Semi-Annual REMNANT SALE!

Friday, Saturday and Monday,
FEBRUARY 22 TO 25, 1907

Twice a Year We Have Remnant Sales.

Heretofore we have advertised from cheapest Print to finest Silk, every remnant is carefully measured and ticketed. The ticket shows number of yards and the regular retail price. Make your own deductions. The difference between Remnant Price and Regular Price is what you save.

The Remnant Sale Price for the entire piece is marked in RED INK. Hundreds and hundreds of remnants.

5 Large Tables and 7 Side Counters With Nothing on But Remnants.

Remnants of Silks, Dress Goods, Linings, Damask, Crash, broideries, Ribbons, Dress Trimmings, &c.
 Outings, Cantons, Flannellette, Muslins, Sheetings, Tickings, Tapestry, Curtain Goods, Lawns, White Goods, Nainsook, Goods and Wash Goods Remnants contain enough for waist, Longcloth, Prints, Ginghams, Percaloes, Seersucker, Laces, Em- skirt or suit.

Odds and Ends Table.

This table is as much enjoyed as the Remnants. From all items, some a trifle soiled, it may be. But nothing on this table but what is marked half price or less.

How We Sell Remnants.

We realize that Remnants are not good property. We accept these as a necessary evil, as it were, and without the least consideration for cost, we put a ridiculously low price on them, so that while the temporary loss is great, we're glad to be rid of them.

Remnant Sale Prices in Our Cloak Room.

A lot of Coats that the price of ranged from $5 to $25, there including Furs, but not including some 25 or 30 New marked at $1 to $5. Suits and Coats—which you will readily distinguish—selling at Other reductions not so great as this, but every other item half price during Remnant Sale.

Remnant Sale prices on some 40 or 50 dozen Ladies', Men's and Children's Hose.
 Remnant Sale prices on Ladies' and Misses' Summer Vests, about 25 dozen.
 Nothing Charged at Remnant Prices.

THAW'S WILL ADMITTED
As Evidence of Insanity at the Time of Shooting.

Will Set Apart $50,000 For Investigation of His Death in Case of a Violent or Suspicious End, and $7,500 to Be Used to Obtain Legal Redress From Stanford White.

New York, Feb. 19.—"I never wanted to shoot the creature. I never wanted to kill him. I knew he was a foul creature, destroying the mothers and daughters of America, but I wanted through legal means to bring him to trial. I wanted to get him into court—to bring him to justice. But Providence took charge of it; it was an act of Providence."

This is Harry K. Thaw's own account of the killing of Stanford White. It was given by him to Dr. Britton D. Evans, the alienist, last August in the Tombs. Dr. Evans repeated the prisoner's words to the jury which is trying Thaw for his life.

District Attorney Jerome fought hard last week against the introduction of this evidence, which the defense believes is conclusive proof that Thaw did not know his act was wrong. But once the testifying physicians had declared that in their opinion Thaw was insane at the time he made the statements to them, the rules as to evidence permitted the introduction of the prisoner's words.

In further bolstering their contention that Thaw was insane when he killed Stanford White, the defendant's counsel succeeded in placing before the jury the will executed by Thaw on the night of his marriage in April, 1905, and a codicil to the will executed at the same time. Again Mr. Jerome fought the evidence, but he significantly withdrew his objections after Dr. Evans testified as his expert opinion that Thaw was insane at the time he executed the will.

Appointment of Commission.
 The fact that the district attorney seems disposed to permit the admission of testimony of every character, provided it is preceded by an opinion by a witness that the man was of unsound mind at the time to which the testimony refers, was taken as further indicating that at the psychological moment, and if he deems his case strong enough, Mr. Jerome may demand the appointment of a commission to pass upon Thaw's state of mind at present.

The will and the codicil, as read to the jurors, were offered in evidence as cumulative evidence of Thaw's mental unsoundness prior to the shooting of White. In his will Thaw provided that his executors should set apart the sum of $50,000 for the investigation of his death in case of a violent or suspicious end, and for the prosecution of the persons suspected of having had a hand in his taking off.

In the codicil Thaw left to a lawyer in Pittsburg the sum of $7,500 to be used to obtain legal redress from Stanford White and one other person, whose name was not allowed to be read, for the benefit of four young women who, Thaw declared, were the victims of "degrading assaults" in a house "furnished and used for orgies by Stanford White and other inhuman scoundrels." The names of the four young women were mentioned by Thaw, but were not made public.

At the end of the day it seemed that Thaw's counsel had made still harder the task to be met when they begin to carry out their plan of having Thaw declared of sound and discerning mind today. Two other physicians will take the stand, Doctors Hammond and Jelliffe, and it is said that it will be part of their function as witnesses to detail the improvement in Thaw's mental condition during the period of his confinement in the Tombs, on the theory that the stress which caused the mental explosion was removed with the death of Stanford White. It was also said that Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw may go on the stand this afternoon to complete her story.

Delmas Again In Control.
 The trial entered its fifth week. The opening of court found Attorney Delphin Michael Delmas again in his accustomed place at the head of Thaw's counsel table. During the day there was no surface indication of the storm which it is said raged among counsel for the defense the latter part of last week after the trial was adjourned because of the death of Juror Bolton's wife. Mr. Bolton was at the criminal court's building early and said that he felt perfectly able to go on with the trial. It was decided that the jurors be not again confined until they retire to reach a verdict.

Dr. Evans, who has been by far the most important witness for the defense among the medical experts, lengthily recounted his conversations with Thaw in the Tombs. He testified how Thaw declared that his lawyers and physicians were in a conspiracy with the district attorney "to railroad" him to an asylum and to prevent his case from coming to trial. He declared that Thaw asserted "they wanted to close this matter up." Thaw told the physician that in his attempts to bring Stanford White to justice he complained to District Attorney Jerome and that the latter told him to let the matter drop; that there was nothing to it. He also complained to Anthony Comstock and to a detective agency.

Dr. Evans was corroborated as to most of Thaw's statements by Dr. Charles G. Wagner of Binghamton, who first figured as a witness early last week.

GOVERNOR HIGGINS' WILL.
Public and Charitable Bequests—Estate Estimated at $14,000,000.

Olean, Feb. 19.—The will of the late ex-Governor Frank Wayland Higgins was admitted to probate yesterday. Bequests of a public and charitable character are as follows:

Rushford Cemetery association for the purchase and improvement of adjoining land $500; for improvement of the cemetery at Centerville, Allegany county, provided that a cemetery association be legally organized within one year, $300; to the Forman library of Olean for the purchase of scientific and historical books to be selected by the widow and sister of the testator and the sister's husband, $2,000.

To the Western New York Society for the Protection of Homeless and Friendless Children of Randolph, N. Y., $5,000; to the Olean general hospital, $10,000; to the trustees under the will the sum of $10,000, the income of which is to be expended by them in maintaining and beautifying the public square or park on the north side of testator's residence in Olean during the lifetime of the testator's widow or until she shall cease to occupy the residence.

Bequests are made to the testator's rector, personal friends, employes and servants.

Trusts are created for the benefit of the testator's wife and children and the wife is made the sole residuary legatee.

The executors are Frank L. Bartlett, N. V. Franchot, who with his son-in-law, Frank Sullivan Smith, are named as trustees under the will. The testator directs that neither the executors nor the trustees shall be required to give bond. The executors are vested with power to sell and convey real estate.

No mention is made of the value of the estate, but it is estimated to be worth between $14,000,000 and $16,000,000.

Towerman Convicted of Manslaughter.
 New York, Feb. 19.—Cornelius A. Jackson, who was the towerman at Ninth avenue and 52nd street on Sept. 11, 1905, when a Ninth avenue "L" train ran off the track at the curve and one car fell to the street, killing 12 and wounding 28, was convicted of manslaughter in the second degree yesterday. A strong recommendation for mercy accompanied the verdict of the jury. Jackson will be sentenced on Thursday. He was tried on the specified charge of causing the death of Solomon Newgas, who was the motorman of the train, which was bound down town during the rush hours of the morning. Kelly fled after the accident and has never been found.
