JUDGE PARKER should understand that he is not the first Democrat to be caught trying to jolly the South.

The Democrats of Pennsylvania seem to be standing around waiting for a coal strike or some other "unfortunate thing" to cheer them up.

CANADA has more miles of railway per capita than any other country, but the United States is ahead in the per capita of transportation trouble.

EDITOR HEARST has broken with Col. Bryan. By the time the colonel gets back to the home shore he will find his fences all shot to pieces.

WITHOUT free seeds and free passes, and with the franking privilege curtailed, some Congressmen will take a gloomier view of the nation's destiny than ever.

It will be all right to proceed with the oil investigation in the absence of Mr. Rockefeller. He will stand for anything that the company has done, or that may be done to the company.

A CONTEMPORARY asks if it would not be wise to keep out of a situation where such "brutalities" as those at the crater fight are unavoidable.

SPEAKING of the next Congress, an Alabama paper remarks that "The gain of eight seats by the Democrats in Missouri is not at all improbable, and if a widespread coal strike is brought on the gains in Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, and even New York, will be heavy."

That paper is badly deluded in this matter, but its prayer for calamity has an orthodox Democratic flavor.

In the last report of the postmaster general is this strong incidental argument for good roads: "The requirement precedent to the establishment of rural delivery shall be a possible patronage of 100 families on a standard route of twenty-four miles; that the roads be kept in good condition, unobstructed by gates, and with all streams fordable at all seasons of the year."

The world is getting to be a poor place for neighborhoods with mud-hole roads.

In reporting the action of the school directors of McKean county, who recently adopted resolutions favoring the modification of the compulsory vaccination act, by making the matter of its enforcement discretionary, except in times of epidemic, the Bradford Era takes cognizance of "a growing demand for such an amendment," which it says prevails throughout that vicinity.

This demand is confined to no particular section, but is general all over the state. Legislation which has resulted in depopulating the public schools in many country districts cannot be regarded as otherwise than highly injurious to the cause of education.

There ought to be some better and less objectionable means of accomplishing the objects aimed at by the compulsory vaccination act.

Arrested on Charges of Conspiracy. Pittsburgh, March 27.—Four arrests were made yesterday afternoon in connection with the failure of the Enterprise National Bank.

A Favorite Remedy for Babies. Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children.

A forced apology is worse than none at all.

Standard Oil Controlled by "an Aggregation of Individuals."

New York, March 27.—John D. Archbold, vice president of the Standard Oil company, was the principal witness in the hearing conducted by Attorney General Hadley of Missouri before United States Commissioner Sanborn in response to Mr. Hadley's direct question: "Who is the active head of the Standard Oil company?"

Mr. Archbold also volunteered the statement that John D. Rockefeller had no desire to evade any questions, that Mr. Rockefeller knew nothing about the matters concerned in the present suit but that if Mr. Hadley wished to go to Lakewood and question him he would find Mr. Rockefeller willing to answer any question.

Who Is Responsible?

One who is interested in educational enterprises and the common good of the rising generation would naturally and forcefully be led to exclaim, "Who is responsible for our boys and girls being out of school?"

We have a compulsory educational law—we also have a vaccination law, and the outgrowth of the two seems to be that a portion of our boys and girls are neither vaccinated nor in attendance at school, but are wasting their precious school days in idleness or worse than idleness.

We notice boys of school age loafing around stores and hotels daily, unmolested by educational laws of any kind, and then we find parents sometimes wonder why our boys go to the "bad." Why shouldn't they go to the "bad?"

What tendency or influence have such for the good? This hotel and country store education (?) is not very commendable for our boys. Parents let us arouse ourselves from this comatose condition and awaken to a realization of the responsibility placed upon us in the bringing up of those placed in our charge.

Let us see to it that our boys and girls are in school during school hours, and that their evening hours are spent in sociability and innocent amusement. What can we expect of our boys if their young minds and characters are inculcated with blasphemous, vulgar and impurities of every sort and description from the very start?

CITIZEN KINGSLY TWP.

In Memoriam.

Whereas, God in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst our esteemed Sister, Margaret Gorman from the sufferings of this life, be it therefore—

Resolved, That it is a just tribute of respect to the memory of the departed to say she was always ready and willing to give a helping hand to the needy in time of trouble.

Resolved, That we sympathize with the husband and daughter of this deceased, and commend them for consolation to One who doeth all things well.

Resolved, That we humbly submit ourselves to His will and promise that we will more faithfully perform the duties imposed upon us.

Resolved, That a copy of this testimonial be placed on the minutes of the order by the B. K., and one be sent to the county paper of publication, and another to the husband of the deceased.

SARAH K. GORMAN, EDITH KIPFER, ELLEN CATLIN, Committee.

Why pay more when you cannot equal the selection of handsome patterns even at double the price. Nor, quality for quality, will any ordinary tailor equal them at double the money.

We not only know how to buy the materials, but our tailors are proud to work out your own particular ideas. There is style and tone in every garment we turn out, and at such a modest price no man can afford to miss it.

We urge you to come to the store this week. It will pay you to be ahead of the rush—means a little more time for details. All garments tried on before finishing.
