Down with the bosses, shouts Hearst; 'let me run things.'—Phila. Press. Down with the bosses, shouts Emery; 'let me run things.'

GET ready to cast your vote for the straight Republican ticket. A better, cleaner or more worthy ticket from top to bottom was never placed before the people.

A VOTE for T. D. Collins is a vote to send an able and honest representative to Harrisburg, who will labor for and support none but the best legislation for the people. Give him your earnest support.

FOREST COUNTY should give Nelson P. Wheeler a well nigh unanimous vote for Congress. Let us show our appreciation and pride in the fact that, in this great district, one of the largest in the state, the Republicans came to Forest county to get a good candidate for Congress.

If T. D. Collins is willing to give his time, means and talents toward giving Forest county an able representative in the State Legislature, the people should not be slow to avail themselves of the opportunity to send him to Harrisburg by a rousing majority. And we believe they will.

SOME of the men in this section, who not only worked energetically for Mr. Emery, when he was a candidate for Congress, but also spent their own coin in his behalf, are not for him at present. They found him as ungrateful as egotistical, and when he intimated that they 'tried to rob him' they concluded they had gone far enough with him. So far as they are concerned the frost is on the Emery pumpkin good and plenty.—Oil City Blizzard.

SPEAKING of Edwin S. Stuart's promises on the platform, the Philadelphia North American, leading fusion newspaper of Pennsylvania, says: 'Philadelphians, of one political faith or another, know that Mr. Stuart actually means what he says and that, if he shall be elected, the whole power of his great office will be exerted to turn his promises into actual achievements. The reform cause is not going to fail, even if some reformers shall not succeed in getting possession of the office.'

LIDLITER Berry, the brickyard promoter, and all round reformer—of other people—has not yet produced his capitol graft evidence to Attorney Carson, who says he is ready to proceed legally the moment Mr. Immaculate Berry's evidence is forthcoming. Why don't you 'put up or shut up,' Mr. Bill Berry? To make wild charges and not be able to prove them makes you the laughing stock of the public. As the late lamented Artemus Ward would have said, 'your father, the elder Berry, would not have been such a goose, Berry.'

Everybody works but Berry—He runs round all day, Draws his reg'lar wages, Helps the jackass bray, When he needs stuff for brickyards Does Willie pass the hat? Not on your gaudy tintype! He's too sleek for that.

Ever since he's heard about Emery Willie's on the path, Vomiting out much language On capitol aftermath, The reform crowd hangs out washing 'We washed everything fine,' But none of the brickyard linen Is on their line. —Brookville Republican.

MR. EMERY manages to 'put his foot in it' nearly every time he opens his mouth. In addressing some laboring men at Baurer, last Saturday, he said: 'You workmen poll more than 1,000,000 votes in this Commonwealth. If you would but use the enormous power at your command intelligently you could control the Legislature of the state. Some of you have had so little regard for the precious right of suffrage that you have sold your votes. Think of a man weighing 150 pounds selling himself for $1.00, a little over half a cent a pound, when pork is selling at 12 cents a pound.' It is doubtful whether another man in all the State could have been nominated for Governor who would make such fearful breaks as this same Emery. Comparing laboring men with hogs is about the limit, and to intimate that they would sell themselves by the scores is an insult calling for the sternest rebuke.

Hon. NELSON P. WHEELER.

Nelson P. Wheeler.

Hon. Nelson P. Wheeler, the Republican nominee for Congress in the 28th District, comprising the counties of Elk Forest, Mercer, Venango and Warren, was born in Portville, N. Y., on November 4th, 1841. As a boy he went to the public school in his native town, later driving each morning to Olean Academy six miles distant, and though the way in winter was long and cold, he was never late to school. He afterwards attended academies in Deposit and Homer, N. Y. He never went through a college, but his hand, mind and heart have been trained in the broader university of actual life. He never took a degree as civil engineer, but can survey land, lay out a railroad, or prove lines as well as the average engineer. He never studied law, but can hunt up arguments and adjust legal points equal to a lawyer.

Mr. Wheeler's grandfather and father before him being lumbermen, it was natural that the subject of our sketch should take up that line of business, beginning in a small way with a water mill at Newtown, on Tionesta Creek, when quite a young man, when it required a day's journey over the roughest of roads to reach the railroad. The business has gone on increasing under his careful management until the firm of Wheeler & Dusenbury has a plant not excelled by any firm in Pennsylvania, and best of all, a name for honesty, integrity and right dealing that has never truthfully been impeached. The headquarters of the firm are at Endeavor, Forest county, where Mr. Wheeler has lived—with the exception of ten years that his family were in Tidoulet to enjoy the advantage of the excellent schools of that place—for thirty-five years. Mr. Wheeler is a director in the Warren National Bank, also in the Forest County National Bank in Tionesta, and has lumber interests in Michigan and the west. He was County Commissioner until very twenty-five years old, and has held various township offices. He served in the State Legislature and did good work for his constituents in '78 and '79, but refused a second nomination on account of being needed in his business.

Mr. Wheeler is a man who shrinks from publicity; if his own conscience approves of an action that is his greatest reward. He toils constantly, taking breakfast at 6:30 a. m., and from that time on until night falls he is busy. He never had the faculty of skimming over a subject, but must always dig to the roots. His motto has always been to perform every piece of work to the best of his ability, after getting all the information possible, and then not to worry over the results. Twice only has he permitted himself a vacation, once in 1896, when he visited England, Scotland and France, and last year when he traveled through the Orient with his wife and daughter, the numberless trips he has made all over the United States and Canada being mainly on business for himself or for the firm. These trips abroad only strengthened and increased his love for his native land, and nothing in his journey delighted him more than to find American locomotives and sewing machines in Jerusalem, and California canned peaches on the desert of Sahara. Mr. Wheeler has earned his living by honest labor and has never made a bad investment where he has trusted his own judgment, therefore he is all the more competent to guard the affairs of state, and will carry the same painstaking earnestness and cautious energy into the making and preserving of our nation's laws.

In business he is the soul of honor, and his employes love and respect him as an honest boy loves his father. Of the thousands of laboring men who have worked for him in his long business career there is not one who would not fight, if need be, in defense of him. Politically Mr. Wheeler has always been a staunch Republican, believing implicitly in the principles of that party. A firm friend of President Roosevelt, he will prove a tower of strength to the President in his efforts to give the people the best government on earth.

As Awful Cough Cured. 'Two years ago our little girl had a touch of pneumonia, which left her with an awful cough. She had spells of coughing, just like one with the whooping cough and some thought she would not get well. We got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. She stopped coughing and got stout and fat,' writes Mrs. Ora Bussard, Brubaker, Ill. This remedy is for sale by Dunn & Fulton.

Canon's Great Speeches. In his great speeches in Philadelphia last Thursday night, he made three on that evening, Speaker Joseph Cannon said: 'On November 6, I hope to hear that Pennsylvania has given 100,000 majority for Stuart and the whole Republican ticket. I am glad to endorse one of your own citizens who is the candidate for Governor. Edwin S. Stuart, I am proud to say, is both a personal and political friend of mine. There is not money enough in the whole Commonwealth of Pennsylvania—nay, in the whole world—to swerve the integrity of the candidates on the Republican ticket. They are worthy of your vote. The Lincoln party is being used by Democrats to aid them in wresting the balance of power from the Republican party. They falsely claim to be followers of Roosevelt. The Democratic platform adopted two months ago is not in accord with the principles of the President. Therefore, how can the Lincoln party stand for the idea of Roosevelt? If you want to hurt your industries and our industries turn down the Republican party and the Republican ticket, that everybody sees you can't better from the standpoint of principle and personality. Under these circumstances you will hurt production where you are now running with energy and hope and enterprise, and you will stop for the next two years and you will merely mark time and you will advance slowly. It is up to you.' Will anybody longer doubt President Roosevelt's wishes in this campaign? Don't you think the President wants to see the whole ticket win in Pennsylvania? Square yourselves now, Republicans, and go to work for the whole ticket from top to bottom. If Emery is so terribly shocked because the hospital appropriations by the state are inadequate and demanding that they should be larger, why is it he 'dodged' when a bill for the establishing of a miners' hospital came up in the Senate while he was a member of that body? Mr. Emery wasn't so friendly to hospitals in those days as he seems to be at present. But Emery wants votes now.

Says Insurance Costs Too Much. Indianapolis, Oct. 23. — A special committee appointed by the governor, which has been investigating the office of the auditor of the state for a year with special reference to mutual and stock life insurance companies, submitted its report to Governor Hanly. The general conclusions of the committee are that 'The cost of life insurance to the public is too high. The present maximum premium rates for insurance are so much in excess of needs as to permit of extravagant management of companies, thefts of their funds, division of profits and other great abuses without rendering the companies insolvent. Indiana insurance companies, like many companies of other states, have been guilty of extravagances and abuses though they have maintained solvency.' Nothing to Fear. M'these need have no hesitation in continuing to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their little ones, as it contains absolutely nothing injurious. This remedy is not only perfectly safe to give small children, but is a medicine of great worth and merit. It has a world wide reputation for its cures of coughs, colds and croup and can always be relied upon.
