How about that new fall or winter suit? Hopkins' stock is more complete this season than ever before.

Remember the fall opening days at the Joyce Millinery, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 5 and 6.

Gorge yourself with grapes while the season is at its best, and the place to get the choicest is at the White Star Grocery.

Don't forget the lecture and moving pictures this Wednesday evening, at the court house. The entertainment will be fine.

Republicans should see to the payment of their taxes and thus make sure of their votes. Saturday, Oct. 7th, is the last day.

The Wooltex skirt is not equalled anywhere. They wear best and are the most stylish. Hopkins' is the only place to buy them in Tionesta.

The subject of Rev. W. O. Calhoun's sermon at the M. E. church next Sabbath evening will be "Will there be an opportunity for repentance after death?"

A small building is being erected on the lot in rear of C. M. Arner's office which is intended, we understand, to be used as a tinning and plumbing shop.

Ex-Judge Crawford has been superintending the cleaning out of the channel in the Allegheny river between here and Hickory, under the direction of the U. S. government.

Following is the list of letters lying unclaimed for in the Tionesta, Pa., post-office for week ending October 4, 1905: Mr. W. E. Denna, Mr. Arthur Sulan.

D. S. Knox, P. M.
Attorney A. C. Brown has purchased half of the large lot between the old Forest House and J. D. Davis' residence, and will erect a dwelling thereon next summer. The location is a very pretty one.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. will hold their annual picnic at the county home on Wednesday, Oct. 11th. All members are invited to be present and help to make this occasion an enjoyable one.

The W. C. T. U. will hold its next regular meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 10th, at the Presbyterian church. At this time a report of the county convention will be read by the delegate. All members are requested to be present.

The Court last week confirmed, nisi, the report of the viewers which recommends the erections of a bridge over Tionesta creek at Kellestville. After thirty days, if there are no objections, this confirmation becomes absolute.

The Masonic picnic at Nebraska, on Tuesday, was largely attended by the brethren from different parts of the county. About twenty-five persons from here attended and all report a splendid time. It was an ideal day for a picnic.

All the new creations in Fall millinery will be on exhibition at the opening at the Joyce Millinery to-morrow and next day, Thursday and Friday. A fine display of pattern hats and all the new things in the "everyday" variety will be shown. Don't miss it.

F. C. Proper has broken ground on his lot, next to J. W. Landers' residence on Elm street, for the foundation for a dwelling. We understand it is his intention to move a part of the old Forest House onto this lot, and then to erect a handsome new home on the Forest House lot next season.

The three story brick dwelling owned by Mrs. Gertrude E. Greaves, widow of the late well known artist, W. A. Greaves, and situated at 106 Second street, was purchased this morning by N. K. Wendelboe. The consideration is not made public. Mrs. Greaves expects to move to Cleveland.—Warren Mirror.

We see it stated that the Oil City Times, which recently succumbed to the inevitable after a brief struggle for existence, is to be tried out once more, this time by Moore Brothers. It may work but we doubt it, and then, with a new Derrick every morning and a fresh Blizzard every evening, what matters about the Times anyway.

John Harger and Alvin Thomas found a bee tree out in the township a short time ago which is quite a curiosity in its way. The tree was leaning and was not hollow, but on the under side in a little hole the bees had started to lay up their stores for winter. The sweets were on the outside of the tree in plain view and amounted to ten or twelve pounds.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevenson, of East Brady, last Sunday evening, three nice strong babies, two girls and one boy. The father is an engineer on the Pennsylvania railroad and the mother is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Faloon, of East Brady, and a niece of our townsman, E. C. Faloon. These are their first born and they are strong healthy babies and are doing well. The girls weigh seven pounds each and the boy weighs four pounds.—Clarion Republican.

The glories of the autumn season are now "in our midst," and to many this is the pleasantest time of the year. The gorgeous tints are everywhere apparent, and the beautiful river hills sloping back from the delightful old Allegheny are showing their brightest purples, yellows, crimsons and greens, making a picture of autumnal splendor which no artist could ever hope to reproduce. Yet with all this sublime grandeur there comes just a wee touch of the melancholy, reminding one that there is but a span between our glorious summer and the rigors of winter and the consequent busyness of the pesky gas meter.

On account of the Oil City and vicinity Christian Endeavor Union Convention to be held at Endeavor next Friday afternoon and evening, Oct. 6th, the P. R. R. will run a special train, leaving Oil City at 1 o'clock and Tionesta at 1:35 p. m. Fare from Tionesta to West Hickory and return, 32 cents. The coaches will be switched to the Hickory Valley Railroad and run through to Endeavor without change. Special train returns after the evening session. Make up your mind to attend the convention. A fine program has been prepared, which we published last week. Persons desiring to attend the evening session only can go on the 6:10 train.

Sunday morning while Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stroup were driving out the Tylersburg road to visit Mrs. Wm. Hepler, a sister of Mrs. S., they noticed that their horse seemed skittish and uneasy while passing a certain place in the road between "grunnel hill" and Charley Wertz's farm. They thought little of it at the time, but on their return in the evening when near the same locality, about four miles from Tionesta, they espied a large black bear in the road ahead of them, and it didn't seem in any hurry to get away, but ambled off into the woods when they passed, not four rods away. Bruin was doubtless out on the first day of the season to show his utter contempt for the new law regulating his "taking off."

If you would enjoy a rare treat you will not fail to attend the illustrated lectures at the court house to-night and Friday night. Col. Gifford, of the Salvation Army, has all his apparatus here for giving a strictly first class exhibition of moving pictures, and his audience may expect a fine entertainment. The subject for to-night is "Nine Thousand Miles in Ninety Minutes." The REPUBLICAN stated last week that the surplus revenue from these lectures would be devoted to the Salvation Army. This was erroneous, as Col. Gifford is giving the entertainment under the auspices of the committee in charge of the Presbyterian church furnishing fund, to whose use the proceeds above actual expenses will be devoted.

Donald, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shaw, of Kellestville, met death in a distressing manner on Monday evening of this week. At the supper table the child had gotten hold of some spoons and while the mother was reaching to take the spoons her sleeve caught and upset a pot of hot tea, the contents spilling on the child and scalding it so severely that it was thrown into convulsions from which it suffered until about midnight when death came to its relief. The lad was a bright little fellow, the pet of the household, and the distressing accident has elicited general and heartfelt sympathy in the community for the stricken parents. Funeral services will be held to-day, the interment taking place in the cemetery at Whig Hill.

William Cole, better known as "Bill," an eccentric character whose acquaintance extends to a hundred towns in Ohio and Pennsylvania, passed through the city last night on his way to Pleasantville. Bill is the fellow who flagged a train on the Chautauque division near Graytown a few years ago and asked the engineer for a chew of tobacco. This affords some idea of his character. Tuesday night he rode into Townville on a slab-sided bay gelding. A crowd collected and he gave some equestrian stunts of doubtful merit. The horse was weary and looked so appealingly at the spectators that Bill was prevailed upon to desist. In the night some one cut the animal's tail off. Yesterday Bill sold his steed to a Townville relic hunter for 50 cents. The money he used in paying street car fare between Tryonville and Pleasantville, where he says he has friends. Bill's native intelligence is undoubtedly wanting; but he has gained enough in the school of experience to carry him along. He has been a common tramp for thirty years.—Titusville Herald.

Mrs. Ann Martha Gates, widow of the late William Gates, died at Kingsville, O., on the 27th ult. The deceased was 80 years of age and was born in McKean county, Pa., now the site of Port Allegany. Her father, the late Daniel Stanton, was one of the pioneers of that section and erected the first frame house in Port Allegany. The deceased was a member of Grace M. E. church and has a wide circle of friends in and about Oil City and in Rockland township, which was her home for some time previous to her removal to Oil City with her husband in the early settlement of that city. She is survived by one brother, Benjamin Stanton, of Oil City, and these sisters: Mrs. John Gates, Kingsville, O.; Mrs. T. D. Collins, Nebraska, Forest county, Pa., and Miss C. C. Stanton, of Oil City. The funeral services were held at the Gates home in Oil City, last Thursday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. H. G. Hall, pastor of Grace church, and the body was taken to Rockland Friday morning for burial. Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Collins attended the services.

Millinery Opening.

F. Walters & Co. will have their annual Fall and Winter opening of ladies' fine headwear on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 5th and 6th. The styles never were prettier. The ladies are invited to call and see the pretty hats. Don't forget the dates, Oct. 5th and 6th.

Jos. Green was down from East Hickory Friday for a few hours and made the REPUBLICAN a pleasant call.

Will Sibble returned to his home in Lima, Ohio, last week, after a month's pleasant visit with old friends in this vicinity.

Miss Aggie Kerr, of Petrolia, Pa., visited Mrs. S. M. Henry during the past week and met many former Tionesta friends while here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Wilder and Mr. and Mrs. George Kincaid and daughter, Doris, of Oil City, were guests at J. W. Jamieson's over Sunday.

H. W. Horner left Monday evening for his annual hunting trip to the big woods of Wisconsin. He will be located at Merrill, Lincoln county.

Clarence Olney was compelled to relinquish his work at the Central House on account being quite ill, and returned to his home at Irvineton, Tuesday.

Wm. Harrington, fireman on the P. R. R., who has been spending a short vacation with his family at Kellestville, returned to Oil City yesterday to report for duty.

Dr. W. A. Nason and family, of the Nason Hospital, Roaring Springs, Pa., were guests of the Doctor's sister, Mrs. T. B. Lehenthaler, at Endeavor, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

News comes from the home of George Birtoli, of Shipperville, that a bouncing fine boy made his arrival there on Thursday last. We smoke nothing but a straight 10-center on such occasions, George.

Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. A. Gifford and their bright little boy Ranson, of the Salvation Army, of New York city, arrived this week and will be guests for a short time at the home of Mrs. Gifford's brother, J. A. Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey G. Kiser, of Wilkesburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Conrad, of McKeesport, Pa., came up Sunday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Randall. They made the trip in an automobile and started Tuesday on their return trip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Whitton and little daughter, of Tiona, spent Sunday and Monday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Whitton, near Newmansville. They expect soon to go to Dothan, Alabama, where Mr. Whitton is engaged in the lumber business.

J. C. Campbell, a former prominent Forest county lumberman, is now a resident of Marion, W. Va., whither he has recently moved his family, and where the firm of Amster & Campbell have large lumbering interests, having two extensive mills in operation.

Marion A. Carringer, Esq., of Tionesta, a member of the Forest county bar, was at the late term of court here on the report and recommendation of the board of the examiners of the Clarion bar admitted to practice law in the several courts of Clarion county.—Democrat.

W. J. Hunter, of Penn Station, Westmoreland county, brought his family up last week for a visit at their old home in Kingsley twp. Wallace, who steadily employed in the car shops at his home, was obliged to return Saturday, his vacation extending only for a week.

A party of ten Tionesta ladies drove to the Hopkins & Proper lease, at Stewart Run, last Thursday, where they enjoyed a pleasant day's outing and a fine dinner prepared by Mrs. Charles Carnes, whose husband has charge of the lease. The party consisted of Mesdames F. C. Proper, J. F. Proper, L. J. Hopkins, C. A. Lanson, M. E. Abbott, Wm. Smearebaugh, J. H. Robertson, J. C. Dunn, J. E. Wenk, and F. R. Lanson.

George Nichols, of Torpedo, Pa., and Miss Lucy Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Parker, of Fagnudus, were united in marriage at Warren, Sept. 23, 1905, by Rev. J. W. Smith of the Presbyterian church of Warren. After the ceremony the happy couple repaired to the home of the bride's parents where they spent the Sabbath. On Monday following Mr. and Mrs. Nichols went to Youngsville, Pa., where they will reside, bearing with them the best wishes of many friends.

C. A. Childs and Miss Susan E. Huling, of Tionesta, were united in marriage at the home of the bride, this Wednesday morning, Oct. 4th, at nine o'clock, in the presence of only the immediate families of the couple. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. O. Calhoun, pastor of the Methodist church. The happy couple left on train 30 for a short wedding journey, after which they will be at home in one of the K. C. Health houses on May street, which has been all furnished for the occasion. The REPUBLICAN extends congratulations to these popular young people, with our best wishes for a long and happy life.

TAKES HIS OWN LIFE.

Robert Pimm, of Fagnudus, Suicides by Cutting His Throat.

Robert W. Pimm, one of the oldest residents of Fagnudus, in this county, committed suicide last Sabbath evening. While his wife was milking at the barn Mr. Pimm was with her and attended to some little chores. When done with the milking Mrs. Pimm went to the house to strain and take care of the milk, but shortly after returned to the barn and there discovered the horrible spectacle of her husband lying in a pool of blood. Neighbors were instantly summoned and when they arrived they found the unfortunate man already dead, the jack-knife with which he had committed the rash act still grasped in his hand. An examination disclosed the fact that he had slashed the right side of his neck just under the jaw bone, severing the carotid or main artery, from which the blood had spurting a distance of several feet, and which would cause death almost instantly.

The cause which impelled this rash act can easily be stated—despondency and temporary derangement of the mind. For a year or more past Mr. Pimm's health had been failing and for the past few months he had become almost deaf. Although never alluding in any way to self-destruction, he had been bothered at times with strange hallucinations, one of which was that his home was going to burn up.

Mr. Pimm was aged about 65 years and is survived by his wife but no children. He was a native of Canada and came to Fagnudus about 35 years ago. At that time he followed rig building and of late years had done considerable carpentering in his community. He was a man of considerable intelligence, always energetic, scrupulously honest, and generally of a jovial disposition, which made him a popular man in neighborhood, where he stood high in the estimation of all.

It is said he carried some life insurance but what amount is not stated. It was the intention to hold the funeral services to-day. An inquest was not deemed necessary by the friends.

W. R. C. District Convention.

The ninth annual convention of District No. 4, W. R. C., was held in Tionesta yesterday, at which five Corps were represented, the meetings taking place in Bovard's hall. The visiting Corps were guests of Stow Corps, 137, which held an informal reception in the morning and served dinner at noon in the hall. In the afternoon reports were received and the election of district officers was held, resulting as follows: President, Mrs. McCready, Duke Center; Vice Pres., Mrs. Smith, Johnsonburg; Sec'y, Miss Ida Paup, Tionesta; Treas., Mrs. Jennie Agnew, Tionesta. Other delegates present from abroad were Mrs. Irwin of Duke Center, Mrs. Williams of Johnsonburg, Mrs. Cummings of Tidoute, Mrs. Barnes of Bradford.

At the afternoon meeting a team from Stow Corps, No. 137, exemplified the floor work very gracefully. The convention also unanimously endorsed Mrs. Sals M. Sharpe for Department President for 1906.

At the evening session the officers-elect were duly installed, after which a program was rendered consisting of vocal and instrumental music and recitations. A fine luncheon was spread by the local Corps, and then a camp fire, conducted by Judge Irwin, was held at which a number of nice speeches were made.

The meeting was voted a success from start to finish, the visiting delegates stating they had enjoyed a fine time.

Octogenarians Celebrate Birthday.

Many friends in this section who still retain a pleasant memory of Mrs. Helen F. E. Cox, who, with her husband, the late Matthew Cox, resided in Tionesta and at Newtown Mills for a couple of years, will doubtless be interested in the following account of an enjoyable event taken from the Boston Globe of a recent date:

"Mrs. Caroline Wilde Estabrook observed her 85th birthday anniversary yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Helen F. E. Cox, at 103 Davis st., Wollastone park. Mrs. Estabrook was born Sept. 19, 1820, and married the late Charles Estabrook, May 29, 1843. She was the mother of six children, Mrs. L. C. Winslow, Chas. F. Estabrook, Mrs. H. M. Houston, Joseph W. Estabrook, Mrs. Emma R. Hollis, Mrs. Helen F. E. Cox. She has nine living grandchildren and one great-grandchild. One of her grandsons is Butler Haviland, the comedian of the Bowdoin-square theatre. The guest of honor was Mrs. Estabrook's eldest sister, Mrs. Harriet Wilde Butters, who attained her 88th year Aug. 3. Mrs. Estabrook and her sister are the oldest living direct descendants of John and Priscilla Alden, Gen. Jonathan Wilde of Mayflower fame having been their great-grandfather. Many friends and relatives were present and left tokens of the occasion."

Letter to W. F. Blum,

Tionesta, Pa.

DEAR SIR:—You buy your horseshoes and nails; your grandfather, if he was a blacksmith, made 'em. You can't afford to hammer them out by hand, when you can buy as good, or better perhaps, ready-made to your hand, for a little more than the cost of the iron.

What do you think of a painter who goes on buying his linseed oil and white-lead, and mixing, and tinting by hand, and charging his time for work that is far better done than he can do it, done by machinery, done as your horseshoes and nails are made.

Mistake isn't it? He is wasting his chance in the world. There is no better stuff to do business with than good horseshoes and paint; and no better work than putting them on. Good horseshoes well put on: it's the putting 'em on that makes 'em. Who wants to go back to old times, and make his own horseshoes?

Between us two, that painter don't know how to make good paint—he used to; but paint has run away from him.

Yours truly,
F. W. Devor & Co.,
P. S.—Dunn & Fulton sell our paint.

In style, fit and quality Hopkins' clothing for men is guaranteed equal to tailor-made, and from a quarter to a third less in price.

Court Minutes.

When the REPUBLICAN went to press last week the divorce case of Leta Hoover vs. John Hoover was on trial. Verdict for libelant.

In the case of Com. vs. A. M. VanHorn, charge of violating pure food law, a verdict of guilty was rendered, and motion made for new trial. In the case of Com. vs. W. P. Crouch, same charge and verdict, motion for new trial.

Com. vs. Amos Walton, assault and battery, Martin Westerdahl, prosecutor. Verdict, guilty. Sentenced to six months in jail and to pay $100 fine and costs.

In the case of Com. vs. Jesse Carson, charge of surety of the peace, the defendant was discharged on account of the non-appearance of the prosecutor, George Kennedy, who was ordered to pay the costs.

Exceptions were filed to the report of the viewers of the Tubbs Run road, by the commissioners of Tionesta township.

W. A. Reese vs. Brown & McManigle, verdict for defendants. This was an action brought by the plaintiff to recover for his services for the balance of the year, alleging that he was discharged without cause.

W. L. Thompson vs. G. E. Gerow, verdict for defendant. In this case the plaintiff sued to recover damages for alleged injuries sustained in being ejected by the defendant from the Central House in Tionesta.

The case of W. S. McChesney vs. Brown & McManigle took all of Friday to try and the jury, after being out about one hour, gave judgment for the plaintiff for $1375.58, which was about the amount claimed by the plaintiff to be due him on a contract for stocking the mill of the defendants. This case was contested very bitterly and the trial showed the case had been prepared with great care by the attorneys on both sides, who were A. C. Brown and H. J. Muse for the plaintiff, and Hinckley & Rice for the defendants.

George M. Miller vs. J. M. Bemis & Son, continued to November term.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY.

The Grand Jury for the September term of court, makes the following report: We have inspected the county buildings and find them in good condition, but the following recommendations are respectfully made: That a doorway be cut from sheriff's residence upstairs to head of back stairway. Also, that the rain spouting on jail be painted. Also, that an outside stairway be placed on juvenile jail and an alarm bell be connected from the same building to sheriff's residence. We further report the county home in need of repairs as follows: Repairing plaster, a new cook stove, and suggest that shade trees be placed around the home, also some shrubbery. We further report the road leading from court house to Tubbs Run in need of ralling at several points. Also in very bad condition the following pieces of road: From Kingsley township line (leading to Nebraska) on creek road to the foot of the narrows. Piece of road from Jamieson to Dawson. Road leading from Nebraska to Newmansville, the piece between bridge and Wolf road. In Tionesta township, right back of Penn's station, lies piled on public road.

W. A. HARTMAN, Foreman.

Arrested on a Serious Charge.

A tramp, aged about 28 years, giving his name as Edward Reiman, and place of residence as Ogdensburg, N. Y., was lodged in jail Monday under a charge of assault and battery with intent to commit a felonious rape, his intended victim being Bertha Barnes, 10-year-old daughter of Ira Barnes, of Church Hill, Hickory township. As the little girl was on her way to school about nine o'clock Monday morning, she was attacked by Reiman on the public road not far from her home, but before he could accomplish his purpose he was frightened away by another little girl coming along the road, and who gave the alarm. Descriptions of the man were sent out and the neighbors started out to run him down but he eluded his pursuers until after dinner, when Sheriff Noblit was notified from the county home that a man answering the description had passed there, coming this way. The Sheriff went up and caught the man about two miles above town. He took his prisoner to East Hickory where, at a hearing before W. J. Foreman, J. P., he was fully identified by both the little girls, and bound over to court in the sum of $1,000 bail.

The Moment

The average boy gets into long pants he begins to take a surprising interest in his clothes—favors extreme styles in cut and develops a fondness for striking patterns. Ordinary ready-made isn't distinctive enough for him and the merchant tailor generally fails
