

—Palm Sunday was observed at St. Augustine's church, this place, last Sabbath by the customary distribution of palms, in commemoration of the triumphant entrance of the Saviour into Jerusalem. Rev. Father A. H. Wiersbinski, the pastor, conducted the services, which were quite largely attended.

—Helen, the 14-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Kerr, of West Hickory, died at Circleville, Ohio, where the family has been visiting, on Saturday night last. The little girl was a bright, lovable child, who had a large circle of friends that will miss her and mourn her early demise. Her illness was spinal meningitis, and she was sick but 24 hours. The funeral was held yesterday at Circleville.

—Four petitions are being circulated among citizens of Titusville praying the Crawford county court to declare vacant the eight seats of the members of the school board in that city and appoint eight other men to take their places. The board is in a snarl over the election of a president and are unable to agree as to which one shall hold the office. Several hundred ballots have been cast without result. It has not been determined when the petitions will be presented to the court.

—Philip Gloss, aged 80 years, died at his home at Elk City, Clarion county, on Saturday last, after an illness incident to old age lasting about a year. Eight years ago he was united in marriage with Mrs. Gilbert Jamieson, step-mother of J. W. and Quintain Jamieson, of Tionesta, who survives him. Three sons and two daughters by a former marriage also survive. The funeral services will be held today, Wednesday, at 2 p. m., from his late home. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jamieson and Quintain Jamieson and daughter, Janet, are in attendance.

—Attention is directed to the ad. of the Monarch Clothing Co. in this issue of the REPUBLICAN. The Monarch is one of the leading clothing and ladies' and gentlemen's furnishing establishments of this section of the State, and their reputation for fair dealing has brought the institution an immense patronage from far and wide. They handle the best products of the eastern markets, and buy in such immense quantities that they can usually undersell all competition. Customers are invited to call and examine their great stock, which is always cheerfully shown, whether you become a purchaser or not.

—The weather of the past week has been such as to lead us to believe we had been summarily yanked out of the grip of winter and landed squarely in the lap of summer. The sensation has not been a disagreeable one, notwithstanding its extreme suddenness, but it's somewhat of a botheration to know whether its going to last, and what effect on the fruit crop is going to be. With the thermometer raging along in the 80s the buds on many of the softer trees have swollen greatly, while some have actually burst their bounds and timely leaves have formed. So there's liable to be trouble when Jack frost gets in his work later on. But let's not worry till we reach the bridge—it may carry us over safely.

—Thirty thousand dollars' loss was caused Monday by the destruction of 11 ice houses at Stoneboro, the property of the Chautauque Lake and Stoneboro Ice company of Oil City. The origin of the fire is unknown. The flames were first seen at 5:15 a. m. by a resident of the borough. Meagre fire apparatus of the village was not sufficient. A special car was arranged for with the Lake Shore and a number of Franklin firemen were on their way to Stoneboro shortly after 11 o'clock. Arriving there the fire ladders brought their large steamer into play and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon had the conflagration under control. Six mammoth piles of ice, forty or fifty feet in height, lie uncovered and the ice will spool unlessspeedily covered.

—Mrs. Clark Steele, of Mayburg, had both hands quite badly bitten by the family cat at her home about ten days ago. The lacerations were so severe that Dr. Deter was called to attend her, and when the physician learned the history of the case, he advised the sending of the cat's head to a specialist in hydrophobia for analysis, the cat having died next day. This was done, and word came back that evidences of rabies had been discovered, and Mr. and Mrs. Steele left immediately for Pittsburgh, where she has been receiving the Pasteur treatment at Mercy hospital, and at last accounts was doing well. It seems the cat had been acting strangely for several days, and on this particular occasion had perched itself upon a barrel on the porch. When Mrs. Steele attempted to drive it off, the cat turned upon her viciously and inflicted the wounds mentioned.

—Paris is showing a hat on the toque order, which is known as the airship, writes Grace Margaret Gould in Woman's Home Companion for April. This hat takes its name from its likeness in shape to an airship. It is made up in soft straw braid, and will be one of the season's extreme novelties. Many sailor hats will also be worn all through spring and summer. A very fashionable sailor is a rather large shape with the brim wider on one side and at the back than on the other. In regard to straws, leghorn not only in its natural color, but dyed in such shades as sage-green, old rose, blue and apricot, will be much used. A mossy straw known as cavelli will be made up in many toques, mushrooms and turbans. Smooth, thin chip hats will be fashionable, and also those of milan straw. Neapolitan will be used all through the season, cleverly combined with a firm straw.

—At a congregational meeting held at the Presbyterian church last Friday evening, it was decided by a practically unanimous vote to extend a call to the pastorate of the church to Rev. Mr. Bailey, who is now stationed at Callensburg, Clarion county, where he has faithfully served two congregations for the past five years. Mr. Bailey has occupied the pulpit here on two occasions, and the choice fell to him after very careful consideration of the question in all its phases, and from all reports it would seem the congregation has chosen wisely. Rev. J. F. Scherer, of Endeavor, Moderator of the Clarion Presbytery, has notified the church that he will hold services on next Friday evening, at which time the call will be officially confirmed and extended. The presence of all members of the congregation and attendants at this church is earnestly desired at this meeting.

Mr. Wilson says the outlook is splendid and the friends of the gentlemen will be glad to learn of their good fortune.—Emulston News.

—John Near, after great suffering for many months, died from cancer at his home, between Newmansville and Lickingsville, Clarion county, March 22, 1907. The deceased was born at Shipperville, Clarion county, June 8, 1846. He was married Nov. 8, 1874, to Mary Cason, of Washington township, to which union seven children were born, three of whom, with the widow, survive, as follows: Charles F. Near, Nebraska, Pa., and William M. and Anna, at home. He is also survived by two brothers, Charles and David, and one sister, Mrs. Anderson, all residing near the old home where he has always borne the high esteem of his neighbors. Funeral services, in charge of Rev. W. O. Calhoun, were held at the Lutheran church near Newmansville, on Monday of this week.

1827 Captain WILLIAM CLARK 1907

Captain William Clark.
This distinguished soldier and good citizen, who died at his home in Tionesta, Pa., on the 23 day of March 1907, was born in county Tyrone, Ireland, February 2, 1827. His parents were James and Mary (Canaan) Clark. He was reared in his native country, where he received a common school education. He was united in marriage there in 1850 to Margaret (Neely) Livingston, whose parents were William and Margaret Livingston, both of whom came to America in the year 1852. By this marriage the following children were born, Mary, the widow of Wm. Thompson, deceased, William, James, Charles, Margaret, (Mrs. James Elliot), and Joseph, all of whom survive him and reside here. He first located at Port Clinton, Schuylkill county, where he followed the occupation of coal mining and canal boating until the breaking out of the Civil War, when he enlisted in defense of the flag of his adopted country. His long and brilliant military record is best expressed in a paper written by himself, which we cannot do better than insert:

Enlisted in the three months service April 20, 1861, in Co., B, 6th, Regt., Pa. Vols. Discharged July 25, 1861 as 2nd Sergeant. Re-enlisted for three years Sept. 11, 1861 in Co. C, 48th, Regt. Pa. Vols., promoted to 1st Sergeant Sept. 10, 1862. Slightly wounded on face at South Mountain, Md., Sept. 14, 1862 wounded on head at Antietam, Sept. 17, 1862 sent to rear by order of Capt. Pleasant. Promoted to 2nd Lieutenant, Nov. 26 1862. Slightly wounded on hand, May 6, 1864, at battle of the Wilderness. Wounded in side June 3, 1864, at Grove Church, Va. Promoted to 1st Lieutenant, March 19, 1864. Promoted to Capt. of Co. C, 48th, Regt. Pa. Vols. March 1, 1865. Re-enlisted at Blair's Cross Roads, Tenn. Jan. 1, 1864 for three years, or during the war. Participated in the following engagements: Newbern, N. C., March 14, 1862. Bull Run, Va., May 29 and 30, 1862. Chantilly, Va., Sept. 1, 1862. South Mountain, Sept. 14, 1862. Antietam, Sept. 17 and 18, 1862. Campbell Station, Tenn. Nov. 15, 1863. Siege of Knoxville, Tenn. Nov. 27, 1863. Wilderness, May 6, 1864. Spotsylvania, Va., May 15, 1864. Grove Church, Va., June 3 1864. Petersburg, Va., June 17, 1864. Participated in the explosion of Petersburg mines July 30, 1864, Charge on Fort Mahone, April 2, 1865, and embracing the entire wilderness campaign, nine months siege of Petersburg, Va., through to Appomattox and the close of the War, being honorably discharged and mustered out of service July 17, 1865. The blowing up of the Petersburg mines was a notable exploit in the history of the war, he with his Schuylkill miners, of which his company was largely composed, took into the mine 255 kegs of powder, which was exploded in an attempt to take the besieged fort, but which failed at the time, but was successful later. The 48th Pa., charged immediately after the explosion and led the van, his company was badly cut up losing about one-third of its men. His participation in this movement he considered the crowning achievement of his long and hazardous military career.

So by this record it will be seen that he exhibited the splendid courage of the brave soldier throughout the whole of the civil war. It should also be noted that he came of a military family as both his father and grandfather served in the army during the Irish Rebellion, and his brother James, of his company, was wounded at the Wilderness, while his wife's two brothers in the service, William was killed and George died in Libby prison. He was specially mentioned by Gov. Curtin in his report, also General Parke had recommended that he was entitled to a medal of honor, for distinguished services during the war. In short he deserved well of his country.

At the close of the war he removed with his family to Oil City, where he followed the business of boating oil on Oil Creek until 1867 when he settled on the Beatty farm in Tionesta township, residing ever since in this vicinity. In all the walks of civil life he was a man among men, filling many positions of public trust, ever conscientious in the discharge of duty. Was sheriff of Forest county in 1882-85, afterwards served a term as Associate Judge for five years. By his honesty, energy and fidelity he commanded the admiration and respect of the community in which he lived. Was kind-hearted and generous and never turned a deaf ear to the appeals of those who were less fortunate in life. After the death of his first wife he married Mrs. Adda Hunter, with whom he lived pleasantly and happily until his death. He left beside his children already mentioned thirty grandchildren to mourn his departure. He was always a devoted and consistent member of the Presbyterian church, and when he was able to go out, seldom was his pew vacant. He was also a member of Tionesta Lodge No. 369, I. O. O. F. and Stow Post No. 274, G. A. R., being a charter member of the latter. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. O. Calhoun in the Presbyterian Church at 2 p. m., Tuesday, after which the body was laid to rest in Riverside Cemetery, six of his grandsons acting as pall bearers. The funeral services were largely attended, many neighbors and friends paying a last tribute to their departed brother. The members of Stow Post were in attendance in goodly numbers as an escort, and Tionesta Lodge No. 369, I. O. O. F., attended in a body, the latter having charge of the ceremonies at the grave.

Assistant Cashier E. W. Bowman Arrested on Charge of Making False Entries.

Ernest W. Bowman, Assistant Cashier of the Citizens' National Bank of Tionesta, was placed under arrest at his home Friday afternoon last, charged with misapplying the funds of the bank and making false entries. Deputy United States Marshal William M. Henry, of Pittsburg, served the papers and took Mr. Bowman to Warren where he was committed by United States Commissioner Curtis M. Shawkey for a hearing before the United States authorities at Pittsburg, fixing his bail at $5000. Bail was offered to Mr. Bowman but for reasons best known to himself he refused to accept it, and he was committed to jail in Allegheny county.

The information was made by National Bank Examiner W. E. Barger, and it is asserted that the false entries have been carried on for some years, and the bill of complaint mentions three irregularities, one being the crediting of George F. Watson with a $40,000 certificate of deposits when he had actually deposited $16,000. W. W. Bowman was in a like manner credited with $65 in place of $10,655, and J. W. Vanderlin with $50 instead of $2,530. Other discrepancies bring the shortage of the former Assistant Cashier up to about $30,000, which the bank has made good, so that the institution will in no way be affected by the shortage. In this connection attention is called to the notice which has been running in this paper for some time to the effect that a bond has been executed by a number of the most responsible stockholders, protecting all depositors from loss, and in point of financial backing adding much strength to the bank's standing. At a recent meeting of the board of directors Sherrill Smith, of Cuba, N. Y., was elected cashier of the bank, and J. C. Bowman assistant cashier. Considerable curiosity is expressed as to what the accused ex-official did with the funds which are shown to be short, but all is conjecture, each person forming his own conclusion as to that. Few, however, believe that the accused has any of the funds in his possession.

Death of Mrs. W. G. Morrow.

Mrs. Gertrude McElhoos Morrow, wife of Dr. William G. Morrow, passed peacefully away at her late home at West Hickory, about two o'clock yesterday afternoon, after an illness of several days, and her home was originally in Indiana county, where on Dec. 24, 1896, she was united in marriage with Dr. Morrow, who with two children, Margaret and John, survives. She was a woman of superior intellect, possessed of all the gentle graces of womanhood, and her taking away has saddened the hearts of all who had the honor of her acquaintance. To the stricken husband and family the sympathy of all goes out in greatest tenderness in this hour of gloom. The funeral services will be held at the home, probably on Thursday afternoon, with interment in Riverside cemetery. We hope to be able to give a proper obituary of this excellent lady next week.

THE JOHNSTON BOOK

Tells All About The "CONTINENTAL" BINDER

You don't buy a harvester every day. But when you do invest in such a machine don't you want to feel pretty certain that you know all about all the binders on the market, so that you can select the one best suited to your needs? For that reason you'll want the Johnston Book. The "Continental" Binder described in the Johnston Book, cuts, reels, elevates and binds all kinds of grain on any kind of ground. It is every bundle without waste—handles down and tangled grain perfectly and is light in draft. Its elevators cannot clog and are self-adjusting to light and heavy grain; its knotters gear driven and never fails to work; its reel is also gear driven and adjustable to all conditions; levers are all right-handed; all canvases have tighteners with wood bearing boxes which can be cheaply replaced. The Johnston "Continental" is King of Binders, and best of all it's not built nor sold by a trust. Write today for the Johnston Book—you'll want to know all its good points before you buy a binder. We'll send it free.
