A mink killed sixteen Plymouth Rock chickens for Mrs. Wm. H. Hunter of the West Side last Friday night. Mr. Mink got what was coming to him when Joseph Keem found him fast in two of his steel traps in the chicken house Sunday morning.

Owing to the serious illness of Capt. John M. Clapp, at his summer home at Lakewood, N. Y., he will not be able to attend the reunion of his regiment at Tidoute this week, for which he had made quite elaborate arrangements. Mr. Clapp's many friends in this section will hope for his speedy recovery.

These are fine days for work on the new macadam road at Tubbs run, and Contractor Bigley is progressing very nicely with his job. It is hardly to be expected that the stretch will be completed this fall, but if this sort of weather continues for a month or so the new thoroughfare will be pretty well along, just the same.

Attention is directed to the stove advertisement of the Tionesta Hardware. In this connection Mr. Sigworth wishes to announce that he has purchased the entire stove stock and repairs of G. W. Robinson & Son, and the latter firm will not handle this line in the future. Call on the Tionesta Hardware when you want a good stove.

Gr E. Gerow, of the Central House, has three acres of record-breaking corn on the Fitzgerald farm, down the river. The field was planted in the Kansas Early Dent variety, and it has grown to enormous proportions. Almost all of it will measure twelve feet high, some going to fifteen feet. It will measure over five feet to the first ear.

The November election ballot this year will have twelve party squares. The twelve parties having candidates for the four state offices to be elected this year are: Republican, Democrat, Prohibitionist, Lincoln, Socialist, Socialist Labor, Referendum, Jefferson, Citizens, City, Union Labor and Commonwealth. Well, all Republicans will have to do will be to find the Republican square, cross it, put it in the box, and go home with the knowledge that they have done their full duty. But Lord help the fellows that are out after strange gods and parties.—Tidoute News.

Sad Drowning Accident.

A sad drowning accident occurred at East Hickory Tuesday evening at five o'clock, when May, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Andrews, of that place, was drowned in Hickory creek. The creek skirts the Andrews home, in the upper part of East Hickory, and Mrs. Andrews had gone to the store leaving her daughter playing in the yard with several other children. Shortly after the mother left the child fell into the water and was drowned, the other children being too small to rescue her. When taken from the water shortly after Mrs. Andrews' return, the child was found to be dead and could not be revived. The loss of their little girl is a sad blow to Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, who have been deeply afflicted in the past, and the sympathy of the whole community goes out to them. Two of their children were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their home at East Hickory several years ago. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon.

A cinnamon bear killed near Geneva by a Grove City hunter last week turned out to be the trained animal of a pair of wandering Italians. The bear escaped from them and they were close upon its trail when they learned its fate. It is said that they wept profusely, and declared that they had lost their best friend as well as the principal means of a livelihood.

We are in receipt of a little booklet from the Meadville Commercial College entitled Simplified Spelling, which gives the 300 words approved by the Simplified Spelling Board and recommended by President Roosevelt. The booklet is nicely gotten up and will be sent to anyone who is interested upon application to the Meadville Commercial College, Meadville, Pa.

Giving the cause of the death of James Campbell, at Lynch, mention of which we made last week, the Sheffield Observer says: "Some years ago when Mr. Campbell was a boy he had his feet frozen, and later had one foot amputated to prevent the spread of a disease of the bone that followed. Later the disease developed in the other foot and leg, and finally caused his death." Mr. Campbell was aged 34 years, and unmarried.

The first delivery of mail was made yesterday on the new rural route leading from Tionesta, known as Route 1, and extending up the creek to Nebraska, thence through the southern portion of Tionesta township, S. C. Johnston being the contractor, David Sutton, who had been appointed, having declined to accept the task. When once properly in working order and thoroughly understood by the patrons, the service will be greatly appreciated, no doubt.

The little three-year-old daughter of Charles F. Blum, who is residing at Cooper Tract, this county, was taken to the hospital at Oil City Thursday for treatment for a broken thigh and dislocated hip, injuries sustained in falling off the house porch a few days previous. The little sufferer was in great pain and elicited the sympathy of the passengers on the train while on the way to Oil City. Mr. Blum removed temporarily this summer from his farm on Tubbs run to Howe township, where he has his sawmill located.

Realizing that there was some question as to the legality of selling or disposing of game in this state that was killed in another state, the hunters who went to Maine had W. O. Skelton write to Dr. Joseph Kalkfus, the secretary of the State Game Commission, and the following is his reply: "The law of Pennsylvania simply forbids the purchase or sale of deer killed in this Commonwealth. If, therefore, you have deer killed out of the state, you have a perfect right to dispose of the same as you see fit."—Sheffield Observer.

The snow storm of last Wednesday was one of those freaks of nature that seem to visit this latitude about once in 20 years. Between midnight and Thursday morning snow fell to the depth of about four inches, and as the trees still retained their green foliage the appearance of things in the morning was dreary enough. The last great snow which came early in the fall was on the 23rd of September, but just what year is not clearly remembered, some putting it as long as 25 years ago. Considerable damage was done to orchards at that time, as there was in some parts by the storm of last week.

The Ladies' Reading Circle, of Tionesta, held the first meeting of the season Wednesday afternoon, October 24, at the home of Mrs. Weick. The program committee reported an interesting and instructive course of study arranged for the year. The circle will meet Wednesday of each week at 2:30 p. m., the members entertaining in alphabetical order. Any member who fails to be present at three successive meetings, unless out of town or detained by illness, will be dropped from the roll and the vacancy filled by a new applicant. The object of this is to secure a full attendance in order that the program may be carried out and that the interest may not lessen. It is hoped that all members will be present at the next meeting.

The forty-second annual State Sabbath School Convention which convened at Gettysburg last week was a great spiritual power. The grace of God was manifest in the entire convention. The Hon. John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, has been president of the association for thirteen years, but retires from this position, and the honor was conferred upon Mr. H. J. Heinz, of Pittsburgh. Twenty thousand dollars was pledged for the work of the coming year. Rev. Paul J. Slonaker, Mrs. G. F. Watson and Mrs. Orion Siggins represented Forest county at this great gathering at Gettysburg. The convention closed Friday night and all delegates felt they had not only been filled with enthusiasm for the Master's kingdom but with patriotism for their country.

Opening Day—The Way to Buy a Coat.

James Beatty has given up a lucrative position as filer at the extensive lumbering plant at Endeavor to accept a similar one at Arrow, Somerset county, Pa., and has moved his family to that place. James is an expert at his business and will please his employers, we're sure.

Ex-Sheriff Noblit has moved his family to Tidoute, where he has purchased the stand of one of the leading blacksmiths of that place. George is a good mechanic, and his many Forest county friends, while regretting his departure from amongst them, will wish him greatest success in his new home.

Marion Small, of Nebraska, was obliged to give up a proposed trip down the river on a fleet of barges and return home last week on account of sickness, which has since developed into a pronounced case of pneumonia. He was doing well at last accounts and his physician feels assured that he will recover without serious consequences.

Rev. and Mrs. Frank McClelland, formerly prominent in Free Methodist churches of this section, are here from Port Allegany, where they have been located during the past year. At the last session of the conference Rev. McClelland was transferred to Pittsburgh, where he will have charge of Providence Mission and Resene Home, a work for which both he and his wife are admirably suited.—Titusville Herald.

Cashier A. B. Kelly of the Forest Co. National bank in Chicago this week, where Mrs. Kelly has been visiting the past three weeks. On Saturday next they will witness the marriage of their son, Benjamin, to Miss Bessie Ford, one of Chicago's accomplished young daughters. The wedding will take place at the home of the parents of the bride-to-be, and will be a quiet home affair, attended only by the near relatives of the young people. Ben's host of Tionesta friends extend hearty congratulations in advance of the happy event.

RECENT DEATHS.

JAMES WOODINGTON.
James Woodington was born in Montgomery county, Pa., Aug. 14, 1829, and died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. S. Clark, Tionesta township, Forest county, Pa., October 12, 1906, at 11 o'clock p. m., his disease being of the kidneys and bowels. About thirty-four years ago Mr. Woodington removed from his native community to Tionesta, where he followed his avocation of carpenter for a number of years, and where he was married to Mrs. Mary M. Riddle. He had since resided at Edenburg, Franklin and Oil City, returning to Tionesta about 14 years ago, where, 12 years ago, his wife died, after which he spent two or three years at the Erie Soldiers Home. For the past year or more he had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Clark, at the farm on Hunter Run, where, as stated, he died. Mr. Woodington was a private in Co. C, 27th Pa. Volunteer Regiment, and served until mustered out July 31, 1863. He was twice married, two daughters being born to the first marriage, Mrs. Clark, who survives, and Mrs. Robert C. Shriver, deceased. Mr. Woodington was an honest man, all his dealings with his fellowmen being upright and honorable, and as such he leaves behind many friends who will miss him. Funeral services, conducted by Rev. I. W. Strong, were held at his late home Sunday, with interment in Riverside cemetery.

ROYAL E. SCOTT.
Royal E. Scott, of Fagundus, Pa., died at his home Wednesday night, Oct. 10, 1906, after a year's illness of heart disease. He was born at Allentown, Allegany county, N. Y., Aug. 6, 1828, so that he had attained the ripe age of 78 years, 2 months and 4 days. November 23, 1852, he was united in marriage with Elizabeth N. Mackey, of Franklin, Pa., who died nearly twenty-five years ago. Eight children blessed this union, three of whom are dead, leaving surviving Geo. B., of McGraw, Pa., Harry B. and Fred. M., of Chelsea, Ind. Ter., Mrs. Julia A. Clark and Edward, who live at home.
Mr. Scott had been blind for the past twenty-five years, but it was "wonderful" how he would get around the house and on the farm. He would go to the church more than one-half mile from home and conduct the weekly prayer meeting, locating himself on the road by the sound of the different oil wells pumping along the way. He was a lifelong member of the M. E. church, and had filled every office to which a layman was eligible, with credit and acceptability. He was one of the organizers of the Fagundus church, and largely through his efforts the society was kept together. He was their leader through all the years of his affliction, never for a moment losing courage. He trusted everything to God, believing that all His promises would be fulfilled. He was loved by all who knew him, and will be greatly missed in the community of which he was the oldest resident. With Paul he could say, "I have fought a good fight; I have finished my course; I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord the righteous judge shall give me at that day; and not only that, but unto all them also that love his appearing."
Funeral services were conducted from his late residence Sunday at 10 a. m., after which the body was laid to rest beside that of his wife in the Nettown cemetery, Rev. J. N. Fradenberg, of Tidoute, officiating.

MRS. MATHESON.
In the death of Alma Gilson Matheson, which occurred at the family home at Saybrook, Warren county, Pa., Oct. 5th, 1906, there has been removed one of the best types of noble womanhood, and the memory of a beautiful and useful life clings to those who knew and loved her. Mrs. Matheson had been a sufferer for several years, but she had nearly always been able to attend to her household duties and take part in the church work of her home community until the last few months, when her failing health precluded that the distance between her earthly life and the grave was gradually growing shorter, and the end came not unexpectedly. All possible was done to stay the hand of the grim reaper, and loving hands and hearts cared for her tenderly through her sickness and suffering until the last. For nineteen years Mrs. Matheson had been a faithful and consistent christian and she was ready to go when the summons of her Master came. Hers was a beautiful life and although she will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends, and especially by those who knew her best and loved her most, heaven will be all the richer for her presence there. No fairer flower has ever been plucked from the garden of earth. The loss of the wife and mother is a sad blow to the family and friends, but they have the consolation of knowing that she whom they loved has gone to meet her children and her father and brother, who led the way, and now she, with them, awaits the loved ones left behind. The real life, the genuine family reunion, is that which is promised for the future.

Alma Gilson Matheson was born at Barnes, Warren county, Pa., Dec. 21st, 1839. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus P. Gilson. She was united in marriage with Thomas C. Matheson, April 12, 1879, and nine children were the fruit of this union, four having died in infancy, leaving five living, namely: Fred. G., Mrs. T. A. Farnsworth, Annie, Charles and Ruth, all of Saybrook. She is also survived by her husband, her mother, two brothers, Charles and Omer, and one sister, Mrs. Geo. W. Noblit. The funeral services were held at the home by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Jones, of the M. E. church. There was a large concourse of relatives and friends at the home and many followed the remains to the Barnes cemetery. The pall bearers were all relatives of the deceased. The floral tributes were profuse and beautiful. G. W. N.

From Washington.

COLUMBIA, WASH., Oct. 9, 1906. To My Friends in the East:
We are all feeling considerably better about the Forest Reserve than when I wrote my last letter. We have received word through our Congressman that it is not the intention of the government to take any land as forest reserve that would make good tillable land. If this be true there will be a great many good claims to be taken yet. People are still staking claims on the Forest Reserve, three claims having been taken in the last ten days.

I attended the county fair at this place two days. The exhibits of fruits and vegetables were as nice as I ever saw anywhere.
My sister Rebecca came here from Forest county, Penn.; I saw her, Sept. 19th, and has now taken a claim near mine.
Deer season came in Sept. 15th and on the 20th I was successful in getting my first deer. The meat is fine. Not a great deal unlike a good quality of beef. Deer are quite plenty, but they are shy and hard to get.

Our township is now being surveyed and we hope to know in a short time where our lines are.
Yours Truly,
B. F. HUGHES.

Letter to C. F. Weaver,
Tionesta, Pa.

DEAR SIR—Here's a tale with three or four tails to it.
Professor Irvine has an Academy, Mercersburg, Penn. He paints the floors in summer vacation. It used to take 90 gallons of paint. There were two paint-stores there, and he used to buy (one year of one, next year of the other) 90 gallons year after year.
Now he paints Devoe; 60 gallons; and the difference is a saving of $150 a year.
H. C. Fallon was one of those dealers, good man; but he wouldn't take up Devoe; so we turned to the other, J. A. Boyd. But Fallon has found it necessary to get a good paint to compete with Devoe. He has a big hardware store and is doing an excellent hardware business; but Boyd, of course, has the Run on paint—he's a little hardware man.

We don't care how little or big a man is, if he wants good paint and is active and sound.
Yours truly,
F. W. DEVORE & Co.,
New York.
