MOON'S PHASES.

Some of the southern papers suggest with philosophical serenity that Mr. Bryan may voluntarily decide not to be a candidate in 1908.

A wise exchange tersely states a fact in saying that President Roosevelt is a rooster in war, a dove in peace and a singing canary in the hearts of his countrymen.

SECRETARY ROOT will retire from ofapparition.

In case the state should decide to borrow $25,000,000, to build new roads, some provision should be made for the banishment of Sanderson,-Blizzard, But is John H. the only Sanderson?

Between 1901 and 1906 the number of immigrants to the United States was 4,933,811, an average of nearly 1,000,000 a year. The new immigration commission has a large subject and important problem

ACCORDING to the government forestr bureau over three times as much timbe is used in the United States annually s is made by the new growth. It is easy t see the finish unless the principles of for estry are generally applied.

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE WILSO: stated in a recent speech that the agri cultural production of the United State last year was $6,794,000,000, an increase of 44 per cent since 1900. Why boys on the farm should run away from this bonanza is getting to be a mystery.

IT appears from investigations carried on by the interstate commission in Kentucky that the coal which costs 95 cents a ton at the mines is sold to consumers in Loniaville at $4.67 a ton. Another point brought out is that there seems to be collusion between the railroads and the coal operators in the shortage of cars that limits the supply.

THERE are countries which, and people in all countries who, need to be warned against a rabbit-like indifference to consequences in raising families. The ordinary American, whether of the old native stock or the seli-respecting son or daughter of immigrants, needs no such warning. He or she needs to have impressed upon his or her mind the vital sequences in raising families. The orpressed upon his or her mind the vital lesson that all schemes about having Agnew, Eva Hunter, Hazel Kenniston, Grace Mays, Marie Mealy, Margaret Hunddisson gartens, civic associations, women's clubs and training families up in this way or that are preposterous nonsense if there are to be no families to train; and that it is a simple mathematical proposition that, where the average family that has children at all has only three, the race at once diminishes in number, and if the tendency is not checked will vanish completely, -in other words, there will be race suicide. Not only the healthiest, but the highest relations in life are those of the man and woman united on a basis of full and mutually respecting partnership and Balm. I was rubbed with it and found wise companionship in loving and permanent wedlock. If, through no fault of theirs, they have no children they are entheirs, they have no children they are entheirs, they have no children they are en-titled to our deepest sympathy. If they trouble from that disease for over three refuse to have children sufficient in number to mean that the race goes forward and not back, if they refuse to bring them up healthy in body and mind, then they are criminals.-From "A Letter from President Roosevelt on Race Suicide," in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for May.

THE country editor, or the man who writes for the rural paper, has some things to contend with of which the scribes connected with the journals of the larger cities know comparatively little. Among these is the individuality. When Among these is the individuality. When derson, Tionesta, Pa. no more than a dozen different persons could name the writer, and possibly not that many. When numerous parties contribute to each issue both the honors and the opposite are so widely diversified that it reflects neither credit nor discredit on the individual. It is scattered to the wind. In the country towns or smaller cities it is different. Nearly every reader of the local paper is personally acquainted with the two or three individuals who do all the writing for it, and as a consequence whatever appears is looked upon as of a personal nature or the individual experience of the writer.

The New Game Law.

The new game law, approved by the Governor on the 15th of April, makes the open season for woodcock and pheasant from Oct. 1st to Dec. 1st. Quail, Nov. 1st to Dec. 1st. It is unlawful to shoot or injure quail when bunched upon the ground; or to hunt for or to kill any of the game birds protected by this act during the nighttime; or to kill game of any kind, within this common wealth, through or by the use of a gun of any kind other than is usually raised at arm's length and fired from the shoulder. Fine for violating the law is $25 for each bird killed, or one day in jail for each dollar of fine. The season for killing rabbits is from Oct. 15 to Dec. 1, and they may be killed in any manner "except through or with the aid of a ferret."

Deer may be killed between Nov. 15 and Dec. 1. It is unlawful for any per-son to kill in any one season more than one deer, which in every instance shall be "a male deer, with horns," Penalty for violation, $100.

The squirrel season remains as it has been for some years past, Oct, 1 to Dec. 1, thus making the season for killing small game more uniform, and prohibiting hunters from killing phea-ants under the pretext of hunting squirrels, as was often the case when there was 15 days' differ-

D. F. Dreicorn is a painter in Holyoke, Mass, John J. Donohue is an architect, Springfield, near-by.

Donobue was building, at Holyoke, the Holy Family Institute, letting the work by bids, as usual. Dreicorn got the paint job; the paint was to be lead

But Dreicorn said to himself: "leadand-cil isn't half so good as Devoe and it costs more money, what shall I do?" He painted Devoe; and, after the work was done, told Donohue, saying: "if that isn't better than any lead-and-oil job, I'll make it so."

Was Dreicorn right or wrong in painting a lead-and-oil job Devoe?

You ask how it turned-out, This was years, when Donohue says "it's the best paint job he ever saw." If he had used lead-and-oil, it would have cost about $2200 for the two paint jobs (six and three years ago) and be hungry for paint

Dreicorn lost $1200 of business and took the risk of making Donohue mad and losing his business, forever: all to save the Holy Family Institute $1200 besides the fuss of a paint job.

Was Dreicorn right or wrong as a Was Dreicorn right or wrong as a 2. Catherine Bailey et al. vs. Ida painter; and which would you paint your Hammond et al. No. 1, September term, church, lead-and-oil or Devoe?

PROCLAMATION.

You ask how it turned-out. This was six years ago. Now Donohue has another joo there, a big addition to the Catholic Hospital; and he dosen't ask bids for the painting, but says to Dreicorn: "Go ahead Dreicorn and give me as good a job as you did on the Institute. That's the best paint job I ever saw."

The question is "Was Dreicorn right in painting Devoe when he had agreed to paint lead-and-oil?"

That isn't quite all. Lead-and-oil is expected to last three years. If Dreicorn had used lead-and-oil, there would have been another job for him or somebody else three years ago.

Was he right in losing that job for himself or somebody-else three years ago?

The Institute took 200 gallons Devoe and cost $1,090; the paint has worn six years, when Donohue says "it's the best with the prison of the Peace, Orphans' Court, Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, at Tionesta, for the County of Forest, to commence on the Third Monday of May, 1907. A Talk on Clothing manufacturers have learned how to put quality into their products so that the clothes will retain shape and character and give service Some of them do this while others avoid the issue on account of the increased expense and continue to make clothes as they express it, "To Sell Commercially All Wool, and Tailored With a Hot Iron.'

From your standpoint there is but one way, unless you are a clothes expert. Trade only at a store where you can place your entire confidence without fear of its being abused.
