OCCUPATION OF CUBA.

1,250 American Soldiers Under Canvas at Camp Columbia.

Collision on the Boston & Maine Chicago Gets Both Pennants—Bull Kills Young Bridal Couple—Lease of Hill Ore Properties—Deaths in a Mine—Burglar Shot and Killed.

The first landing at Havana of American soldiers in the present occupation of Cuba was accomplished Sunday with marvelous promptness, and at night the second and third battalions of the Fifth United States Infantry were settled under canvas in Camp Columbia. The first and fourth battalions of the same regiment, which arrived in the afternoon, were also sent out to the camp promptly. General Frederick Funston established his headquarters at Mariamao, convenient to his command.

Within an hour from the time that the transport Summer came alongside the railroad wharf the disembarking had been completed and the 850 men composing the second and third battalions of the Fifth had been transported on 30 street cars direct to the camp. Their equipment and supplies were taken on freight cars by another route. The movement was so skillfully handled that the men prepared their midday meal from their own rations. The men are in good condition and are pleased with their salubrious camp and its pleasant surroundings.

The cruiser Brooklyn arrived on Sunday afternoon with 400 men on board, who were sent out to the camp early Monday morning. Colonel L. W. T. Waller, commanding the marines, has been ordered to report to General Funston and the entire force of regulars and marines will be under Funston's command until the arrival of General J. Franklin Bell, who will direct the distribution of the forces throughout the island.

Palma Asked Intervention Sept. 8.

Secretary Root has made public correspondence leading up to the intervention by United States in Cuba. The correspondence took place between Consul General Steinhart at Havana and Acting Secretary Bacon of the state department. An important feature developed in the dispatches was that intervention was asked by the Cuban government as early as Sept. 8 and that as long ago as Sept. 14 President Palma had determined to resign as president of the republic, and that the vice president and cabinet ministers had also determined to no longer continue in office. It is also shown that intervention by the United States has long been planned by the Palma government and was communicated to the state department in a letter by Consul General Steinhart as early as Sept. 5.

Collision on Boston & Maine.

Five passengers were killed outright and a score of others seriously injured in a rear-end collision between a regular passenger train and a military special on the Boston & Maine railroad at Lansingburg, N. Y., three miles north of Troy, Thursday. The snorting of a locomotive just around the curve was the first intimation of the approaching special, which came thundering along with 18 cars on the steep grade and crashed into the rear end of the standing passenger train, smashing the last two cars, which were Pullmans, like eggshells.

Both these cars rolled down the embankment into the back yards of tenement houses. The engine of the special turned turtle, the tender backing into the car behind and telescoping it. There was a sudden hush and then through the gathering dust rose the cries of the injured and dying.

The special was carrying four troops of the 14th United States Cavalry from Fort Ethan Allen to Newport News, where they were to embark for Cuba. The soldiers quickly began the work of rescue. Daylight facilitated the operations and in a comparatively short time most of those imprisoned in the wreckage were on their way to Leonard hospital, one block away.

Chicago Gets Both Pennants.

The baseball season of both major leagues ended on Sunday of this week with games at Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati. For the first time since the two big leagues have been organized both championships have come to one city. Chicago National League team won first honors in that organization easily. Taking the lead early in June and holding it to the end, it established a new major league record for number of games won.

Of the 153 games played by the team 116 were victories, the previous best record in this respect having been held by the New York club in the same league. In the American league the Chicago team upset all calculations made early in the season by winning the pennant. The contest was not decided until last week, the New York team being within striking distance of the leaders until October 3, when a defeat at Philadelphia put them out of the running.

JEWEL THEFT MYSTERY.

The Colombian Government Has Been Repeatedly Robbed.

Manuel Suarez Kept Under Surveillance by Agents of the Colombian Government—Story of the Disappearance of Emeralds Valued at $80,000.

New York, Oct. 9.—Detectives were posted at the doors of the Hotel Breslin yesterday, and whenever a certain middle-aged Spaniard left the building they followed him. When he returned they took up their watch again at the exits. The sleuths were obeying an order from London to keep under surveillance Manuel Suarez of Colombia, South America, a passenger on the Oceanic, who was arrested when he arrived in New York last Wednesday. Suarez was released in custody of his counsel after his arrest on a charge of attempting to smuggle into the United States emeralds valued at $20,000. The prisoner said he had intended to take the emeralds to the custom house and pay the duty, believing that in so doing he would conform to the law. Commissioner Shields will give him an examination.

It became known that the detectives are confident that through the finding of Suarez they will get light on more than one mysterious robbery of emeralds of which the Colombian government has been the victim.

From a most unexpected quarter—that of the Wells-Fargo Express company—facts have been supplied that make Suarez a figure of great interest. About four years ago that company sustained what was then called a "loss" of emeralds valued at $80,000. The package vanished in transit. It is supposed, but at what point is a mystery. It was shipped from Bogota, Colombia, by a government agent. The Wells-Fargo company became convinced that the jewels were stolen. Their clew led to suspicion against certain employees of the Colombian government, but to no definite knowledge.

Shot and Killed a Burglar.

Shortly after midnight Saturday morning Joseph Felter, a former Birmingham policeman, who now conducts a grocery store in that city, shot and killed a burglar who was attempting to enter his place. Two years ago the store was entered several times, and twice Mr. Felter shot at burglars. Since then he has been sleeping in the store. Shortly after midnight he was awakened by the breaking of glass and saw a man with his leg through the window in the door. He fired at the man, who fell backward, got up and walked about 20 feet and fell dead with a bullet through his body just above the heart.

Eight Deaths From Explosion.

Eight men were killed and nearly two score of persons were injured in Philadelphia on Friday by the explosion of illuminating gas in the Market street subway at Sixth street. High buildings were shaken by the force of the explosion and for a block on either side of the scene of the explosion nearly every window was shattered. The street caved in, halting traffic and resulting in a suspension of business. Fire followed the explosion but it did no damage to neighboring buildings. The loss, it is believed, will exceed $300,000.

Philadelphia, Oct. 9.—"The man who promised to make me his wife has deserted me. I cannot return to New York and face my father. Take care of my little one. I cannot live any longer. A heartbroken woman."

DEFECTIVE BOILER TUBES.

Secret Service Agents Probe Charges In Relation to New Battleships.

Manuel Suarez Kept Under Surveillance by Agents of the Colombian Government—Story of the Disappearance of Emeralds Valued at $80,000.

Pittsburg, Oct. 5.—Secret service agents of the United States government, working under orders from the department of justice, are investigating charges filed with Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte that the United States government has been made the victim of a gigantic fraud. It is charged that several of the largest and most costly battleships in the United States navy are equipped with thousands of boiler tubes which were never subjected to the government tests and that many of them were delivered to the government and placed in the vessels after they had been rejected as defective by the government inspectors.

The warships directly involved in the charges are: New battleship Maine, battleship Georgia, armored cruiser Colorado, armored cruiser Pennsylvania.

The charges are against the boiler tubes placed in these vessels at the time they were built, but also affect nearly every vessel in the American navy which has had tubes installed since 1898.

The author of the charges, which were submitted to Secretary Bonaparte through United States Senator J. B. Foraker of Ohio, is Frank L. Emmett of Sharpsville, Pa., who is in charge of the shipping department of the Shelby Steel Tube company's mill at Greenville, Pa., when this company made the tubes for four warships. He confessed his part in the alleged fraud against the government and swears to a statement containing all the charges.

If the investigation now being made substantiates the charges made by Mr. Emmett, it will probably mean several million dollars' worth of boiler works in the finest ships of the navy will have to be torn out, as it is charged that these vessels and every man aboard them are in constant danger of destruction because of the defects in the tubes supplied to the government.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Truman H. Newberry, who turned the charges over to the department of justice for investigation, declares that as a result of the charges he has sent a warning to all government inspectors, telling them what is suspected, without naming the mill to which the charges apply. He said that he believes it can safely be said that there is a good prospect of somebody being put under a repetition of the thefts of government stamps to defraud the government, as charged by Emmett, will be an improbability.

TWO SPEECHES IN THE RAIN.

President Roosevelt's Flying Trip to Harrisburg and York, Pa.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 8.—President Roosevelt made a flying trip to Harrisburg and York yesterday and in each city he made a speech in the rain. At both places he wore a dark rain coat and light rubbers while speaking. The president left Washington in a special train in the morning in company with United States Senators Penrose and Knox of Pennsylvania and returned to the national capital at night. He enjoyed the trip and, except for a slight hoarseness, he did not suffer from the rain.

At Harrisburg the president delivered the oration at the dedication of the beautiful new state Capitol, which has just been completed at a cost of $12,000,000. After his speech there and a hurried inspection of the Capitol the president was entertained by Senator Penrose at luncheon.

Shortly before 3 o'clock the president left for York, where he visited the county fair grounds and was driven around the race track. The rain fell during the drive and the president's face was bespattered with mud when he left his carriage and mounted a small platform from which he made the second speech.

The streets of York over which the party passed were crowded and the president was given a continuous ovation. At the conclusion of his speech he boarded the train for Washington.

Find Plot to Kill a Governor.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 8.—An infernal machine, sent through the mails to Governor Penrose, was discovered in the executive mansion. In a small box was a cartridge, so arranged as to explode when the box was opened. The appearance of the governor's clerks, who threw it into water before opening it. Wrapped about the box were new clip-pings, apparently from anarchists' magazines. The construction of the machine was not such as to have rendered it necessarily fatal had it exploded.

Ban on States and Sponges.

Cleveland, Oct. 8.—The use of states and sponges in the primary grades of the public schools has been forbidden by Health Officer Friedrich. "About two years ago I forbade the use of sponges," said he, "but I learn from a district physician that they are again in use. The state, too, is a nuisance, and it is only because of the extreme conservatism of the school board that it has not been done away with long ago."

WOMEN WIN SCHOOL VICTORY.

Caldwell to Have a New School Building to Cost $27,000.

Montclair, N. J., Oct. 9.—Women carried the day at a special school meeting held in Caldwell. At least one hundred of them exercised their prerogative of voting on school matters, according to the laws of New Jersey, and they applauded vigorously and waved their handkerchiefs when the result was announced, bringing a long drawn out school fight to a successful close.

A large influx of New York business men in recent years has caused a demand for greatly increased school facilities, but this was opposed by many native residents, among them not a few local business men.

At last the progressive element succeeded in bringing the question squarely before the people. The situation had become so bitter, owing to a division of popular sentiment, that the New Yorkers threatened to withdraw their trade from local storekeepers and transfer it to Montclair.

This has now all been settled by a vote in favor of the purchase of a plot of ground for a new school at Persimmon street and Kirkwood place and the erection of a building at a cost of $27,000. The money will be raised by a bond issue, which was also authorized at the meeting.
