—It is doubtful if any government, state or municipal building was ever erected without more or less chatter about graft and grafters by members of the political party not on top, and therefore not handling the money.—Blizzard.

—The bursting of a gas pipe in the engine room of the Salmon Creek Lumber Co.'s mill at Buck Mills, Friday evening, came near causing a serious conflagration. The presence of the engineer and his promptness in giving the alarm alone averted a big loss to the plant.

—Hon. N. P. Wheeler, of Endeavor, will be elected by a larger majority than any former candidate for the same office in this district. Democrats are enthusiastic and Republicans to a man should support him. Unanimous is now the cry for Forest county.—Marienville Express.

—Already, before the regular hunting season is fairly open, reports of accidents through carelessness and recklessness are reported. Persons who enjoy the sport should exercise caution and thus save themselves and their comrades from injury and possible death. Danger ever lurks in the loaded gun.

—Those who are inclined to belittle our magnificent new State capitol building are invited to read what the Philadelphia North American, the bitterest of all the opponents of the Republican party, has to say of the grandest public building in the world. The quotation will be found on our editorial page today.

—During these crisp October days Thomas Mays has his grist mill turning out a fine article of buckwheat flour—the good, old-fashioned kind that our mothers used to bake, and that we stowed away with such zest when we were boys, you know. When in want of a good buckwheat cake call on Thomas for your flour.

—Mrs. Sandrock will have her millinery opening on Friday and Saturday next, October 12th and 13th. A cordial invitation is extended to the ladies of Tionesta and vicinity to call during one of these days and see one of the finest displays in the millinery art that has been shown here for many years. Remember the dates.

—Quite a delegation of people from Hickory and vicinity will leave next Monday for the west, expecting to locate near Ostrander, Wash. Among the number will be Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wilson, and Ray Butler. Mrs. Richard Kifer and four children will also go with the party and join Mr. Kifer, who has been in that country for some time.

—Don't forget the DeKoven Male Quartette at the court house Wednesday evening, October 17th. Miss VanHorn, the young reader who accompanies the quartette, interests good literature with dramatic spirit. Her reading has force, finish and charm. The concert is of a very high grade. The general admission will be fifty cents; all school children twenty cents.

—Rev. Dr. Sionaker preached in Brockwayville last Sabbath and Monday morning went to Pittsburgh and spent the day with his brother, Dr. A. L. Sionaker, Tuesday morning he went to Gettysburg to attend the State Sabbath School Convention which convenes in that city Sept. 10, 11 and 12. Before leaving Tionesta Dr. Sionaker received an invitation to attend the dinner given by Mr. H. J. Heinz, of Pittsburgh, Pa., to the state officers and county association presidents. He will not return to preach in Tionesta next Sabbath. The pulpit will be filled by Rev. P. W. Sinks, of Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Sinks is a fine man and a strong preacher.

—At the meeting of the Free Methodist conference of Pittsburgh at Tarentum, on the 5th inst., Rev. A. D. Zahniser, a former Tionesta minister, was re-elected elder of the Pittsburgh district. He was also elected a delegate to the General Conference, and placed on the committee to prepare a memorial asking that evangelists be allowed a voice and vote in annual conferences.

—The REPUBLICAN will take your order for engraved calling cards, or will print them so closely imitating the engraved card that only an expert can distinguish between them. Card invitations, including envelopes, for luncheon parties and other social functions, printed in engraved effect cheaper than you can buy the stationary and write them. See our samples and get prices.

—Attention is directed to J. C. Scowden's new ad., fourth page of this paper, Mr. S. is nicely stocked up in all lines of fall and winter goods, and asks the public to give him a call when in need. His line of ammunition for the hunting season is the kind that sportsmen want, the best shells and best load on the market. Get your ammunition from Scowden and your game bag will always present a respectable appearance.

—An exchange makes a good point in the following terse manner: John Wamaker was Postmaster General under a Republican administration, Charles Emory Smith was also Postmaster General under a Republican administration, Lewis Emery served in the State Senate once as a Republican. Three disappointed Republican office seekers are now running the Democratic campaign for the sole reason that they could not run the Republican party.

—J. R. Ault, of Tylersburg, was called to Clintonville, Venango county, last week, to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, John Seaton, whose death occurred on the 29th ult., the burial taking place on the 3d inst. The deceased was aged 78 years, and leaves one daughter surviving him. He was a resident of this section for many years, and many of the older inhabitants still remember him as an honorable, upright man, who bore the respect of all who knew him.

—James Campbell, the postmaster at Lynch, this county, died on Friday last. We are without particulars as to the cause of death, but understand it was sudden. He was about 30 years of age, and when a boy had sustained an injury to one of his legs, necessitating the amputation of the same between the ankle and knee. The funeral was held on Sunday, with interment at Barnes. Mr. Campbell was an industrious man, very much respected in his community.

—Miss Edna Agnew, who is teaching the Cooper Tract school in Howe township, had three rather unwelcome callers at her school one day last week during school hours. A mother bear brought two cubs to school, coming quite close to the school house door and then wandering off into the woods. Miss Edna naively remarked in a letter to her mother here that she "didn't think they were vaccinated, either." Who says our teachers aren't made of the right kind of stuff.

—Joseph J. Carson, one of Harmony township's well known citizens was attacked while walking along the public road about three miles up Hunter run a day or so ago. It was dark and Mr. Carson was carrying an umbrella and did not see his assailant, who struck him a vicious blow in the face, knocking him to his knees. When he regained his feet the cowardly miscreant had disappeared in the woods. Mr. Carson thinks the assault was intended for some other person.

—Hon. J. H. Robertson returned from the capitol dedication at Harrisburg last Friday, where he heard President Roosevelt deliver the speech of his life. Mr. R. says the crowd was immense, and that the new capitol is simply grand beyond compare, and that any Pennsylvania who sees it and whose heart does not swell with pride for his State, can have little loyalty in his make-up. People who went there to criticize came away singing the praises of the magnificent edifice.

—The logging train on the road up Salmon creek met with an accident Friday about two miles from the company's mills. While coming down the grade and rounding a sharp curve the car on which the log loader was stationed jumped the track and the loader, a big concern weighing over 20 tons, toppled over. Two men on the car at the time were luckily so situated that they could jump, otherwise both must have been killed. They sustained some injuries, but not of a serious nature.

—Our candidate for Congress, Hon. Nelson P. Wheeler, who came down from Endeavor to meet Messrs. Stuart and Murphy, spent a portion of the day here, calling on his friends and making new ones. He was accompanied by his private secretary, Gus B. Evans, who has a good eye and is an excellent man to look after the details of his campaign. The candidate, who freely admits he is not a politician, has a most charming personality, a pleasing candor and an air of independence which is most refreshing.—Oil City Blizzard.

—We are indebted to a friend for an excellent photograph of the monster gas well struck near Kane, Pa., two weeks ago. This well, which is blowing off gas at the rate of about forty million feet every 24 hours, is still unbridled, the owners having been unsuccessful in their efforts to get the big spouter under control. The Pennsylvania Gas company has purchased the property from Mr. Keeler, who owned the lease, and the price paid is placed at figures all the way from $100,000 to $200,000. It is the greatest gas well in the world.

—The P. R. R. water tank near the Tionesta station collapsed with a crash that could be heard for a long distance, shortly after eight o'clock Sunday evening. The tank was built of wood and had a capacity of 1,500 barrels, and for the first time this summer was full to the brim on Sunday. It was weakened by age and could not withstand the extra pressure put upon it and consequently was completely wrecked. The small tool house beside the tank was smashed flat to the ground by the weight of the water and the side of the boiler and pump house was crushed in. Fortunately no one was near the tank when the flood came down. The tank will likely be replaced by a steel one on the same location.

—Fire broke out about daylight Saturday in the large four-story warehouse of the Pickett Hardware Company, Ltd., Warren, and for a time threatened the business section of the city. The firemen worked under difficulty on account of the frequent explosions of oils, powder and fulminating caps stored in the building, but the flames were finally controlled with a property loss of nearly $60,000. Three firemen were seriously injured by the falling of a ladder. The fire was caused by lightning carried into the building on electric wires.

—Orrin D. Butterfield, of Falls Creek, Pa., died on the 30th inst., at the DuBois hospital, where he was undergoing treatment for hernia. The deceased was born at Clarington, this county, 43 years ago, where he had resided the greater portion of his life. He is survived by his wife and four children; also by his mother, and two sisters, Mrs. A. R. Braden, of Clarington, and Mrs. A. J. Wallace, of Cadiz, Ohio. He was a brother-in-law of our townsman, L. Agnew, who attended the funeral last week. Mr. Butterfield was highly respected by all who knew him.

—The sermon of Rev. Paul J. Sionaker, Ph. D., on the text "Shut the door," appears on the fourth page of this paper. The sermon was delivered in the Presbyterian church of Tionesta on September 17. A sermon with the same text, by Rev. Dr. Guntzhaus, of Chicago, was printed in the Democratic Vindicator on September 27th, ten days after Dr. Sionaker delivered his sermon. The sermon by Dr. Guntzhaus is on the fourth page of the Vindicator issued September 27th. You are invited to read both of these sermons and compare them carefully lest either of the reverend gentlemen be accused of copying from the other.

—The American Union is the name of a new company that has absorbed about every independent telephone company in the eastern states, both great and small, the merger being effected within the past few days. The capitalization of the new concern is placed at twenty-five million dollars. There are 15 companies in the combine, with 40,000 phones in actual use and there are ten long distance lines embraced in the deal, and the states involved are Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia. About all the county phone companies in this state are taken into the new combination, but we note that the Forest county company is not among those that have been absorbed.

—T. D. Collins, Esq., the Republican nominee for Assembly in Forest county, is moving about and calling on the voters in the interest of his candidacy and is meeting with splendid encouragement wherever he has been. Mr. Collins expects to meet the voters of every election precinct in the county before the 6th of November, thus showing a willingness to do his share in upholding the principles of his party and insuring a good majority for the whole ticket. Mr. Collins has been a wonderfully busy man all his life, and when it comes to stirring up the voters and awakening an interest in politics he's just as energetic and as successful as ever, and that he will be elected by a rousing good majority there is not a particle of doubt.

—Mr. Rex Ralston, manager of the writer, Pa., Y. M. C. A. basket ball team, writes the "sporting editor" of the REPUBLICAN to know if his bunch can arrange a game with "our team" on the occasion of their tour through this territory. Tionesta, to the best of our knowledge, has never entertained a basket ball team, and if there's any one here that has ever indulged in this exciting pastime we'd like if he'd introduce himself to the "sporting ed." so that a game may be arranged. Our boys have licked about everything that has shown up here on the base ball diamond, including Butler county's fastest bunch, and while we have no basket ballers in our midst we doubt not that a bunch could be gathered up on the spur of the moment that would make it entertaining for these Butler sports.

—B. G. Hinkley has received notice from his attorneys at Washington that his (Hinkley's) claim against the government will be put before congress, possibly at the next term. It is a claim for money paid to the government as an oil tax in war times by Mr. Hinkley, after the law providing for the taxation had been repealed. It was through the mistake of the collectors that the tax was paid and Mr. Hinkley's claim is a just one. It is authenticated by ample proof. The claim, including the principal and interest, amounts to about $3,000. Mr. Hinkley will soon go to Washington and accelerate matters by having an interview with President Roosevelt. The President believes in giving every man a square deal and he will be interested in the claim of the pioneer oil refiner from Bradford Era.

—The rains of the past few days, while cold and disagreeable to mankind in general, were delightfully welcomed by our river lumbermen, who are thus enabled to move their large consignments of barges and boat bottoms to the lower markets. The Forest Barge company at Hickory have on the way and will start 30 barges on this flood. The Warren Lumber company at Grunderville have 21 barges and 18 boat bottoms on the way to Pittsburgh, making the largest single shipment these concerns have ever had from this section. The Nebraska companies have started 15 barges and 6 boat bottoms. This makes a total of 63 pieces that will find their way to Pittsburgh during the next ten days or two weeks, depending on the weather. The river is in fine stage at present for running, but when there is the least wind going it is impossible to handle the big barges, which float about like a monster egg shell, and it is often necessary to run after night when the weather is calm. All of this output is already sold or contracted for, and the owners have only to go and consign to a settlement when the boats have been landed at port.

—Opening Day.—The Way to Buy a Coat.

Meth, representing Seidenburg & Rich, one of the largest cloak manufacturers in the country, will be at Hopkins' store on Friday, Oct. 19th, all day, with a complete line of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Coats and Jackets and Fur. Everybody invited to come, see the styles and buy your fall and winter coat, if the style and price is satisfactory. Don't forget the date, Oct. 19th, at Hopkins' store.

Little, better remembered by most of our citizens as Miss Hattie Tobey, renewing her subscription to the REPUBLICAN, states that they have moved from Louisville to Oak Park, Ill., where Mr. Little is engaged as Mechanical Engineer for the Chicago & Northwestern R. R., and they like their new home very much.

She is still confined to her bed, but has recovered so far as to be able to talk and move her arm and hand, her entire right side being paralyzed.—Sheffield Observer, Mrs. Noblit is the mother of our townsman, ex-Sheriff Noblit.

—Charles F. Carson and Miss Pearl Siggins, both of West Hickory, were married at the Presbyterian manse, Franklin, by Rev. R. B. Beattie, on Wednesday, October 3, 1906. "Fred," as we know him best, was a former Tionesta boy, and is one of the steady, correct young men of his community, whose popularity is limited only by his acquaintanceship. His accomplished bride is the daughter of "Squire and Mrs. W. P. Siggins, and is also one of the popular and highly esteemed young ladies of the neighborhood. The REPUBLICAN joins the many friends of the happy couple in extending congratulations and best wishes for the future.

—Mrs. Leonard Agnew returned Monday morning from Gaston, Oregon, where she spent the past three months visiting her mother, brother and uncle. Her brother, Robert Carson, is managing the large farm for his uncle John, who is now in his 81st year, but still quite hale and hearty, as is also her mother, who went from here to live with her brother about four years ago. We are indebted to our friend Robert for a liberal supply of pears and prunes raised and cured on their farm, far exceeding anything of the kind usually obtained in the markets of this country, and if these are a fair sample of what grows in that section we'd like to be there while the season's on, anyway. Mrs. Agnew enjoyed her trip greatly, having been in good health during her entire stay.

—Have you tried the Queen Quality shoes for ladies? None nicer and few as nice. Hopkins' store is the only place you can get them.

Osgood Family Reunion.

The ninth annual reunion of the Osgood Family was held at the pleasant home of Ernest J. Behrens, near Starr, on Saturday, Oct. 6th, and considering the inclemency of the weather, was well attended. It being impossible to serve the dinner in the regular picnic style as heretofore, out-of-doors, the large sitting room in the Behrens' homestead was utilized for that purpose and nearly all present were seated at the beautifully spread tables, and a good time was enjoyed, the only feature to mar the pleasure of the occasion being the absence of Mother Osgood, who was "called home" a little more than a month ago.

At the business meeting the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, W. B. Osgood; secretary, J. H. Osgood; treasurer, W. L. Osgood; cor. secretary, G. W. Osgood.

The following members of the family were present: G. W. Osgood and family 5, Edward Osgood and family 6, W. B. Osgood and family 4, E. J. Behrens and family 5, W. F. Jones and wife 2, W. L. Osgood 1, in all 23. Invited guests present: Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Ledebur, Richard Ledebur and family, Mrs. Fred Diekrager and children, Mrs. Ed. Kiser and family, and Charles Bankhead, of Endeavor. Mr. Bankhead brought with him his excellent phonograph and entertained the party with many fine selections.

Taken all in all it was a very pleasant gathering, thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The next reunion will be held at the home of Otto Rudolph at Oster Camp, Hickory township, on the first Saturday in September, 1907.

An Awful Cough Cured.

"Two years ago our little girl had a touch of pneumonia, which left her with an awful cough. She had spells of coughing, just like one with the whooping cough and some thought she would not get well. We got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. She stopped coughing and got stout and fat." writes Mrs. Ora Bussard, Brubaker, Ill. This remedy is for sale by Dunn & Fulton.

—Six months ago I was very thin, pale and weak. In the morning I would feel dull and sleepy and not rested. I had made up my mind to go out of business, when a friend urged me to try Thompson's Barosma. Four bottles of Thompson's Barosma restored my health entirely, and I gained 55 pounds in weight. C. L. When it Rains

A heavy Overcoat is like a blotter. It absorbs the rain and after a good wetting is a shapeless, soggy affair.

Our Rain Coats are overcoats whose fabric has been made water-tight by the famous "Cravenette" process. Rain or any other variety of bad weather is the same to them as sunshine. They're made in every style, and out of every kind of cloth that regular overcoats are built of. They cost no more than any other good overcoat that hasn't the advantages of the "Cravenette" process. $12, $15, $18, $20 to $25.

Boys' Rain Coats

12 to 16 size, made, trimmed and cut on same line as men's and "Cravenette" waterproofing. $8 to $10.

Note

"Priestley Cravenette" is a waterproofing process that can be applied to any quality cloth, and therefore the name "Priestley Cravenette" means you have the best waterproofing known, but does not guarantee the goodness of your Rain Coat. MORAL—Know your clothing man.
