At the battle of Jolo there were 600 irreplaceable bandits, and all were good Moros after the fight was over.

That there is now a surplus in the Treasury is gratifying, of course, but it was a grievous mistake to let Congress hear about it.

As a means of protection, the women of Chicago are to be provided with police whistles. Imagine a woman whistling when she is scared!

President Roosevelt and his cabinet are opposed to war. So are Congress and the people. The next thing to do will be to convince China.

One of the honors of the present political situation is the readiness of the Democratic party to offer itself as a non-partisan organization wherever it happens to be in the minority.

Senator Foraker will now be obliged more than ever to scorn the railway pass, lest some one should hint that it caused him to make his great fight for the "preservation of the Constitution."

Uncle Sam owns one railroad, that across the isthmus of Panama, and it remains to be proved that it can be worked as effectively as before. An improvement would be creditable to the government's representatives.

The Pennsylvania railroad people have changed their minds, and will disregard the new two-cent-a-mile rate in Ohio, in order to test the constitutionality of the law. All laws are "suspected" which seek to regulate big corporations.

"A BATTLE OF THE MILLIONAIRES." This is the description given of the Senatorial campaign now opening in Michigan for the seat held in the U. S. Senate by Gen. Russell A. Alger. What a commentary on the highest legislative body in the nation, that only men of millions can hope to be elected there!

SUSAN B. ANTHONY, the great apostle of woman suffrage, died at Rochester, N. Y., yesterday morning shortly after midnight, aged 85 years. Miss Anthony was doubtless one of the most noted women this country has had for a century past, having given the best years of her long life to the cause of woman suffrage, in which she gained international fame.

The Supreme Court of the United States has decided that railroads cannot deal in commodities which they haul over their lines, for the simple reason that "it would be to supply a means for the perpetuation of evils which the Inter-State Commerce Commission is intended to remedy." The decision bears especially upon the monopolization of the coal trade, by railroads which cross Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland and Virginia.

CONGRESSMAN Henry W. Palmer, of the Luzerne district, has made three successful campaigns on a no-boodle platform. His success was not necessarily surprising, but it was a great change from what had been former practices in the district in both parties. One of the gratifying features was that it brought in the Pennsylvania delegation one of the most forceful and useful of its present members. Mr. Palmer is now a candidate for re-nomination, and naturally he declares he will have no boodle in the canvass. It ought to be much easier for him this year than ever before, since he will have the new corrupt practices act to help him enforce his ideas of a clean and unpurchased nomination.

STRIKE PROSPECT CRITICAL.

Hard Coal Miners Must Go Into Convent with Proposal From Operators.

New York, March 10.—So critical has the prospect of a strike in the soft coal country become that President John Mitchell has decided to start for Indianapolis Saturday instead of early next week. He is not due there until Wednesday, when the miners' national executive board is called to meet, but it has become necessary for him to consult leading officials of the union.

Mitchell had expected at least a beginning of negotiations with the hard coal operators in this city this week. Realizing at last their intention to postpone action upon the anthracite miners' demands until after the soft coal convention, Mitchell has found himself in a curious position.

The anthracite districts send their delegates to the miners' international convention at Indianapolis, which meets Thursday. It had been expected that the anthracite men would at least have received a counter proposal from the operators by this time in which they could obtain the views and invite the action of their fellow workers from the soft coal districts.

As things have turned out the hard coal delegates may be moved by their impatience to declare in the Indianapolis convention that unless every one of their demands is conceded by the operators there will be a strike in the anthracite region.

Responsible For Death of Harry Tenny

San Francisco, March 10.—A coroner's jury after holding an inquest of the death of Harry Tennebaum or "Tenny," who died several days ago after a prize fight with Frankie Neil, rendered the following verdict: "We find that death was caused by blows inflicted in a boxing contest held at Mechanics' pavilion on Feb. 28, 1906, by Frankie Neil, and further that there was gross negligence in the parties having charge of the contest for not having the contestants examined by a registered physician prior to the exhibition, according to law, and we hereby find said parties responsible for the death of said Harry Tennebaum."
