THE highest salaried man in the world is a mining engineer in New York, who receives $800,000 a year for his expertness in passing judgment on gold bearing ores. The gold mine he has struck for himself is open to any prospector.

THE State pension bill for soldiers of the civil war passed finally in the House at Harrisburg Monday by practically a unanimous vote. It provides a pension for every soldier who enlisted in Pennsylvania and is now a resident thereof.

HUMAN nature is well demonstrated in the case of President Roosevelt. He is a man of peace, as the average man is, but will fight vigorously when assailed, just as the average human being will do. If you have not already done so, make up your mind to let the president alone.

Gov. HUGHES has announced a very plain and sensible platform. He declines to take part in the republican factional fight in New York, refuses to be handled by any presidential clique, and insists upon being governor for all the people of New York throughout the term to which he was elected. If he shall continue to saw wood in this way the Presidential timber inspectors may have something to say to him in 1908.

THE kindergarten teachers of the world are on the warpath against the comic of her father-in-law. supplement to the Sunday papers. The International Kindergarten Union, which comprises more than 12,000 members, in the United States and Canada, passed strong resolutions against the comic supplement, at the meeting of the Union in New York city. The so-called "comic" should be restricted to asylums or institations for the feeble minded. Should the kindergarteners succeed in having them suppressed they would deserve general commendation.-Blizzard. Surely they would, for of all the silly, inexpressably absurd nonsense that the American people are obliged to be bored with, commend us to the comic supplement of the Kentucky, but where in all the pisca-Sunday newspapers, MINISTERS of the Methodist Episcopal church are already planning to secure action by the general conference, which is rockribbed hills of dear old Forest to hold their next meeting in Baltimore county? "The Girls" are not given to in the spring of 1907, which will change the mode of selecting presiding elders in all the Methodist conferences. Under the one outburst of surprise that could not present rules the presiding elders, who well be expressed in simple language, are superintendents of districts within the But we will not, like the Porkey correconference, are appointed by the bishops pondent, wrap the drapery of adjectives who preside at the annual conferences. It around us and lie down to pleasant is stated by Methodist leaders that there dreams about fish without eyes. would be no objection to this method of appointment were it not for the fact that the presiding elders are very powerful in the matter of the appointment of Methodist pastors to churches, and the present agitation has arisen from a desire on the part of the rank and file of the Methodist ministry that it have a ruling voice in the choosing of these men to whom is delegated so much responsibility.

THE Railway Age advocates publicity as a cure for railroad accidents. Let the people know just how and why the accident occurred. About the only facts that reach the public are that so many people gallon or two to return. Here are some were killed and so many injured. The experiences. railroads themselves often take great pains to exclude any other information and reporters for the press are supplied with such facts in regard to an accident as the railroads are pleased to give. The attention of the public is not directed to the parties primarily responsible for these fatalities and its resentment is directed upon the management. Carelessness is at the bottom of nearly every railroad accident. After every precaution has been taken that human foresight could devise to prevent accidents, the safety of the train depends upon the accuracy and activity of certain individuals, and when they fail to do their duty the public should know it.

failure of crops in some sections.

The bureau of entomology has exhausted all its resources in attempt ing to exterminate the green bug. A fight has been maintained for three months. Experts say warm weather and sunshine must come quickly if winter wheat, oats and forage crops are to be saved.

The present outlook is discouraging. as frost prevails in Kansas and Oklahoma, and the weather in Texas is but little better.

Reports show that the green bug reeds uninterruptedly in cold weather. This spring it has multiplied as never before in this country.
