It takes a sharp knock to break an egg from the outside, while a weak little chick with its soft bill can break out from the inside. It's the same way with a town. The knocks from the outside have little effect; it is the blows at home that hurt a town.

A mothers' meeting, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., will be held in the M. E. church next Saturday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. Mrs. Watson, superintendent of this department, requests that mothers and all others interested in children be present.

The Tionesta W. C. T. U. will meet in the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening, Aug. 27, at half past seven o'clock. Election of officers will take place at this meeting. All superintendents who have not given annual reports are expected to come prepared to give them at this final meeting.

It's the old, old story over again—a sucker born every minute, and no one knows it better than the "thimble-rigger," the "short change" man or the buncoist. And the dupes who thought they could beat the crooks at the show Monday get no sympathy from their friends, and don't deserve any.

H. S. Biall reports the capture of a rattlesnake a short distance above the creek bridge, in the borough limits, Saturday evening, which measured 3 feet 4 inches and sported 10 rattles and a button. The reptile was crossing the road, evidently making its way back toward winter quarters which is their custom at this season of the year.

What would have resulted in a disastrous conflagration had it gotten beyond control was nipped in the bud Monday shortly after the noon hour, when the roof of Geo. Henshaw's blacksmith shop took fire. The smoke was dense for a minute but the blaze was small and one dash from the hose squelched it. The shop is located near the Lanson flouring mill and the Kepler block, which would have made great havoc had they become involved.

Three tough looking tramps, whom night operator I. B. Gerow had noticed about the place earlier in the evening, attempted to break into the Pennsylvania Railroad office here at 2:30 Tuesday morning. One of the men was working at the door with an iron bar and the two others were peering into the window, when Mr. Gerow, who is a cripple and was without a weapon of any kind, sent a hurry-up call by telephone to Constable W. H. Hood. The constable responded promptly and the miscreants fled when they heard him coming.

Are fish biting any? They are for Pent. Kiffer, of East Hickory, who caught a string of bass, salmon and one pike the other evening which weighed in the aggregate just 31 pounds, and he was just 2 hours and 40 minutes landing the catch. That's going some, we guess—a 240 clip, at any rate—and we think entitles Pent to the fish belt for the season.

James D. Wilson, son of Mrs. John Wiles, of Tionesta township, met with a serious accident at Annadale, Butler county, last Wednesday, where he has been dressing tools for the Standard Oil Co. No particulars of the accident have been received further than that he was caught in the sand line, having his right knee dislocated and being otherwise injured.

The Breedtown correspondent of the Franklin News writes: The farmers are asking a 2x6 smile this year. When asked the cause of the extra two inches they say: We have more hay than we have had for several years, the oats have gained fully 50 per cent. in the last three weeks, wheat is an extra good crop, potatoes have not looked so good in several years, but in some places have begun to blight, buckwheat is looking fine. Corn in most cases is a total failure.

Union gospel meetings will begin this evening at 7:30 in a tent in the grove at the corner of Vine and Hilland streets, and continue for ten days, afternoons at 2:30, evenings at 7:30. The ministers who will have charge of these meetings have been conducting a very successful revival at the White church, in Harmony township. It was planned to close these meetings last Sunday, but on account of the interest shown they will be continued and be in charge of Rev. W. A. Backus.

The little town of Loleta, over in Elk county, with a population of perhaps less than two hundred, has some base ball talent worth mentioning. A few days ago their team went over and put the bug on Marienville in fine style, 9 to 3. A correspondent says the Marienville team had the help of Hershey the great in the box and Moriarty of Pittsburg, but still were greatly outclassed by the boys from the woods, who were there with the goods. The game was called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness.

The survivors of the 83d Regt., Pa. Vols., will hold their annual reunion at the court house, in Tionesta, on Tuesday, Sept. 10th. All old soldiers and their families are invited. The program for the day is as follows: Dinner at 12 o'clock. Business meeting in the court room at 1:30 p. m. After the business meeting there will be a campfire. It is hoped our citizens will join in and assist in giving the old soldiers an enjoyable time. It is the intention to have the W. R. C. of East Hickory and the Borough take charge of the provisions, arrange the tables, etc.

Sam, Haslet, the speedy short stop of the local ball team, had a bad error marked up against in a little "argument" with a big muscullonge down at the "rocks" below the creek dam Friday evening. While angling for bass the fellow took hold, and Sam, "accepted the challenge." For a few minutes things seemed to be going his way and the "longe" was almost "out" when the line snapped, and then Sam, "lunged" in after his prey but "fumbled," and a good "slide" put the big one safe. That ended the game—one nothing in favor of the 'longe.

Marienville will experience a gala day tomorrow if present arrangements, which are all completed, do not fail. The "Buckwheat Club," a new and up-to-date organization of the town, will inaugurate its first annual picnic in a pleasant grove or park within the city limits and a record-breaking crowd is looked for. The Kellittville band will sweeten the occasion with its choicest music and with well filled baskets which the committee expects will be in evidence, the inner man will be soothed and satisfied. No doubt some good speeches will also add to the hilarity of the occasion.

A man employed in the lumber woods near West Hickory met with a peculiar accident on Monday of this week by which he may be deprived of a part of his nose. While felling a tree he was caught by a limb which threw him forward to the ground in such a manner as to bring his face in contact with the sharp blade of the ax he held in his hand, all most severing his nose from his face. Dr. Morrow dressed the wound and it is probable the dismembered organ will again heal so as not to deprive the man of its proper use. The man's name is Frank Corbet.

Miss Anna Whitehead, 14 years old, daughter of a prominent Methodist Episcopal minister of Turnersville, Pa., near Greenville, is in a critical condition from a brutal assault perpetrated by a tramp Saturday night. Miss Whitehead met the stranger while on her way to a neighbor's home. The tramp inquired the way to Simons, O., and while the girl was telling him he placed a knife at her throat and threatened to kill her if she made an outcry. He forced her into a woods, after assaulting her he tied her to a tree, here she was later found almost dead. The villain has been captured, has confessed, and is now in Meadville jail. He gives his name as Henry W. Wagner, is 27 years old and says he was born in Westmoreland county. He narrowly escaped lynching by the infuriated citizens.

Ridgway, Elk county, is suffering from two epidemics and so many people have been afflicted that every train is carrying many out of town. Everyone who can raise a few dollars for carfare is fleeing from the town with all personal effects. Many people were taken ill last week with typhoid fever and cases have developed on an average of 15 to 20 cases a day since then. The situation is growing worse every hour. About the same time typhoid fever became epidemic another one of a different nature made its appearance. Children ranging in ages from 5 to 13 years have been taken ill and generally within 48 hours time their lower limbs became paralyzed. In the past week over 40 cases have developed and the unknown disease is spreading rapidly. Already there are about 40 who have been thus afflicted. Local physicians and health officers who have been called to attend these cases refuse to make any statement and it is said they are unable to determine just what the disease is. Some say they have never seen the like of it before. Already there have been several deaths and more are expected.

The Leechburg Outing Club has gone into camp at their favorite resort at the mouth of Indian camp run, opposite Hunter station. They have a well arranged camp with all the comforts needed for a rollicking good time, and that's what they are having. The big-hearted Oscar Lindquist is in charge of the camp, without whom the club's outing would be a failure, and his word is law. They are a jolly bunch.

The 34th Annual Great Grangers' Picnic Exhibition will be held on the "Old Camp Grounds," Williams Grove, August 26-31, 1907. The exhibition of farm machinery, implements, etc. and live stock promises to exceed that of any former year. A splendid program will be presented in the Auditorium; Wednesday, Governor Stuart and Hon. John O. Sheatz, Republican Candidate for State Treasurer; Thursday, Hon. N. J. Bachelder, former Governor of New Hampshire, and Master of the National Grange, Hon. W. F. Hill. Excursions on all railroads. Consult your Station Agent.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Clarion W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. Mary Huff, August 15th. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Minnie Brewer; 1st vice president, Mrs. Anna Henderson; 2d vice president, Mrs. Lillie Hensley; corresponding and recording secretary, Mrs. Lena Hensley; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Huff. Arrangements were made at this meeting for a Matrons' oratorical silver medal contest, to be held August 31, at 8 p. m., in the M. E. church. The contestants are Mrs. Meehling, Mrs. Crossman, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Work and Mrs. Hill.

James Manross, an old time Forestonian, who is now living at Gerry, N. Y., passed through town yesterday morning being out on a few weeks' vacation which he will spend among friends in this section. James had with him a clever device for milking cows, known as the Mehring machine, which he says gets the nearest to perfection in that respect than anything yet produced. The machine is constructed to milk two cows at once, does the work of about four men and can be operated by a fifteen-year-old boy or girl as readily as by a grown person. Mr. Manross is quite enthusiastic in his praise of the machine's efficacy, and it does look like a complete success.

There is a DuBois man who is just too mean for anything. For some unaccountable reason he has been laboring under the impression that he is "buncoed," and in order to get a little better usage at the hands of his better half he developed a beautiful plan that worked all right. The fellow hired six or eight boys to stand along the walk where he was going to take his wife for a walk the other night, and when he went past, the boys all tipped their hats and said: "Good evening, Mr. Huncock." It cost him 10 cents a piece for the boys, but he says it worked like a charm and the equal rights question is not being discussed in his home any more. Perhaps his wife felt sorry for him.—DuBois Courier.

Nothing could be said in greater praise of people than that they like sweets, says a writer in "What to Eat." It shows a wholesome, vigorous, healthful condition—an appetite not jaded from excessive indulgence. The child whose appetite has not become polluted or caloused by false relishes, smarting sauces and burning drinks loves sweets; so does the girl of bright eyes and untainted youth, as is evidenced by her fondness for ice creams and desserts. The young athlete among men loves sweets nearly as well as does the child. But the bar room lounge, the "cigarette fiend," the "dope fiend" and the depraved of all other classes do not like sweets. Long ago their minds and appetites lost the desire for everything pleasing to the natural palate.

For goodness sake don't cut any weeds that fringe the sidewalks of some of our streets, as they are about "to go to seed" now and there might not be any crop next year. It beats all what an adornment a growth of weeds is anyway, where they border the sidewalks, and what a striking example they are as an indication of public improvement. This from the Sheffield Observer, applies to more towns than one, our own amongst the rest. It is such a small task to run the lawn mower over these little grass plots once a week, or to mow the weeds down with a common sickle that it would seem scarcely necessary to call attention to the matter. Ordinary pride ought to appeal to lot owners or residents. And what a fine improvement there would be in the appearance of the town!

On Tuesday night select council refused to confirm the appointment of Patrolman R. O. Whitton. Mr. Whitton is a man of admirable character and correct habits and has the judgment and physique necessary to make him a valued addition to the local police force. Some time ago while working for the city as policeman, he received a flattering offer to take a job of lumbering in West Virginia and accepted, resigning his position here. He found that the climate and conditions of West Virginia were not as attractive as those of Oil City and returned here and was given his old position, subject to the action of council. Two weeks ago the matter of confirming him was laid over until the Tuesday meeting, and then he was turned down. But it is hard to keep a good man down, and on Wednesday he was given a position by the P. R. H. as policeman for his pay car. On Thursday a representative of the Erie railroad was in town with authority to offer him a permanent position as an Erie railroad policeman. Those who knew Mr. Whitton well, and the standing he has in his community of Hickory before coming to Oil City, feel that some misrepresentations have been made to prevent his appointment on the local police force. The spirit of fair play as expressed by the many friends of the deposed patrolman, urges them to voice the sentiment that a good man should not be discriminated against for carrying out the orders of his superior officer.—Oil City Derrick.

Theodore Huddleson, one of the Forest county gentlemen that have become prominent in the oil fields of the Indian Territory, is circulating amongst old friends at his former home in this vicinity. Elegant Social Event.

The pleasant home and lovely maple shaded lawn of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Warden, at Endeavor, Pa., was the scene of a very pretty social event on Saturday afternoon last, when guests numbering upward of one hundred responded to invitations to assist this excellent couple in the celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Providence smiled graciously upon the happy occasion, providing a perfect day for the fulfillment of the most joyful anticipations of the hosts and their guests. The hours named for the reception and entertainment of friends were from 1 until 7 p. m., and the arrival and departure of guests continued throughout the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Warden were kept constantly busy in the beautiful reception parlor extending the hand of hospitality to the friends who came to wish them very many happy returns of the day. Those who were not obliged to leave early to catch trains for home remained to enjoy the mingling with friends and the inviting shade of the well-kept lawn where easy chairs were distributed for their comfort and where many pleasant acquaintanceships were made and renewed. The guests were served with elegant refreshments in the spacious dining room, which was tastefully decorated with flowers and festooned with ribbons and silvery cords.

As an evidence of the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Warden are held, we may be pardoned for referring to the wealth of magnificent presents that adorned a large table in an upper room. Among the number, and which the recipients will doubtless prize the most highly, were two silver loving cups, one the gift of the men employed at the mills of the Wheeler & Dusenbury company with whom Mr. Warden has so long been associated, the other by the three Warden boys, George, Gus and Alton. Another of the valued reminders was a cablegram of congratulations from Congressman Wheeler, who is in Europe with his family, whose interests have so long and so faithfully been looked after by Mr. Warden.

All in all it was a most enjoyable social event, one long to be remembered by those fortunate enough to be of the number, and we believe we can say for all present to the genial host and hostess, here's hearty congratulations on your attaining to this silver occasion under such happy auspices, and may you reach the golden event surrounded by all the comfort and contentment that well-spent lives are sure to bring.

Former Tionesta Boy's Thrilling Experience.

A Chicago paper of last Thursday gives the following account of the thrilling experience of two lads of that city and their almost miraculous escape from death on Lake Michigan. The Charles Bonner mentioned in the 17-year-old son of our former well known citizen, Charles Bonner:

After drifting about the lake all yesterday in a disabled launch without food or drink, Charles Bonner, 5752 Rosalie court, and Irving Strader, 462 Bowen avenue, were rescued by the steamer Theodore Roosevelt. The two men were exhausted when taken on board the steamer, but after restoratives had been administered by Dr. H. N. Bundesen, the boat's physician, they were able to tell their story. They started at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning from Chicago for Michigan City, where they arrived safely. The following morning they started on the return trip and when about ten miles out the electric battery of the launch became exhausted. All day long they drifted, from time to time sighting steamers and yachts, but unable to attract their attention. A driving rain and a rising sea added to their peril and discomfort. They had abandoned themselves to despair when they were picked up by the Roosevelt. The launch was taken in tow, but shortly afterward the steamer ran into a heavy rain and wind storm which snapped the tow rope and the launch is still tossing about in the lake waves. The boat was known as the Bertha. It formerly belonged to the South Haven life-saving station.

School Directors' Convention.

The fourth annual session of the School Directors' Association of Forest County was held in Marienville on the 14th and 15th inst.

Col. David Fortney, of Bellefonte, was the principal speaker. He gave four very able talks on the duties of directors. Rev. J. F. Scherer, addressed the Convention Wednesday evening on the Parents' Relation to the school; Prof. G. W. Mitchell on ways in which a director can help a teacher; and D. B. Shields, on public sentiment as a factor in school administration. All these addresses were interesting and reflected credit on those who handled them. Dr. J. C. Dunn presided and gave several sensible talks on important phases of the directors' work.

There were but twenty directors of the county in attendance, as follows: J. C. Dunn, W. G. Wyman, A. L. Thomson, F. M. Hoovler, W. G. Morrow, Geo. L. King, F. J. Cubbin, J. F. Scherer, C. B. Zoendel, Fred Weingard, Herval Doter, A. C. Gregg, A. M. VanHorn, A. R. Slangenhoupt, J. H. Barton, W. H. Taylor, A. H. Sigworth, D. B. Shields, C. C. Yingling, and A. D. Neill.

DEAR SIR:—Every boy Devore is done with less gallons than ever before with any other paint.

S. J. Field, Indianola, Fla., says: "All houses here are painted Devore. The hot air is too trying for other paints. One coat Devore is better than two of any other paint, so far as we know."

Less gallons, less cost.

Select the Best School.

It costs very little more, in either time or money, to attend a really good school than to attend one of inferior grade, and the difference in the outcome is sure to be very great. Young people of fair education, who have ability and ambition, give the Rochester Business Institute the preference, because they are able to discriminate. Getting on the right track is of the utmost importance.

As a rule, what a man calls his rights represent merely desired privileges.
