COUNTY.

MR. DELPHIN DELMAS has left N. Y. and quit the Thaw case, and gone to San Francisco, to enter a plea of dementia swipering for "Abe" Ruef et al.

GOV. STUART yesterday vetoed the State pension bill, giving as his main reason insufficient revenue to meet the immense appropriations left on his hands by the late legislature.

"MR, BRYAN will receive his reward in the long run," says the Commercial Appeal, Memphis. No doubt, Mr. Bryan would like to know what in blazes the Commercial Appeal considers the "long does the great public benefit come in?" ask a Vermont paper. Perhaps by instructing the population on the progress made from the time a quarter of a century ago when dollar wheat made $4 flour.

DEVOE, the Hackensack, N. J., weather prophet makes the following predictions for the balance of this month: June 9th to 13th, coldest summer weather known in June for years, but too cloudy for trost; June 13th to 15th, pleasant; June 16th, warm and showery; June 18 to 22nd, warm and showery; June 24, heavy thunder storms; June 25th to 27th, very cold for summer. July will begin cool, stay cool during the Fourth; July 6th, more thunder storms, followed by cold weather from the 7th to the 10th, and by very hot weather on the 11th. After that it will be very hot, terrifically so, till Pittsburg, gaves most interesting address | Ointment and one bottle made a complete Sept, 15. All crops will be late.

WHILE some persons may look upon the endorsement of Senator Knox, by the Thomas, of Franklin, led a "Workers' Pennsylvania State Convention, assimply Experience Meeting." Mrs. Henry promise and performance. a step in carrying out the "favorite son" Baum, of Bradensburg, read her paper ides, which was outlined by the Pres- on "The Friend." The synopsis of Bladder. It certainly is not a course specially designed to encourage constancy of political purpose, -Oil City Blizzard.

THE Watson anti-vaccination bill has been vetoed by the Governor, who says in his message that in view of the fact that vaccination is a preventive measure it would probably afford but little protection in any locality to enforce the requirements relative to certificates only after smallpox is known to exist therein in the ordinary acceptance of the words, "is known to exist." This bill was very popular with the masses, who will be greatly disappointed to learn of the governor's disapproval. The same old trouble will be up again when the schools open in the fall, and the refusal of parents to have their children vaccinated will detract largely from the school attendance, as has been the case heretofore.

HERMAN UNGER, the Pittsburg suicide. who killed himself in a Boston hotel on Memorial Day, in a letter addressed to Daniel Jordan, an officer in the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, requested that his body be cremated, the ashes mixed with cement and made into a brick. On this brick the name and date of his birth and death were to be inscribed. All of which instructions will be faithfully carried out. Thus, if Mr. Unger was not entitled to the epithet of "a brick" during his life, he will be a sure-enough brick since his demise. But this idea of incineration and solidification of corpses is worthy of ecusideration. It is a clean and wholesome way of disposing of all that is mortal of a brother man, and is not devoid of sentiment. A brick representing a dead friend, inclosed in a glass case, would have nothing gruesome about it, and would be expressive of solid sentiment.—

Sheatz, of Philadelphia, for three sessions an independent Republican member of the legislature, and at the last session chairman of the appropriation committee. His record is blameless and those best acquainted with him say he is absolutely incorruptible. Chairman Wesley R. Andrews was unanimously re-elected by the convention. The convention's platform unqualifiedly endorses Senator Knox for President, the administrations of President Roosevelt and Governor Stuart, and demands a rigid prosecution of the capitol grafters and all who are shown to have had any share in the steals.

Missionary Meeting at Nebraska.

The twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Franklin District Erie Conference Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, was held at Nebraska, Pa., June 4th and 5th, 1907.

Mrs. T. N. Rogers, of Oil City, the District Secretary, presided at each business session. Mrs. Drew, of Franklin, "Ir dollar wheat makes $6 flour where acted as Kecording Secretary in the absence of Miss Elia Keen. Mrs. A. S. M. Ins Wilhelm, Conference Superintendent of Young People, were present and did most efficient work throughout the convention. Mrs. W. H. Long, as Secretary of Literature, proved herself an able officer to the convention. Delegates were present from the following auxiliaries: Franklin, Titusville, Nebraska, Reynoldsville, West Hickory, Oil City and Bradensburg. Words of welcome by Mrs, Small were responded to by Mrs. E. W. Smiley, of Oil City. The church choir, led by Miss Augusta K. Cook, of Nebraska, furnished beautiful music during the convention.

Tragic Event During Street Parade of Cole Bros.' Circus.

Buffalo, June 11.-During the progress of Cole Bros.' circus up Main street yesterday an Italian boy, later identified as Raphael Laquino, was crushed beneath the huge foot of one of the elephants and died a half hour later at a hospital.

Laquino was standing at the curb side a pile of dirt in the middle of the block, in front of Lafayette square, and almost directly in front of the monument. Just as the elephants came along the boy shouted to some ompanions that he was going across to the other side. He darted out into the street directly in front of the first and largest elephant.

The animal was swinging his huge trunk, and as it swung from left to right it struck the boy, knocking him around to the right side and to the payement underneath the elephant's

In another instant the right hind foot of the elephant landed upon the boy, terribly crushing his chest and the right side of his head.

The elephants were marching "lock sten" as it were. The second elephant had hold of the first elephant's tail with his trunk, all of the animals being "connected" in this way. As the second elephant came along, it saw the boy's bleeding body lying on the pavement, and with his right foot shoved the body toward the curb, and out of the way. Then this elephant, and those following, carefully avoided stepping in the blood left on the pavement.

R. C. Dunlap, the elephant's trainer, was walking on the left side of the elephant, and did not see the accident. or know that anything had happened until it was all over.
