—The postoffice at Lamona was discontinued on Tuesday of this week. This place of 450 inhabitants a few months ago is now almost a thing of the past. Within one week more everything of the nature of a saw mill town will be a mass of ruins.—Sheffield Observer.

—Following is the list of letters lying unclaimed for in the Tionesta, Pa., postoffice for week ending May 8, 1907: Mr. O. R. Roberts, Mr. R. E. Taylor, Mr. Edw. C. Robinson, Mae Anderson (card), Mess. Castle & Co., (card).

D. S. KNOX, P. M.

—A. T. Brookhouser has moved into the Raab house on Vine street, vacating the old Hulings homestead, which will be razed and a new modern store building erected on the lot by Mr. Sigworth, the hardware dealer, who purchased the property for that purpose some time ago.

—The severe frost Saturday night, it is feared has seriously injured the fruit prospects in this latitude, the buds being considerably advanced by the warm days prior to that date. Ice a quarter inch in thickness was frozen on vessels containing water that were exposed to the elements that night.

—The act re-establishing the bounty on noxious animals has been approved by the governor, and the following is the schedule: Wildcat $4.00, fox $2.00, weasel or mink $1.00. These figures ought to help some in the extermination of these pestiferous quadrupeds, and assist in the propagation of small game.

—The trustees of the North Warren hospital for the insane are delighted over receiving $250,000 as an appropriation from the state. This insures the completion of a number of works at the institution that will tend to make it in more ways than one, the model insane hospital of the Keystone state.

—J. W. Jamieson and Charles Butler have purchased J. B. Hagerty's drilling outfit and have contracted for enough drilling in the vicinity of Giffoye, this county, to keep them going steadily all summer. These gentlemen have had many years experience in the business, and will undoubtedly make a success of it.

—The well on the Becker lot, near Red-clyffe, after being drilled to the depth of 2,500 feet without any outward signs of the grease pool was abandoned by the drillers. A small show of gas was found in the Clarion sand but not enough to amount to anything. Two other test wells will be put down at once.—Marienville Express.

—A new well that will make a nice pumper was finished on the Enterprise Transit lot, up near the old Lederer homestead, German Hill, last Friday. The company operating the lease thinks it will make the best yet struck in that field. Fifteen feet of good sand was developed. A fifty-quart shot was put in on Saturday.

—The April weather report as furnished by G. W. Osgood is as follows: Rain, 3 1/2 inches. Snow fell on 12 different days, but only on four of these was it sufficient to permit of measurement, the total number of inches being 5 1/2. There was one zero day. During April a year ago there were 4 1/2 inches of rain, and only five-eighths of an inch of snow.

PERSONAL.

—Another well has been started on the R. O. Carson farm, Nettilton. It is about four hundred feet in advance of the one just completed, which is good for about eight barrels natural, and there is every prospect of a nice field being opened in that vicinity. Mr. Carson and son, Sam T., are the operators, and they have over a hundred acres of undeveloped territory, most of which is expected to pan out all right.

—Liveryman Urey is lamenting the fact that he permitted himself to part with one of his best drivers last week, when he disposed of "W. B." a grey horse that could go down the pike with the best of them, taking no fellow's dust. The purchaser was V. J. Stoltz, proprietor of the Central Hotel at Carrolltown, Cambria county, Pa., who drove the fine roadster away with a good deal of satisfaction.

—The "glorious Fourth" is not far away, and an exchange calls the attention of dealers in fireworks to the provisions of the law of this State which forbids the sale or use of dynamite crackers, paper caps, the deadly toy pistol and certain other forms of noise makers, and it advises them not to buy any of these unlawful goods. That is excellent advice. If any dealer declines to accept it and gets into trouble the fault will be his alone.

—W. S. Huel, of Clarion, passed through Tionesta last Thursday with a string of four fine looking race horses, which are to be trained on the Titusville track, preparatory to going out on the circuit. There were three pacers and one trotter in the bunch and they were pretty good steppers, one having a record of about 2:13 and another about 2:19. Mr. Huel was accompanied by his wife and son, G. M. Huel, and drivers J. Nash and D. Bigley.

—Five civil suits have been entered in our courts within the past few days by the Citizens National Bank of this place against prominent business men and firms of Tionesta. The several defendants are The Tionesta Cash Store, Landers & Wyman, W. G. Wyman, Osgood & Jamieson and Q. Jamieson. The causes, which will likely be tried at the September term of court, will be among the most interesting that have come before our court for many years.

—John N. Rathfon had the misfortune to get the tips of the first and second fingers of his left hand nipped off by the "slasher" saw on the mill at Nebraska last Friday. Dr. Dunn dressed the injuries and no serious results are anticipated. Mr. Rathfon has had his full share of mill accidents, having suffered a severe fracture of the jaw bone several years ago, and later had the fingers of his right hand sawed off at the second joint, but he still makes a full hand on the average sawmill.

—Charles Robinson, of Ackley, Warren county, Pa., desires assistance in locating his son, Lester Robinson, who has assumed the name of Lester Ling. He has left his home on April 25th, is 15 years of age and large for his years; light complexion had two caps, one dark and the other a light colored corduroy; wore a light ducking coat, blue lined, dark pants and a blue sweater. Any information will be gratefully received by addressing Charles Robinson, Ackley, Pa., or Charles Morgan, Lander, Pa., who has telephone service.

—Our exchanges are warning the women to be on the lookout for a slick young man who visits the homes and displays a sample of a shirt waist which he claims to give with an order of toilet soap of $1.00. The shirt waist is all right and worth twice as much as the soap, but it will not be delivered until May 10th, or whatever date the young man may set. In the meantime he requests a payment of fifty cents as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the good housewife, and if she bites that's the last she sees of afore-said young man and the fifty cents—it's a slick game and one that gives the worker a good income.

—The new pure food law will work a change in the food product usually sold at fairs, circuses, etc. Adulterated lemonades, ciders and candies must be labeled or their sale will be stopped. The state food commissioner has said in answer to inquiries: "Anything sold as lemonade, orange cider or sweet cider must be pure. No citric acid or coloring matter will be permitted. All artificial drinks must be labeled artificial or their sale will be stopped. Oftentimes lemonade and orange cider are made with citric acid, water, sugar and extracts. All such must be labeled 'artificial.' Then the public may buy what it wants. Ice cream will be watched also as this article often is greatly adulterated."

—The Forest County Summer Normal and School of Methods opened in the school building here Tuesday morning under very auspicious circumstances. The first day was spent in enrolling pupils and giving out books and the real work will begin today. There is an attendance of about 40 from Tionesta and vicinity and about 80 from other sections of the county, with others yet to come. County Supt. D. W. Morrison is superintendent of the Summer School, Prof. G. W. Mitchell, of Marienville, is principal, and Mrs. Willa-Way MacDonald, of West Chester Normal, is supervisor of primary methods and director of model school work. Miss Elizabeth P. Davis, of the Millersville Normal, who will have charge of the physical training classes, will arrive May 20th. With such competent instructors the school will be a success.

—Friday, while loading a train with logs on the Watson Lumber Co.'s property in the woods above Mayburg, the train broke away and a bad smash-up occurred. The road has a pretty heavy grade from the woods to the mill, and when the train of eight cars had been loaded the great weight parted the chain which held it and the cars started down the track, gathering momentum with each turn of the wheels until a velocity of about 50 miles per hour was reached, and at that rate of speed the train came into Mayburg yards a distance of a mile and a half, where it piled up in a confused mass of wreckage. When the workmen on the cars found their train had gotten beyond control they jumped off and thus saved their lives. No one was hurt, which is rather remarkable considering the terrific speed with which the train came into the mill yards, where more or less men are generally stationed. The loss to the company in the smashing of the cars, etc., will foot up about $1,000.

—Stephen Eznick, of Harmony township, went to the Oil City hospital on Monday, accompanied by his physician, Dr. Dunn, when his right leg was amputated between the knee and hip. When 13 years of age Mr. Eznick sustained an injury to his limb, and he has experienced more or less trouble from it since, but in the past few years the bone had become diseased and amputation was the only hope of saving his life. Dr. Siggins was the operating surgeon, and Mr. Eznick, who is now 66 years of age, is doing nicely and his ultimate recovery seems but a question of time.

How Coleman Eluded the Bear.

While bears are not supposed to be plentiful in Forest county at this season of the year, and at least not doing much roaming about, it will be well for trout-fishermen to be a little on the lookout just the same. Jake Coleman, of Oakdale, Pa., a former Forest county boy, takes great delight in returning at least once a year to his old haunts and communing with nature while interviewing the trout streams of this locality, but we doubt whether he will ever again have the tamerly to tackle the job alone. One day last week he was pursuing his favorite pastime up on a branch of Ross run, and had succeeded in lifting out a dozen or so of the legal size. While hunched down on the bank of the stream at a nice pool and expecting every moment that a big one would take hold, he heard a "snort" that sounded something like the grunt of a hog. Casting his eye over his shoulder what should he see but a monstrous big bear, reared up on his "hunkers" as if ready to make a dash at him. There was a dilemma at once, and Jake was a part of it. Just then something took hold of his line. Now, Jake makes no pretention toward any knowledge of bear and their habits, but he does know all about the bite of a trout, size included, and what to do under the circumstances was a poser. There was little time to think. With the hair raising his hat at one extremity and the fish tugging at the other end, something had to be done and that quickly. Coleman did the most natural thing—landed the trout. And then a thought struck him. He'd make up with the bear. Throwing the fish at the bear's feet the ferocious animal devoured it at a single gulp, but that did not satisfy him, and soon the fisherman had another, and this he also fed to the bear. In the meantime he thought he would move on a little. Along came the bear also, and as Jake stopped to "drop in" at another pool the bear resumed his former position but at much closer range. After throwing out a few more trout Jake found that the bear was still quite hungry, and thinking if he would fill him up at once the bear might leave him, he unhooked his basket and threw that. With a snort the bear ripped the lid off and quickly devoured the whole catch, but still refused to leave, but on the contrary began ambling up closer, and with his hair now raising so fast as to almost pull themselves out of root Coleman made another quick decision. He pushed the butt of his pole toward the bear, and the bear quietly seized it, sat down on his hunkers and began to fish—and Jake "took up over the hill."

RECENT DEATHS.

DUNKLE.

Emantes Henry Dunkle died at his home on Valley street, Monday evening, April 29th, after an illness of several weeks from nephritis, and his remains were taken to his former home in Clarion, for burial, on Wednesday. Mr. Dunkle was the son of Preston and Martha Ray Dunkle, and was aged 48 years, 3 months and 1 day at the time of his death. He had been in the employ of the L. A. Leathers Co. for some time previous to his final illness.—Brookville Republican.

FRANK P. TURNER.

Frank P. Turner, a former citizen of Marienville, where he conducted a flourishing fire insurance agency for a number of years, died at Elkins, W. Va., on the 27th ult., after an illness of five weeks from typhoid fever. The remains were brought to Emlement where a daughter of the deceased Mrs. Frank Allebach, resides, and buried on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Turner was born at Abbington, Iowa, January 26, 1852, his parents being Nathan and Mary Turner. He was married to Alice Jordan at Columbus, Pa., July 27, 1876. To this union were born two children one of whom, with the widow, survives. The deceased was a wide awake business man and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of his fellow citizens and acquaintances, and the news of his demise comes as a sad surprise to his many Forest county friends. He was a nephew of Mrs. John Sanner of this place.

GEORGE W. GATES.

George W. Gates, one of Venango county's old and well known citizens, whose residence was at Seneca, died on the 1st inst., aged 74 years. He was born at Oldtown, three miles above Tionesta, on Tionesta creek, Jan. 16, 1833. His father was George Gates, who was related to the Dale families of this place, and when George, Jr. was yet a small lad his parents removed to Rockland township, where he grew to manhood and became engaged in farming pursuits. Afterwards he became interested in oil developments in which he was quite successful. Besides his wife, who was Miss Rachel Steele, one son and three daughters survive. He is also survived by one brother and two sisters, one of whom is Mrs. Mary Gloss, of Tionesta, stepmother of our townsmen, J. W. and Quintain Jamieson. Mrs. Gloss attended the funeral, which took place from his late home on Sunday last.

MRS. JACOB WOLFE.

Mrs. Sarah Ann (Dean) Wolfe passed away at her home in Kellettville, Pa., Thursday morning, May 23, 1907, at five o'clock, of a complication of diseases. She was born September 12, 1843, being 63 years, 7 months and 20 days of age. She is survived by her husband, Jacob Wolfe, and fifteen children, namely: Mrs. James Welsh, of Balltown; Mrs. Mary Orus, George and Thomas, of Sistersville, W. Va.; Mrs. Holmes Kline, of Leechburg; Mrs. Stephen Lyle, of May, W. Va.; Mrs. Geo. Paul, Mrs. James Grove, Laurela, Olive, Violet, John, James, Joseph and Forest, of Kellettville. The children were all present at the funeral but John, who is in the Warren hospital. Mrs. Wolfe had been confined to her room for about eleven weeks. She was a good neighbor, a kind mother, and a child of God, and has gone to her reward in heaven.

The funeral services were conducted Sunday at one o'clock p. m., by Rev. Tanner, assisted by Revs. McGeary and Richards, who preached able and edifying sermons. She was laid to rest in the Whig Hill cemetery.

WEANT.

John Weant, one of Tionesta township's well known and respected citizens, died at his home Monday evening May 6, 1907, at 7:00 o'clock, of a complication of diseases, from which he had been a great sufferer for many years. The deceased was born in Roehrsda, Germany, Aug. 19, 1844, being therefore in his 63d year. His parents were Dietrich and Maria Weant, who came to America when John was a mere boy, about 1850, and settled on a piece of land on the hill overlooking Little Conon creek, in Green township. Here the subject of this sketch grew to manhood and assisted his parents in clearing the farm on which they lived for nearly half a century, and where the father died about 20 years ago. For many years John followed rafting on the creek and river, and was a hard worker, enduring many hardships and exposures, to which no doubt the breaking down of his naturally strong constitution is attributable. About thirty years ago he was united in marriage with Miss Nancy M. Whitman. To this union six children were born, four of whom with the widow, survive, as follows: Frederick, of Tylersburg; John of Nebraska; Mrs. Charles Taylor, of Tylersburg, and Selden, at home. Other survivors are his mother, aged 93 years, who has made her home with his family for some years; one brother Nicholas, of New Wilmington, Pa.; three sisters, Mary Weant and Mrs. Christine Lusher, living on the old homestead farm, and Mrs. Louisa Smith, of Tylersburg.

Funeral services conducted by Revs. H. D. Call and R. A. Zahniser, will be held today at one o'clock, with interment in the Walters cemetery, near Newmansville.
