Following is the list of letters lying uncalled for in the Tionesta, Pa., post-office for week ending January 3, 1906: Mr. Law Davis, Mr. P. J. Furlong, D. B. Long. D. S. Knox, P. M.

Work on the erection of the new span of the river bridge is about completed, and the taking down of the old spans is practically over with. By the first of next week it is thought the structure will be in shape for regular travel again.

James Thomson, of Nebraska, fell from a high trestle while loading cars at that place Saturday and was severely hurt about the chest, from which he will be laid up for some time. Dr. Bovard rendered the necessary surgical attention.

The party at Bovard's hall Wednesday evening last was the finest of the season and thoroughly enjoyed by the young folks. Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Virginia Siggins, Will Scott, and Archie Perry, of Oil City; Geo. Warden, of Endeavor; Harry Mintz and I. E. Levy, of Marienville.

G. W. Osgood's weather report for the past three months sums up as follows: October, total rainfall, 5 1/2 inches; snow 7-16 inch. November, rain, 4 1/2 inches; snow, 4 inches. December, rain 3 1/2 inches; snow, 9 inches. One zero day, on the first. During the same period one year ago the total rainfall was 2 1/2 inches, snow 17 1/2 inches.

John Bailey, aged 54 years, and residing at Endeavor where he is employed by Wheeler & Dusenbury, sustained a fracture of the large bone of his right leg between the knee and ankle, Monday while carrying a timber stick. Dr. Morrow was called and reduced the fracture, leaving the patient resting quite comfortably under the circumstances.

Hon. Lansing D. Wetmore, president judge of this district from 1870 to 1880, died at his home in Warren on Saturday last from ailments incident to the infirmities of age. He had been a life long resident of Warren, where he was born Oct. 18, 1818. Judge Wetmore was popular on the bench where he won a good name as a fair, thorough and just judge.

Kory Heath, of Los Angeles, Calif., will please accept our thanks for a copy of the Christmas number of the Examiner of that city. The paper is made up of 174 pages of reading and miscellaneous matter, and it cost Kory 10 cents in postage to transport the immense affair by mail. We didn't read it all the same day, but expect to get through it some time during the year.

Ex-Commissioner Peter Young, has swapped his farm in Green township for a property in Wilkesburg, and expects to make his home in that city and with his daughters in Tylersburg in future. Mr. Young has been a respected and honored citizen of this county for more than fifty years and in common with a host of other friends we regret to learn of his determination to leave our county.

—Emory Decker, of Whig Will, met with a very painful accident while in Tionesta Monday morning. He fell on an icy spot in rear of Hill's livery barn and sustained a dislocation of his right shoulder. Dr. Bovard was summoned and found it necessary to administer anaesthetics in getting the dislocated member back in place, and while resting as well as could be expected under the painful circumstances, Mr. Decker is suffering a good deal of pain.

—Mrs. Mary E. Grove, who has conducted a boarding house at No. 21 East Main street the past twenty-two years, has sold the property to George Paup of Tionesta. Mr. Paup has been superintendent of the Forest county poor farm for the past six years and will retire from that position on Jan. 1. He expects to take possession of his purchase the following day. Previous to going to Tionesta he was a resident of Nolltown.—Titusville Herald, 29th.

—The Carson & Matson news company has taken on all the daily papers sold in Tionesta, and customers will be supplied by them hereafter. Any irregularity or negligence on the part of the delivery boys will be promptly attended to if reported at their room. It is the aim of the dealers to render a better service than has heretofore been given the public and to this end they will esteem it a favor if bad service is made known to them. Order your periodicals through them.

—The congregations of the Methodist Episcopal, Presbyterian and Free Methodist churches watched the old year out and the new in with a union service at the M. E. church Sunday night. There was a good attendance and good sermons were delivered by the pastors of the three congregations respectively, Revs. W. O. Calhoun, Paul J. Slonaker and R. A. Zahniser. The younger element saw to it that the new year was properly ushered in by the ringing of the various bells in town.

—We find the following interesting item in the Chelsea, Indian Territory, Record, of Dec. 22: "Claude Hepler, formerly of Tionesta, Pa., now with the Alluwe Drilling Co., was married to Miss Sadie Collins, in Joplin, Monday, Dec. 18th. The home of the bride was in Nevada, Mo. They will make Chelsea their home in the future. Mr. Hepler is an industrious young man and will make a first class citizen in this new and progressive country." A happy New Year and many prosperous ones to you and yours, Claude.

—Judge Irwin returned on Saturday evening last from Franklin, where he visited his nephew, Hiram L. Irwin, who was home on a furlough of a week from his ship, the cruiser Pennsylvania. The many friends of Hiram in this community will be pleased to know that he has been promoted to the highly responsible office of assistant navigator on said war vessel. The Pennsylvania sails from Fortress Monroe on January 5th, for a cruise in the West Indies and Caribbean Sea. It is probable this cruise will be a long one in southern waters.

—There were two individuals before Justice Perry Tuesday charged with drunkenness. They had celebrated Christmas in the wrong manner and were sorry looking specimens. One was an umbrella mender and he was given an hour to remove himself without the city. The other fellow claimed McCrays as his home. He was fined $3.50, and said he had no money. As soon as notified that he would have to board the time out in the lockup at the rate of $1 a day he drew from his pocket a $5 bill and settled the fine imposed.—Warren Mirror.

—The retiring board of County Commissioners recently awarded the contract for the erection of the new bridge which is to span Tionesta creek at Kelleysville, to the Nelson & Buchanan Bridge Co., the consideration being $6,402. Patrick Joyce was awarded the contract for the stone work at $800 a perch. There is to be but one span 181 feet in length, and the bridge will occupy the site of the present structure. The Commissioners also let the contract for the placing of a foot-walk on the river bridge at Tionesta. It will be a substantial addition to the bridge, and will cost $2,900.

—For the Week of Prayer, beginning January 7th, the Presbyterian and Methodist congregations will hold union services, and alternate between the two churches. Rev. Slonaker will begin the services next Sabbath morning in the Presbyterian church. This will be a union meeting. The subject will be, "Revival of Religion." Rev. Calhoun will preach in the evening in the Presbyterian church. Monday evening services will be held in the Methodist church and Rev. Slonaker will preach. Tuesday in the Presbyterian church and Rev. Calhoun will preach. All are cordially invited to attend these services.

—John W. Steele, known the world over as "Coal Oil Johnnie," is dangerously sick with pneumonia at his home on the McKell farm, at Fee, near Franklin. There is probably not a man of the oil country more widely known by reputation and possibly none less understood than he. He has figured in the most romantic tales of reckless prodigality, based upon comparatively light foundation, and all the donials made by himself and friends, and oil country writers familiar with the real facts, have had little effect in getting a hearing for him with the general public. He is 64 years of age at the present time and this fact, coupled with the severe nature of his present attack, makes his friends fear that he cannot recover.—Oil City Derrick.

—Capt. Clark received a Christmas present in the form of a check from Uncle Sam which he esteems very highly, not alone for its intrinsic value, but because of what it stands for. In the early period of the civil war, when President Lincoln called out the "three-months' men," the Captain was first sergeant of a company of the state militia, and was among the first to offer his services. His company was afterward mustered into the regular service on a three-years enlistment, and the Captain was successively promoted from sergeant to second and first lieutenant and finally to the captaincy of his company. In the interim between these promotions there remained some pay due him, and upon his ability to prove his claim the government has issued to him a voucher for $104.23. Uncle Sam deals square with his people and they generally get what's coming to them. The Captain's voucher came to him through the mail on Christmas morning.

—At the sitting of the associate judges in court on Monday Attorney A. C. Brown presented a petition for a writ of habeas corpus directed to Sheriff A. W. Stroup to produce the body of Robert Black, a prisoner in jail, for a hearing. At this hearing the judges, Kreidler and Hill discharged the prisoner. Black had been detained on a warrant issued by Squire Barton of Barnett township, on a charge of surety of the peace preferred by Black's wife. This is the case which was reported from Barnett township to have assumed serious aspects last week, it having been said that Black had threatened to take the life of his wife. It is probable that the case will be settled out of court.

—Seward Ball, of East Hickory, son of Homer Ball, while acting the part of Santa Claus in an entertainment at Church Hill church, Forest county, Christmas night, was quite severely burned. Mr. Ball had a set of cotton whiskers and wore a large collar made from the same material. These were ignited by a lighted candle as he reached into the tree while assisting in the distribution of the presents. He rushed out of doors, seizing an overcoat as he went and wrapped it about his head. Several men followed him and assisted in putting out the flames. His neck and hands were considerably burned, but he has recovered sufficiently to be out and at work again, and we are pleased to note that the mishap was nothing like as serious as some of the sensational papers would try to have their readers believe.

—The railroad anti-pass order went into effect on Monday and no more transportation is to be issued to any one except employes of the roads. This order also takes in the newspapers who have been paying rather dearly for their riding in the form of columns of advertising. The Oil City Blizzard suggests that "possibly the railroad men intend to discipline the journalists for temerity in standing by President Roosevelt in his determination to make the big corporations respect the laws of the land." And this opinion is doubtless quite to the point. The railroad companies apparently own the earth, but it is a theory that will probably be exploded some day, and that possibly before President Roosevelt is through with them. The newspapers will continue as in the past to stand behind the President in his battle for the people's rights.

—An unknown wild animal that has been seen and heard lately on Jamieson run, has caused considerable talk among our local hunters. One night about two weeks ago as Bert Thomson was driving down the run the beast came close to his wagon and attacked his dog. Although the dog is large and known to be a good fighter the strange animal whipped him in just no time and sent him running home. The dog was badly used up. Bert could see the strange beast but on account of the darkness could not tell what it was. The beast has been heard by a number of persons and has a scream resembling that of a woman. Wednesday night last as Chas. Hunter was driving on Hunter run, about two miles from town, he saw a strange animal beside the road, and which frightened his horses. This was probably the same animal. Several parties of hunters have been out but can't locate him.

The Christmas cantata and flag drill, given by the L. T. L., under the direction of Miss Myers, assisted by Mrs. Hepler, was very good and entertaining.

The oil field near us is still showing up fine. 22 out of 23 wells drilled are producers and we are hopeful that it will come our way. There has been some leasing in our vicinity but no wells started yet.

Christmas passed off quietly and the stores had their usual number of small customers and from all accounts they were well patronized and went on their way rejoicing.

Meckling, Braden & Co. drilled a well on the Toomy farm near Black's Corners. Got no oil, but a fine gas well. Hope they will have better luck next time.

Joe Meckling, of Butler county, is visiting his son.

Argument Court.

At argument court last Thursday, Charles A. Hill was appointed court crier, and entered upon his duties as such at once.

The jury commissioners were ordered to fill the wheel for the supply of jury-men for 1906.

Two important cases for argument brought a number of prominent attorneys to town. They were Isaac Ash and Edward Breene of Oil City, D. I. Ball and C. M. Shawkey of Warren, F. J. Maffett of Clarion, and W. J. McCracken of Brookville. The cases were those of A. Sperry vs. Ollie & McKeen, a motion to dissolve a writ of foreign attachment; and the case of George Miller vs. J. M. Bemis & Son, argument for a new trial. Judge Lindsey took the papers in both cases.

Attorney Brown presented the petition of Maggie L. Johnson, executrix, for leave to make deed of lands in Hickory township to A. L. de LaFontaine. He also presented the petition of Mrs. Henry Fredericks for the appointment of appraisers to set aside $300 widow's exemption.

Balentine-Klinefelter.

The spacious and pleasant home of Rev. and Mrs. George Balentine at East Smithfield, Bradford county, Pa., was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday evening, December 27, 1905, at six o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Florence Marie, was united in marriage with Mr. Frederick Robert Klinefelter, of Nebraska, this county. The nuptial ceremony was performed by the father of the bride, assisted by Rev. Robert B. Longwell, of Rochester, N. Y., and Rev. W. S. Percy, of East Smithfield, in the presence of about fifty guests, principally relatives of the families.

The parlor where the ceremony took place was tastefully decorated, the color scheme being green and white. At the appointed hour, to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Miss Grace Gerould, the bridal party entered the room from the stairway, preceded by the ushers, Messrs. Gerald, Hartley, and Everett Balentine and P. A. Rainey, brothers and cousin of the bride. The ushers carried white ribbon forming an aisle through which came the groom with his brother, Mr. H. T. Klinefelter, the best man; Master Elwood Phrang, the little page, who was dressed in white and carried the ring in a white rose; the bride with her sister, Miss Carrie Balentine, the bridesmaid. Taking their places before a large bank of evergreen and facing the assembly, the ceremony was performed, a beautiful and impressive ring service being used. The bride was attired in a gown of crepe de chine over white taffeta, trimmed with allover lace and chiffon ruching, and she carried a large bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid's gown was of white organdine with yoke of allover lace, trimmed with Valenciennes lace and insertion, and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

After hearty congratulations had been extended a sumptuous wedding dinner of three courses was served. The bride's table in the dining room presented a beautiful appearance, the color scheme of the decorations being white, pink and green. Each guest received as a souvenir a dainty box of wedding cake tied with white ribbon and bearing the initials "B. K."

The bride was the recipient of many handsome gifts in silver, cut glass, china, etc., evidencing the love and esteem of her friends.

The happy couple left shortly after the ceremony for a wedding trip of about a month, taking in Washington, D. C., and Florida, and will be at home to their friends at Nebraska after April 1st. In company with their many friends we extend to these popular young people our best wishes for a long, prosperous and happy journey through life.

The prices are splendidly fair and in most instances lower than the prices of such footwear anywhere outside of this store.

Christmas Exercises at Nebraska.

The Christmas exercises in the Nebraska M. E. church were held on Monday evening, Dec. 25th. As usual, the church was crowded to the doors. The exercises were under the direction of Judge Frank X. Kreidler, assisted by the committee on program, Misses Emma Thompson, Anna Blausner, Pearl Elliott, and Mr. Roy Timlin. The children were carefully trained and the entire program was rendered without a mistake. A large tree which was well loaded with presents and lighted with candles placed in colored lanterns, gave a most pleasing appearance. After the presents had been distributed the congregation passed out of the door to the lecture room and each received a box of candy presented by Messrs. Collins & Kreidler. Nebraska is one of the ideal lumber towns of Forest county, and the people have every reason to be proud of the sober and thoughtful audience which assembles there on holiday occasions.
