Republican Ticket.

STATE.

Governor, EDWIN S. STUART. Lieutenant Governor, ROBERT S. MURPHY. Auditor General, ROBERT K. YOUNG. Secretary of Internal Affairs, HENRY HOUCK.

COUNTY.

Congress, HON. N. P. WHEELER. Assembly, T. D. COLLINS. District Attorney, A. C. BROWN. Coroner, DR. C. Y. DETAR.

MR. BRYAN refrains from describing the "certain reforms" that he desires. It seems that much is to be left to the imagination in boom No. 3.

FROM now on it will probably be necessary for President Roosevelt to bucket out every few days and throw a splash of cold water on his still smoldering boom for a third term.

WELL! WELL! The Lincoln party convention opened with prayer and then put three Democrats on the ticket. This is the quickest backslide on record.—Brookville Republican.

A FLOOD in a town in central New York filled the streets with carp weighing from 3 to 30 pounds each. This looks like luck, but some of the citizens are mad because they failed to get trout.

THE novelists seem to be conspiring to get possession of the politics of the country. Booth Tarkington aspires to a seat in Congress and Winston Churchill wants to be governor of New Hampshire.

A FEW days ago the health authorities in Philadelphia pounced upon 12,500 pounds of decayed sea fish just as the owners were about to freeze it for sale. The pure food crusade is no idle fad.

LEW EMERY's failure to report his campaign expenses according to law renders him liable to fine and imprisonment. Maybe the gentleman wants to be locked up so that he can make a martyr play and corral the sentimental vote.

PRELIMINARY returns of the agents of the bureau of statistics, of the Department of Agriculture, show that the average of corn planted this year is about 85,335,000 acres, on an increase of 1,324,000 acres as compared with the estimate of the acreage planted last year.

HERE comes a pesky Prohibitionist journal and calls on Lew Emery to state his views on the liquor question before asking the cold water to indorse him. Get behind the door, Lewis, and leave it to Mr. Wananaker's resourceful right-browers to get around this poser.

THE agitation for the purchase of "Henderson's Castle," a beautiful brownstone mansion on a commanding hill overlooking the entire city of Washington, as a home for the President, is steadily growing. The increase of business necessarily done at the White House leaves the President no private place to go to after the day's work is done, and he is virtually "at the office" all the time.

THE Department of State is busy now trying to find some solution to a very vexing problem. There is a certain class of foreigners who take out naturalization papers here, then deliberately return to their home country, and, becoming embroiled in some controversy with their neighbors, claim the protection of the United States government. A board of inquiry has set to work to find a remedy for this troublesome condition.

A STATEMENT is made in the Philadelphia Press, which paper is trying to balance itself on the top of the political fence this year, to the effect that the joint meeting of the committees of the Emeryites and Democrats to notify Lew and his Democratic colleagues on the ticket of their nomination, has been postponed for the purpose of bringing about fusion arrangements in the several counties on the legislative candidates. Of course, this will be all right for the Democrats, but what do the Republicans think of this attempt to turn the legislature over to the Democrats—the great party of reform?

COLONEL BRYAN has indicated his willingness to accept the Democratic nomination for the Presidency in 1908, providing there is a unanimous demand for him. He does not really want to be President, but there are certain reforms which he desires to see carried out, and would be willing to sacrifice himself for the public good. He would much prefer to see some other man elected President who would carry out these ideas, but rather than permit the Republicans to remain in power and continue to shower the blessings of prosperity upon the people of the United States, he would take the nomination himself.

JUDGE GAYSON, of the N. Y. Supreme Court, a prominent Democrat, speaking of President Roosevelt, said: "I cannot conceive of a better man for the place he occupies. His enemies call him erratic. I find him steadfast to the pole of his purposes—as changeless as the north star. He grasps his hour; he sees wrongs, and remedies them; he meets troubles and conquers them. When both parties fell back frightened before the frown of the railroads, he alone was not afraid. Single handed, he took up arms against secret rebates. In the face of the mightiest money influence he proceeded. I cannot tell too strongly my admiration of President Roosevelt. He is filled with the genius of Bunker Hill. No age appreciates its own great men. The present would be struck with wonder were it to gain a glimpse of those heights to which posterity will lift up the name of Roosevelt. His popularity grows. No one since the day of Washington—not even Lincoln—was more in possession of the loyal confidence of the common people."

HON. S. R. DRESSER, of Bradford, Lew Emery's home, in his closing remarks of a speech he delivered at the meeting of the congressional conferees, which was held at DuBois last week, and at whose hands he refused a re-nomination, said: "I wish I had the power and eloquence to impress my fellow citizens with the danger I see ahead of us, if reformers of the Emery type are to get control of our state and national governments. We now have prosperous times. Let us keep them. Let us build stronger than ever before the Republican party. Let it complete the wholesome work being done, and we will have more cause to be proud of our country than ever. As I love my country and desire its moral and material prosperity, I will stick, stay and stand for the straight, unmixt, easily understood and sound principles of the old, but progressive Republican party. And hope the intelligent voters of Pennsylvania, who gave Theodore Roosevelt more than 500,000 plurality, will not desert the good cause at the polls next November."

There has been nothing quite so brutal in politics as the present effort of a certain element in the Republican party to rap Senator Penrose by hitting Wesley R. Andrews, chairman of the state committee. Senator Penrose may or may not be open to criticism for countenancing what has been done many times before in the suspension of the rules to elect the state chairman, but that does not constitute a reason for humiliating one who has given the party such faithful service as Colonel Andrews.

If working day and night for his party is a reason for taking him by the scruff of the neck and throwing him bodily out of the chairmanship, these gentlemen may, perhaps, justify their course, but there are a few thousand Republicans in Pennsylvania who still possess sense of justice and fair play and will protest vigorously against that sort of treatment. Chairman Andrews has been simply a hard-working, faithful and honorable party wheel-horse. While others have been doing their level best to wreck the party when pretending to reform it has been going along attending to a thousand and one details which fall to the lot of the unlucky chairman.

It is the fashion nowadays to abuse those who are active in support of their party, but we do not believe the body of Republican voters are going to assent to any program which involves the humiliating of the present state chairman.

If he believes his retirement will be for the best interests of the Republican party, we have no idea that Colonel Andrews will insist upon remaining at the helm. But there is no occasion to kick and cuff the man who has been doing a lot of hard work without thanks or hope of reward, merely to get even with Senator Penrose.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

The kick on Col. Andrews is wholly inspired by the Van Valkenburg-Wananaker gang, who are complete masters of the Emery party, have made the Democrats stand up and take their medicine, and now attempt to dictate the course of the Republican party of the state. To ladies with this gang of political pirates. The sooner they are made to understand that they are not running the Republican party, and that they have no standing in any respectable political organization, the sooner will the people rise in their might and put them where they belong—outside the pale of decent party organization.

Base Ball.

TIONESTA 1, TITUSVILLE 5. The Tionesta team went to Titusville Saturday and lost a hard-fought game to the All-Titusville's before a large crowd. Tionesta presented them with the game on two costly errors. The score shows two earned runs for Titusville, when the truth of the matter is it should be only one, and it all happened thusly: In the first inning a little error and a fluke home run over the short left field fence, when the side should have been retired, gave them two runs. Again in the third they got one on three hits, the next two were easy outs, and then another error on an easy chance gave them two more runs. After that they could not touch Bankhead, who pitched a fine game and had good control. Roche, a left-hander, was a failure for Titusville, being very wild, and when he did get it over was hit hard. He gave us two runs in the second on a hit, three bases on balls, and a hit batsman. In the fourth we got another on a double, two bases on balls and a single, and then Mr. Roche took a seat on the bench. Our boys could not do much with Benedict, who succeeded him, until the ninth, when a double, a sacrifice and an error gave us another run, but the next three were easy outs and it was all over. Nevertheless it was a good game and no disgrace to lose.

In regard to that fluke home run, dozens of Titusville people in the grand stand declared it to be a foul ball by many feet. However, it was the umpire's decision and it stood without any kick being made. Mr. Leibrich is an honest man, he thoroughly understands the game and gave excellent satisfaction as an umpire. To the credit of the Tionesta players it can be said that not an objection was raised by them, not even to that alleged home run. Titusville made no objections to any plays, and in that respect the game was a pleasure to the spectators. The score:
