LONG STORY OF CRIME

Orchard's Testimony Implicates W. D. Haywood as Instigator.

A Utica Acronaut Drowned-Farmers Plan Corner - Harriman Immune Criminally-Meat Prices Up One-Third-Mrs. Field a Milk Inspector. Knox a Candidate,

Alfred Horsley, alias Harry Orchard, the actual assassin of Frank Steunenberg, went on the stand at Boise, Idaho, as a witness against William D. Haywood and testified to a long chain of brutal, revolting crimes, committed by himself, he said, at the instigation and for the pay of the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners.

Orchard confessed that as a member of the mob which wrecked the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mill in the Couer d'Alenes he lighted one of the fuses that carried fire to the glant powder given him. explosion; confessed that he set the death trap in the Vindicator mine at Cripple Creek which killed Superintendent McCormick and Foreman Beck: confessed that because he had not been paid for his first attempt at violence in the Vindicator mine he was treacherous to his associates in warning the managers of the Florence and Cripple Creek railway that there was a plot to blow up their trains; confessed that he cruelly fired three charges of buckshot into the body of Detective Gregory of Denver. killing him instantly; confessed that for days he dogged Governor Peabody of Colorado about Denver for a chance to kill him; confessed that he and Steve Adams set and discharged the mine under the station at Independence which instantly killed 14 men, and confessed that, failing in an attempt to poison Fred Bradley of San Francisco, he blew him and his house up with a bomb of gelatine powder.

His story of brutal crimes brought his bloody career down to Caldwell, Dec. 30, 1905, where with a great bomb he killed Governor Steunenberg. The story was told before an anxious rigid crowd, which staringly watched every movement and word of the witness, a crowd that sickened and grew weary of the fearful details long before James H. Hawley, pleading illness at 3 o'clock, obtained adjournment for the day.

He swore that the assassination of Steunenberg was first suggested by Haywood, was plotted by Haywood, Moyer, Pettibone and himself, was financed by Haywood and was executed by himself after the fallure of an attempt in which Jack Simpkins participated.

Orchard lifted the total of his own victims by murder to 18, detailed the circumstances under which he tried to murder ex-Governor Peabody, Judge Goddard, Judge Gabbert, General Sherman Bell, Davie Moffatt and Frank Herns. Incidentally he confessed to a plan to kidnap the child of one of his former associates.

A Pinkerton detective will testify that he has been a member of the Western Federation of Miners for several years and was vice president of a local union. While not a member of the executive board, he was confided in up to a certain point and was making regular reports to the detective agency. This man will be a formidable witness for the state. His employment to join the Western Federation and learn their secrets is on a par with the detection of the "Molly Maguires" in Pennsylvania by Captain lames McPartland, who has had charge of the case since the arrest of Orchard and who is now superintendent of the Pinkerton agency with head-

Farmers Plan Corner. One dollar shall be the minimum price for a bushel of wheat, with other grains in proportion, was about the irst remark at Omaha, Neb., of President J. A. Everett of Indianapolis, head of the American Society of Equity, when he called to order nearly 100 enthusiastic delegates for the purpose of nationalizing the grain growers' organization. Less than half this number had been expected and when the delegates were joined by 200 Nebraska grain men they looked ready to nake deliveries on their contracts.

One of the important objects of the meeting is to secure control of the 1907 wheat crop.

Asked if such an organization with by-laws such as are proposed would Washington for his summer home at not be subject to prosecution under the | Oyster Bay on Wednesday.

provisions of the anti-trust law, President Everett declared there would be nothing in the constitution to show that it was a trust.

"Everybody is organizing to protect their particular line of business," said Mr. Everett "Why not the farmer? The American Society of Equity is now in a position to secure loans that will help the farmers to carry their crop until such time as they can get a living price for the grains. We will not stop at grains; we shall use the same methods to secure top prices for dairy products. We are receiving the support of farmers' elevators and will take most of them into the association.'

Harriman Declared Immune.

A notable conference on trust prosetutions was held at the White House Friday night. Those who participated were President Roosevelt, Secretary Root, Secretary Taft, Secretary Cortelyou, Secretary Garfield, Attorney General Bonaparte, Interstate Commerce Commissioners Knapp and Lane and Frank B. Kellogg of Minnesota, special counsel for the government.

The discussion was participated in more especially by the president, Mr. Kellogg, Attorney General Bonaparte and Commissioners Knapp and Lane.

The conclusion was promptly reached that however damaging the evidence against Mr. Harriman his testimony in the interstate commerce investigation gave him complete immunity from criminal prosecution.

Commissioner Knapp explained that he had not completed his investigation and therefore was not prepared to give a definite opinion as to the government's being warranted in instituting suit to nullify the Alton deal. As soon as the interstate commerce commission has completed its hearing in the case a report will be made to the attorney general. He will then take up the matter and determine what, if any action shall be taken. It is not expected therefore that any immediate proceedings will be begun.

The question of the prosecution of the bituminous coal carrying railroads was discussed but the matter was finally left in the hands of attorney general for such action as he may see fit. No instructions to bring suit were

Meat Prices Up One-Third.

Retail prices of beef and lamb have increased from 20 to 30 per cent. according to butchers and grocers. The packers have raised prices on the ground that the supply is short. The wholesalers have put on another increase and the retailers add a little increase of their own so that when the consumer pays the 10 per cent increase of the packers the price has increased about 30 per cent.

The following is the increase in the retail price of meats in the last two months: Fancy bacon, from 20 to 26 cents a pound; hams, from 20 to 25 cents; lamb, from 15 to 22 cents; round steak from 12 to 15 cents; sirloin steak, from 15 to 20 cents, and prime rib roast, from 11 to 15 cents.

San Francisco Trouble Popular Platform For Progressives.

American Japanese Say Sudden Enforcement of Law Segregating Japanese School Children Followed Mayor's Visit to German Emperor. Hawaiian Sugar Interests Blamed.

Tokio, June 11. - A deputation of Japanese from the United States appeared today before a meeting of the council of the Progressive party and presented a statement in substance as follows:

"The settlement of the San Francisco trouble cannot be considered as final and a recurrence of the difficulty may be expected at any time. It is absolutely necessary to place the Japanese in a position to receive exactly the same treatment as is accorded Europeans. The law segregating Japanese school children was passed three years ago, but the authorities hesitated to carry out its provisions. Its sudden enforcement last year occurred soon after the return of Mayor Schmitz from Germany, where he had an audience with Emperor William. Consequently some are inclined to attribute the mayor's anti-Japanese attitude to the influence of the kalser.

"Another report is to the effect that the Hawaiian sugar interests have paid the anti-Japanese and anti-Corean organization in San Francisco $3,000,-000 for preventing Japanese from going to California. The Hochi prints a report from Washington stating that the Japanese in America are allied with the Progressive party here in an attempt to overthrow the cabinet on account of the American question, but little credence is placed in this assertion. It is true, however, that the Progressive party is the only political organization which has publicly taken up the question. While avoiding expressions of marked sympathy with the alleged victims of the anti-Japanese sentiment, there is no doubt that the Progressives will use the San Francisco troubles as a weapon with which to attack the government, should the ministers fail to effect a speedy and satisfactory settlement.

The United States question is likely to afford the most popular platform for the Progressives and other opposition parties that are preparing for the general election next spring.

PRESIDENT'S SECOND VISIT.

Was Georgia Day and Exposition

Managers Called It the Real Opening.

Norfolk, Va., June 11.-The Jamestown exposition management has determined to look upon yesterday, the occasion of President Roosevelt's second visit, as the real opening. The president lost no opportunity to voice his approval of the showing made since the backward opening of the exposition on April 26.

It was Georgia day and the opening of Bullock hall, a replica of the early home of President Roosevelt's mother, at Roswell, Georgia, erected as the Georgia state building, was the feature that drew the president to the exposition for a second visit.

From the time the President and Mrs. Roosevelt and their guests were landed at the government pier at 10:50 a. m. until their departure at 4:37 o'clock in the afternoon every minute was occupied. The president spoke at the Georgia ceremonies from the reviewing stand and in the afternoon addressed the convention of the National Editorial association in the exposition auditorium. On both occasions he was given an enthusiastic welcome. He visited the Georgia building, the New York building and the negro exhibit and in drives over the grounds thousands of people lined the streets and gave him a continuous ovation.

The schedule arranged in advance was followed to the letter and when the Mayflower weighed anchor at 5 p. m. and the party started on its re turn trip to Washington an unusually strenuous day was closed.

The naval review in Hampton Roads and the reception of the commanders of American and foreign vessels, which preceded the president's arrival at the grounds, and the military reriew on Lee Parade ground, following the president's forenoon address, were similar to those events on the opening day, except for some slight difference in the personnel of the participants.

WORRYING OVER KNOX.

Senator's Growing Strength Causes Disquietude In Ohio.

Washington, June 11 .-- It became evi dent here that the managers of the Taft boom are considerably worried on account of the indorsement of Senator Knox by the Republican convention at Harrisburg. At first Ohioans regarded the proposition to indorse Knox as a joke. They could not see anything in it more than there was in the in dorsement of Quay in 1896.

Arthur I. Vorys, Taft's manager came here burdened with the idea that the Knox business was but a favorite son scheme to hold the vote of Pennsylvania in line for somebody else. His mind was disabused on that point long before he went to New York yesterday.

The one significant thing he found was that Washington has made an estimate of the two candidates and has come to a conclusion on that matter. That conclusion is that as the game now lies Knox has decidedly the better of the fight. Another conclusion is that Knox, despite the presidential approval of Taft, has as good a chance when the convention assembles as has the secretary of war. Still another conclusion is that owing to mistakes that have been made in handling the Taft candidacy in his own state the immense advantage which the secretary once had by reason of the presidential inproval cannot be regained even if the Taft managers pacify the Ohio senators and give Senator Dick a share in the management of the Taft candidacy.

Vorys talked with a number of people and upon everyone of them he left the impression that he has lost the idea which he brought here with him that Knox will not be a serious factor in the ante-convention fight.

It is assumed that Vorys got his notion that Knox will be more than a perfunctory favorite son from the White House. There is no question but that the president has assured himself that the result of the exclusion of the Ohio senators from management of the Taft boom is bad and that to overcome the bad effect there must be an enormous hustle in other

The testimony of attaches of the auditor general and state treasury departments showed that bills amounting to $498,-000 were not approved by the superin tendent of grounds and buildings until two years after they were paid. It was also shown that there was no check upon the articles or bills; that in one instance nearly $500,000 worth of metallic furniture was paid for under a schedule entirely different from that upon which the contract was made, and that there was no pretense of auditing any of the bills. Girl Ablaze In Crowded Car.

Philadelphia, June 11.-Fire starting mysteriously, perhaps from treading on a match, suddenly enveloped Miss Margaret Chance, 18 years old. while she was riding in a crowded Fox Chase trolley car, and, though the other passengers did all in their power to check the flames, the girl's clothing was burned off. Every hair was burned from her head, and she was terribly seared. She is at the Pennsylvania hospital, making a brave fight for life, but it is feared that she inhaled the flames and cannot recover. Before she was removed from the troley car other women passengers donated articles of attire to cover her lackened form.

Give Up Bessemer Process. Pittsburg, June 11 .- In response to the insistent demand for more durable rails, the Carnegie company is chang ing the process of making steel from the Bessemer to the open hearth at the Edgar Thomson works, its largest plant. Work on the construction of wo open-hearth furnaces has been begun and more will be added. This acion was rendered necessary by the Bethlehem Steel company, which has dready made the change. The cost of the product will not be any greater, but its liability to break is reduced to a minimum and its strength and endurance will far outrank that of the Bes-
