THE fact that there are women who years past and will be somewhat surfondie dogs and buy them expensive prised to learn that the man King, who wardrotes and provide them with the most expensive luxuries, is perhaps not for the killing of Davis, was ariested without its compensations. It places February 18 for brutally assaulting his these aristocratic canines in contrast with wife. As our correspondent learns the these aristocratic canines in contrast with the little waits of humanity that are neg-lected by society and permitted to die among the rags of cellars and garrets. If a dog may be pampered like a princess, bedecked with diamonds and made the took to make an arrest. The warrant beobject of tenderest solicitude, how much ing given to Mr. Harrison Kiser of this more shame it is that a poor little child place, he deputized E. E. Thompson and should be denied the ordinary comforts of life! Thus it may be seen that even ing up to the house they saw King sitting the most exaggerated forms of imbecility have their uses - Puxny Spirit.

It is very greatly to be desired that Secretary of Internal Affairs Isaac B. Brown should succeed in his effort to arrest and ornamented him with the Kidney and Liver Cure. Five bottles compel the Pennsylvania railroad to desist from its nefarious practice of requiring a deposit of ten dollars on a twentydollar mileage book. The mileage book, it would seem to an ordinary observer, where he will await the development of ought to be yours when you pay for it. But it appears that the railroad people sell you nothing but the contents of the book. They do not sell you the back. and this deposit of ten dollars is to insure the return of the cover. The wicked insinuation that the Pennsylvania railroad takes this method of compelling the publie to lead it ten or fifteen million dollars annually without interest is of course without foundation in fact. Just think what a calamity it would be if the Pennsylvania railroad were to run out of covers for its mileage bookst-Punxy Spirit.

THE groundhog should be investigated. He emerged from his hole on February 2, three weeks ago today, saw his shadow and retired abruptly to his underground quarters. And the weather has been ideal almost ever since. Commenting on this subject the Washington Post says: "We have always regarded the groundhog as an unmitigated humbug and imposter. From the preposterous abortion we turn to the chronicles of rabbit ferocity and devastation with a genuine relief. At least our Molly Cottontail scorns the refuge of superstition and ignorant alarm. Give a rabbit two fingers of moon-hine whisky and it will spit in the face of a buildog and then chase that astonished animal into the adjoining county. The groundhog, on the other hand, is a slothful, stupid beast, void of vigor and signifying nothing. He pretends to be a clairvovant, an oracle, and he is nothing but a meretricious mountebank,"
