CONSUMPTION

REVOLT IS SUPPRESSED

Failure of Russian "Reds" to Overthrow the Government.

Death of Charles T. Yerkes and William Purcell—Indicted For Rebating: General Bingham Police Commissioner—Exchange of Railroad Tickets—Balance From State Fair.

The suppression of revolt at Moscow and the certainty that similar uprisings elsewhere will be crushed mark the collapse of the first attempt of the "reds" to overthrow the government and administer a defeat from which it is not believed in government circles the revolutionaries can quickly recover.

Now that the smoke of battle is clearing away, the utter hopelessness of the conflict seems to be apparent. The populace held aloof and not a single military unit actually joined the revolutionaries. Even the general strike crumbled under their feet by their challenging and precipitating a conflict before the proletarian organizations were prepared.

The government secured a comparatively easy though ruthless victory, and it is believed in high official circles that the organizations have been so demoralized and disrupted by the blow and by the arrest of their most able leaders that it will be impossible for them to attempt the coup planned for the anniversary of "bloody Sunday."

The country has quieted down and the cabinet now hopes that the selections to the duma are assured and that the government can devote its time to the suppression of the revolt in the Baltic provinces and more especially to the solution of the agrarian question.

Death of Charles T. Yerkes.

Charles T. Yerkes, the noted railway financier of Chicago and London, died on Friday in New York in his apartments at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, where he had been ill for more than six weeks. Mr. Yerkes suffered from a complication of diseases, growing out of a severe cold which he contracted in London early in the fall. Speyer & Co., the New York banking firm, which had much to do with the local financing of Mr. Yerkes' affairs, made the following statement: "The death of Mr. Yerkes is particularly sad coming at a time when his great work in connection with the London underground was rapidly approaching completion and important portions of it were being put in operation."

"Mr. Yerkes' falling health had warned him and the bankers associated with the enterprise that arrangements should be made for relieving him of a portion of his work, or for completing and carrying it on in case his death. These arrangements have been perfected and will be announced at the proper time."

Railroad Indicted For Rebating.

The federal grand jury at Chicago has returned an indictment against the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, Darius Miller, first vice president, and C. G. Burnham, foreign freight agent, on the charge of granting railroad rebates.

The indictment charges that the rebates were all granted to the United States Steel Products company of New York, a subsidiary company to the United States Steel corporation. All of the shipments on which the indictment alleges rebates were paid were made from Elwood, Ind.; Martins Ferry, Ohio; Pittsburg, Pa.; New Castle, Pa.; Cleveland, Ohio, and Joliet, Ill.; to Vancouver, B. C. Twenty-six separate offenses are charged.

The greater part of the evidence upon which the indictment was voted is said to have been furnished by T. P. Alder of New York, president of the United States Steel Products company; J. L. Moore, foreign traffic agent for the Burlington road; and C. W. Perry, freight claim agent of the Great Northern road.

Tangle in Joint Will.

The wills of Phoebe J. Harlow and Frederick S. Harlow, her husband, who murdered her and then killed himself at their boarding house in Albany last week, were offered for probate and the sequel to the double tragedy may be a contest over the disposition of the property left by the unfortunate couple.

The wills were drawn at Saratoga in 1897 on the same date and by their provisions each left all to the other and named each other as executors. From letters found in their room after the tragedy it is believed that they had agreed to die together.

After killing his wife Harlow shot their pet dog and then put a bullet in his own brain. He lived about half an hour and thus, it is believed, came into his wife's estate. As he made no provisions for the disposition of his property in case his wife did not survive him, Harlow's relatives have asked for letters of administration. It is understood that Mrs. Harlow's family will oppose the application when the matter comes up.

Death of Editor William Purcell.

William Purcell, for many years editor of the Rochester Union and Advertiser, died on Wednesday evening. He had not been actively engaged in newspaper work since 1900.

Mr. Purcell was born in Fort Covington, Franklin county, N. Y., Aug. 15, 1829. His parents removed to this

Banker Palmer Guilty

Funds of American Exchange Bank of Syracuse Looted.

Remanded to Custody of U. S. Marshal Pending Appeal—Jury Was Out Over 14 Hours—Twelve Weeks Were Consumed in the Trial—Bank's Worthless Assets.

Auburn, N. Y., Jan. 2.—At 10:18 yesterday morning the jury in the case of Manning C. Palmer, charged with misappropriating funds of the American Exchange National bank of Syracuse, returned a verdict of guilty. The jury was out since 8 o'clock Saturday night.

Mr. Palmer was tried on 70 counts and was found guilty on all but 10. Mr. Palmer was sentenced to five years in Auburn prison and was remanded to the custody of the United States marshal pending an appeal of the case.

Manning C. Palmer, who is 75 years of age, was president of the American Exchange National bank of Syracuse, which was taken in charge by National Bank Examiner Josiah Van Franken Feb. 10, 1904. The bank, which was organized in 1897 as a state bank and was chartered as a national bank in 1900, had a capital of $200,000 and its liabilities to individual depositors and other banks at the time of closing amounted to about $300,000. Since the failure 75 per cent has been paid to depositors, but only after an assessment of 67 per cent on the stockholders.

The worthless assets were found to consist mainly of paper in which the president of the bank was interested and which had accrued from the time the bank was organized. Palmer's brothers, Mr. Palmer personally and relatives, and the Adamant Manufacturing company of which the president of the bank was treasurer, were the heaviest debtors. In the case of the Adamant extensive overdrafts had been allowed and have been concealed on three different occasions by "dummy" notes made by employees of the Adamant.

President Palmer was indicted in December, 1904, by a federal grand jury at Utica for misapplication of the funds of the bank and false reports to the comptroller. This indictment was demurred to and a new one found before a decision was made on the demurrer. The trial began Oct. 9 last at Auburn before Judge George W. Ray.

United States District Attorney George B. Curtiss of Binghamton and W. A. Matteson of Utica appeared for the government, and Ceylon H. Lewis of Syracuse with former United States Senator Frank Hiscock as counsel for the defendant. Twelve weeks, with 55 days of actual sessions, were consumed in the trial. The jury retired at 7:45 o'clock Saturday night.

Mr. Palmer started in business in Syracuse as a wholesale clothier 55 years ago. Until the opening of the American Exchange bank he was for some time president of the Bank of Syracuse.

Denial of McCall's Resignation.

New York, Jan. 2.—A report that John A. McCall resigned as president of the New York Life Insurance company at a meeting of the trustees of the company last Saturday was denied by Augustus G. Paine, a member of the committee recently appointed to go over the company's affairs. Mr. Paine stated that the report was absolutely untrue and that the trustees did not meet on Saturday. It has been said that the meeting was a secret one and that the trustees pledged themselves to keep the matter of the resignation secret until the annual report of the company came out today.

President's Reception.

Washington, Jan. 2.—The New Year's reception at the White House ended at 2:44 p. m. By actual count 9,052 people took the president's hand. Last year 7,115 were received. Mrs. Roosevelt remained until the end of the reception. A feature of the public reception was the large number of children who passed the receiving line.

Miss Roosevelt and Mr. Longworth mingled with the guests in the east room. Miss Roosevelt wore a gown of slate blue chiffon over pink silk, cut low. She also wore a diamond necklace and pendant and a huge bunch of orchids.

Assassination of Former Governor.

Denver, Jan. 2.—An inquiry into the assassination of former Governor Steunenberg of Idaho, will be conducted by the Western Federation of Miners, said President Charles H. Moyer of that organization. "We will do this not only to prepare ourselves against any charges that may be brought against the federation, but in order to ascertain, if possible, whether or not a member of our organization committed the crime. The affair is to be lamented. No one is more sorry for its perpetration than are the officers of the federation."

Policeman Killed by Train.

Detroit, Jan. 2.—A Lake Shore passenger train struck the rear of a 14th street line trolley Saturday night at the 14th avenue railroad crossing and Patrolman William H. Thatcher, who was standing on the rear platform of the trolley car, was killed. The platform was cut off clean by the collision and Thatcher's body was thrown some distance.

Balance of $28,000 From State Fair.

The New York state fair commission has cleared up the business of the year. The commission reports the fair this year paid all running expenses and a balance of about $28,000 will be turned over to the state treasurer. The state fair will probably be held next year in the week beginning Sept. 10th.

Improvements in State Hospitals.

The state lunacy commission of New York state has approved plans for improvements in the institutions at Poughkeepsie, Rochester, Willard and Gowanus involving an expenditure of about $40,000. Of this amount about $17,000 will be used at the latter institution.

SCRIPTURE VERSUS PASSES.

P. R. R. Sends Facetious Cards to Those Formerly Favored.

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—Instead of their annual passes on the Pennsylvania railroad, those who have long enjoyed those favors have received white cards with the following scriptural quotations printed in plain black type: Thou shalt not pass—Numbers xx:18. Suffer not a man to pass—Judges iii:28. The wicked shall no more pass—Nahum i:15. Though they roar, yet can they not pass—Jeremiah v:22. He paid the fare and went—Jonah i:13.

A politician who is a trifle provoked over the anti-pass order, suggested that the Pennsylvania's New Year cards be returned with this indorsement: "It will be remembered that Shylock draws upon Holy Writ to make a point in 'The Merchant of Venice,' and that Bassanio retorts that 'The Devil can quote scripture to his purpose.'"

OPERATORS CONCILIATORY.

Willingness to Hear Miners May Avoid Anthracite Strike.

Wilkes-Barre, Dec. 30.—Confidence that a coal strike will be avoided was greatly increased here by the statement of a local operator that the conference sought by the United Mine Workers will be granted. He said: "There will be no objection on the part of President Baer of the Reading or any other coal operator to a conference with mine workers' representatives. We met Mitchell three years ago, and there is no reason we should refuse now, for we believe in conciliation. I believe that President Baer and other operators are now preparing a letter, saying they will be glad to meet the miners' representatives, but it doesn't mean that we are willing to grant any proposition that might be made."

Vaccination Law Stops School.

Connellsville, Dec. 30.—A peculiar dilemma exists in the Stouffer school in Bullskin township. The teacher, J. B. Witt, received a personal notice from State Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon to enforce the vaccination law. Witt ordered that all pupils that had not been vaccinated go home. Not one of the 38 pupils remained. They appeared without vaccination marks the next morning and were again sent home. The same performance was repeated next day. Residents of the district are opposed to vaccination.

Three Miners Blown to Pieces.

Johnstown, Pa., Dec. 30.—A premature explosion of a dynamite charge in the Kantner mine at Stoyestown Thursday night resulted in the death of three men. The explosion occurred just as the men were getting ready to quit work for the night. They had prepared a big shot of dynamite and were about to place it in the hole when it was prematurely discharged. All three of the miners were literally blown to pieces. The mine in which the accident occurred is a new one and the drift has been run only 25 feet.

Trying to Pay State Debt.

Harrisburg, Dec. 30.—The state board of sinking fund commissioners is working systematically in its effort to wipe out the state debt. The board recently obtained a list of all the holders of state 4 per cent bonds, which fall due in 1912. Yesterday an offer was mailed to each of these holders to purchase the bonds at 106 and interest. The board already has bought in several hundred thousand dollars' worth of these bonds at the price named.

Soon Time to Pay Auto Tax.

Harrisburg, Dec. 30.—The state highway department has begun issuing the automobile licenses required by the new act of assembly, which is to go into effect with the beginning of the new year. The licenses cost $3, and are accompanied by two numbered tags, good for one year. Every operator of an automobile in Pennsylvania is required to have such a license, and to display the state tags on the front and rear of his machine, and no other tags.

Three Killed in Collision.

Mahanoy City, Dec. 30.—Three persons were killed Thursday in a collision between a Lehigh Valley freight train and a Schuylkill railway trolley car on a grade crossing at Ghradsville, Pa., near here. Two of the dead were Arabian women peddlers from Shandosh, and Michael Winkle Ashland, was the third. Several other persons were slightly injured.

Firemen Rewarded.

Uniontown, Dec. 30.—The National bank of Fayette county has given the fire department $300 for protecting the bank building during the fire at the Exchange hotel Tuesday morning. The firemen also received $150 from Attorney J. C. Work and $50 from George G. Gans for similar services.

Effort to Arbitrate Falls.

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—Efforts to have the printers' eight-hour day demanded in this city arbitrated have failed. The arbitration committee of the Civic Federation was suggested as the arbitrator. The Typographical union accepted, but no answer was received from the employers.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Summary of the Week's News of the World.

Cream of the News Culled From Long Dispatches and Put in Proper Shape For the Hurried Reader Who is Too Busy to Read the Longer Reports and Desires to Keep Posted.

At an unguarded grade crossing at Atlantic and Wyckoff avenues, Brooklyn, two men, driving to a Christmas gathering, were killed.

Cook for Jacob H. Schiff, the New York banker, receives $5,000 from her employer and valuable Christmas gifts from other members of the family.

With $20,000 in election bets in his hands as stakeholder, a New York restaurant keeper disappears, and the angry bettors storm his place of business, demanding their money.

Three persons are killed and a number of others are injured in the celebration of Christmas at Houston, Tex. One man impersonating Santa Claus meets death and another is badly burned.

FATHER ANNOUNCES NO ENGAGEMENT.

St. Louis, Jan. 2.—The announcement last Friday following the frustrated elopement of Miss Wilhelmina Busch, daughter of Adolphus Busch, with Lieutenant Eduard Scharrer of Stuttgart, Germany, that they would be married at the Busch mansion yesterday was not carried out. Instead Miss Busch has gone to her brother's farm to spend some time and her father has asserted that there is no engagement between his daughter and the lieutenant. Scharrer, when seen at his hotel apartments, declined to discuss the matter. Adolphus Busch said he had nothing to make public. All that he would say was: "Lieutenant Scharrer and I are still very good friends."

Woodbury Succeeds Lester F. Stearns.

Albany, Jan. 2.—Governor Higgins yesterday appointed Egbert E. Woodbury of Jamestown, hitherto surrogate of Chautauque county, to be a member of the state board of tax commissioners in place of Lester F. Stearns of Dunkirk, term expired. The other members of the commission are William Halpin, late president of the New York county Republican organization, and Ceylon H. Lewis of Syracuse. The salary of the state tax commissioner is $5,000, the term of office three years.

Printers Get Eight-Hour Day.

Columbus, O., Jan. 2.—Twenty-one union job printing offices in Columbus granted the eight-hour day, nine hours having been the limit up to yesterday. No trouble was experienced by the printers in securing the eight-hour day here. About 125 printers are affected. The union printers of Columbus voted to aid the printers in New York and elsewhere in their effort to secure the eight-hour day.

OHIO LEGISLATURE.

Senate Organized by the Democrats and House by the Republicans.

Columbus, Jan. 2.—The 77th general assembly of Ohio convened yesterday, the house being organized by the Republicans, who have 62 votes against 53 for the Democrats, and the senate being organized by the Democrats, who have 19 votes, counting one independent who voted with them, against 18 for the Republicans.

Lieutenant Governor Harding presided in the senate. He will be succeeded on January 8 as president of the senate by Andrew L. Harris, Republican, lieutenant governor elect.

All the Democratic caucus nominations in the senate and all the Republican caucus nominations in the house were ratified. Several attempts were made to organize boists, but all failed.

C. A. Thompson of Lawrence county was elected speaker of the house. The sentiment of the speeches made in both branches was that partisanship should be avoided in legislation, that economy should be practiced in public expenditures, and that all forms of graft and corruption should be eliminated.
