 2,140 pounds of tomatoes which he sold to the grocer, of Conneaut Lake, where he was stationed last year. He canned 40 quarts, kept his family supplied all season and gave liberally to his neighbors. With a number caught by early frost, he estimates 400 pounds more, making 2,500 pounds, or a ton and a quarter.

-A good piece of advice for young men to follow is tendered by the Franklin News, which says: "If you are a man well liked and are tempted to spend a dollar or two treating the boys to drinks and cigars, just drop the habit and put the money it would cost in the savings bank. Stick to the custom and put away what you would otherwise spend and some day when you want a good reliable friend to help you in trouble, the boys that would gladly drink with you may not care—they seldom care for anyone because of the treats they get—but the cashier at the bank will be very cordial and obliging."

-Honey is the only sweet that may be eaten in any quantity and for a long time without interfering with the vital organs. Its food value is twice that of pork, pound for pound, and it has been noticed that persistent honey-eaters are not nearly so liable to disease of the respiratory organs as those who do not use it at all. It is calculated that the entire honey product of 90 bees during their entire life will not amount to more than one pound of honey, an amount that a man with a good appetite would eat in a day without thinking much about it. It's getting along about the time that the season's honey crop should be harvested.

-A Trunkville correspondent writes of a great snake killing in which W. W. Bean, his brother, Curt, and Thomas Hoag figured on Friday. The Bean brothers were going through the woods near Scott's rocks when they sighted a rattler that escaped under a large rock. The men called Hoag to their assistance and the three were able to turn the stone over and found the cavity filled with a mass of rattlers. The men killed 37 of the reptiles, ranging in length from 14 to 40 inches and sporting from one to nine rattles. There were quite a number of other snakes that escaped. The snakes after being counted were shown to several reliable persons in the neighborhood and were then cremated.—Oil City Derrick.

-The annual picnic of the ladies of the Relief Corps was held as usual at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Ledbour, near Starr, on Friday last, and while not as largely attended as some former ones, was among the most enjoyable ever given. The weather was perfect, the day being just right for such an outing, and the lunch was both excellent and abundant. At the conclusion of the repeat speeches were called for, and bright, bristling addresses were made by Rev. B. F. Feit, Rev. W. O. Calhoun, Judge S. D. Irwin and Dr. Bovard. The afternoon was spent in pleasant social chat, croquet, pitching quoits, and such diversions as were most pleasing to the throng. It was voted the most enjoyable outing of the kind yet held by the Corps.

-A rare treat is in store for those who attend the illustrated historical lectures at the court house Wednesday and Friday evenings, October 4th and 6th, next. Lieut.-Col. Gifford, of the Salvation Army, who is well and favorably known to Tionesta people, will give the entertainments, which will consist of moving pictures covering many stirring events of intense interest. The first evening the subject of his lecture will be "9,000 Miles in 90 Minutes," and on Friday evening, "Following the Flags." The small admission of 50c and 25c will be charged, and all other actual expenses will be devoted to the furthering of the great work of the Salvation Army. Don't miss these lectures, for they are well worth hearing, and the pictures will be of a high order of merit.

-In drilling for oil or gas it is usually the custom to test the territory nearest the line, but it has often occurred that the operator has overstepped the limits and was afterwards convinced that he was on the adjacent property. Several days ago a gas company drilled in a good gasser in the vicinity of Ludlow, McKean county. Local operators, who own the adjoining property, questioned the location of the well and a surveyor was sent to the property to draw the lines. The result was that the line bisected the well. There is probably not another such instance on record, but the first survey may not hold, for the reason that the territory is very uneven and covered with underbrush, and it is a difficult matter to make an absolute correct survey. The ground will be gone over again in a most careful manner and this will doubtless decide the ownership of the well.

Court Minutes.

The regular September term of quarter sessions court convened Monday at 10 o'clock, with President Judge Lindsey, and Associates Dotterer and Kreitner on the bench.

The first case disposed of was that of J. E. Beck vs. M. C. Watson, the jury returning a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $185.04.

The cases of Mork and Proper et al vs. J. G. C. Sigworth, were settled by the parties at interest.

Case of Commonwealth vs. Cecil McClellan, the 10-year-old son of E. B. McClellan, of Endeavor, was tried in the juvenile court, the lad being charged with the larceny of a watch, Chas. C. Carr prosecutor. The boy was placed in the care of his parent until further orders of the court, the father paying the costs.

In the case of Commonwealth vs. J. E. Beck, on the charge of statutory rape, John Snyder prosecutor, the grand jury returned a true bill, and the case was continued until November term of court.

Com. vs. Amos Walton was tried and verdict of guilty of assault and battery rendered. Martin Wisterdape prosecutor.

Com. vs. A. M. Van Horn, charge of violating the pure food law. True bill.

Com. vs. W. P. Couch, charge, violating pure food law. Verdict, guilty.

Com. vs. Jesse Carsen, surety of the peace, George Kennedy prosecutor, to be heard by the court.

The divorce case of Leota Hoover vs. John Hoover is on trial as we go to press.

The viewers appointed to view, vacate and supply a public road from the mouth of Tubbs run to the Cropp hill road, reported favorably.

John Henderson was appointed guardian of Mary Louise, minor child of James Henderson, deceased.

The viewers appointed to view and report upon the necessity of a bridge across Tionesta creek, at or near the mouth of Bear creek, Kingsley twp., reported favorably, the latter believing a bridge at this point to be unnecessary.

Chas. Southworth presented his resignation as road commissioner of Kingsley township.

George Klinefister, Jr. was appointed judge, and W. F. Rudy and Toos Giljolly inspectors of the Kelleitville election district. Perry Lemon was appointed inspector for the Newtown district.

Wm. Hartman is foreman of the grand jury.

Letter to T. D. Collins,

Nebraska, Pa.

DEAR SIR—We know what the paints are all made of, you know; we have to. In Wilson, N. C., are two dealers. One of 'em thinks he can't sell paint for more than $1 a gallon; the other won't have such stuff in his store—sells Devco lead-and-zinc, of course.

The $1 paint is adulterated 75 per cent; Devco is all lead and zinc and linseed oil, with as little good dryer as possible. A gallon Devco has in it a little more paint than four gallons of the other. A gallon Devco will cover as much as four of the other. Who wants to pay wages for painting four gallons for one?

How much is Devco lead-and-zinc worth in this town?

Yours truly, F. W. DEVOE & CO., 79 New York P. S.—Dunn & Fulton sell our paint.

Stockholders' Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Forest Telephone and Telegraph Company will be held in the Directors' Room of the Gold Standard National Bank, at Marienville, Pa., October 17th, at 1 o'clock p. m., 1905, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year.

A. D. NELL, President.

Our loss will be Elk county's gain.

Interesting Event for Endeavors.

What promises to be one of the most interesting meetings in the history of the Christian Endeavor Society in this section is the Oil City and Vicinity Convention to be held at Endeavor, Forest county, on Friday afternoon and evening, October 6th. The convention theme is "A Next Step Meeting" and an interesting program has been prepared. A special train will leave Oil City at 1 o'clock p. m., returning after the evening meeting. Others may go on the regular train leaving Tionesta at 6:10 o'clock. Extensive arrangements for the convention are being made by D. L. McClelland, of Franklin, who is President of the organization.

The program is as follows:

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Devotional services.

"Endeavor Greetings," W. E. Withereil, Endeavor.

"Next Step in Our C. E. Prayer Meetings," One-Minute Talks by Chairmen of Prayer Meeting Committees.

"Closing Prayer Meeting," Rev. W. E. Borger, Rocky Grove.

Solo, Miss Bessie Brady, Franklin.

Benediction.

RECENT DEATHS.

Our community was greatly shocked on last Sabbath morning to learn that W. A. Grove had passed away at 10:45 o'clock, since it was generally understood that he was recovering from his serious illness. Exactly what caused his death is undetermined, but that it was due to injuries received in a runaway accident is quite generally believed. On Sunday, August 29th, in company with his wife and her sister, Miss Nettie Hunter, he was driving on the river road about two miles above Tionesta, when his spirited team of horses took fright at an automobile and ran away. The ladies had alighted from the carriage and were not injured, but Mr. Grove was thrown under the rig as it was overturned and dragged for some distance. He received such severe injuries that he was confined to the house for several weeks. He seemed to recover from his injuries and was about as usual until last Sunday, when he was again taken with a serious relapse, which caused great alarm among his friends. One of Oil City's prominent physicians was called in consultation with the family physician, who pronounced Mr. Grove in a serious condition. Within the next twelve hours an eminent Buffalo specialist was summoned, who also gave it as his opinion that the patient was in a critical state. Notwithstanding these reports he began soon to show symptoms of improvement, and on Saturday he was thought to be a fair way to recovery. Sunday morning about 8 o'clock, however, Mr. Grove was taken with sinking spells, each one seeming to leave him weaker, and at the hour noted he sank peacefully and calmly away.

William Albert Grove was the son of Joseph and Mary A. (Cummings) Grove and was born in Franklin, Pa., July 2, 1848. He came with the family to Tionesta in 1870, after having resided successively in Hickory township, Forest county, Tidouice and again in Franklin. Mr. Grove was twice married. On December 7, 1875, he was united in marriage with Miss M. Jennie Hunter, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Hunter, who died March 10, 1889. He was again married, on September 16, 1890, to Miss Minnie Hunter, a sister of his first wife, who survives him. He is also survived by two brothers and two sisters: Mrs. John A. Hart, of Oil City, Pa.; Wilbur W., of Jamestown, N. Y.; J. Park and Mrs. A. M. Douth, of Tionesta.

All the citizens of Tionesta none, perhaps, would be more missed than Mr. Grove. His long and honorable career in this town had won him the esteem and respect of all. In his business dealings he was fair and square, and could be relied upon to do just as he had agreed in any transaction. In social life he was genial, good natured and popular. In his religion he was faithful, consistent and firm. All in all he was a splendid citizen, plain, honest, loyal, and his death removes a man who could truly be spared from the community. The family has sustained an irreparable loss which is shared by all our people, whose sympathies go out to the stricken ones with feelings of personal loss and grief.

Mr. Grove had at various times served as counsellor in the borough and on the school board, and was prominently identified with all movements that had for their aim the betterment and uplifting of our community. His membership in the Methodist Episcopal church dated from early manhood, and he was faithful to the end. He was also a charter member of Olive Lodge, No. 557, F. and A. M., and of the K. O. T. M. Funeral services in memory of the deceased were held at 2 o'clock, by his pastor, Rev. W. O. Calhoun, who was assisted by Rev. C. C. Rumberger, of Big Run, Pa., Rev. Paul J. Sionaker and Rev. B. F. Feit, of Tionesta. It being impossible for the brothers to reach here in time, the interment was deferred until 11 o'clock to-day, Wednesday, when the Masonic fraternity will officiate, and the burial will take place in accordance with the ritual of that order, the interment being in Riverside cemetery.

MORRISON.

Mrs. Robert C. Morrison, nee Esther Hill, died at her home in Clarion township, Tuesday, September 19, 1905, of paralysis. She was born in South Buffalo township, Armstrong county, March 13, 1821. She was married to Robert C. Morrison in 1850. Mr. Morrison died December 5, 1895. The following children survive: Mrs. Rebecca Brown, Panic, Jefferson county; Geo. A. Anita; Wm. J.; Reynoldsville; J. Boyd; Silgo; J. Harvey, Strattonville; Josiah C.; Rockwood, O.; Mrs. Alice McMahan, Frampton; D. W., Tionesta. She is also survived by 44 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. Mrs. Morrison was a resident of Jefferson county for a number of years after her marriage and afterwards moved to Limestone township, Clarion county, and later to Clarion township. Mrs. Morrison was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church at Astbury for many years. The funeral services were conducted Thursday morning from her late residence by Rev. J. A. James and the interment was made in the Rehoboth cemetery.—Clarion Democrat.

NORTON.

Robert Norton died last Friday, Sept. 22d, at the home of his son, Hiram Norton, in West Hickory. Mr. Norton was aged 93 years, 2 months and 2 days, and was probably the oldest resident in the county. He was born in Schenectady, N. Y., and removed from there to Meadville. About two years ago he came to West Hickory to reside with his son. Besides his son, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Harriet Hibbard, of Oil City. The funeral services were held in the West Hickory M. E. church, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. E. D. Mowrey, and the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at East Hickory.

Joyce Millinery Opening.

The regular Fall opening of the Joyce Millinery has been set for Thursday and Friday, October 5th and 6th, and the ladies of Tionesta and vicinity are cordially invited to call on either of these days and see the stock and make selections. We will have a finer display of pattern hats than has heretofore been shown in Tionesta, the new things in millinery being of superior elegance this season, and whether you select your new hat or not you will be repaid by an inspection of this display. Don't forget the dates.
