PARTY'S GOLDEN JUBILEE

50th Anniversary of First Republican National Convention

Wadsworth-Roosevelt Correspondence.

Murderer Walled Up Alive—Congressman Killed by a Fall—Death of Former Chess Champion—Convicted of Giving Rebates—46th State.

In the same assembly room in Musical Fund hall in Philadelphia, there, on June 17, 1856, the Republican party opened its first national convention, which named Fremont and Dayton as its presidential ticket, there gathered this week hundreds of Republicans from different sections of the country to commemorate the event.

Among those who participated in the exercises were 152 men who had voted for Fremont for president. They entered the hall in a body and were assigned to seats in the front part of the auditorium.

Historical papers were read by William Barnes, Sr., of New York, who displayed a flag which covered Lincoln's bier as his body lay in state at Albany; Dr. Robert Reyburn of Washington, who attended both Lincoln and Garfield, and Jacob Weand, of Beaver, Pa. Colonel A. K. McClure of this city delivered an address on Abraham Lincoln in which he reviewed the martyred president's life and the events of his time. The program included numerous musical selections.

Wadsworth-Roosevelt Correspondence.

Chairman Wadsworth of the house committee of agriculture made public the correspondence between President Roosevelt and himself regarding the meat inspection bill prepared by the committee.

The president in his letter says that almost every change in the house amendment was for the worse, as compared with the senate amendment, and in his judgment so framed as to minimize the chance of rooting out the evils in the packing houses.

In his reply Mr. Wadsworth declares the president is "very, very wrong" in his estimate of the committee's bill, calls attention to provisions in the bill, and concludes with an expression of regret that the president should feel justified by innuendo at least in impugning the sincerity and the competency of a committee of the house of representatives.

"You have no warrant for it," says Mr. Wadsworth in closing.

Murderer Walled Up Alive.

A London Times dispatch from Tanglez says: "According to advices from Marakesh the cobbler Mesfowi, who had been convicted of the murder of 36 women, whose bodies were found buried under his shop and in his garden, has expired his crime. Instead of being crucified as had been intended, at the last moment it was ordered that he be walled up alive. Previous to the final act in the tragedy Mesfowi was subjected to daily floggings. While the masons were working they were surrounded by a mob who jeered Mesfowi. The first two days of his entombment the cobbler screamed continuously, but the third day the living tomb gave forth no sound. It is presumed the murderer died from exhaustion."

Underwriters' Bureau Disrupted.

A disruption of the fire underwriters' bureau in San Francisco has resulted from the attempt of 6 insurance companies to reduce their liabilities to sufferers in the fire of April 18 and 19 by a cut of 25 per cent. The 32 companies that are determined to pay losses in full organized independently of the underwriters' bureau. None of the companies that voted for a horizontal cut of 25 per cent was admitted to the meeting. Companies that refuse to pay fire insurance in full will be driven from California, according to State Insurance Commissioner Wolf, who is backed up by Attorney General Webb.

Killed by Fall Through Skylight.

Representative Rufus E. Lester of Georgia Friday night was fatally injured by falling from the roof of the Cairo apartment house to the eleventh floor of that building, where he had apartments, in Washington.

Mr. Lester had gone to the roof of the building to look for his two young grandchildren and apparently missed his footing, falling through the skylight, about 30 feet, to the eleventh floor. He sustained internal injuries and both legs were broken. Mr. Lester is 63 years old.

Mr. Lester died Saturday night as result of his injuries.

Private Cars For Coal Companies.

Orders for private cars for favored coal mining companies were placed with the Pressed Steel Car company by the Pennsylvania Railroad company and paid for by that corporation, which afterward had a settlement with the coal companies. This fact was established at the session of the interstate commerce commission through the testimony of H. E. Swartz, chief clerk of the sales department of the Pressed Steel Car company, and by information volunteered by Francis I. Gowen, counsel for the railroad company.

Death of Famous Chess Player.

Harry Nelson Pillsbury, the chess master, died at Philadelphia on Sunday of apoplexy after an illness of many months. Pillsbury was born Dec. 5, 1872, at Somerville, Mass., where the body was taken. The funeral was held Tuesday.

Panama Canal Bill in Senate.

In preparation for the vote on the six-level Panama canal bill, which is fixed for next Thursday, the senate will devote much of the time this week prior to that date to the consideration of the bill. Senator Knox is scheduled for a speech in support of the canal and he will be followed by other senators for and against the bill as it stands.

Meat Inspection and Pure Food Bills.

There is to be more speed in the legislation of the national house of representatives this week than in any week during the session, if the plans of the leaders determined upon Saturday are carried out. The program contemplates the passage of the meat inspection amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill and the sending of that measure to conference; the passage of the pure food bill under a special rule, and the passage of the immigration bill also under a special rule.

House Votes For Lock Canal.

By a vote of 110 to 26 the house, at the end of a two years' debate on the appropriations for the Panama canal, decided that the canal should be of a lock type.

Convicted of Giving Rebates.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway Co. has been found guilty by a jury in the United States district court on four counts of granting concessions on packing house shipments for export to the Armour Packing company, Swift & Company, Cudahy & Company and the Nelson Morris Packing company. The conviction carries with it a fine of from $1,000 to $20,000 on each count. Judge Smith McPherson deferred sentence until June 22.

Greater Pittsburg is a Fact.

The decree consolidating Pittsburg and Allegheny to make one city was signed on Saturday by Judge Frederick H. Collier of the county courts, and legally Greater Pittsburg is a fact. Actual consolidation will not be complete, however, until the act creating the greater city is declared constitutional by the higher courts. The anti-annexationists asked and were granted a writ of supersedeas, which held the decree in abeyance until the proceedings are finally determined.

Commission Guilty of Contempt.

The members of the New York city municipal civil service commission must either obey the order of Justice Marean of the supreme court, to re-rotate Policeman William C. Peeper in the list of roundsmen, or go to jail. The appellate division of the supreme court, after a hearing, sustained the action of Justice Marean, declaring the commissioners in contempt for their refusal to execute the order of the court, and directed that they be committed until they had purged themselves.

Wreck of 20th Century Flyer.

The Twentieth Century Flyer on the Lake Shore railroad was wrecked near West Seneca, two miles west of Buffalo, early Sunday morning. The wreck was a bad one and it is considered miraculous that no one was killed. One day coach and five sleepers were badly smashed. The wreck, it is believed, was caused by a split rail.

The massive construction of the Pullmans and the level, firm roadbed were the two factors which prevented loss of life.

Collision of Trolley Cars.

Two Rochester and Eastern trolley cars collided Sunday afternoon at the Padelford siding near Ganandaigua, and 26 persons were injured and the cars badly smashed.

The accident is attributed to the failure of the brakes to hold owing to wet rails.

Oklahoma the 46th State.

Another star was added to the Union on Saturday when President Roosevelt signed the bill admitting Oklahoma and the Indian Territory as one state, called Oklahoma. The measure also provides that Arizona and New Mexico may be admitted to statehood as the state of Arizona, provided the people of the territories vote in favor of the admission on the terms submitted by congress.

Order Restored at Bialystok.

The pitiable and bloody affair at Bialystok, Russia, apparently has been settled. A "cease fire" is expected, even by the radicals, who are satisfied that the authorities are now in control and will do everything possible to prevent a renewal of the excesses.

Intercollegiate Regatta.

The intercollegiate regatta will be held at Poughkeepsie on Saturday, June 23. There will be three races, a varsity eight, a "varsity" four-oared, and a freshman eight. Crews from Cornell, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Syracuse and Georgetown will compete.

15,000-Ton Steamer Launched.

The steamer Henry H. Rogers was launched at South Chicago Saturday. Miss Marion H. Rogers, niece of the Standard Oil vice president broke the bottle of champagne on the bow of the craft. The Rogers is 600 feet long and is the largest vessel on the lakes, with a carrying capacity of nearly 15,000 tons.

Coronation of King Haakon VII.

On Friday the coronation of King Haakon VII of Norway will take place. The scene of the ceremonies will be the cathedral at Trondheim.

INSPECTION AGREEMENT

Arrived at by the President and the House Committee.

Amended Bill Will Appropriate $3,000,000 For Cost of Inspection. Court Review Provision Eliminated. No Date on Label of Packed Goods. Civil Service Waiver Omitted.

A meat inspection provision was completed by the house committee on agriculture which it is declared by the committee will insure that American meats and meat products are healthful, clean and in every respect wholesome and fit for food.

The important features of the legislation are that it places the cost of the inspection on the government and makes an annual automatic appropriation of $2,000,000 to pay the expenses. It requires a rigid post-mortem and ante-mortem inspection of all animals killed for food.

It requires a government label as a passport for all meat and meat products which enter interstate commerce and in addition to this label a certificate of purity to the carrier and a secretary of agriculture for all such products which enter foreign commerce.

To secure this label, the product must be handled in accordance with sanitary regulations to be prescribed by the secretary of agriculture, who is authorized to employ, without regard to the civil service law for the first year, an adequate corps of efficient inspectors to supervise the enforcement of his regulations.

It prohibits the use of preservatives or chemicals deleterious to health in the preparation of meat foods and leaves the matter of determining this question to the secretary of agriculture. The label on the product is to indicate the ingredients, but the date of manufacture is not required to be stated.

There are many penalty clauses attaching to violations of all these provisions. The common carrier is subject to a heavy penalty if he accepts for transportation any goods not bearing the government label, or in case of foreign shipments, in addition to the label, not accompanied by the required certificate. The packers are subject to a heavy penalty for false labeling as to contents of packages. Trade names are to be allowed in some cases, in the discretion of the secretary, but in all cases the contents of the packages must be stated.

The violation of any of the provisions of the regulations is made a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not to exceed $10,000, or imprisonment not to exceed two years.

There is a special penalty against the bribery of inspectors, being imprisonment from one to three years and fine of from one to ten thousand dollars for offering a bribe and the same punishment for the acceptance of a bribe on the part of the inspectors.

Farmers and small butchers are excepted from the operations of the regulation.

This conclusion of the committee was reached after three full days of consideration following the exhaustive hearings held in connection with the official reports regarding conditions in the packing houses at Chicago, the statement of the packers and the representations of the livestock raisers.

Washington, June 19.—The basis of a complete agreement on the meat inspection legislation between President Roosevelt and the house committee on agriculture was arrived at yesterday at the White House. Speaker Cannon represented the committee in this instance and subsequently spent some time explaining the situation to the committee in its room at the Capitol.

The bill was practically completed when the committee adjourned for the day.

It will authorize an annual appropriation of $3,000,000 to pay the cost of inspection and will contain no provision for the levy of an assessment to make up any deficiency in the amount available for this work, as suggested by Mr. Cowan, representing the Texas cattle growers, and later urged by the president.

The court review provision will not be contained in the measure. This action meets the suggestion of the president.

The words "in the judgment of the secretary of agriculture" will not be inserted as suggested by the president, and this conclusion now meets Mr. Roosevelt's approval.

There is to be no date on the label of the packing of meat food products. In this the president yields to the committee. The language which gives inspectors the right of admission to the packing plants at all times is amended by the words "Whether the same be in operation or not."

The section waiving the civil service law for one year in the selection of inspectors will go out of the provision, also one of the president's recommendations.

With these changes made, the president has indicated his entire satisfaction with the measure which was reported to the committee as a substitute for the Beverage amendment, and was then recommended to the committee that the changes might be made.

Ordinarily Speaker Cannon does not take such an active part in legislation as he has in the present instant. It has been explained, however, that he regards the passage of an adequate meat inspection bill with all possible speed as vitally essential to the welfare of many important industries throughout the country.

MONEY CARRIED THE DAY.

Candidates With Heaviest Expense Accounts Win Nominations.

Greensburg, June 19.—Thirteen of the 21 candidates at the recent Republican primary election have filed their expense accounts with Clerk of Courts Robert M. Jones. The 13 candidates spent in the aggregate $5,501.27, an average of $423.17.

Almost invariably the candidate whose account foots up the largest total secured the nomination. The printer received almost half of the total amount expended by the candidates. Practically every candidate inserted his card in the newspapers in addition to paying for lengthy "write-ups."

No favoritism was shown by the editors. In the same issue might be seen articles booming all the candidates for the office. Hundreds of thousands of circular letters were sent out, one candidate alone returning a receipt for $250 for postage. "Watchers and disseminators of information" were paid in many of the precincts at the rate of $5 a day.

WILL DEVELOP ITS WEALTH.

Masonic Club Is After Charter to Utilize Mineral Deposits.

Connellsville, June 19.—Plans for extensive changes at the big preserve of the Masonic Country club at Bear Run are under way.

The Masonic Country club owns 1,700 acres on which are erected summer cottages, a big club house and other buildings. On the tract is Bear Run, the only stream in Western Pennsylvania in which speckled trout abound. The tract is underlaid with coal, fire clay, limestone and building rock.

Under its present charter the tract cannot be developed. The club has applied for a state charter under the name of the Bear Run Land company, which will develop the property. A reserve of 100 acres will be left undeveloped for the club, on which will be built a lake to be stocked with fish, used for boating, etc. A new club house 100 by 40 feet will be erected near the present building.

Veterans of the Fremont Campaign.

Philadelphia, June 19.—It was a notable gathering which filled Musical Fund hall when the formal celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Republican party was inaugurated. Delegations from all sections of the country are here to participate in the golden jubilee, a feature of which is the presence of nearly 200 veterans of the Republican party's first battle 50 years ago when John C. Fremont was nominated for the presidency. The celebration is under the auspices of the National League of Republican clubs which is holding its annual convention in connection with the jubilee celebration. With the address of welcome by Mayor Weaver the celebration was formally opened and it will continue until Wednesday.

Production and Importation of Gems.

Washington, June 19.—The United States Geological survey in a bulletin on the production and importation of precious stones in the United States in 1905 says the value of the output of precious stones in 1905 reached $326,350, of which the yield from the sapphire mines amounted to $125,000. Next in value was the turquoise output, quoted at $65,000. The importation of precious stones amounted to $34,998,513, as compared with $26,908,813 in 1904. Diamonds represent the bulk of the importations, the rough or uncut stones being valued at $10,281,111, while the value of the uncut stones is placed at $20,375,304.

Moreland's Parents Fatally Burned.

Cincinnati, June 19.—Samuel Moreland and his wife, parents of Jockey Moreland, were probably fatally burned by gasoline at their home Sunday while attempting to reach a roll of money hidden near the stove which had exploded. The money was what remained of $500 sent them by their son to pay off a mortgage on their home. Jockey Moreland has been riding with great success on the race tracks around Toronto.

Freight Cars Burned by Naphtha.

Bellefontaine, O., June 19.—A freight train on the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railway pulled apart near Mt. station Sunday night and subsequently the two sections ran together again with sufficient force to explode one of the six cars of naphtha in the train. A fierce fire followed in which the entire train was practically destroyed. None of the trainmen were hurt.

Police and Strike Breakers Clash.

Youngstown, O., June 19.—Police and strike breakers clashed Saturday night and there were 20 or 30 shots fired. No one was hurt. The non-union structural workers had left their quarters at Hazleton and when they became noisy in a saloon they were ordered back. Ten of them were arrested.

Three Buried in Landslide.

Dunbar, Pa., June 19.—William Hardy, employed at the McCormick stone quarries, was removed to the hospital suffering from serious injuries received in a cave-in. He and two other men were thrown 30 feet and buried in a landslide. Other workmen quickly dug them out.

Philadelphia hospital surgeons lifted out a negro's heart, sewed up a wound and replaced the organ, and the patient is likely to live.
