

THE
Smart & Silberberg
COMPANY

A Curtain Sale
Extraordinary.

Prices Are Cut In Half.

Odd lots of one to five pairs this spring's patterns left on our hands and cannot be duplicated this season.

The strike of the past seven weeks has compelled the manufacturers to ask a release from filling our spring orders. We have received about one-half of what was coming and many of these in small lots so concluded to clean up everything we have in odd lots from one to five pairs of a kind. The mills are again working, with the help having gained their point, which means a difference of 15 to 20 per cent. advance for all future orders. Now is the time to place orders for the fall and we want the latest there is so we are willing to sacrifice the odd lots on hand.

We have placed on show and sale 250 pairs of Curtains from the Ruffled Muslin at 60c a pair to the real Irish Point at $15 a pair. Every sample marked in plain figures our lowest regular selling price. Tickets marked how many pairs of each. You can be your own salesman. Cut the marked prices in half and take any lot you want. First come first served. Don't come late and have to say I'm sorry.

THOUGHT HIMSELF CLEVER.

But His Wife Appeared in Time to Show Him His Folly.

At the world's convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in Boston, Sidney Dallas of Melbourne told a group of reporters in Tremont temple a temperance story.

"My wife," said Mr. Dallas, "is one of the most earnest temperance workers in Australia. In the course of her missionary work she hears many a strange tale.

"A Melbourne woman told her last Christmas time how one night, during the holidays, her husband stayed out till 3 A. M. We all know what that means, especially during the holidays, don't we?

"Well, this man when he got home, thought that he would go boldly to the bathroom and take a bath. That would remove from his wife's mind any suspicions as to his condition. It would show her, in a word, that he was all right.

"So he undressed, filled the tub and plunged in. Hot and enfevered as he was, he enjoyed the bath. As he splashed and scrubbed and puffed he heard a slight noise, and looking up, saw his wife in the doorway.

"His wife was regarding him with an expression of unspeakable contempt. He was rather amazed at that. But he said nothing. He lowered his head and went on scrubbing.

"Well, what are you doing?" she asked.

"Can't you see what I'm doing?" he answered. He rubbed up some more lather. "I'm taking a bath."

"She sniffed and said as she turned to go:

"Why don't you take off your underclothes, then?"

Didn't Make a Sale.

A floorwalker in a large department store is noted for his overbearing manner to those under him. One day he approached a junior assistant, from whose counter a woman had gone away.

"You let that lady go away without making a purchase?" he asked, severely.

"Yes, sir, I—"

"And she was at your counter fully ten minutes?"

"Doubtless, but then, you see—"

"Exactly, I saw that in spite of all the questions she put to you you rarely answered her and never attempted to get what she she wanted."

"Well, but—"

"I shall report you for carelessness."

"Well, I hadn't what she wanted."

"What was that?"

"Half a dollar. She's a book canvasser getting subscriptions to the 'Life of Washington!'"

Pleased Mary Ann.

Mistress (who had treated her servant to the theater)—Well, and how did you enjoy it?
Servant—It was lovely, especially the part where the servant told her mistress what she thought of her.—Slovo.

Sure of His Game.

An American walking along a country road in Ireland met an Irishman and accosted him with: "Mike if the devil were to come along now which of us do you think he would take?" Sure he would take me for he is sure of you any time."

One Use of Fashion.

Fashions have seldom been looked upon as stimulants of ethical or physical development; but as a fact the present ones demand that a woman shall be at her best, and they exhort her on. If she has a grain of ambition, to make the most of herself so far as physical charm is concerned.

Two Birds with One Stone.

"Is Dr. J. Millington Thompson, the throat specialist, in the audience?" asked one of the ushers, just after the curtain had gone down on the second act.

"Yes," answered a little man in the fourth row, rising to his feet.

"Your house is on fire," said the usher.

"I suppose I'll have to go and see about it," said Dr. Thompson, "but I have no mesquines about the house. It's insured in the Quickpay Fire and Tornado Indemnity company, the best in the country."

Stepping out into the aisle, he moved with serene and leisurely dignity toward the door, the observed of all observers.—Chicago Tribune.
