Important to Republicans.

The duplicate copy of registry list of voters is now hanging up, or should be at the voting place in each election district ready for inspection. Each voter who is twenty-one years of age or over should examine the registry list and see if his name is on the registry and if not to see the assessor at once and have it put on before September 6th.

All voters twenty-two years of age or over who have not paid a state or county tax within two years, which tax has been assessed at least sixty (60) days and paid at least thirty (30) days before election, November 6th, cannot vote. September 6th is the last day to be assessed and October 6th the last day to pay taxes and vote November 6th, 1906.

Well, well, Lewis! an anxious public has its ear to the ground listening for that explanation as to why you'd as soon contribute to the fostering of a brewery industry as you would to churches, schools or hospitals. If you want the votes of the people they have a right to be enlightened on the subject.

We notice that the approaching "independent" demonstration for Lewis Emery is being boosted by W. J. Brennan, Democrat, is to be presided over by George W. Guthrie, Democrat, and to be addressed by James Gay Gordon, Democrat—a very warm bunch of "independents" and no mistake.—Pittsburg Gazette.

That the Lincoln party, despite its protests of non-interference in national politics, does not propose to keep its hands off the congressional contests throughout the state is made evident by the fact that already the Lincoln party name has been preempted in ten congressional districts. In all of these Democrats are counting on Lincolnite support to assist in the defeat of the regular Republican nominees and the election of Bryan Democrats.—Sheffield Observer.

A DEMOCRATIC victory in Pennsylvania this year would be the forerunner for the triumph of the principles of Bryan or Hearst two years hence. Our friends the enemy may sneer at this statement and proclaim it nothing but a piece of buncombe; it is policy for them to do so. But the fact remains that the Republican who refuses to support his own party when it presents a fait accompli is doing everything in his power to bring about a Democratic victory in the state now and in the nation two years later.

Our neighbor of the Vindicator often gets mixed up in his editorial clippings. In one item last week it is declared that "the administration has made no serious effort to punish the trust magnates, who in combination with the railroads are plundering the people." And a little farther along is another item which says: "The Sugar Trust has been caught rebelling in league with the railroads and the general auditor of the trust has been compelled by the court to produce certain books and documents, which he had declined to furnish to the grand jury." We guess the administration is serious work for the wicked trust, all right.

THE Johnstown Democrat, Warren Worth Bailey's sprightly organ of Democracy, continues to demand the abolition of the state constabulary. "The Cossacks must go," shouts our esteemed Cambria county contemporary. The attitude of the Democrat is in line with the platform declarations of the Democratic state convention. Where does Mr. Emery, its nominee for governor, stand upon the question of the state constabulary? Is he in favor of its retention, for the preservation of law and order, or does he line up with supporters of lawlessness and disorder in opposition to this legislation. Up to date he has failed to indicate his position and his personal organ, the Bradford Record, while giving much space to denunciation of what it terms "gang rule" in Pennsylvania, is equally reticent upon the subject of its candidate's attitude upon this important question.—Titusville Herald.

Emery's Unfitness.

In a letter written to the Altoona Tribune, A. A. Stevens, without doubt the most prominent Prohibition leader in the state, makes it very plain why candidate Emery cannot expect any support from that party, or from any one who has the moral welfare of his state at heart, for that matter. Mr. Stevens, among other straightforward talk, says:

"That Mr. Emery is against the Standard Oil Company and its assistant corporations will go without saying. A business rivalry exists between them. He thinks he is getting the worst of it. I have no doubt that, judging him from the business standard generally prevailing today, he would be the Rockefeller of the Standard Oil Company if he could, and he is not the only one. He does not claim to be in the oil business for his health, or for the good he may do to his fellow-men, and who expects him to be? Why should he make his personal business affairs the concern of the citizens of the state of Pennsylvania and attempt to enlist the power of their votes to gather the chestnuts out of the fire for his eating?"

"Mr. Emery's assaults upon himself, when in this enlightened age or Christian civilization, he declared the church, the brewery, the school and hospital stood on a parity with each other and were each equally entitled to his influence and support, assured his political undoing. By such a declaration he insulted the Christian people of the land and demonstrated that with such judgment as that he was unfit to be entrusted with the veto power of governor of this commonwealth."

L. J. Hopkins,

Tionesta, Pa.

DEAR SIR:—Now, may be, you can get the goods; if you can, your fortune is made.

Cotton cloth—they call it muslin in some parts—at about the usual price per yard, but wider, twice as wide as some, and better, wears better, keeps white and whole a surprising time in all sorts of wear.

You could sell that cloth for hundreds of miles; there'd be no limit.

A yard goes further; one buys less yards. Wears longer; one buys less often. It always looks right till well worn-out. No one customer buys so much of it, but think of the number of customers! May be you can't get it in cloth; but you can in paint: Devco. Devco is as if it were wider; a gallon goes further; you buy less gallons; you pay for less gallons; you pay for painting less gallons—as if one paid less for making a garment of that wide cloth—and it keeps its fresh look and sheds water till you have forgotten how old it is.

It isn't true in cloth, but it is in paints: the less you pay, the better it is; for the goodness of paint is reckoned by gallons; less gallons, more goodness. Goodness in paint is strength. The stronger a paint, the less gallons it takes for a job and the longer it wears.

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVCO & Co.,

New York.

There is a lesson in the work of the thrifty farmer. He knows that the bright sunshine may last but a day and he prepares for the showers which are liable to follow. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which is the best known medicine for these diseases, should always be kept at hand, as immediate treatment is necessary, and delay may prove fatal. BRYAN AND EMERY

They Are Linked Together In the Pennsylvania Campaign.

PLAYING NATIONAL POLITICS

Republicans Are Prepared to Meet the Issue With Roosevelt and Stuart As Their Leaders.

[Special Correspondence.]

Philadelphia, Aug. 28. The home-coming of Bryan this week brings national politics to the front all over the country, and especially in Pennsylvania, where the democratic state convention which named Emery for governor in its platform declared Bryan the certain successor to Roosevelt.

There is now a clean-cut issue whether Roosevelt or Bryan shall be endorsed by the voters of Pennsylvania this fall.

Republicans For Reform.

It is the argument of the democrats and of the so-called Lincoln Party, which has been swallowed by the Democrats, that only local issues are involved. They claim—the Democrats and the Lincolnites—that they alone can give good government. Yet, if we take into consideration the work of the recent session of the special legislature, we find that every reform demanded by the most drastic reformer was adopted. In other words, the Republican party gave direct proof that it was not only willing but anxious to lead the movement for political reform and political regeneration.

The platform of the Republican party and the candidates in person stand for the purest and the most advanced ideas. The Republican state platform is linked with that of the Republican party of the nation. To separate the two is impossible. When you vote for Stuart you vote for the endorsement of the policies of Theodore Roosevelt. When you vote for Emery you give aid and sustenance to the supporters of William J. Bryan.

In plain words, we are going to decide in November whether we are Roosevelt Republicans or Bryan Democrats.

There will be those who will declare that their support of Emery is not an endorsement of Bryan. But it will be, just the same.

The situation is one of deep interest and it is useless to deny that it is also one of concern. Two years before the nominating convention will be held, Bryan is as good as nominated already. State after state has declared for him through Democratic state conventions. During the past week two more states fell into line. Wisconsin went wild over his name and endorsed him outright as the standard bearer of 1908. Pennsylvania Democrats went on record in practically the same manner, for they hailed him as the great "Democratic commoner, who is now regarded as the certain successor of Theodore Roosevelt."

To drive the wedge in Pennsylvania the Bryan leadership has joined hands with the Lincolnites by taking the candidate of the latter for governor.

Opening Mass Meeting.

Philadelphia Republicans are deeply interested in what will probably be the initial meeting of the state campaign. It will be given in the Academy of Music in this city on Wednesday evening, September 12. The meeting is to be held in connection with an immense demonstration to be given under the auspices of friends and neighbors of Mr. Stuart in the southern section of the city. Leading businessmen and manufacturers are working with the Republican clubmen to make this occasion a grand success. It is predicted that there will be the largest turnout of Republican clubs ever made in that section of the city, and that the Academy of Music will not be large enough to hold the thousands who will join in this tribute to one of the most popular Philadelphians ever named for public office.

Stuart's Personal Strength.

There are new evidences given daily of the admitted strength of the Republican nominee for governor. The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, an independent newspaper which supported Berry and the entire fusion ticket last fall, says:

"The nomination of Edwin S. Stuart for governor places at the head of the Republican state ticket a clean, upright and respected member of the party. It would not have been possible to find among the regular Republicans any other man of reputation who enjoys more of the good will of the people of Philadelphia than the ex-mayor, and this good will extends in large measure into the state.

"Throughout his career he has been associated with no scandals or abuses of his making or in party management; his personal character is high, and his instincts as a citizen and as a party man are in the direction of honest politics and good government. His administration as mayor of Philadelphia was one of the two best under the Bullitt act and in every public or semi-public post to which he has been summoned, his tact, sense and integrity have enabled him to be useful and successful.

"There is no doubt that Stuart is in entire sympathy with the strong platform on which he has been nominated, and that if elected governor he may be depended upon to carry it out in the purposes of his administration.

"Stuart today is unquestionably stronger than his party, or rather the party organization behind him."

Unnecessary Expense.

Acute attacks of colic and diarrhoea come on without warning and prompt relief must be obtained. There is no necessity of incurring the expense of a physician's service in such cases if Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is at hand. A dose of this remedy will relieve the patient before a doctor could arrive. It has never been known to fail, even in the most severe and dangerous cases and no family should be without it. Base Ball.

TIONESTA 22, FRYBURG 2.

On account of the Prospect team of Buffalo cancelling at the last moment Saturday morning, the home team took on the Fryburg team for a game here Saturday afternoon. The Fryburg boys were a fine lot of fellows and no one in the crowd enjoyed the game more than they, but they were hopelessly outclassed from the start and Tionesta won with ease. The visitors could not solve Bankhead's style of pitching and their fielding was ragged. As will be seen the home boys changed positions somewhat and all put up a good game. They also fanned up their batting averages. The features of the game were Shriver's capture of Fallier's fly in the second inning, after a hard run in which he fell headlong, and H. Bankhead's home run in the fourth inning with the bases full.

YANIGANS 16, LEEPER 6.

The Tionesta Yanigans went out to Leeper last Wednesday to show the boys there how to play the game and evidently they are proficient teachers. The game was marked by heavy hitting on the part of the Yanigans, who won in easy fashion. Stroup and Foreman were the battery for the Yanigans. The feature of the game was Foreman's clean home run with the bases full.

—There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and that the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They effect cures in catarrh of any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

What is a Thinking Machine?

A brand new remarkable series of detective stories, the best written, will begin in The Philadelphia Sunday Press on September Second. Each story is complete in itself, and one will be published each week. The author has contrived in an extremely ingenious way to invent a unique situation for each tale. The problems offered are so involved that no solution seems possible until Prof. Van Busen, the Talking Machine, is called upon who invariably straightens out the difficulties by remarkably novel methods. One of these stories appears each week exclusively in The Philadelphia Sunday Press, which is the greatest Sunday newspaper in the country. Be sure and tell your newsdealer to serve you with The Sunday Press as you cannot afford to miss this great series of stories.
