A finer display of holiday goods than has ever been shown in Tionesta will soon be on exhibition at the Dunn & Fulton drug store. You'll think so when you see it.

Rev. Dr. Sloanaker's subjects for next Sabbath at the Presbyterian church are: Morning—"Paul's Motive for Doing the Lord's Work." Evening—"Charity, the Bond of Perfection."

The P. R. R. will sell Thanksgiving excursion tickets, good going Nov. 29 and 30 and returning up to Dec. 4, at one and one-third fare, between Oil City and Salamanca, and Oil City and Buffalo.

"Jet," the pretty little pet dog belonging to Miss Nettie Hunter, had one of his eyes put out by a snap from another dog last Saturday, and had to be chloroformed to put him out of misery.

The W. R. C. will pack a barrel for the Brookville Home, Friday afternoon, Dec. 1st, 1905, at L. J. Hopkins' store. Any one contributing to the same will please have it there at the above mentioned time.

Frank Amster has bought out Pete Karn's draying outfit and good will, and is attending to the business like an "old stager." Mr. Karn expects to go to Buffalo soon to take a position as motorman on a street railway.

Have you the turkey ready for the oven, or is it to be just common chicken? The turkey market has gotten so far up into the clouds that in some towns syndicates have been formed for the purchase of a single bird, they say.

A little-known episode in the career of Prince Charles of Denmark, Norway's King-elect, is unfolded by Hrolf Wisby, in the December Review of Reviews. Mr. Wisby was a fellow-midshipman with the Prince some years ago in the Danish navy.

Misses Carpenter and Pense, teachers of rooms Nos. 2 and 1, respectively, will have Thanksgiving exercises in the former's room at 2:30 o'clock this Wednesday afternoon. The room will be appropriately decorated, and patrons are cordially invited to be present.

It is not generally known, says a writer, that it is against the law to scratch a match on one of Uncle Sam's mail boxes, but such is the case. Any marring or mutilation whatever is a misdemeanor. The same measures are now in effect in respect to boxes on mail routes.

The table of the home is the test of character, says the observant Falls Creek Herald. If there is a disagreeable one in the family, the disagreeableness shows itself at the table. There the children show whether they are selfish or sacrificing, polite or impolite. Table manners reflect the condition of the home.

A scientific friend of the birds declares that if the destructive insects of the world were to increase tenfold in any year, the human race would be deprived of existence. There is more in the game laws than appears on the surface.

Operations were begun last week on the removal of the old spans and placing of the new spans of the river bridge at this place, but it will take some time to complete the work. The bridge will be open at all times during the work for light traffic.

The annual fair of the ladies' missionary society of Endeavor, held last Friday evening, was an unqualified success and was liberally patronized by the residents of that thriving community. The ladies realized nearly $200 as a reward for their efforts.

Efforts are being made to establish a national bank at Youngsville, Warren county. Cashier Morloch of the Sheffield National Bank is the prime mover in the enterprise and is meeting with encouragement. It is proposed to capitalize the bank at $25,000 and the shares will be for $100 each.

This time a year ago, winter was on in earnest, its entrance being made with a great snow storm on Nov. 18. A year earlier, 1903, winter set in on Nov. 18, and continued with scarcely a break until spring. Therefore the present pleasant weather may be considered clear gain, and the longer it continues the more it will be appreciated.

So far as reported in the metropolitan papers of the commonwealth, says the Greenville Record, no legislator has criticized the calling of the extra session. Each will receive $500, 20 cents a mile for mileage, $50 for postage and $100 for stationery. Compared with a life insurance company salary, this is a beggarly pittance, but it is not to be sneezed at.

One proposed bill for the re-appointment of this state into Senatorial districts places Elk county in a district with McKean and Forest. That combination would suit the Republicans of this county, doubtless, very much, but it might blunt the hopes of Senator Hall to succeed himself. The district would certainly be a Republican combination.—Ridgway Advocate.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church are preparing to hold a bazaar at Bovard's hall in the evening of Friday, Dec. 8th, to which everybody is cordially invited. All manner of fancy work and useful articles will be on sale during the evening and it will afford an excellent opportunity for laying in a supply of holiday presents. Many amusing features will be introduced for the entertainment of those who attend. An oyster supper will also be served. Don't miss it.

Uncle Sam will not advertise un-called for letters any more. It cost too much, so the money will be used in other ways. If you wish you may see the typewritten lists at the postoffice window, but the newspapers will now receive none of Uncle Sam's cash for that. A brother editor thinks this is hard luck, but since, at the rate the government has been paying for advertising these letters, a year's run only amounts to about 18 cents, the loss is not going to break any of us up.

The old year is drawing to a close. Less than four weeks remain. And they are the best weeks of the year for the mercantile business. The merchant who does not advertise at this time is blind to his own interests. It is none too early to commence letting purchasers know where they can get what they want for the holiday season which is approaching. The sagacious buyer never puts off until the last few days, when stocks are broken and others have secured first choice.

A new train schedule went into effect last Sunday on the P. R. R., which makes some change in two trains passing Tionesta, as follows: Morning train up-river, 7:53, no change. Morning train down-river, 11:01, no change. Evening train up-river, 6:18, instead of 6:35. Evening train down-river, 8:21, instead of 8:28. Trains 30 and 32 are re-numbered 32 and 34. Travelers should bear these changes in mind, as they are both some minutes earlier and may cause some to "miss the train."

Fred Weingard, one of German Hill's progressive and prosperous farmers, will experiment in the raising of goats and last Wednesday received from J. H. Harpster, of Millersburg, Ohio, three thoroughbred Angora goats. The claim is made for these animals that they will thrive on pasture in which other animals would starve to death. It is claimed and said to have been proved that these goats prefer to feed on brush and shrubbery instead of the ordinary pasture. It might be well for more of our farmers who have rough wild land to look up the question of raising goats.

Mrs. G. W. Osgood received a letter from her niece last week which told of the sad accident by which a favorite nephew, Harry P. Darr, lost his life in a shocking manner. The young man's home was at Duquesne, Pa., and he was employed as a flagman on a railroad. On the 15th inst. a collision occurred between two freight trains while he occupied a place in one of the locomotives. The other occupants saved their lives by jumping, but Harry was caught in the crash and instantly killed. The young man was aged 27 years, and was the main support of the family, industrious and of excellent habits. His former home was near Corsica, Jefferson county, where the remains were taken for burial.

Recalling our abundant harvests, our President and Governor ask us all to be optimistic next Thursday. All the citizens of this nation are invited to forget for the day their personal troubles and the troubles of the country and to pour out the song of thanksgiving. Let us hope that all individuals and citizens of Tionesta may be able to obey the call of the Governor and the President. A nation blessed with the world's richest pastures and meadows, enriched with herds and harvests, with land so cheap and wealth so widely distributed, should involuntarily give thanks. Unexplained bounty has been upon us. Thrift and industry have been surprised with quadrupled measure, and man's trains and ships have been unable to convey his treasure. Let us then with happy hearts and cheerful voices in gratitude praise our God. Rev. R. A. Zahniser, pastor of the Free Methodist church, will preach the sermon. The union service will be held in the Presbyterian church to-morrow at 10:30 a. m. You are cordially invited. PAUL J. SLONAKER, Pastor.

Edward Bodle, of the postoffice force, who is afflicted with an impediment in his speech, and who is a student attending Coswell Institute, Philadelphia, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Bodle, of this place. Mr. Bodle is pleased with the progress he is making and yesterday left for Philadelphia expecting to return home in about four weeks fully cured of his ailment. Before one can become a student in the Coswell Institute the applicant must sign a bond for $1,000 as a guarantee that he will keep secret the methods employed in that institution. Mr. Bodle says that some of the students at the Coswell are afflicted in a most peculiar manner, one of them being unable to speak without bending forward until his head touches the floor, —Pooxy Spirit.

The proposition to pave a portion of Elm street is receiving some consideration at the hands of our people just at present. A paper has been circulated for the purpose of getting an expression as to the feasibility of paving that portion of our main street lying between the Court House and the Rural House, a distance of about a third of a mile, and the proposition has received the endorsement of the owners representing a large portion of the property abutting on this street, who seem willing to stand the usual one-third share of the expense. Whether or not the project will be consummated the coming season is difficult to say, yet it is well to take the subject up at this time, for it is but a matter of time until the paving will come, and that time is not in the remote future.

It is not always the man who has two hundred, three hundred or five hundred acres of land who is making the most money in proportion to the amount he has invested in it. There are those who with ten, fifteen, twenty or twenty-five acres are making more than the average farmer with five or ten times that amount of land. As a rule it is because the former has a part of his means reserved as a working capital. With it he can secure labor, implements, fertilizers and all that is necessary to bring his little farm up to the highest point of successful production. Many of our farmers would do better to sell half their land at even half the price and devote the money thus acquired to better managing the remainder of their farm, than to pay taxes upon the entire amount they now farm or rather half farm.

Oil City people are greatly wrought up over the proposed enactment of a curfew ordinance, and sentiment is much divided on the momentous question. It is doubtful if a more bitter feeling would be engendered were the council confronted with a proposition to bond the town for the establishment of a public ducking pond for gossips. People are crying aloud against what they term an encroachment upon the "personal liberty" of their dear boys and girls—under the age of 16 years. Don't get hysterical, brethren. It won't hurt to have the curfew, let us assure you. Tionesta has had such a law for several years, and it has been a blessing to the boys, the girls and the parents alike, and any council that might undertake to repeal the ordinance would hear from the people in no uncertain sound. Don't be afraid to try the curfew.

For the first time in a long time—in fact so long that "the memory of man runneth not to the contrary,"—Tionesta borough is free from debt. Last week the last obligation of the borough in any form was discharged and the books were balanced, so that there is "nothing against us," either in the shape of a bond, note or single bill, and we are told there is a little cash on hand for quick needs. On the school account the same happy conditions exist, the last obligation of the district having been obliterated by a check from Treasurer Scowden to Judge Crawford for a $500 note which he held. Our citizens find a lot of pleasure in this reflection, and hope for a short time at least to have a little "breathing spell" from the burden of local taxation. For the past five or six years the business affairs of the town have been in good hands. That is evident.

In his recent charge to constables Judge Reed, of Jefferson county, laid special stress on gambling machines and illegal liquor selling, and clearly pointed out that any game of chance is gambling, and instructed the officers to notify all persons who have gambling machines or slot machines to stop the use of them, and a continuance of the same will be followed by arrest and the law rigidly enforced. They were especially directed to look after the enforcement of the liquor laws, and particularly the taking of orders by agents, as it was against the law to have agents take orders for liquors of any kind and have them shipped to themselves and distributed to patrons. He stated that distillers and brewers outside the county have no right to maintain a place to sell liquors except at the distillery or brewery. He charged them to be watchful of speakasies, and arrest all offenders.

Duhring.

John Dixon, who has been employed by the South Penn Oil Co., completed his work of chopping boiler wood and has returned to his home at Sheffield.

Mrs. David Frost and son William called on friends in town Sunday.

Chas. Miller was a business caller at the county seat a few days last week.

Arthur Kinney spent Sunday at his home in Sheffield.

Fred. Keller and Chas. Fulton, of Pigeon, called on merchant Frank Berg, Saturday.

Gusta and Hilva Olson, Luella Lyantze, Edith Miller, Ester Benson and Freda Spets were at Sheffield Monday of last week.

Mrs. Frank Berg entertained a few of her friends Wednesday evening.

Mr. Wilson and wife, of Shippensburg, were guests at Nathan Sweet's a few days last week.

Frank Sweet and Clair Dalton have been on the sick list the past week.

PERSONAL.

John Ritchey is home from State College for the Thanksgiving vacation.

Mrs. George Holeman returned Friday from a visit in Oil City and Titusville.

Miss Blanche Pense was a guest of friends in Endeavor and East and West Hickory, Saturday.

Miss Georgianna Watson is home from Dickinson Seminary at Williamsport, for Thanksgiving.

Joseph Joyce was brought home this morning from the Oil City hospital and will soon be around as usual.

Mrs. G. E. Gerow and Mrs. Robert A. Fulton made a business trip to Buffalo last Friday, returning Monday.

Mrs. M. E. Abbott and daughter Marie spent a few days the last of the week with friends at Endeavor.

Mrs. G. W. Noblit and son Raymond went to Saybrook, Warren county, Saturday morning for a short visit with relatives.

Mrs. L. H. Gibson, of Tionesta, returned home Wednesday after a visit with her father, E. J. Lesser.—Titusville Herald.

Rev. and Mrs. W. O. Calhoun went to Sherman, N. Y., Monday morning, for a visit with the former's father, who has been in rather poor health.

Tilden Hood came home Saturday evening from Economy, Pa., where he has been employed since August on Lock No. 4, of the government dam.

Mrs. M. J. Daugherty, of Newmansville, was shopping in Tionesta last Thursday and called at this office to have the date on her paper set a year ahead.

C. F. Weaver spent Sunday night and Monday in Oil City, and was accompanied home by his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Weaver, who will visit him for a time.

Mrs. J. C. McNamara has shipped her household goods to Campbell, N. Y., and left last Saturday evening for that place, where she will make her future home.

Charles Earl Osborne, of Marienville, this county, and Miss Effie A. Rogers, of Pinegrove township, Venango county, were granted a marriage license in Franklin Monday.

J. D. W. Reck spent a few days of the past week at the Hydetown Sanitarium, where he had a big batch of his old rheumatic enemy rubbed out of his system, and feels much better now.

H. W. Horner returned Monday from his hunting trip in Wisconsin. He was taken sick just before starting home, which spoiled much of the pleasure of his trip, but is now recovering.

C. M. Jones, one of Marienville's well known and popular citizens, was a juror at court here last week, and the REPUBLICAN is indebted to him for a pleasant call during his stay in town.

Mrs. James Canfield, accompanied by her two children, left Tuesday evening for Redkey, Ind., where she expects to spend the winter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harr.

Last Thursday's Pittsburg Dispatch contained an excellent likeness of Rev. A. H. Wiersbicki, pastor of the Tionesta Catholic church, who delivered a lecture Sunday evening in Epiphany church, Pittsburg. His subject was, "Our Country's Heritage of Catholic Thought."

J. R. Chadwick will go to Waverly, N. Y., Friday, where he will make his home with his daughter, Mrs. Charles F. Walker. Mr. Chadwick has been a resident of Tionesta for over thirty years and his familiar form and cheerful greeting will be much missed by our people.

W. C. Imel has received notice of his appointment as agent of the P. R. R. at the Tionesta station, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of J. C. McNamara. During his stay of two months here Mr. Imel has proved himself to be capable and obliging and we are glad to know that he will be located here permanently.

Mrs. N. G. Cole, of Nebraska, accompanied by her youngest daughter, returned Tuesday morning from a visit with her daughter, Miss Beebe Cole, who underwent an operation last week in the Oil City hospital. She reports her progressing so rapidly that she will be able to be brought home in a few days.

Killed by Logging Cars.

MARYBRO, PA., Nov. 27, 1905. Our entire town was shocked Saturday morning by the sudden and startling news that Phillip Babb had been instantly killed. Mr. Babb was a young man 18 years of age, large, strong and robust, was engaged as a trainman on Mr. F. K. Brown's log train, which conveys saw logs from Lamentation Camp to the saw mill at this place. Mr. Babb had set about his work that morning as usual, having coupled the engine to the cars, unchained the cars, and signaled to Charles Desher, the engineer, that all was ready and to "pull out." This was shortly after 6 o'clock a. m.

It is supposed that he then attempted to pass over the cars in order to reach the engine, and that in some way he missed his footing and fell between the moving cars, where he met his death. His head and body were badly mangled and bruised when taken from under the cars. His fellow trainmen, thinking there was still a spark of life in the body, started with the engine at all possible speed for a doctor, but all life was extinct and a doctor's assistance was of no avail.

Funeral services were held in the Free Methodist church at this place, the entire town turning out to pay the last meed of respect to the unfortunate young man. Rev. E. W. Parks conducted the services, and the remains were laid to rest in the Whig Hill cemetery on Sunday afternoon.

The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Babb, two brothers and three sisters, and these, with his large circle of friends, have the sympathy of the whole community in his sad bereavement.

Court Minutes.

The November term of court closed last Friday evening with a practically clear docket.

Our report closed last week with the case of W. S. McChesney vs. Brown & McManigle on trial. Verdict for plaintiff for $1113.07.

Commonwealth vs. Edward Reymon, charged with assault and battery and assault with intent to commit rape, tried and convicted on both counts. Sentenced to undergo five years imprisonment in penitentiary and to pay $100 fine and costs.

George M. Miller vs. J. M. Bemis & Son, a suit to recover on a logging contract, was tried and verdict given for the plaintiff in the sum of $9845.15.

Alfred Johnson vs. J. M. Hastings Lumber Co., an action to recover for cutting chemical wood, was tried and verdict of $295.19 rendered for plaintiff.

The case of Frey & Co. vs. Guggenheim Brothers was continued.

A. M. VanHorn, convicted at the September term of violating the pure food law, was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs.

Alfred Johnson, a native of Sweden, residing at Lynch, was granted naturalization papers by the court on Friday.

J. R. Chadwick resigned his position as Court Crier. Ex-Judge Charles A. Hill was recommended for the vacancy and the appointment will be made at argument court in December.

GRAND JURORS' REPORT.

The Grand Jury submitted the following report: We have visited and inspected the county buildings and find the jail to be in very good condition, but the following recommendations are respectfully made: That a doorway be cut through from the Sheriff's residence up stairs to the head of the back stairs; also that an outside stairway be placed on the Juvenile prison; also that an alarm bell be connected from the same building to the Sheriff's residence. We further report and recommend that the Recorder's office and Sheriff's office be painted in the same manner as the Commissioners' office; also that the eave spouting on the Court House be repaired and repainted. We also recommend, return and present that the public road in Barnett township known as the road leading from Blue Ridge to Old Redcliff be repaired, that it is in a bad and dangerous condition between Harry Haight's farm or place and Old Redcliff, being obstructed by trees, poor ditches and numerous mud holes. Witnesses, R. C. Gordon, J. Y. Armagost, Michael Bayles, Irwin Matter, James Cook and Harry Haight. We also return and present that portion of the public road in Green township between the Cropp church and the Balltown road in Green township, as being in bad condition, being full of mud and chuck holes, wanting sewers, etc., and being in a bad and dangerous condition generally. Witnesses, John Cunningham, George Brady, C. F. Blum and Arthur Ledebur. We recommend a tree close to the jail building on the north side be removed, as the leaves fill up spouting on the jail building and damages the same.

A. W. STRUPE, Foreman.

RECENT DEATHS.

CUMMINS.

Many friends in this vicinity will be pained to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. Myrtle Cummins, wife of William F. Cummins, which occurred at their home known as the Temperance House, on the Pleasantville road about seven miles from Tionesta, from an acute attack of Bright's disease, at about four o'clock Monday evening, aged 27 years. Her maiden name was Blodgett, being a daughter of Dr. E. C. Blodgett. She was born on Sutton Hill, near Tidoute, Oct. 20, 1878, but for the past half dozen years and up to March 14 last, when she became the wife of Mr. Cummins, she made her home with the family of S. J. Wolcott, in Tionesta, where she was made many friends by her genial, kindly disposition. Besides her husband and father, she is survived by one brother, who resides in Los Angeles, Calif., and three sisters, two residing at Jamestown, N. Y., and one the family homestead on Sutton Hill. The burial takes place this Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Charles Stewart will conduct the services. The deceased was a life-long Christian, being for many years a faithful member of the United Brethren church, but of late years she had been numbered among the Saints of God, and she has surely gained a home in heaven. The husband, father, brother and sisters have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

DODD.

Mrs. Melvina (Smith) Dodd, wife of Hon. S. C. T. Dodd, of New York, died at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, November 23, aged 54 years. Her death occurred at the residence of Mr. Dodd's oldest son, Fred. D. Dodd, in Zanesville, O., to which place the deceased and her husband had gone for a visit. Mrs. Dodd was born at Stewart Run, Forest county, in 1851, one of a household that stood high by reason of intelligence and sterling integrity. Afterward the family removed to Rockdale township, Crawford county. The parents are buried there, and two of the sons reside in that locality. The deceased received a good education, taking a complete course of study in the Edinboro Normal school. In March, 1877, she was married to Mr. Dodd, who, in January, 1881, having been blind made general solicitor of the Standard Oil Company, removed with his family to New York, where they have lived ever since. A rich and lasting memorial of Mrs. Dodd is enshrined in the hearts of her warm and sincere friends, who will ever affectionately recall her lovely character, her sweet disposition, her kind and generous heart, the bright face which "told of a life in goodness spent," the beautiful life she lived in her home and in the world of her acquaintance. Besides her husband and two children, the deceased is survived by four sisters, Mrs. J. A. Dawson, of Stewart Run; Mrs. S. C. Ferry, of Warren; Mrs. Wm. R. Spire, of Ridgely Park, N. J.; and Mrs. Longley, of Cambridge Springs. The funeral took place in Franklin on Sunday last. Mrs. J. A. Dawson and son, George R. E. Dawson, of Stewart Run, attended the services.
