LOVING IS ACQUITTED

Jury Reaches Verdict in Forty-Five Minutes.

E. H. Harriman Arrested at Boat Race—New York Legislature Adourns—Increase in Franchise Tax. To Determine Mrs. Eddy's Competency—In Memory of Longfellow.

After 45 minutes' deliberation, the jury Saturday evening returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of ex-Judge Wm. G. Loving of Nelson manager of the Virginia estate of T. F. Ryan, who was placed on trial here last Monday in the circuit court of Halifax county, for the murder of Theodore Estes, the son of Sheriff M. K. Estes of Nelson county.

Loving shot young Estes dead on the afternoon of April 23 at Oakridge, after a buggy ride the dead man took with the defendant's daughter, Miss Elizabeth Loving, who told her father that her escort drugged and assaulted her.

HARRIMAN ARRESTED FOR OBSTRUCTION.

Before the greatest crowd that ever witnessed a race on the Thames river the Yale crew, Thursday, averaging 4 strokes to the minute less than Harvard, kept abreast of the big Cambridge crew until the last half mile, and then cracked on speed and won a great race by a scant boat length.

The race was marked by one disagreeable incident. This was the arrest of E. H. Harriman by Lieutenant Billard, President Roosevelt's naval aide. Lieutenant Billard, who was in charge of the revenue cutters, had warned every boat owner not to follow the race. But it had scarcely been started when Mr. Harriman, in a powerful motor boat, began to follow the shells.

Lieutenant Billard and Chairman Schweppé, who were aboard the regatta committee boat, the "Arrow," repeatedly warned the motor boat's owner to stop his engines and get off the course. Mr. Harriman not only paid no attention to them but took a position alongside the referee's boat and held it.

Off the navy yard Lieutenant Billard signaled for a launch and tooted the revenue cutter whistle, which finally caused Mr. Harriman to look around.

"You are under arrest, sir," shouted the lieutenant. "You will give yourself up to this man who will take you aboard the Gresham to await my orders."

Mr. Harriman saw no more of the race but was detained as an ordinary prisoner aboard the Gresham until after the race, when Lieut. Billard released him. But he ordered Mr. Harriman's motor boat tied up at the navy yard. This incident may cost Mr. Harriman a fine of $500. This was the penalty imposed on a yacht owner during last year's race for breaking the rules governing the course.

LONG LEGISLATIVE SESSION.

The 120th regular session of the New York state legislature adjourned without day at 2 p. m. on Wednesday after almost exactly one half year (26 weeks) of continuous session, the longest regular session excepting only that of 1881 since the adoption of the first constitution of the state in 1777.

The governor would not discuss the subject of an extra session but there are good reasons to believe that it will not be called until after the Fourth of July. It is generally supposed that it will be convened in the week following.

Practically no serious effort was made to break the deadlock between the senate and assembly on the subject of apportionment and there was no visible effect of the special message which Governor Hughes sent to both houses Monday night urging them to pass an apportionment act before adjournment.

CORNELL WON THE 'VARSITY EIGHT-OARED'.

Cornell won the university eight-oared race of the intercollegiate regatta for the eighth time Wednesday in the most exciting contest ever rowed over the 4-mile Foughkeepsie course. Cornell's time was 20:02 2-5 seconds. Columbia was second, United States naval academy third, Pennsylvania fourth, Wisconsin fifth and Georgetown sixth. Syracuse did not finish, her shell being swamped a half mile from the finish line.

The Ithacans won by the narrowest margin from Columbia. Until the judges announced their decision, the thousands of spectators afloat and ashore were in doubt as to the result.

Syracuse Took Four-Oared Race. Syracuse captured the honors of the University four-oared shells from Cornell, Pennsylvania and Columbia, which finished in the order named. Syracuse finished two lengths ahead of Cornell and her time over the two-mile course was 19 minutes and 37 1-5 seconds.

Wisconsin Wins Freshmen Race. Wisconsin won the freshmen eight-oared shells over the two-mile course, leading Syracuse at the finish by one length and covering the distance in 9 minutes and 55 seconds. Pennsylvania was third, Columbia fourth and Cornell fifth. Columbia rowed the last quarter of the mile with an almost water-logged shell, which filled near the stern when three feet of plank was ripped out by striking a submerged log.

INCREASE IN FRANCHISE TAXES.

In its certification to the local authorities of the special franchise tax assessments, the New York state board of tax commissioners announced an increase this year of $125,543,733 as compared with the figures of last year. The total assessments for this year are $546,092,932 as against $420,549,259 for 1906.

The up-state assessments show an increase in the totals in every county in the state except Franklin, where there is an apparent decrease of $53,700. This is accounted for by the fact that during the year the Malone waterworks system, which last year was assessed at $100,000, has been bought by the municipality.

There has been general increase of upwards of 25 per cent in the assessments against telephone companies.

STANDARD OIL SUBPOENAS.

Subpoenas requiring the presence of J. D. Rockefeller, president of Standard Oil Co., William Rockefeller, H. H. Rogers, John R. Archbold and a number of other officers of the Standard Oil company to testify as witnesses before the federal court of Chicago on July 6, were received by the United States Marshal Henkel. The marshal was unable to serve subpoenas upon Mr. Rogers and W. H. Tilford, treasurer of the company. The latter is now in Europe but the former sailed from Liverpool yesterday.

John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller and Charles M. Pratt were out of the city and Marshal Henkel expected that a day or two would be required to find them.

FRENCH PROPOSITION STRONGLY OPPOSED.

The French proposition presented to the second committee (land war) of the peace conference at The Hague on June 22 regarding the opening of hostilities is strongly opposed by the countries relying on prompt mobilization, chiefly Great Britain, Germany and Japan. The proposition is as follows: "The contracting powers agree that hostilities among them cannot begin without advanced and unequivocal notice, having either the form of a declaration of war supported by facts or the form of an ultimatum with a conditional declaration of war. A state of war must be communicated to neutral powers without delay."

BENEFIT OF COLLEGE FRATERNITIES.

Secretary Elihu Root attended the commencement exercises of Hamilton college of which he is a trustee, leading the college procession with President Stryker. At the alumni banquet he was given an ovation. Mr. Root said in part: "I am a great believer in the benefits of college fraternities. The influence of the upper classes has saved many young fellows from going wrong. The fraternities have done what the professors could not do. They are necessary for the usefulness of the college." The Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity closed its 75th anniversary reunion Thursday.

TO DETERMINE MRS. EDDY'S COMPETENCY.

Judge Edgar Aldrich of Littleton, N. H., has been appointed master to determine the competency of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy by Judge Robert N. Chamberlain of the supreme court. Judge Chamberlain filed the appointment with the clerk of the supreme court of Merrimack county, the master being named in the suit brought by Mrs. Eddy's son, George W. Glover of Lead, S. D., and others as "next friends" for an accounting of Mrs. Eddy's property.

IN MEMORY OF LONGFELLOW.

Exercises commemorative of the 100th anniversary of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, who was a member of the class of 1825 and for several years an instructor, were held at Bowdoin college at Brunswick, Me., as a part of the commencement week program. It was announced that the daughters of the poet, Miss Alice H. Longfellow, Mrs. Richard H. Dana and Mrs. J. C. Thorpe have given $10,000 to Bowdoin college to endow a fellowship in literature in memory of their father.

NEW IMMIGRATION LAWS.

The new immigration laws placing of undesirable foreigners, went into effect Monday. The most important change brought about these acts, which congress passed in February is increase of the head tax from $2 to $4 with the provision that all over $2,000,000 of the revenue so derived shall revert to the United States treasury instead of being entirely devoted to the uses of the immigration bureau.

Epidemic Feared in New York. New York city is experiencing a most impressive demonstration of the extent to which the comfort of the millions is dependent upon the handful, comparatively, of persons ordinarily engaged in the humble occupation of collecting garbage and delivering it. Two thousand collectors and an equal number of ice wagon drivers are on strike and the city is in peril of an epidemic of malignant diseases.

Disapproves Employers' Pensions. A sub-committee of a committee appointed by the president to consider departmental methods disapproved the service pension plans for government employees. The disapproval applies to pensions to be paid retired employees wholly out of the Federal treasury, and to all measures providing for deductions on salaries for a pension fund.

BOYLAN DISCHARGED.

Was Suspected of Murdering His Step-Daughter.

Wife Testified in His Favor, Saying It Would Be Impossible For Him to Have Been the Murderer—Mother Demands a Vigorous Search For the Slayer of Her Child.

New York, July 2.—Thomas Boylan, father of little Viola Boylan who was assaulted and murdered several days ago, was arrested by the police yesterday and taken before a magistrate, but was discharged, there not being sufficient evidence against him to warrant his detention.

The arrest followed a search of the Boylan flat by detectives. The police declare that the mattress of Boylan's bed shows blood stains and that there are also stains on the floor under the bed. They also found stains on Boylan's clothing which they believe to be blood. No analysis has yet been made.

When arraigned Boylan stoutly maintained that he knew no more about the murder of his child than any one else. His wife testified in his favor, saying that it was impossible for him to have been the murderer.

The suspicions of the police were first directed to Boylan, who is an epileptic, because of his strange actions since the death of little Viola. This caused the search and the finding of evidence considered sufficient to cause his arrest.

Boylan is about 60 years old and a cripple. The arrest was unexpected as the police have been searching for an unknown Italian who was said by Viola Boylan's playmates to have intercepted the girl on the street and to have taken her into the wine cellar. Several Italians have been arrested and released on proof that they had nothing to do with the girl's death.

After being missing from her parent's home for several days the girl's body was found hidden in the coal bin of the apartment house in which she lived. Her mother has accused the police of inaction and demanded that a more vigorous search be made for the murderer.

SHOT FOR BURGLAR.

Akron (Ohio) Man Fatally Injured at Scene of Wife's Death.

Akron, Ohio, July 2.—Two years ago yesterday, near the "Half-way House," Mrs. Frank Jones was struck by an interurban car and instantly killed. Her husband was with her.

Sunday night Jones' aimless wanderings took him to the same place. Hearing some one prowling about his yard about 3 o'clock in the morning, William Coups, proprietor of the place, went to the door, gun in hand, and accosted the man. Jones did not answer, but clinched with Coups, who shot him twice.

Jones ran two miles before he collapsed. Two detectives discovered him at daybreak, lying unconscious in a ditch. He was taken to the City hospital and will probably die.

FORETOLD HIS OWN DEATH.

Wooster, Ohio, July 2.—Benjamin F. Zercher, aged 80, the wealthiest landowner and farmer in Wayne county, died last night. Zercher six months ago, although in excellent health, told his family that he was going to die within six months, and as he did not want his heirs to have trouble over certain property went to work and gave to each of the four children living and two grandchildren lands and cash to the value of $20,000 each.

FOUR MEN CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Bethlehem, Pa., July 2.—Two heavily loaded cars becoming separated from a Bethlehem Steel company train at the steel works crashed into a shifting engine, fatally injuring Weston A. Gross, aged 40, a yardmaster; Harry J. Marsh, aged 37, of Bethlehem, yardmaster; William Dorney, aged 35, of Center Valley, and Rudolph Nuss, aged 40, of South Bethlehem, a brakeman. The four men died at a hospital a few hours after the accident.

FUNERAL OF ASSEMBLYMAN HASTINGS.

Newburgh, N. Y., July 2.—The funeral of William G. Hastings, assemblyman from the First Orange district, was attended by a throng of people at Union Presbyterian church yesterday. Committees from the senate and assembly, the Masons and the Odd Fellows, Lieutenant Governor Chanler, and ex-Governor Odell were present. The interment was made with Masonic honors.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT STEEL WORKS.

Youngstown, O., July 2.—One man was killed, another fatally injured and a dozen more seriously hurt, by being run over by a train of cars at the Ohio works of the Carnegie Steel company. They had taken refuge under the cars during a heavy rain storm. The train started without warning and the men were terribly crushed.

DISAPPOINTMENT IN REGISTRATION.

Manila, July 2.—The result of registration for the coming election has proved a disappointment. When the books were closed on Sunday only 7,300 voters, including 800 Americans, had registered.

DOG DYING OF GRIEF.

Collie of the Late Dr. Henkle Daily Searches For Him.

Pittsburg, July 2.—Watch, an unusually handsome and intelligent black collie, is slowly dying of a broken heart over the loss of its master, Dr. S. P. Henkle, who died of typhoid fever in Allegheny General hospital May 12. Dr. Henkle was a dentist, with offices in the Hale building, Sixth street and Penn avenue.

Watch was seen at Allegheny City hall disconsolate because his usual haunts were closed on Sunday.

Since the death of the dentist the dog has been making the rounds of the regular haunts of his late master daily. He refuses food when it is offered and several persons have tried to entice the dog to make his home with them. At 10 o'clock every morning the dog appears at the restaurant of William Enright, Laccock and Federal streets, Allegheny, then goes to the Klueckerbocker City Hall and to several places on Federal street. In the evening he returns to the Hale building and sleeps on a mat outside the office formerly occupied by Dr. Henkle.

The animal is slowly growing weaker and thinner and goes about with his head drooped.

WILL CALL EXTRA SESSION.

New York Legislature to Be Reconvened on July 8.

Albany, July 2.—Governor Hughes is expected to issue a call today for an extraordinary session of the legislature for Monday evening July 8, presumably for the purpose of resuming consideration of apportionment of senatorial districts. After the legislature has met the governor will send in a message prescribing the subjects to be considered. Direct primary nominations may be included.

A bill by Senator Travis on this subject and which passed the senate was defeated in the assembly during the closing hours of the session by adoption of amendments offered by Assemblyman Ralston of Kings, making it mandatory on both parties to hold direct primary nominations. This bill was said to meet the views of Governor Hughes.

TRAGEDY ENDS LOVERS' QUARREL.

Amery, Wis., July 2.—Magnus Thompson is dead and Minnie Flannum, his sweetheart, is dangerously wounded, because the pathway of their love did not run smoothly enough to suit Thompson. The couple quarreled recently, and Thompson last night went to her home in Black Brook and calling her to the door, fired at her, two bullets taking effect. He then turned the weapon upon himself, dying instantly.

UMBRELLA TRUST INDICTED.

Philadelphia, July 2.—An indictment has been returned by the United States grand jury here against the so-called umbrella frame trust. The indictment contains three counts and charges the National Umbrella Frame company of this city, the Newark Rivet works and the Newark Tube and Metal works with entering into a conspiracy to form a combination in restraint of trade. The case probably will be called for trial in October.

FIRECRACKER BLOWS OFF HAND.

Cincinnati, July 2.—Miss Amelia Reiche, aged 31, was dazed by William Boosie, a friend, to hold a piece of fireworks in her hand while he touched it off. Miss Reiche accepted the dare, and in the explosion her left hand was blown off. Instead of a roman candle the thing was a dynamite firecracker. Miss Reiche's injuries may result fatally. Boosie disappeared.

LOSES HUSBAND AND SON.

Wooster, Pa., July 2.—When Peter Earlengo of Mt. Vernon received word this morning that his father had been killed in an accident here yesterday he committed suicide. The mother, who was prostrated by the news of her husband's death, has not been told of her second loss.

REPEATS WITH VARDAMAN.

Mississippi Politician, Moved by an Evangelist, Wipes Out Feud.

Jackson, Miss., July 2.—Evangelist J. O. Cates, whose exhortations were responsible for Governor Vardaman's recent interest in religion, won a new laurel yesterday when Thomas P. Barr, a manufacturer and politician, went to the altar and said he wanted to make friends with former Mayor William Hemmingway, whose bitter political enemy he had been for years. There were nearly 3,000 people gathered in the large open auditorium, nearly all of whom were familiar with the old Barr-Hemmingway feud. Hemmingway was sent for, and when he appeared marched straight to the pulpit. There he grasped the hand of Barr, and the two men knelt while the people thundered applause.

TRACTION STRIKE ENDED.

Agree to Submit Their Grievances to Board of Arbitration.

Albany, July 2.—For half an hour early yesterday morning the employes of the United Traction company on the Albany and Troy divisions were out on strike. For a time it threatened to develop into a serious stoppage of the road and probably a repetition of the strike of 1901, which continued for several days and during which two lives were lost. At a conference between General Manager Fassett, representing the company and a joint committee representing the employes of the two divisions it was agreed to submit the dispute regarding the wages of the men to a board of arbitration. The decision of the board is to be final, thus averting further trouble.

During the strike of 1901 it was necessary to call out the militia. Two of Albany's representative business men were shot and killed by the militiamen, while standing near their places of business. The guardsmen fired at a crowd of sympathizers, the bullets striking the two men. A settlement of the strike followed soon after.

JUDGE KNOWS EFFECT.

Judge Upton, of Keene, N. H., was a strict prohibitionist, and was long noted for the severity of the sentences he imposed on those arraigned before him for intoxication.

Discouraged by his failure to diminish intemperance in his jurisdiction, he one day determined to ascertain what there was about spirituous liquor that made it so attractive to its votaries. Accordingly, he obtained a supply of Medford rum, and before retiring for the night he drank a generous amount of liquor, intending to record the effect carefully.

The next morning those who were present in court were surprised to see the drunkards promptly discharged, while all other delinquents received their due punishment.

At the close of the session the prosecuting officer ventured to inquire why the court had so completely reversed his usual attitude toward the "drunks."

Judge Upton raised his head, which had been bowed upon his hands, and said, pressing his throbbing temples, replied mournfully: "Poor devils! Let them go! They are punished enough."
